4340. Telephones must be maintained in offices of railroad, telegraph and express companies.—It is hereby made the duty of every railroad, telegraph and express company, doing business in the State of Montana, to install or allow to be installed in its ticket office, public office and freight office, in all cities and towns in this state, where they are, at the time, one or more public telephone exchanges, a telephone of each public telephone exchange in said city or town and to maintain in each of said offices, direct telephone connection with each of such exchanges; but nothing herein contained shall be construed to require said railroads, telegraph or express company to build a telephone line, it being intended to require such company or companies to install or allow to be installed, a telephone in each of its offices where it can be obtained by them as they may be obtained for other business offices in the same vicinity; each railroad, telegraph and express company shall cause to be promptly answered, all calls made over such telephone connection during business hours, provided, however that such Railroad, Telegraph and Express Companies shall not, in the absence of an agreement to the effect, be required to bear the expense incident to the installation of said telephones, or to any charges for the use thereof. Over such telephone connection, such railroad, telegraph or express company shall cause prompt and correct replies to be made to all reasonable and proper inquiries over such connection during business hours, concerning the passenger, freight or telegraph service of such railroad, telegraph or express company. [Act approved March 9, 1907, § 1.] (10th Sess. Chap. 182.)

4343. Duty to furnish shipping facilities.—It is hereby made the duty of every person, corporation and association operating a railroad in the State of Montana to maintain facilities for shipment and delivery of freight, and to ship and deliver freight and accomodate passengers at any point upon the line of such railway where there is a platted townsite of record having not less than one hundred inhabitants. [Act approved February 21, 1905, § 1.] (9th Sess. Chap. 26.)

4344. Penalty.—Any such person, corporation or association which shall within sixty days after written request of not less than fifty inhabitants of such platted townsite fail to comply with the provisions of this Act, shall upon conviction be fined not less than ten dollars nor more than one hundred dollars for each day thereafter, so long as the provisions of this Act are not complied with. [Act approved February 21, 1905, § 2.] (9th Sess. Chap. 26.)

4345. Duty to report delayed passenger trains.—All Railway Corporations operating in the State of Montana, shall, upon the arrival of a delayed passenger train, at the first division terminal, within the confines of this State, notify by telegraph every station on the line of road within the State, how much the said passenger train is delayed. And upon the arrival of such delayed passenger train, at each succeeding division terminal, it shall be the duty of the dispatcher, or telegraph operator at each of such terminals to notify every telegraph station on the line of road within the State, not yet reached by said train, how late said train is. [Act approved March 5th, 1903, § 1.] (8th Sess. Chap. 65.)

4346. Posting notice of arrival.—Every operator, agent or person in charge of the telegraph station, shall post a notice in a conspicuous place in the Station or waiting room, and when such telegraph station is connected by telephone with the Central Exchange in any town or city, he shall promptly notify such Central Exchange, how late the delayed passenger train is running. [Act approved March 5th, 1903, § 2.] (8th Sess. Chap. 65.)

4347. Penalty for agent's neglect.—Every operator, agent, or person in charge of a telegraph station who shall fail, neglect or refuse to post said notice correctly, advise such central telephone exchange shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not exceeding twenty-five dollars. [Act approved March 5th, 1903, § 3.] (8th Sess. Chap. 65.)

4348. Violation by company. Penalty.—Any Railway Corporation that shall violate the provisions of this Act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not to exceed one hundred dollars, for each and every offense [Act approved March 5th, 1903, § 4.] (8th Sess. Chap. 65.)

4349. Passenger rate of three cents per mile.—It shall be unlawful for any railroad or railway company operating wholly or in part in the State of Montana, or any of the officers or employees thereof, to charge or receive, from any person who is to be conveyed or transported on any of the lines of any such railroad or railway companies from any point within this State, to another point within this State, a sum exceeding three (3) cents per mile for the distance to be travelled by such person, nor shall any excess fare greater amount than ten cents be charged or collected from any passenger with promise of rebate or refund of such excess, and that for children between the ages of five (5) and twelve (12) years, not more than one-half of the rate named in Section 1 shall be charged, and that children under five (5) years of age, when accompanied by parent or guardian, shall be transported free of charge; provided, that no railroad or railway company, or the officers or employees thereof, shall be obliged to accept a single fare for a sum less than (5) cents; provided that any such railroad or railway company shall not be precluded from selling mileage books at a rate less than three cents per mile. All persons shall have equal right to purchase such mileage books. That all charges for fares shall end in the figures 0 or 5 and such figures shall be the one nearest to the fare computed under the provisions of this Act. [Act approved March 4, 1905, § 1.] (9th Sess. Chap. 87.)

which a rate in excess of three (3) cents per mile is now charged, until such time as the State Legislature, or other State Officers, having power under the laws of Montana to name passenger rates, shall, in their judgment, deem the rate so charged to be excessive. [Act approved March 4, 1905, § 2.] (9th Sess. Chap. 87.)

4351. Penalties.—Any railroad or railway company, or any officer or employee thereof, who shall violate any of the provisions of this Act shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in any sum not less than $50.00 nor more than $500.00. [Act approved March 4, 1905, § 3.] (9th Sess. Chap. 87.)

4352. Party injured to share fine.—In any and all cases wherein a conviction is secured for a violation of any provision of this Act, the party injured shall be entitled to receive one-half of all fines imposed and collected, and the remaining one-half of such fines imposed and collected shall be paid in to the school fund of the city in which the action is prosecuted. [Act approved March 4, 1905, § 4.] (9th Sess. Chap. 87.)

4353. Tunnel charges prohibited.—It shall be unlawful for any person, association or corporation operating, leasing or owning a railroad in the State of Montana, to accept, demand or receive any tunnel charges, or to accept, demand or receive any extra mileage, or any extra compensation for or on account of any Tunnel through which said line of Railroad may run. Provided that none of the provisions of this Act shall apply to rates or charges for travel to or from points outside of the State of Montana. [Act approved February 26th, 1901.] (7th Sess. 164-5.)

4355. Confiscation of coal by railroad prohibited.—It shall hereafter be unlawful for any person, railway company or common carrier to confiscate or take for his or its own use or for the use of another any coal or other fuel in transit, except when such coal, or other fuel, is necessary for the preservation of life or property or is required for the moving of trains of such common carrier, provided that in a suit under this Act to recover the penalty and damages the burden of proof shall be on the person, railroad company or common carrier confiscating the coal or other fuel to show that such coal or other fuel was necessary for the preservation of life or property or was required for the moving of trains of such common carrier. [Act approved March 6, 1907, § 1.] (10th Sess. Chap. 119.)

4356. Liability of railroad company.—Any person, railroad company or common carrier who shall confiscate or take any coal or fuel either for his or its own use or for the use of another shall be liable to the consignee or owner of such coal, or fuel, in double the value of such coal, or fuel, at the point of shipment, and such other damages as may be caused by the confiscation of such coal. Such liability to be exclusive of and in addition to any and all charges for the transportation of such coal or fuel, which charges for the transportation shall be paid by the party confiscating such coal, or fuel. But in every case wherein coal or other fuel is taken or used by any such person, railroad company or common carrier, it shall be the duty of such person, railroad company or common carrier to notify the consignee by telegram or letter, immediately, of the taking of such coal and to pay and compensate him therefor within thirty days from the time of the taking. [Act approved March 6, 1907, § 2.] (10th Sess. Chap. 119.)

4358. Obstruction of highway crossings by railroads.—That it shall hereafter be unlawful for any corporation, association or company, to wilfully obstruct, blockade, interfere with or prevent the free use of any public highway within the State of Montana, where such highway crosses any railroad track outside of incorporated cities and towns, by stopping any railroad train, car, engine or locomotive for more than fifteen minutes at any one time, or by placing, depositing or leaving any article or thing, whatsoever, on any railroad track at the point where any public highway crosses such track outside of incorporated cities, and towns, and any corporation, association or company, so obstructing, blockading or interfering with the free use of any such highway, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five ($25.00) dollars, nor more than one hundred ($100.00) dollars. This Act shall not be construed as repealing any existing laws prohibiting encroachments upon, or obstruction of, public highways. [Act approved February 26, 1907.] (10th Sess. Chap. 43.)

4359. Trains to come to full stop at grade crossings.—That no Railway Company operating trains within this State shall permit any locomotives or cars to cross the tracks of any other railroad, at grade, without coming to a full stop immediately before crossing; provided, however, that if any Railway Company, or

Companies, using one or more tracks crossing each other or connecting, in any way, at a common grade, shall, by an interlocking plant, signal station, or any other works or fixtures, to be erected by them, or either of them, render it safe to pass over said crossings without stopping, and such plant, works or fixtures shall have been first approved by the County Commissioners of the County wherein such works are to be constructed and used, and the plans of such works and fixtures for such crossing, designating the place of such crossing, shall have been filed with such Commissioners, then and in that case the foregoing provisions of this section, requiring the stopping of trains at such crossing, shall not apply to said companies, or either of them; and, if said County Commissioners shall disapprove any such plans so filed with them, or fail to approve the same within twenty (20) days after the filing thereof with them, such railway companies, or either of them, may apply, in the County where such crossing is situated, to the District Court in and for said County, or to a judge thereof in vacation, by petition in writing setting forth the object of such application, and said court or judge shall, thereupon, appoint a time and place for the hearing of said petition, and a copy of the order appointing such time and place, together with a copy of said petition, shall be served upon said County Commissioners at least ten (10) days before the day appointed for said hearing, and said District Court, or a judge thereof in vacation, shall have full power, upon the hearing of said petition, to grant the prayer thereof, or to make such other order thereon as may be proper in the premises, and the foregoing provisions of this section, requiring the stoppage of trains at crossings, shall not apply to said railway companies, or either of them, if said District Court shall, by its order upon said petition, grant the prayer thereof or otherwise and to any extent approve the construction and use of the interlocking plant or other structures therein referred to. [Act approved February 17th, 1903.] (8th Sess. Chap. 8.)

4360. Fire guards.—That every railroad corporation operating its lines of road or any part thereof within this State, shall, between the fifteenth day of April and the first day of July in the year 1903 and each succeeding year thereafter, plough in a good and workmanlike manner, covering the sod well, upon each side of its line of road wherever it passes through a range or grazing country, a continuous strip of not less than six feet in width on each side of its track, as a fire-guard, which said strip shall as near as practicable run parallel with the line or lines of said railroad, and in addition to such ploughing, said railroad company shall cause to be burned between the fifteenth day of July and the fifteenth day of September of each year, all the grass and vegetation between the said ploughed strips and a line of fifty (50) feet inside said ploughed strips; Provided that such fire guard so ploughed and burned need not be constructed within the limits of any town, village or city nor in private fields under cultivation nor along the line of such railroad whenever the same runs through the mountains or elsewhere where such ploughing or burning would be impracticable; and provided further, that said fire guard or portion thereof, need not be ploughed or burned on or through any lands which may be released from the operation of this act by the Board of County Commissioners of the county wherein such land is situated by their written certificate of release filed in the office of the County Clerk of the said County; provided further, that said ploughing be not less than three hundred (300) feet from the center of the railroad track on each side of same. Except in cases of cultivated fields and then such ploughing and burning shall be done closer to such railroad but not less than seventy feet from the center of the track. [Act approved March 5th, 1903, § 1.] (8th Sess. Chap. 63.)

4361. County commissioners may plough guard and recover expense.—That if any railroad company fails to comply with any of the provisions of Section 1 of this Act the Board of County Commissioners of the County wherein such violation occurs shall cause the neglected ploughing or burning or both therein provided for, to be done, and may in a suit to be brought in their name, as said board, in the District Court, having jurisdiction, recover double the amount of the cost of such ploughing or burning or both with reasonable attorney fees to be fixed by the Court, and such railroad company shall be liable further for all damages caused by its failure to comply with this act. [Act approved March 5th, § 2.] (8th Sess. Chap. 63.)

4362. Duty to construct drain and ditches.—It shall be the duty of every corporation, company, or person owning or operating any railroad, or branch thereof, in this State, and of any corporation, company, or person constructing any railroad in this State, within three months after the completion of the same through any county in this State, to cause to be constructed and maintained suitable ditches and drains along each side of the road bed of such road or to construct culverts or openings through such road bed to connect with ditches or drains, or water courses, so as to afford sufficient outlet to drain and carry off the water along such railroad whenever the draining of such water has been obstructed or rendered necessary by the construction of such railroad; provided that none of the drains or ditches herein referred to shall be required to be constructed by any of the persons or corporations herein named or described, except when required to remove and drain off water accumulated upon property adjacent to or upon the right of way whose natural channel or outlet has been destroyed or impaired by the embankment of such railway so constructed as aforesaid. And in case such corporation, company or person shall fail or neglect to construct and maintain such ditches or drains as are herein required, within the time limited in this Section, the Board of County Commissioners of any County, through which such railroad has been, or may be constructed and located and in which the draining herein required has been neglected, are hereby authorized and required, upon the petition of twenty land owners of such County along the line of and contiguous to such railroad, to cause such ditches or drains as are herein required to be constructed and maintained, and said Board of County Commissioners may maintain an action against such corporation, company or person so failing to comply with the provisions of this Section, in any Court of competent jurisdiction, in the name of such County, and shall be entitled to recover all costs and expenses incurred in the construction and maintenance of said drains or ditches. [Act approved March 6, 1903.] (8th Sess. Chap. 101.)

exists. No person in the employ of, or holding any official relations to any railroad or owning any stocks, bonds or other securities of any railroad, or who is, or shall become in any manner pecuniarily interested in any railroad, or in any stocks, bonds or other securities thereof, shall be a member of said Board. Any member of said Board who, after his election or appointment to office, or after his induction into office, shall become an employe of, or holder of any official relation to any railroad, or who shall become an owner or holder of any stocks, bonds or other securities of any railroad, or have or acquire any pecuniary interest in any stocks, bonds or other securities of any railroad, shall forfeit his office, and the Governor shall appoint a successor thereto as herein provided in case of a vacancy in said Board. No Commissioner shall participate in any hearing or proceeding in which he has any pecuniary interest. [Act February 26, 1907, § 1.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4364. Oath and bond.—Each member of said Board, and each person appointed to office by said Board, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall take and subscribe the oath specified in Section one, Articles XIX, of the Constitution of the State of Montana, and such oath shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State. The members of said Board and the Secretary thereof, shall each give at the same time a bond to the state in the sum of Twenty-five Thousand Dollars, with sureties to be approved by the Governor, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of their respective offices. [Act February 26, 1907, § 2.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4365. Meeting of board. Quorum.—The office of the Board shall be in the city of Helena, and said office shall always be open during business hours, legal holidays and non-judicial days excepted. The Board shall hold sessions at least once each month in the city of Helena, and at such other times and such other places within this state as may be expedient. The sessions of the Board shall be public. A majority of the Board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of all business. The members of the Board of Railroad Commissioners shall have the authority to administer oath and affirmations. The Board shall have power to adopt rules to govern its proceedings, and to regulate the mode and manner of all investigations and hearings of railroad companies and other parties before it, in the establishment of rates, orders, charges and other acts required of it under the law. [Act February 26, 1907, § 3.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4366. Seal.—The Board shall have a seal, and such seal shall have the following words engraved thereon: "Board of Railroad Commissioners of the State of Montana," and said seal shall be affixed only to: First, writs; second, authentications of a record or other proceeding, or to a copy of a document on file in the office of the said Board. The courts of this state shall take judicial notice of such seal. [Act February 26, 1907, § 4.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4367. Officers of board.—The Board shall, immediately after its members have qualified, organize by electing one of its members as chairman, and shall appoint a secretary, who shall possess the same qualifications as members of said Board, to serve during the pleasure of the Board. Said Board shall also have the power to appoint stenographers, inspectors, experts, and other persons whenever deemed expedient or necessary by said Board to the proper performance of its duties. [Act February 26, 1907, § 5.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4369. Expenses of board and employes.—Said commissioners and the persons in their official employ, when traveling in the performance of their official duties, shall have a right to free transportation, and to have their actual and necessary traveling expenses paid, the amounts to be passed on by the State Board of Examiners and paid as other expenses of the Board. The State shall furnish said Board with suitable offices in the State Capitol Building at Helena, Montana, and provide it with all necessary furniture, stationery and printing, upon requisitions signed by the Chairman of said Board. [Act February 26, 1907, § 7.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4370. Same.—Said Board shall also be allowed the sum of One Thousand Dollars per annum for postage, expressage and other incidental expenses. The accounts for payments authorized by this section shall be paid only when audited by the State Board of Examiners, and the Board shall file, with its vouchers for such payments, a statement, verified by a member of the Board, showing the names of all persons employed and the purpose for which they were employed, and the work performed by them. [Act February 26, 1907, § 8.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4371. Duties of secretary.—The Secretary shall keep a full and complete record of all proceedings of the Board, and be the custodian of its records, and file and preserve at the office of the Board all books, maps, documents and papers entrusted to his care, and be responsible to the Board for the same. He shall perform such other duties as the Board may prescribe. [Act February 26, 1907, § 9.] (19th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4372. Process to compel attendance and examination of witnesses.—The process issued by said Board shall be under seal and extend to all parts of the state. Said Board shall have power to issue process in like manner as courts of record. Such process may be served by any person authorized to serve of courts of record, or by any person appointed by the Board for such purpose. In the event the process issued by the Board is a subpoena for the attendance of a witness, and he shall have failed, neglected or refused to obey the same, the Board is hereby authorized to file a petition with any District Court in the State, setting up the facts and the necessity of having such witness appear in such trial, and the Court shall thereupon summarily direct that a subpoena be issued out of the Court requiring the attendance of any person or persons as a witness before the Court; and the Board shall thereupon have the power and authority to examine such witness before said Court, under oath, respecting any inquiry or investigation being made by said Board, under and pursuant to the provisions of this Act. The Court shall likewise when any petition is filed stating the necessity therefor order the production by any person or corporation, for examination in said Court, any books, papers, records or files necessary or pertinent to any inquiry or investigation then being made by said Board [Act February 26, 1907, § 10.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4373. Definitions and terms.—The provisions of this act shall apply to the transportation of passengers and property between points within this state, and to the receiving, switching, delivering, storing and handling of such property, and to all charges connected therewith, and shall apply to railroad companies, express companies, car companies, sleeping car companies, freight and freight line companies, and to any shipments of property made from any point within this state to any other point within this state, whether the transportation of the same shall be wholly within this state, or partly within this state and partly within an adjoining state or states. The term "transportation" shall include all instrumentalities of shipment or carriage. The term "railroad" shall be taken to mean any corporation, company or individual owning or operating any railroad, in whole or in part, in this state. It shall also include express companies and sleeping car companies. The term "Board" in this act shall be taken to mean the Board of Railroad Commissioners of the State of Montana. The provisions of this act shall apply to all persons, firms or companies, incorporated or otherwise, that shall do business as common carriers upon any of the lines of railroad in this state. [Act February 26, 1907, § 11.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4375: Power of board to fix rates, schedules and classifications.—The power and authority is hereby vested in the said Board, and it is hereby made its duty to adopt as soon as practicable after the organization of the Board, all necessary rates, charges and regulations to govern and regulate freight and passenger tariffs, to correct abuses and prevent unjust discrimination and extortion in the rates of freight and passenger tariffs on the different rail roads in this state, and to make the same effective by enforcing the penalties prescribed in this Act. The said Board shall have the power, and it shall be its duty, to fairly and justly classify and subdivide all freight and merchandise of whatsoever character that may be transported over the railroads of this state, into such general and special classes or subdivisions as may be deemed necessary or expedient. The said Board may fix different rates for different railroads and for different lines under the same management, or for different parts of the same lines, if found necessary to do justice, and may make rates for express companies different from the rates fixed for railroads. Said Board shall also have the power, and it shall be its duty, to fix and establish for all or any connecting lines of railroad in this state reasonable joint rates of freight charges for the various classes of freight, and cars that may pass over two or more lines of such railroads. The rates, tolls or charges on any property which shall for any reason remain unclassified by the Board shall not in any event exceed the highest rates fixed for any classification by said Board. And it shall be within the province of the Board to entertain and hear complaints made by any shipper to the effect that unjust discrimination is being made as against the State of Montana or any point therein in the way of rates for the transportation of freight or passengers from points without the State to points within the State and vice versa; and in proper cases, where it appears that the United States Inter-State Commerce Commission Law has been violated, it is hereby made the duty of said Board to make complaint to the Inter-State Commerce Commission of the United States and to aid such Commission in any investigation it may make concerning violations of the United States Law, by furnishing evidence, and in any other manner which may seem best suited to enforce both the United States and State Law, and to protect the interests of the people. [Act February 26, 1907, § 13.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

sioners to cause notice thereof to be published for two successive weeks in some newspaper published in the city of Helena, which notice shall state the date of taking effect of said schedule, and said schedule shall take effect at the time so stated in such notice, and a printed notice of such schedule shall be conspicuously posted by such common carrier in each freight office, and passenger depot upon its lines; provided, that before finally fixing and deciding what the original maximum rates and classifications shall be, it shall be the duty of the railroad commissioners to publish ten days' notice in two daily papers, one of which is published in the city of Helena, setting forth in such notice that at a certain time and place they will proceed to fix and determine such maximum rates and classification; and they shall at such time and place, and as soon as practicable, afford to any person, firm, corporation or common carrier who may desire it, an opportunity to make an explanation or showing or to furnish information to said railroad commissioners on the subject of determining and fixing such maximum rates and classification. All classifications and rates fixed and established by the Board shall become effective twenty days after the railroad affected thereby shall have received certified copies thereof from said Board. Each railroad affected by the provisions of this act shall display in a conspicuous place in each of its stations in this state, a schedule printed in plain legible English type, showing all classifications and rates fixed and established by the said Board. Any failure or refusal on the part of any railroad to comply with the provisions of this section shall subject such railroad to a penalty of not less than One Hundred Dollars, nor more than Five Hundred Dollars for each day that such failure or neglect is continued. [Act February 26, 1907, § 14.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4377. Power to alter classification or rate. Hearing complaint.—The said Board shall have the power from time to time to change, alter, amend or abolish any classification or rate established by it when deemed necessary, and such amended, altered or new classifications or rates shall be put into effect in the same manner as original classifications or rates. The said Board shall make and establish reasonable rates for the transportation of passengers over each and all of the railroads subject hereto, and shall prescribe rates, tolls, and charges for all other services performed by any railroad subject hereto. The said Board must, within forty days after the filing with such Board of a complaint by a shipper, or other person interested, proceed to investigate and determine the justness and reasonableness of any classification, rate, charge, toll, regulation or order made by said Board. [Act February 26, 1907, § 15.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

panies, sleeping car companies, freight and freight line companies, and any common carrier engaged in the transportation of passengers or property in this state, in all matters appertaining to the duty of said Board and within its power and authority under the provisions of Act; and shall investigate any alleged neglect or violation of the laws of the state by any railroad or other company above specified doing business therein or by the officers, agents, or employes thereof. The Board shall also have the power and authority, and it shall be its duty, to examine and inspect, or cause to be examined and inspected, under its authority, all books, records, files and papers of the persons and companies specified above, in so far as the same may be pertinent to any matter under investigation before said Board and to hear and take testimony in the progress of any inquiry or investigation authorized by this act. [Act February 26, 1907, § 16.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4379. Investigation into accidents.—The said Board or some members thereof, to be deputed by it, shall investigate and make inquiry into every accident occurring in the operation of any railroad in this state, resulting in death or injury to any person, of such gravity as to require the attention of a physician or surgeon, or in the destruction of property greater in value than Two Thousand Dollars. The testimony taken on any such hearing shall be transcribed and filed in the office of the Board. [Act February 26, 1907, § 16a.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4380. Duty of railroad company to report accidents.—It is hereby made the duty of every railroad company operating any line of railroad within this state, promptly upon the occurrence or in connection with the operation of its line within the state, of any accident such as is mentioned in the next preceding section, to report the same to the Board of Railroad Commissioners, in which report shall be stated the time and place of the accident, the names of the persons killed or injured, and the value of any property destroyed. [Act February 26, 1907, § 17.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4381. Witnesses; compensation; immunity.—The said Board in making any examination or investigation provided for in this act, shall have the power to issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses, by such rules as they may prescribe. Each witness shall receive the sum of Three Dollars per day, together with the sum of five cents per mile traveled by the nearest practicable route in going to and returning from the place of meeting of said commission. And no witness furnished with free transportation shall receive mileage for the distance he may have traveled on such free transportation. No person shall be excused from attending or testifying, or producing any books, papers, documents, or any thing or things, before any court or magistrate, or commissioner or board, upon any investigation, proceeding or trial under the provisions of this Act or for any violation of any of them, upon the ground or for the reason that the testimony or evidence documentary or otherwise required of him, may tend to convict him of a crime, or to subject him to a penalty or forfeiture; but no person shall be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any transaction, matter or thing concerning which he may so testify, or produce evidence; and no testimony or evidence so given or produced shall be received against him upon any civil or criminal proceeding, action or investigation. [Act February 26, 1907, § 18.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4382. Powers to compel railroad companies to provide adequate accommodations and service.—The Board shall have the power, and it shall be its duty, to compel any and all railroads subject hereto, to provide, maintain and operate sufficient train service, both freight and passenger for the proper and reasonable accommodation of the public, and to provide and maintain suitable waiting rooms for passengers, and suitable rooms for freight and baggage at all stations. [Act February 26, 1907, § 19.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4383. Attorney general as attorney for board.—The Attorney General is hereby constituted the attorney and counselor of said Board, and the county attorney of every county in the state, shall, on the request, and at the direction of the Attorney General, assist in all cases, proceedings and investigations undertaken by said Board under this law, in his own county; provided, that said Board shall have power and authority to employ special counsel, with the consent and approval of the Attorney General to assist in any case, matter, proceeding or investigation instituted under this law. It is hereby made the duty of the Attorney General, upon direction of said Board, and of the County Attorney of each county in this state, upon direction of the Attorney General, to institute and prosecute, and to appear and defend, any action or proceeding arising under the provisions of this law. All suits and proceedings filed in any court of this state, under the provisions of this law, shall have precedence over all other business in such court, save and except criminal business and original proceedings in the Supreme Court. The fees and expenses of additional counsel shall be fixed and determined by the State Board of Examiners, and allowed and paid as items of expense the same as other items of expense of said Board of Railroad Commissioners. [Act February 26, 1907, § 20.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4384. Court review of action of board. Pleadings.—Actions to review the determination of the Board fixing any classification, rate, toll, charge, regulation, or order, or the refusal of said Board to make, fix or establish any classification, rate, toll, charge, regulation or order, shall be commenced in the District Court of the county having jurisdiction thereof by the filing of a complaint, duly verified as provided for the verification of pleadings in civil actions, and notice may be served upon the party defendant, either by summons issued and served as provided for in the Code of Civil Procedure in civil actions, or the Court may issue an order directed to the defendant requiring him to answer the complaint at such time as the court may deem reasonable; provided, however, that such time shall not be less than five days from the time of the service of such order. Upon the appearance of the defendant, he may deny or admit the facts set forth in said complaint, by answer, which shall be verified as the pleadings in other civil actions. If upon the hearing the Court shall find that the rates fixed or the classifications made are unjust and unreasonable, it shall thereupon be the duty of said Board to make new rates or a reclassification, as the case may be. All orders or notices required under the provisions of this section may be issued by the Court, or by the Judge thereof at chambers. [Act February 26, 1907, § 21.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4385. Prohibition against rebates and discrimination.—If any railroad subject hereto, directly or indirectly or by any special rate, rebate, drawback, or other device, shall charge, demand or receive from any person, firm or corporation, a greater or less compensation for any service rendered, or to be rendered, in the transportation of property subject to the provisions of this act, than that fixed by the said Board of Railroad Commissioners for such service, such railroad shall be deemed guilty of extortion, and shall forfeit and pay to the state of Montana not less than Five Hundred, nor more than Two Thousand Dollars for each offense; provided, that nothing herein shall be so construed as to prevent any railroad or railroad corporation from giving excursion rates to or from any point within or without the State. [Act February 26, 1907, § 22.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4386. Discrimination.—If any railroad subject to this act, or its agents or officers, shall hereafter collect, charge, demand or receive from any person, company, firm or corporation, a greater rate, charge or compensation than that fixed and established by the said Board of Railroad Commissioners for the transportation of freight, passengers or cars, or for the use of any car on the line of its railroad, or any line operated by it, or for receiving, forwarding, handling or storing any such freight car, or for any other service performed, or to be performed by it, such railroad and its agents and officers shall be deemed guilty of extortion, and shall forfeit and pay to the state of Montana a sum not less than Five Hundred Dollars, nor more than Two Thousand Dollars. [Act February 26, 1907, § 23.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

tion or order, the rates, classifications, rulings, orders and regulations made or established by the commission. The proceeding therefor shall be by equitable action in the name of the state, and shall be instituted by the Attorney General or County Attorney, whenever advised by the Board that any railroad is violating or refusing to comply with any rule, order, rate, classification or regulation made by the commission and applicable to such railroad. Such proceedings shall have the precedence over all other business in such courts, except criminal business. In any action the burden of proof shall rest upon the defendant, who must show by clear and satisfactory evidence that the rule, order, regulation, rate or classification involved is unreasonable and unjust as to them. If in such action, it be the decision of the Court that the rule, regulation, order, rate, or classification is not so unreasonable or unjust, and that in refusing compliance therewith the railroad is thereby failing or omitting the performance of any duty, debt, or obligation, the court shall decree a mandatory and perpetual injunction compelling obedience to, and compliance with the rule, regulation, order, rate or classification by the defendant, and its officers, agents, servants and employes, and may grant such other relief as may be deemed just and proper. Any violation of such decree shall render the defendant and officer, agent, servant or servants or employe of the defendant, who is in any manner instrumental in such violation, guilty of contempt, and shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding One Thousand Dollars for each offense, or by imprisonment of the person guilty of contempt until he shall sufficiently purge himself therefrom, and such decree shall continue and remain in effect and be in force until the rule, regulation, order, rate or classification shall be modified or vacated by the Board. Provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to deprive either party to such proceedings of the right to trial by jury, as provided by the seventh amendment to the Constitution of the United States, or as provided by the Constitution of this state. An appeal shall lie to the Supreme Court from the decree in such action, and the cause shall have precedence over all other civil actions of a different nature pending in the Supreme Court. [Act February 26, 1907, § 24.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4389. Actions to recover excess charges.—Any sum or amount of money paid to any railroad by any person or shipper in excess of the rates, tolls, or charges fixed and established by the Board for such service, may be recovered from such railroad by the person or shipper in any action instituted and maintained in the District Court of the county in which such payment was made, provided such action shall be brought within twelve months from the date of such payment. No contract or agreement, written or otherwise, between such person or shipper and the said railroad, shall be admissible in evidence for the purpose of showing a waiver of the right given by this section. No voluntary payment by any person or shipper of any such excess or overcharge to any railroad shall be, or held to be a waiver on the part of such person or shipper of the right to sue and recover for such excess or overcharge, as provided for in this section. If, upon the trial of such action, it shall satisfactorily appear to the court or jury that such overcharge was wilfully made, the person or shipper bringing the said action shall be awarded damages in treble the amount of such excess or overcharge, together with the costs and expenses of such action, including a reasonable attorney's fee, to be taxed and collected as other costs in the action. [Act February 26, 1907, § 26.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4390. Actions to determine reasonableness of rates or classification.—Any railroad may bring an action in the District Court of the county where the principal office or place of business is situated, or in any county where any such classification, rate, toll, charge, regulation or order of the Board is applicable, against the said Board as defendant, to determine whether or not any such classification, rate, toll, charge, regulation or order made, fixed or established by the Board under the provisions of this act is just and reasonable; provided, that until the final decision in any such action the classification, rate, toll, charge, regulation or order of the Board affecting rates or charges shall be deemed to be final and conclusive; and provided, further, that in any action, hearing or proceeding in any court, the classification, rate, tolls, charges, regulations and orders made, fixed and established by said Board shall prima facie be deemed to be just, reasonable and proper. All costs and expenses incurred in the hearing, trial or appeal of any action brought under this section, shall be fixed and assessed as by the court may seem just and equitable. [Act February 26, 1907, § 27.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4391. Action by shippers.—Any shipper, or other person interested, may bring an action in the District Court of the County where the principal office or place of business of such railroad is situated, or in any county where any classification, rate, toll, charge, regulation or order of the Board is applicable, against the said Board of Railroad Commissioners as defendant, to determine whether or not any such classification, rate, toll, charge, regulation or order made, fixed or established by the Board under the provisions of this act is just and reasonable; provided, that until the final decision in any such action, the classification, rate, toll, charge, regulation or order of the Board affecting rates or charges shall be deemed to be final and conclusive; except as herein otherwise provided; and provided, further, that in any action, hearing or proceeding in any court, the classifications, rates, tolls, charges, regulations and orders made, fixed and established by said Board shall prima facie be deemed to be just, reasonable and proper. Costs shall be awarded in all actions brought under the provisions of this section as in other civil causes. [Act February 26, 1907, § 28.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4392. Penalties for violation of act by railroad.—If any railroad shall wilfully violate any provision of this act, or shall do any other act herein prohibited, or shall refuse to perform any and all lawful orders emanating from said railroad commission relating to rates and charges, or any other duty enjoined upon it, for which a penalty has not herein been provided, for every such act of violation it shall pay to the state of Montana a penalty of not more than Five Hundred Dollars. [Act February 26, 1907, § 29.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4393. Recovery of penalties and forfeiture.—All penalties and forfeitures incurred, levied and made under the provisions of this act, shall be collected by said Board of Railroad Commissioners and paid over to the State Treasurer and credited to the General fund; provided, however, that should the said Board fail or refuse to institute appropriate action for the recovery of any penalty or forfeiture provided for herein, for the space of sixty days after notice of the cause of complaint by such person or shipper aggrieved, such person or shipper may institute and prosecute such action in the name of the state against such railroad, in the same manner as could the said Board. [Act February 26, 1907, § 30.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4394. Board not to receive favors or gratuities from railroad.—No railroad commissioner, nor the said secretary shall, directly or indirectly, solicit or request from, or recommend to any railroad corporation, or any officer, attorney or agent thereof, the appointment of any person to any place or position. Nor shall any railroad corporation, its attorney or agent, offer any place, appointment or position or other consideration to such commissioners or either of them, nor to any clerks or employes of the commission or of the Board, neither shall the commissioners or either of them, nor their secretary, clerks, agents, employes or experts, accept, receive or request any pass from any railroad in this state, for themselves or for any other person, except as herein otherwise provided, or any present, gift or gratuity of any kind from any railroad corporation, and the request or acceptance by them, or either of them, except as herein specified, of any such place or position, pass, presents, gifts or other gratuity, shall work a forfeit of the office of the commissioner or commissioners, secretary, clerk or clerks, agent or agents, and employe or employes, expert or experts, requesting or accepting the same. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction, shall be punished by a fine of not more than Five Hundred Dollars, or imprisonment not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. [Act February 26, 1907, § 31.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4395. Annual reports from railroads.—The Board shall require verified annual reports from each and every railroad owning, operating or having any line of railroad in this State, prescribe the manner in which such reports shall be made, and may require specific answers to all questions upon which the Board may desire information. It shall be the duty of the president or other officer in charge of such railroad to make such report and answers to the Board. The Board may, at such other times as it may deem necessary, require such other information, statements or reports, as may be deemed necessary, and fix the time for filing of the same. Any railroad failing or refusing to make or file such annual report, or failing or refusing to furnish such additional information, statements or reports, as may be demanded by the Board, shall forfeit the sum of Five Hundred Dollars for each day that such refusal or neglect shall be continued. [Act February 26, 1907, § 32.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4396. Annual report of the board.—Said Board shall make and submit to the Governor annual reports containing a full and complete account of the transaction of their office, together with such facts, suggestions and recommendations as may be by them deemed necessary, which report shall be published as the reports of other departments of the state. The said report shall contain a statement as to the number of accidents investigated by the Board, as herein provided, and the number of persons killed or injured in them, and generally the causes of such accidents. [Act February 26, 1907, § 33.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4397. Duties of board. Suspension of commission.—It is hereby made the duty of such Board to see that the provisions of this act and all laws of this state concerning railroads are enforced and obeyed, and that violations thereof are promptly prosecuted and penalties due the state therefor recovered and collected. And said Board shall report all such violations, with the facts in their possession, to the Attorney General or other officer charged with the enforcement of the laws, and request him to institute the proper proceedings; and all suits between the state and any railroad shall have precedence in all courts over all civil causes, original proceedings in the Supreme Court excepted. If any commissioner shall fail to perform his duties as provided for in this act, he may be removed from office as provided for by Title II, Chapter II, Part II, of the Penal Code, and upon complaint made and good cause shown, the Governor is authorized to suspend any commissioner or commissioners, and if in his judgment, the exigencies of the case require, the Governor is authorized to appoint temporarily some competent person or persons to perform the duties of such suspended commissioner or commissioners during the period of such suspension. [Act February 26, 1907, § 34.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4398. This act not to affect existing rights of action.—This act shall not have the affect to release or waive any right of action by the state or any person for any right, penalty or forfeiture which may have arisen, or may hereafter arise, under any law of this state, and all penalties accruing under this act shall be cumulative to each other, and a suit for or recovery of one, shall not be a bar to the recovery of any other penalty. [Act February 26, 1907, § 35.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

4399. Appropriations.—The sum of $50,000.00, or so much thereof as may be needed, is hereby appropriated from moneys not otherwise appropriated, for the years 1907 and 1908 for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this act. [Act approved February 26, 1907, § 36.] (10th Sess. Chap. 37.)

TITLE IX.

TELEGRAPH, TELEPHONE AND ELECTRIC POWER COMPANIES.

Section 4400. Rights of way for pole lines along streets, roads and highways.

4400. Rights of way for pole lines along streets, roads and highways.—A telegraph, telephone, electric light or electric power line, corporation, or a person owning or operating such, is hereby authorized to install its respective plants and appliances necessary for service, and to supply and distribute electricity for lighting, heating, power and other purposes and to that end, to construct such telegraph, telephone, electric light, or electric-power line or power lines, from point to point, along and upon any of the public roads, streets and highways in the state of Montana, by the erection of necessary fixtures, including posts, piers and abutments necessary for the wires. But the same shall be so constructed as not to incommode or endanger the public in the use of said roads, streets or highways and nothing herein shall be so construed as to restrict the powers of city or town councils. [Act approved March 7, 1907.] (10th Sess. Chap. 192.)

4401. (§ 1001.) Construction and connection.—Any association or corporation, or the lessees or managers thereof, organized for the purpose, or any individual, shall have the right to construct and maintain lines of telegraph or telephone within this state, and connect the same with other lines, and in case such persons or corporations can not agree as to the compensation to be paid for the privilege of such connection, the acquiring of the right by the one to use the line of the other may be had in proceedings under the Code of Civil Procedure and the damages assessed and the right of connection granted, as provided in the Code of Civil Procedure.

4402. (§ 1002.) Consolidation of competing lines forbidden.—No telegraph or telephone company shall consolidate with, or hold a controlling interest in the stock or bonds of any other telegraph or telephone company owning or having the control of a competing line, or acquire by purchase or otherwise any other competing line of telegraph or telephone.

TITLE X.

MINING CORPORATIONS.

Section 4403. Transfer agencies.

“ 4404. Stock issued at transfer agencies.

“ 4405. Directors not to sell property.

“ 4412. Appeal from appraisalment.

4403. (§ 1010.) Transfer agencies.—Any corporation organized in this state for the purpose of mining or carrying on mining operations in or without this state, may establish and maintain agencies in other states of the United States, for the transfer and issuing of its stock; and a transfer or issue of the same at any such transfer agency, in accordance with the provisions of its by-laws, is valid and binding as fully and effectually for all purposes as if made upon the books of such corporation at its principal office within this state. The agencies must be governed by the by-laws and the directors of the corporation.

4404. (§ 1011.) Stock issued at transfer agencies.—All stock of any such corporation issued at a transfer agency must be signed by the president and secretary of the corporation and countersigned at the time of its issue by the agent having charge of the transfer agency. No stock must be issued at a transfer agency unless the certificate of stock in lieu of which the same is issued, is at the time surrendered for cancellation.

4405. (§ 1012.) Directors not to sell property.—The board of directors of any mining corporation organized under the provisions of this code, shall not have power to sell, lease, mortgage or otherwise dispose of the whole or any part of the mining ground, quartz mills, smelters, concentrators or reduction works of such corporation, unless they shall have first called a meeting of the stockholders of such corporation in the manner prescribed in § 3894 (525) of this code, for the purpose of submitting to the stockholders of such corporation the proposition to sell, lease, mortgage or otherwise dispose of the property of such corporation or some portion thereof. The notice so required to be published and sent to each stockholder shall distinctly specify each particular tract or piece of property so to be sold, leased, mortgaged or otherwise disposed of and the particular disposition to be made thereof.

Anaconda Co. v. Heinze, 27 Mont. 170; 69 Pac. 913. A proposition by the president of a mining corporation that on the deposit of a specified sum as the purchase price, the corporation will at once proceed to obtain the requisite consent of its stockholders for selling, and will then sell and convey a specified portion of its mining claim, and the acceptance of such proposition and deposit of the money, do not give the proposed purchaser an equitable title to the mine, or right to extract ore therefrom.

4406. (§ 1013.) Proceedings and certificate of meeting of stockholders.—If at the time and place specified in the notice provided for in the preceding section, stockholders shall appear in person or by proxy, representing not less than three-fourths of all the shares of stock of the corporation; they may organize by choosing one of their number chairman of the meeting, and also a suitable person for secretary, and proceed to vote on the proposition mentioned in said notice. If there are distinct pieces or parcels of property embraced in the proposition, each separate piece of property capable of being disposed of in one parcel without material injury to the remainder, shall be voted on separately. If on canvassing the votes it shall be found that at least two-thirds of all the shares of the capital stock of such corporation have been voted in favor of selling, leasing, mortgaging or otherwise disposing of a given piece or the whole of said mining property, then the chairman and secretary of such meeting shall make a certificate showing the total number of shares of the capital stock of such corporation represented in such meeting and by whom voted; the number of shares voted in favor of the proposition and the number of shares voted against the same. Such certificate shall be signed by the chairman, countersigned by the secretary, and verified by their oaths, taken before some officer qualified to administer oaths. Such verification shall be to the effect that the matters and things therein contained are true, and that the meeting at which such proceedings were had was called and held in pursuance of law, to the best of their knowledge, information and belief. Such certificate shall be spread at length on the record of stockholders' meetings of such corporation, and a copy thereof under the seal of said corporation, and attested by its president and secretary, and duly acknowledged shall be recorded in the office of the county clerk of every county wherein any of such property is situated.

4407. (§ 1014.) Corporation dissolved.—If a sale shall be made as above provided of the whole of the property of such corporation, the corporation shall thereby be dissolved, and its affairs shall be wound up as provided for in other cases of the dissolution of corporations.

4408. (§ 1015.) Consolidation.—It shall be lawful for two or more corporations formed, or that may hereafter be formed, under the laws of this state, for mining purposes, which own or possess mining claims or lands adjoining each other, or lying in the same vicinity, to consolidate their capital stock, debts, property, assets, and franchises, in such manner and upon such terms as may be agreed upon by the respective boards of directors of such corporations so desiring to consolidate their interests; but no such consolidation shall take place without the written consent of the stockholders representing two-thirds of the capital stock of each corporation, and no such consolidation shall, in any way, relieve such corporations, or the stockholders thereof, from any and all just liabilities; and in case of such consolidation, due notice of the same shall be given, by advertising for one month in at least one newspaper published in the county where the said mining property is situated, if there be one published therein, and also in one newspaper published in the county where the principal place of business of any of said corporations shall be. And when the said consolidation is completed, a certificate thereof, containing the manner and terms of said consolidation, shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the original articles of incorporation of any of said corporations shall be filed, and a copy thereof shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state; such certificate shall be signed by a majority of each board of directors of the original corporations, and it shall be their duty to call, within thirty days after the filing of such certificate, and after at least ten days' public notice, a meeting of the stockholders of all of said mining corporations so consolidated to elect a board of directors for the consolidated mining corporation, for the year then next ensuing. The said certificate shall also contain all the requirements prescribed by this code.

solvent or insolvent, or is a going or prosperous concern or otherwise, shall have power, and upon request of stockholders of the corporation representing at least one-half the amount of the outstanding capital stock, and of record on the books of the company, it shall be their duty to call, by resolution, which resolution shall state whether the whole or only a part of the property of the corporation, and if the latter, shall designate in general terms what part is to be sold, leased, mortgaged, exchanged, or disposed of, for property or for stock of another corporation, domestic or foreign, or otherwise, a meeting of the stockholders of such corporation, appearing as such upon the books of the corporation, for the purpose of considering the question of selling, leasing, mortgaging or exchanging, or disposing of for other property, or for the whole or part of the capital stock of any other corporation, whether domestic or foreign, or for otherwise disposing of the whole or any part of the mining ground, quartz mills, smelters, concentrators, reduction works and other property and assets, of every kind and description, of such mining corporation. Such meeting shall be held at the principal office or place of business of such corporation, and at least thirty days previous notice of the time and place of such meeting shall be given to each person who appears as a stockholder upon the books of the corporation. The secretary of the corporation shall make out and deposit in the United States Post Office, postage paid, a notice of such meeting, directed to each stockholder of record of the corporation by his name and to his place of residence appearing on said records, and shall make and file his affidavit of such deposit. Such notice shall be considered as given upon the deposit of the same in the Post Office, as above required, and shall state the time and place of meeting, and that it is to consider and decide upon the question of disposing of, selling, leasing, mortgaging, exchanging for property or for the whole or any part of the capital stock of any other corporation, or otherwise disposing of the whole or any part of the property of said corporation, as the case may be. If such meeting is called for the purpose of selling, leasing, mortgaging, exchanging, or otherwise disposing of the whole of the property of the corporation, the notice shall so state, but if it is for the purpose of selling, leasing, mortgaging, exchanging, or otherwise disposing of only a part of the property of the corporation, the notice shall so state and describe generally what part it is. A similar notice shall also be published, at least once a week for at least four successive weeks preceding the day of the stockholders' meeting, in some newspaper of general circulation published at or near the office or principal place of business of such corporation, or if there be no newspaper published in said place, then the nearest place thereto where a newspaper is published, and said publication shall be proved by affidavit of the publisher or clerk of such newspaper, filed with the secretary of such corporation. Upon the day appointed for said meeting, if stockholders representing at least two-thirds of the whole number of shares of the capital stock of the corporation then outstanding and of record on the books of the company, appear in person or by agents or proxies filed with the secretary, the stockholders shall organize by electing one of their number chairman and some suitable person secretary. Thereupon, any proposition for the sale or lease, or mortgage, or exchange, or disposition for other property, or for the whole or part of the capital stock of any other corporation, whether domestic or foreign, or to otherwise dispose of the whole or any part of the mining ground, quartz mills, smelters, concentrators, reduction works, or other property or assets of the corporation, of every kind or description, may be considered and acted upon by said meeting, and if stockholders representing at least two-thirds of the whole number of shares of the capital stock of said corporation then outstanding, and of record on the books of the company, appearing at said meeting in person or by agents or proxies as above provided, vote in favor of any such proposition, whether proposed by the directors or trustees or not, as the stockholders may see fit, which proposition shall be in the form of a resolution specifying the particulars thereof and entered on the minutes of said stockholders' meeting, the said proposition or resolution shall be taken and adopted as the act of the corporation and shall be carried out as such and shall be approved and adopted by the board of directors or trustees. The secretary of such meeting shall enter upon the minutes of said stockholders' meeting the number of shares voted for or against the proposition or resolution, and by whom voted, and stockholders voting against said proposition or resolution shall be taken as dissenting therefrom. Upon the adoption of any proposition or resolution such as above referred to, by the stockholders' meeting, the secretary of the meeting shall make out a true and complete copy of the minutes of the stockholders' meeting, which shall be signed by the chairman of such meeting and attested by said secretary and verified by them and acknowledged as required in the case of the conveyance of real estate, and shall file the same for record in the office of the county clerk and recorder of the county wherein the principal office or place of business of such corporation is situated, and also in the offices of the county clerks and recorders of any other counties wherein any of the real property included in the proposition or resolution adopted by said stockholders' meeting is situated, and said record shall impart notice and have the same effect as other instruments required by law to be recorded, and such copies so filed and recorded, or the record thereof, or the certified copy of such record, shall be prima facie evidence of the matters and facts therein stated, and thereupon, and upon the adoption and approval by the board of directors or trustees of the corporation of such proposition or resolution, the corporation and its officers shall have full power and authority to do all acts and to execute all conveyances or other instruments in writing which are necessary or proper to carry out the said proposition or resolution, and the sale, lease, mortgage, exchange, or other disposition, or conveyance of the whole or any part of the property of said corporation authorized by said proposition or resolution, shall thereupon take effect and have the same force as if all the stockholders of the corporation had consented thereto. Provided, That nothing contained in this Act shall be deemed to limit or restrict the powers of the board of directors or trustees of mining corporations, or of corporations other than mining, in relation to the disposition of property or the conduct of business; and Provided, Further, that this Act shall not be so construed as to effect any cases now pending in the Courts of this State or of the United States [Act of February 28th, 1899, § 1.] (6th Sess. 113-116.)

MacGinniss v. B. & M. Co., 29 Mont. 461; 75 Pac. 98. It is not against the public policy of this state to permit mining corporations to hold and vote stock in other mining corporations.

Allen v. Ajax M. Co., 30 Mont. 501; 77 Pac. 49. This section is constitutional.

4410. Dissolution upon sale.—If a disposition shall be made by sale, exchange or otherwise as above provided of the whole of the property of such corporation, the corporation shall thereby be dissolved, and its affairs shall be wound up, as provided for in other cases of the dissolution of corporations. [Act of February 28th, 1899, § 2.] (6th Sess. 116.)

4411. Rights of dissenting stockholders. Appraisement.—Any stockholder who shall not, at said stockholders' meeting, have voted for or authorized the proposition or resolution for the disposition of property which may have been adopted at such stockholders' meeting, may, within twenty days after the date of said stockholders' meeting, give written notice to the said corporation that he does not assent thereto, and also a like notice to the grantee or vendee, or any agent or representative of such grantee or vendee, provided that such grantee or vendee, or agent or representative of such grantee or vendee be within the state, and demands payment of the value of his stock, and within ten days after service of said notices he must, or the said corporation, or its grantee, or vendee, may, make application in the district court of the county where the principal place of business of the corporation is situated to have the value of his stock fixed and appraised, of which application at least ten days previous notice must be given by the person so applying to the other parties. The notices hereinbefore provided for may be served in the manner provided by law for the services of summons in cases in the district court. Upon said application, the said district court shall appoint three competent and disinterested persons as appraisers, and designate the time and place of their first meeting to appraise the value of the stock of such dissenting stockholders, and give them such directions as the said court may think proper. The court may fill any vacancies in the board of appraisers, occurring by refusal or neglect to serve, or otherwise. Said appraisers shall meet at the time and place designated by the court, and they or any two of them shall take an oath to honestly and faithfully discharge their duties, and shall hear and take evidence in relation to the value of the stock of such dissenting stockholder at the time of his dissent and find the value thereof, and return and file their report and appraisal with the clerk of said court. The charges and expenses of such appraisal shall be paid by the corporation or its grantee or vendee. [Act of February 28th, 1899, § 3.] (6th Sess. 116.)

4412. Appeal from appraisal.—Either party to the appraisal and award of such appraisers may, within thirty days from the filing of the same and service of notice thereof, appeal from such award to the district court of the county in which the same is made and filed, and thereupon the value of such stock shall be reassessed by a jury in the same manner as appeals are taken and trial had on appeals from the assessment of commissioners in condemnation proceedings provided by law. When such appraisal or award shall become final, the court shall enter judgment in favor of such dissenting stockholder and against the corporation and its grantee or vendee for the amount of said award, with expenses and cost of proceedings, and execution may be issued on said judgment as in other cases. The judgment may also provide for the sale of the property affected by the lien hereinafter provided for. The claim of such dissenting stockholder for compensation and costs, as aforesaid, and the appraisal and award and judgment thereon shall be and remain a lien upon all the real property of the corporation so conveyed or disposed of in pursuance of the stockholders' resolution, and shall be prior and superior to the rights of the grantee or vendee to all of such property; but the claims of all dissenting stockholders for compensation and their several appraisements, awards and judgments, shall be equal liens upon said property, without precedence or priority between themselves. When the amount of such appraisal and costs shall have been paid to or collected by such dissenting stockholder or deposited with the clerk of the said court for him, he shall cease to have any interest in said stock or in the corporate property of such corporation which may have been sold or disposed of in pursuance of the resolution of the stockholders meeting as herein provided, and the stock of such dissenting stockholder shall thereupon become the property of the party satisfying the said judgment or appraisal unless otherwise provided for by contract between such corporation and its grantee. [Act of February 28th, 1899, § 4.] (6th Sess. 117.)

TITLE XI.

FOREIGN CORPORATIONS.

- Section 4413. Foreign corporations must file copy of charter and statement.*
- “ 4414. Consent of agent.
- “ 4415. Contracts void if made before compliance with act.
- “ 4416. Annual statement.
- “ 4417. Penalty.
- “ 4418. Penalty for acting as agent.
- “ 4419. Corporations engaged in business at time of passage of act.
- “ 4420. Foreign corporations may exercise power of eminent domain.

4413. Foreign corporations must file copy of charter and statement.—All foreign corporations or joint stock companies, except foreign insurance companies and corporations otherwise provided for, organized under the laws of any State, or of the United States, or of any foreign government, shall, before doing business within this State, file in the office of the Secretary of State, and in the office of the County Clerk of the county wherein they intend to carry on business, a duly authenticated copy of their charter, or articles of incorporations, and also a statement, verified by oath of the President and Secretary of such corporation, and attested by a majority of its Board of Directors showing:

1. The name of such corporation and the location of its principal office or place of business without this State; and the location of the place of business or principal office within this State.
2. The amount of capital stock.
3. The amount of its capital stock actually paid in, in money.
4. The amount of its capital stock paid in, in any other way, and in what.
5. The amount of the assets of the corporation and of what the assets consist, with the actual cash value thereof.
6. The liabilities of such corporation, and if any of its indebtedness is secured, how secured, and upon what property.

Such corporation or joint stock company shall also file, at the same time, and in the same office, a certificate, under the seal of the corporation, and the signature of its President, Vice-President, or other acting head, and its Secretary, if there be one, certifying that the said corporation has consented to be sued in the courts of this State, upon all causes of action arising against it in this State, and that service of process may be made upon some person, a citizen of this State, whose name and place of residence shall be designated in such certificate, and such service, when so made upon such agent shall be valid service on the corporation or company, and such agent shall reside at the principal place of business of such corporation or company.

7. In case of alteration or amendment of the charter or articles of incorporation of any foreign corporation doing business in this State, or of increasing its capital stock, or of continuing its corporate existence, it must within thirty days after the same is adopted by the corporation file a duly authenticated copy of such amendment or alteration or certificate of increase of capital stock, or of continuance of corporate existence in the office of the Secretary of State and in the office of the County Clerk of the County where it intends to carry on business; and whenever any such corporation increases its capital stock or continues its corporate existence, it shall pay to the Secretary of State at the time of filing in his office the duly authenticated copy of the certificate thereof, the same fee that is required by law from domestic corporations for filing certificates of increase of capital stock or certificates of corporate existence. Any such corporation failing, neglecting or refusing to file such duly authenticated copies of all alterations, or amendments, of its charter or articles of incorporation, and of all certificates of increase of capital stock or continuance of corporate existence, shall forfeit its right to do business in this State and shall be subject to all the penalties, liabilities and restrictions imposed by law upon foreign corporations for doing business in this State without filing duly authenticated copies of their charters, or articles of incorporation, in the manner required by law; provided, however, that any foreign corporation now doing business in this State and which has altered or amended its charter or articles of incorporation or increased its capital stock, or continued its corporate existence since first filing a duly authenticated copy of its charter or articles of incorporation with the Secretary of State, and which has not already filed a duly authenticated copy of such alterations, amendments, or certificates of increase or continuance, must within ninety days from and after the passage and approval of this Act comply herewith. [Act approved March 9, 1907.] (10th Sess. Chap. 181.)

State v. Rotwitt, 17 Mont. 41; 41 Pac. 1004.

Zion M. Co. v. Mayo, 22 Mont. 101; 55 Pac. 915. In an action by a foreign corporation to enforce a domestic contract, the plaintiff corporation is not required to plead in its complaint compliance with the statutes entitling it to do business within the state.

American Co. v. O'Rourke, 23 Mont. 531; 59 Pac. 910. The question in an action on a domestic contract of the noncompliance of a foreign corporation with the statutes entitling it to do business within the state can only be raised by answer.

State v. Mayor, 30 Mont. 342; 76 Pac. 759.

State v. Aetna Co., 34 Mont. 381; 87 Pac. 268.

Helena P. Co. v. Spratt, 35 Mont. 131; 88 Pac. 773.

4414. Consent of agent.—The written consent of the person so designated to act as such agent shall also be filed in like manner, and such designation shall remain in force until the filing in the same offices of a written revocation thereof, or of a consent, executed in like manner. A certified copy of a designation so filed, accompanied with a certificate that it has not been revoked, is presumptive evidence of the execution thereof and conclusive evidence of the authority of the officer executing it. [Act approved March 9th, 1901, § 2.] (7th Sess. 151.)

4416. Annual statement.—Every corporation shall annually, and within two months from the first day of April of each year, make a report, which shall be in the same form, and contain the same information as required in the statement mentioned in Section 4413 (1) of this Act, which report shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county wherein the business of said corporation is carried on, and a duplicate thereof in the office of the secretary of state. [Act approved March 9th, 1901, § 4.] (7th Sess. 151.)

4417. Penalty.—Every foreign corporation doing business in this state contrary to the provisions of this Act is guilty of a misdemeanor. [Act approved March 9th, 1901, § 5.] (7th Sess. 151.)

4418. Penalty for acting as agent.—Every person who acts as agent or in any other capacity for a foreign corporation, who has not complied with the provisions of law relating to foreign corporations, is guilty of a misdemeanor. [Act approved March 9th, 1901, § 6.] (7th Sess. 151.)

4419. Corporations engaged in business at time of passage of act.—Any foreign corporation or joint stock company now engaged in carrying on business in Montana, which has heretofore filed a copy of its charter or articles of incorporation, a statement, certificate designating an agent upon whom service of summons and other process may be made, and the consent of such agent in compliance with the provisions of Title XI, Part IV, Division I of the Civil Code of Montana shall not be required to comply with the provision of §§ 4413 (1) and 4414 (2) of this Act provided, that if the agent designated and appointed by such corporation or joint stock company does not now reside in this State, or has resigned, or his appointment has been revoked, or if he shall hereafter reside out of the State, or resign, or his appointment be revoked, such corporation or joint stock company shall be required to designate another agent and file such designation and the consent of such agent in accordance with the provisions of this act. [Act approved March 9th, 1901, § 8.] (7th Sess. 152.)

4420. Foreign corporations may exercise power of eminent domain.—Any corporation, organized under the laws of any state of the United States, or the laws of the United States, and authorized to engage in business in this state, and engaged in business in this state, may acquire real property as provided in the Code of Civil Procedure, Title VII, Part III, to the same extent, for the same purposes, and in the same manner, as corporations organized under the laws of this state. [Act approved February 20, 1907.] (10th Sess. Chap. 23.)

4421. (§ 1070.) Property, what.—The ownership of a thing is the right of one or more persons to possess and use it to the exclusion of others. In this code, the thing of which there may be ownership is called property.

Terrace Co. v. San Antonio Co., 1 C. App. 513; 82 Pac. 562.

4422. (§ 1071.) In what property may consist.—There may be ownership of all inanimate things which are capable of appropriation or of mutual delivery; of all domestic animals; of all obligations; of such products of labor or skill, as the composition of an author; the good will of a business; trade marks and signs, and of rights created or granted by statute.

Terrace Co. v. San Antonio Co., 1. C. App. 513; 82 Pac. 562.

4423. (§ 1072.) Wild animals.—Animals wild by nature are the subjects of ownership, while living, only when on the land of the person claiming them, or when tamed, or taken or held in the possession, or disabled and immediately pursued.

Ex parte Kennke, 136 Cal. 531; 69 Pac. 261.

4424. (§ 1073.) Real and personal.—Property is either:

1. Real or immovable; or,
2. Personal or movable.

4425. (§ 1074.) Real property.—Real or immovable property consists of:

1. Land.
2. That which is affixed to land.
3. That which is incidental or appurtenant to land.
4. That which is immovable by law.

Peterson v. Gibbs, 147 Cal. 7; 81 Pac. 121.

4426. (§ 1075.) Land.—Land is the solid material of the earth, whatever may be the ingredients of which it is composed, whether soil, rock or other substance.

Mount Carmel Co. v. Webster, 140 Cal. 187; 73 Pac. 826.

4427. (§ 1076.) Fixtures.—A thing is deemed to be affixed to land when it is attached to it by roots, as in the case of trees, vines, or shrubs, or imbedded in it, as in the case of walls, or permanently resting upon it, as in the case of buildings, or permanently attached to what is thus permanent, as, by means of cement, plaster, nails, bolts, or screws.

M. M. Co. v. O'Donnell, 24 Mont. 71; 60 Pac. 596. A cover for a stovepipe flue, opening into the chimney from the interior of a building, and removable when such flue was to be used, was not material entering into the construction of a building, nor a fixture, and such building was not subject to a lien therefor.

Mount Carmel Co. v. Webster, 140 Cal. 187; 73 Pac. 826.

4428. (§ 1077.) Fixtures attached to mines.—Sluice boxes, flumes, hose, pipes, railway tracks, cars, blacksmith shops, mills, and all other machinery or tools used in working or developing a mine, are to be deemed affixed to the mine.

Hamilton v. Delhi Co., 118 Cal. 153; 50 Pac. 378.

4429. (§ 1078.) Appurtenances.—A thing is deemed to be incidental or appurtenant to land when it is by right used with the land for its benefit, as in the case of a way, or water course, or of a passage for light, air, or heat from or across the land of another.

Smith v. Denniff, 23 Mont. 68; 57 Pac. 558.

Smith v. Denniff, 24 Mont. 23; 60 Pac. 399. A water course across the land of another is an easement, and an appurtenance to land is an easement. One having a possessory right in land, who appropriates water from the public domain for use on such land, cannot be deprived of his title to such water right by a party who wishes to make it appurtenant to land which he owns.

Visalia Bank v. Smith, 146 Cal. 400; 81 Pac. 542.

4430. (§ 1079.) Personal property.—Every kind of property that is not real is personal.

Terrace Co. v. San Antonio Co., 1 C. App. 513; 82 Pac. 562.

OWNERS.

Section 4431. Owner.

“ 4432. Property of the state.

4431. (§ 1090.) Owner.—All property has an owner, whether that owner is the state, and the property public; or the owner an individual, and the property private. The state may also hold property as a private proprietor.

4432. (§ 1091.) Property of the state.—The state is the owner of all land below the water of a navigable lake or stream; of all property lawfully appropriated by it to its own use; of all property dedicated or granted to the state, and all property of which there is no other owner.

 " 4457. What future interests are recognized.

4433. (§ 1100.) Ownership, absolute or qualified.—The ownership of property is either:

1. Absolute; or,
2. Qualified.

Higgins v. San Diego, 131 Cal. 307; 63 Pac. 470.

4434. (§ 1101.) When absolute.—The ownership of property is absolute when a single person has the absolute dominion over it, and may use it or dispose of it according to his pleasure, subject only to general laws.

Rodgers v. Bachman, 109 Cal. 555; 42 Pac. 448.

4435. (§ 1102.) When qualified.—The ownership of property is qualified:

1. When it is shared with one or more persons.
2. When the time of enjoyment is deferred or limited.
3. When the use is restricted.

4436. (§ 1103.) Several ownership, what.—The ownership of property by a single person is designated as a sole or several ownership.

4437. (§ 1104.) Ownership of several persons.—The ownership of property by several persons is either:

1. Of joint interests.
2. Of partnership interests.
3. Of interests in common.

4438. (§ 1105.) Joint interest, what.—A joint interest is one owned by several persons in equal shares, by a title created by a single will or transfer, when expressly declared in the will or transfer to be a joint tenancy, or when granted or devised to executors or trustees as joint tenants.

Estate of Hittell, 141 Cal. 435; 75 Pac. 53.

4439. (§ 1106.) Partnership interest, what.—A partnership interest is one owned by several persons in partnership, for partnership purposes.

4440. (§ 1107.) Interest in common, what.—An interest in common is one owned by several persons, not in joint ownership or partnership.

Estate of Hittell, 141 Cal. 435; 75 Pac. 53.

4441. (§ 1108.) What interests are in common.—Every interest created in favor of several persons in their own right, including husband and wife, is an interest in common, unless acquired by them in partnership, for partnership purposes, or unless declared in its creation to be a joint interest, as provided in § 4438 (1105).

Estate of Hittell, 141 Cal. 435; 75 Pac. 53.

4442. (§ 1109.) Interests as to time.—In respect to the time of enjoyment, an interest in property is either:

1. Present or future; and,
2. Perpetual or limited.

4443. (§ 1110.) Present interest, what.—A present interest entitles the owner to the immediate possession of the property.

4444. (§ 1111.) Future interest, what.—A future interest entitles the owner to the possession of the property only at a future period.

Goldtree v. Thompson, 79 Cal. 622; 22 Pac. 50.

4445. (§ 1112.) Perpetual interest, what.—A perpetual interest has a duration equal to that of the property.

4446. (§ 1113.) Limited interest, what.—A limited interest has a duration of less than that of the property.

4447. (§ 1114.) Kinds of future interests.—A future interest is either:

1. Vested; or,
2. Contingent.

4448. (§ 1115.) Vested interests.—A future interest is vested when there is a person in being who would have a right, defeasible or indefeasible, to the immediate possession of the property upon the ceasing of the intermediate or precedent interest.

Estate of Sanford, 136 Cal. 106; 68 Pac. 494.

4449. (§ 1116.) Contingent interests.—A future interest is contingent whilst the person in whom, or the event upon which, it is limited to take effect remains uncertain.

Jewell v. Pierce, 120 Cal. 84; 52 Pac. 132.

4450. (§ 1117.) Two or more future interests.—Two or more future interests may be created to take effect in the alternative, so that if the first in order fails to vest, the next in succession shall be substituted for it, and take effect accordingly.

4451. (§ 1118.) Certain future interests not to be void.—A future interest is not void merely because of the improbability of the contingency on which it is limited to take effect.

4452. (§ 1119.) Posthumous children.—When a future interest is limited to successors, heirs, issue or children, posthumous children are entitled to take in the same manner as if living at the death of their parent.

4453. (§ 1120.) Qualities of expectant estates.—Future interests pass by succession, will, and transfer, in the same manner as present interests.

Dunn v. Schell, 122 Cal. 627; 55 Pac. 595.

4454. (§ 1121.) Same.—A mere possibility, such as the expectancy of an heir apparent, is not to be deemed an interest of any kind.

Supreme Council v. Gehrenbeck, 124 Cal. 44; 56 Pac. 640.

4455. (§ 1122.) Interests in real property.—In respect to real or immovable property, the interests mentioned in this chapter are denominated estates and are specially named and classified in part II., of this division.

4456. (§ 1123.) Same.—The names and classification of interests in real property have only such application to interests in personal property as is in this division of the code expressly provided.

4457. (§ 1124.) What future interests are recognized.—No future interest in property is recognized by the law, except such as is defined in this division of the code.

“ 4461. Conditions restraining marriage void.

4458. (§ 1140.) Fixing the time of enjoyment.—The time when the enjoyment of property is to begin or end may be determined by computation, to be made to depend on event. In the latter case, the enjoyment is said to be upon condition.

4459. (§ 1141.) Conditions.—Conditions are precedent or subsequent. The former fix the beginning, the latter the ending, of the right.

4460. (§ 1142.) Certain conditions precedent void.—If a condition precedent requires the performance of an act wrong of itself, the instrument containing it is so far void, and the right cannot exist. If it requires the performance of an act not wrong of itself, but otherwise unlawful, the instrument takes effect and the condition is void.

4461. (§ 1143.) Conditions restraining marriage void.—Conditions imposing restraints upon marriage, except upon the marriage of a minor, are void; but this does not effect limitations where intent was not to forbid marriage, but only to give the use until marriage.

Estate of Alexander, 149 Cal. 151; 85 Pac. 308.

4462. (§ 1144.) Conditions restraining alienation void.—Conditions restraining alienation, when repugnant to the interest created, are void.

Estate of Campbell, 149 Cal. 717; 87 Pac. 573.

ARTICLE III.

RESTRAINTS UPON ALIENATION.

Section 4463. How long it may be suspended.

“ 4464. Future interests void, which suspend power of alienation.

“ 4466. Leases of city lots, for over twenty-five years, void.

4463. (§ 1150.) How long it may be suspended.—The absolute power of alienation cannot be suspended, by any limitation or condition whatever, for a longer period than during the continuance of the lives of persons in being at the creation of the limitation or condition, except in the single case mentioned in § 4492 (1221).

Estate of Lux, 149 Cal. 204; 85 Pac. 147.

4464. (§ 1151.) Future interests void, which suspend power of alienation.—Every future interest is void in its creation which, by any possibility, may suspend the absolute power of alienation for a longer period than is prescribed in this chapter. Such power of alienation is suspended, when there are no persons in being by whom an absolute interest in possession can be conveyed.

Blakeman v. Miller, 136 Cal. 141; 68 Pac. 587.

4465. (§ 1152.) Leases of agricultural lands, for over ten year, void.—No lease or grant of agricultural land for a longer period than ten years, in which shall be reserved any rent or service of any kind, shall be valid.

Mann v. Mann, 141 Cal. 330; 74 Pac. 995.

4466. (§ 1153.) Leases of city lots, for over twenty-five years, void.—No lease or grant of any town or city lot, for a longer period than twenty-five years, in which shall be reserved any rent or service of any kind, shall be valid.

Harter v. San Jose, 141 Cal. 667; 75 Pac. 344.

ARTICLE IV.

ACCUMULATIONS.

Section 4467. Dispositions of income.

“ 4468. Accumulations, when void.

“ 4469. Accumulation of income.

“ 4470. Other directions when void in part.

4467. (§ 1160.) Dispositions of income.—Dispositions of the income of the property to accrue and to be received at any time subsequent to the execution of the instrument creating such disposition, are governed by the rules prescribed in this title in relation to future interests.

Goldtree v. Thompson, 79 Cal. 623; 22 Pac. 50.

4468. (§ 1161.) Accumulations, when void.—All directions for the accumulation of the income of property, except such as are allowed by this title, are void.

Estate of Pforr, 144 Cal. 127; 77 Pac. 825.

4469. (§ 1162.) Accumulation of income.—An accumulation of the income of property, for the benefit of one or more persons, may be directed by any will or transfer in writing sufficient to pass the property out of which the fund is to arise, as follows:

1. If such accumulation is directed to commence on the creation of the interest out of which the income is to arise, it must be made for the benefit of one or more minors then in being, and terminate at the expiration of their minority; or

2. If such accumulation is directed to commence at any time subsequent to the creation of the interest out of which the income is to arise, it must commence within the time in this title permitted for the vesting of future interests and during the minority of the beneficiaries, and terminate at the expiration of such minority.

Goldtree v. Thompson, 79 Cal. 623; 22 Pac. 50.

4470. (§ 1163.) Other directions when void in part.—If in either of the cases mentioned in the last section the direction for an accumulation is for a longer term than during the minority of the beneficiaries, the direction only, whether separable or not from other provisions of the instrument, is void as respects the time beyond such minority.

4471. (§ 1164.) Application of income, to support, etc., of minors.—When a minor for whose benefit an accumulation has been directed is destitute of other sufficient means of support and education, the proper court, upon application, may direct a suitable sum to be applied thereto out of the fund.

CHAPTER III.

RIGHT OF OWNERS.

Section 4472. Increase of property.

“ 4473. In certain cases who entitled to income of property.

4472. (§ 1170.) Income of property.—The owner of a thing also owns all its products and accessions.

Frank v. Symons, 35 Mont. 62; 88 Pac. 561.

4473. (§ 1171.) In certain cases who entitled to income of property.—When, in consequence of a valid limitation of a future interest, there is a suspension of the power of alienation or of the ownership during the continuation of which the income is undisposed of, and no valid direction for its accumulation is given, such income belongs to the person presumptively entitled to the next eventual interest.

CHAPTER IV.

TERMINATION OF OWNERSHIP.

Section 4474. Future interests, when defeated.

“ 4477. Same.

4474. (§ 1180.) Future interests, when defeated.—A future interest, depending on the contingency of the death of any person without successors, heirs, issue, or children, is defeated by the birth of a posthumous child of such person, capable of taking by succession.

4475. (§ 1181.) Same.—A future interest may be defeated in any manner or by any act or means which the party creating such interest provided for or authorized in the creation thereof; nor is the future interest, thus liable to be defeated, to be on that ground adjudged void in its creation.

4476. (§ 1182.) Future interests when not defeated.—No future interest can be defeated or barred by any alienation or other act of the owner of the intermediate or precedent interest, nor by destruction of such precedent interest, by forfeiture, surrender, merger, or otherwise, except as provided by the next section, or where a forfeiture is imposed by statute as a penalty for the violation thereof

Pryor v. Winter, 147 Cal. 559; 82 Pac. 202.

4477. (§ 1183.) Same.—No future interest, valid in its creation, is defeated by the determination of the precedent interest before the happening of the contingency on which the future interest is limited to take effect; but should such contingency afterwards happen, the future interest takes effect in the same manner, and to the same extent, as if the precedent interest had continued to the same period.

TITLE III.

GENERAL DEFINITIONS.

Section 4478. Income, what.

“ 4479. Time of creation, what.

4478. (§ 1190.) Income, what.—The income of property, as the term is used in this part of the code, includes the rents and profits of real property, the interest of money, dividends, upon stock, and other produce of personal property.

4479. (§ 1191.) Time of creation, what.—The delivery of the grant, where a limitation, condition, or future interest is created by grant, and the death of the testator, where it is created by will, is to be deemed the time of the creation of the limitation, condition or interest, within the meaning of this part of the code.

Estate of Steele, 124 Cal. 537; 57 Pac. 564.

PART II.

REAL OR IMMOVABLE PROPERTY.

- TITLE I. GENERAL PROVISIONS.
 II. ESTATES IN REAL PROPERTY.
 III. RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS.
 IV. USES AND TRUSTS.
 V. POWERS.

TITLE I.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

4480. (§ 1200.) Real property, how governed.—Real property within this state is governed by the law of this state, except where the title is in the United States.

TITLE II.

ESTATES IN REAL PROPERTY.

- CHAPTER I. ESTATES IN GENERAL.
 II. TERMINATION OF ESTATES.
 III. SERVITUDES.

CHAPTER I.

ESTATES IN GENERAL.

- Section 4481. Enumeration of estates.
 “ 4483. Conditional fees and estates tail abolished.
 “ 4484. Certain remainders valid.
 “ 4486. Estates for life of a third person, when a freehold, etc.
 “ 4490. Limitations of chattels real.
 “ 4491. Suspension by trust.
 “ 4492. Contingent remainder in fee.
 “ 4493. Remainders, future and contingent estates, how created.
 “ 4494. Limitation of successive estates for life.
 “ 4495. Remainder upon estates for life of third person.
 “ 4496. Contingent remainder on a term of years.

Section 4498. Remainder upon a contingency.

4481. (§ 1210.) Enumeration of estates.—Estates in real property, in respect to the duration of their enjoyment, are either:

1. Estates of inheritance or perpetual estates.
2. Estates for life.
3. Estates for years; or,
4. Estates at will.

Summerville v. Stockton Co., 142 Cal. 538; 76 Pac. 243.

4482. (§ 1211.) What estate a fee simple.—Every estate of inheritance is a fee, and such estate, when not defeasable or conditional, is a fee simple, or an absolute fee.

4483. (§ 1212.) Conditional fees and estates tail abolished.—Estates tail are abolished, and every estate which would be at common law adjudged to be a fee tail is a fee simple, and if no valid remainder is limited thereon, is a fee simple absolute.

Barnett v. Barnett, 104 Cal. 302; 37 Pac. 1049.

4484. (§ 1213.) Certain remainders valid.—Where a remainder in fee is limited upon any estate, which would by the common law be adjudged a fee tail, such remainder is valid as a contingent limitation upon a fee, and vests in possession on the death of the first taker, without issue living at the time of his death.

4485. (§ 1214.) Freeholds, chattels real, chattel interests.—Estates of inheritance and for life are called estates of freehold; estates for years are chattels real; and estates at will are chattel interests, but are not liable as such to sale on execution.

Summerville v. Stockton Co., 142 Cal. 538; 76 Pac. 243.

4486. (§ 1215.) Estates for life of a third person, when a freehold, etc.—An estate, during the life of a third person, whether limited to heirs or otherwise, is a freehold.

4487. (§ 1216.) Future estates, what.—A future estate may be limited by the act of the party to commence in possession at a future day, either without the intervention of a precedent estate, or on the termination, by lapse of time or otherwise, of a precedent estate created at the same time.

Wilhoit v. Salmon, 146 Cal. 447; 80 Pac. 705.

4488. (§ 1217.) Reversions.—A reversion is the residue of an estate left by operation of law in the grantor or his successors, or in the successors of a testator, commencing in possession on the determination of a particular estate granted or devised.

Estate of Bennett, 134 Cal. 322; 66 Pac. 370.

4489. (§ 1218.) Remainders.—When a future estate, other than reversion, is dependent on a precedent estate, it may be called a remainder, and may be created and transferred by that name.

4490. (§ 1219.) Limitations of chattels real.—The absolute ownership of a term of years cannot be suspended for a longer period than the absolute power of alienation can be suspended in respect to a fee.

4491. (§ 1220.) Suspension by trust.—The suspension of all power to alienate the subject of a trust, other than a power to exchange it for other property to be held upon the same trust, or to sell it and reinvest the proceeds to be held upon the same trust, is a suspension of the power of alienation, within the meaning of § 4463 (1150).

Estate of Steele, 124 Cal. 537; 57 Pac. 564.

4492. (§ 1221.) Contingent remainder in fee.—A contingent remainder in fee may be created on a prior remainder in fee, to take effect in the event that the person to whom the first remainder is limited, die under the age of twenty-one years, or upon any other contingency by which the estate of such persons may be determined before they attain majority.

Estate of Willey, 128 Cal. 9; 60 Pac. 471.

4493. (§ 1222.) Remainders, future and contingent estates, how created.—Subject to the rules of this title, and of part I. of this division, a freehold estate, as well as a chattel real, may be created to commence at a future day; an estate for life may be created in a term of years, and a remainder limited thereon; a remainder of a freehold or chattel real, either contingent or vested, may be created, expectant on the determination of a term of years; and a fee may be limited on a fee upon a contingency, which, if it should occur, must happen within the period prescribed in this title

Blakeman v. Miller, 136 Cal. 141; 68 Pac. 587.

4494. (§ 1223.) Limitation of successive estates for life.—Successive estates for life cannot be limited, except to persons in being at the creation thereof, and all life estates subsequent to those of persons in being are void; and upon the death of those persons the remainder, if valid in its creation, takes effect in the same manner as if no other life estate had been created

4495. (§ 1224.) Remainder upon estates for life of third person.—No remainder can be created upon successive estates for life, provided for in the preceding section, unless such remainder is in fee; nor can a remainder be created upon such estate in a term of years, unless it is for the whole residue of such term.

4496. (§ 1225.) Contingent remainder on a term of years.—A contingent remainder cannot be created on a term of years, unless the remainder must vest in interest during the continuance or at the termination of lives in being at the creation of such remainder.

Blakeman v. Miller, 136 Cal. 141; 68 Pac. 587.

4497. (§ 1226.) Remainder of estates for life.—No estate for life can be limited as a remainder on a term of years, except to a person in being at the creation of such estate.

4498. (§ 1227.) Remainder upon a contingency.—A remainder may be limited on a contingency which, in case it should happen, will operate to abridge or determine the precedent; and every such remainder is to be deemed a conditional limitation.

Jewell v. Pierce, 120 Cal. 84; 52 Pac. 132.

4499. (§ 1228.) Heirs of a tenant for life, when to take as purchasers.—When a remainder is limited to the heir or heirs of the body of a person to whom a life estate in the same property is given, the persons who, on the termination of the life estate, are the successors or heirs of the body of the owner for life, are entitled to take by virtue of the remainder so limited to them, and not as mere successors of the owner for life

Barnett v. Barnett, 104 Cal. 299; 37 Pac. 1049.

4500. (§ 1229.) Construction of certain remainders.—When a remainder of an estate for life or for years is not limited on a contingency defeating or avoiding such precedent estate, it is to be deemed intended to take effect only on the death of the first taker, or the expiration by lapse of time, of such term of years.

4501. (§ 1230.) Effect of power of appointment.—A general or special power of appointment does not prevent the vesting of a future estate limited to take effect in case such power is not executed.

Estate of Dunphy, 147 Cal. 102; 81 Pac. 315.

CHAPTER II.

TERMINATION OF ESTATES.

Section 4502. Tenancy at will may be terminated by notice.

“ 4503. Effect of notice.

“ 4506. Notice not necessary before actions.

4502. (§ 1240.) Tenancy at will may be terminated by notice.—A tenancy or other estate at will, however created, may be terminated by the landlord's giving notice in writing to the tenant, in the manner prescribed by the code of civil procedure, to remove from the premises within a period of not less than one month, to be specified in the notice.

McCarthy v. Brown, 113 Cal. 19; 45 Pac. 14.

4503. (§ 1241.) Effect of notice.—After such notice has been served and the period specified by such notice has expired, but not before, the landlord may re-enter, or proceed according to law to recover possession.

Kaiser v. Dalto, 140 Cal. 167; 73 Pac. 828.

4504. (§ 1242.) Re-entry, when and how to be made.—Whenever the right of re-entry is given to the grantor or lessor in any grant or lease, or otherwise, such re-entry may be made at any time after the right has accrued upon three days' notice, as provided in the Code of Civil Procedure.

Earl Co. v. Fava, 138 Cal. 79; 70 Pac. 1073.

4505. (§ 1243.) Summary proceedings in certain cases, how provided for.—Summary proceedings for obtaining possession of real property forcibly entered, or forcibly and unlawfully detained, are provided for in the Code of Civil Procedure.

4506. (§ 1244.) Notice not necessary before action.—An action for the possession of real property leased or granted, with a right of re-entry, may be maintained at any time, in the district court, after the right to re-enter has accrued, without the notice prescribed in § 4504 (1242).

CHAPTER III.

SERVITUDES.

Section 4507. Servitudes attached to land.

“ 4508. Servitudes not attached to land.

“ 4512. Extent of servitudes.

“ 4515. Actions by owner and occupant of dominant tenement.

4507. (§ 1250.) Servitudes attached to land.—The following land burdens, or servitudes upon land, may be attached to other land as incidents or appurtenances, and are then called easements:

1. The right of pasture.
2. The right of fishing.
3. The right of taking game.
4. The right of way.
5. The right of taking water, wood, minerals, and other things.
6. The right of transacting business upon land.
7. The right of conducting lawful sports upon land.

8. The right of receiving air, light, or heat from or over, or discharging the same upon or over land.

9. The right of receiving water from or discharging the same upon land.

10. The right of flooding land.

11. The right of having water flow without diminution or disturbance of any kind.

12. The right of using a wall as a party wall.

13. The right of receiving more than natural support from adjacent land or things affixed thereto.

14. The right of having the whole of a division fence maintained by coterminous owner.

15. The right of having public conveyances stopped, or of stopping the same on land.

16. The right of a seat in church.

17. The right of burial.

Smith v. Denniff, 24 Mont. 24; 60 Pac. 399. Stockton Co. v. San Joaquin Co., 148 Cal. 32; 83 Pac. 54.

4508. (§ 1251.) Servitudes not attached to land.—The following land burdens, or servitudes upon land, may be granted and held, though not attached to land:

1. The right of pasture, and of fishing and taking game.

2. The right of a seat in church.

3. The right of burial.

4. The right of taking rents and tolls.

5. The right of way.

6. The right of taking water, wood, minerals, or other things

Smith v. Denniff, 24 Mont. 24; 60 Pac. 399. Stockton Co. v. San Joaquin Co., 148 Cal. 32; 83 Pac. 54.

4509. (§ 1252.) Designation of estates.—The land to which an easement is attached is called the dominant tenement; the land upon which a burden or servitude is held is called the servient tenement.

4510. (§ 1253.) By whom grantable.—A servitude can be created only by one who has a vested estate in the servient tenement.

4511. (§ 1254.) By whom held.—A servitude thereon cannot be held by the owner of the servient tenement.

Smith v. Denniff, 24 Mont. 25; 60 Pac. 399. Dixon v. Schermeier, 110 Cal. 585; 42 Pac. 1091.

4512. (§ 1255.) Extent of servitudes.—The extent of a servitude is determined by the terms of the grant, or of the nature of the enjoyment by which it was acquired.

Winslow v. Vallejo, 148 Cal. 725; 84 Pac. 191.

4513. (§ 1256.) Apportioning easements.—In case of partition of the dominant tenement, the burden must be apportioned according to the division of the dominant tenement, but not in such a way as to increase the burden upon the servient tenement.

4514. (§ 1257.) Rights of owner of future estate.—The owner of a future estate in a dominant tenement may use easements attached thereto for the purpose of viewing waste, demanding rent, or removing an obstruction to the enjoyment of such easements, although such tenement is occupied by a tenant.

4515. (§ 1258.) Actions by owner and occupant of dominant tenement.—The owner of any estate in a dominant tenement, or the occupant of such tenement, may maintain an action for the enforcement of an easement attached thereto.

Los Robles Co. v. Stoneman, 146 Cal. 211; 79 Pac. 880.

4516. (§ 1259.) Actions by owner of servient tenement.—The owner in fee of a servient tenement may maintain an action for the possession of the land, against any one unlawfully possessed thereof, though a servitude exists thereon in favor of the public.

4517. (§ 1260.) How extinguished.—A servitude is extinguished:

1. By the vesting of the right to the servitude and the right to the servient tenement in the same person.

2. By the destruction of the servient tenement.

3. By the performance of any act upon either tenement, by the owner of the servitude, or with his assent, which is incompatible with its nature or exercise; or,

4. When the servitude was acquired by enjoyment, by disuse thereof by the owner of the servitude for the period prescribed for acquiring title by enjoyment.

Smith v. Denniff, 24 Mont. 25; 60

Smith v. Hawkins, 110 Cal. 126; 42 Pac. 453.

“ 4527. Terms of lease may be changed by notice.

4518. (§ 1270.) Rights of tenant for life.—The owner of a life estate may use the land in the same manner as the owner of a fee simple, except that he must do no act to the injury of the inheritance.

4519. (§ 1271.) Rights of tenant for years, etc.—A tenant for years or at will unless he is a wrong-doer by holding over, may occupy the buildings, take the annual products of the soil, work mines and quarries open at the commencement of his tenancy, and a tenant at will or for an indefinite term, may cultivate and harvest the crops growing at the end of his tenancy.

4520. (§ 1272.) Same.—A tenant for years or at will has no other rights to the property than such as are given to him by the agreement or instrument by which his tenancy is acquired, or by the last section.

4521. (§ 1273.) Rights of grantees of rents and reversion.—A person to whom any real property is transferred or devised, upon which rent has been reserved, or to whom any such rent is transferred, is entitled to the same remedies for recovery of rent, for non-performance of any of the terms of the lease, or of any waste or cause of forfeiture, as his grantor or devisor might have had.

Estate of O'Connor, 2 C. App. 475; 84 Pac. 317.

4522. (§ 1274.) Liability of assignee of lessee.—Whatever remedies the lessor of any real property has against his immediate lessee for the breach of any agreement in the lease, or for recovery of the possession he has against the assigns of the lessee, for any cause of action accruing while they are such assignees, except where the assignment is made by way of security for a loan, and is not accompanied by possession of the premises.

4523. (§ 1275.) Rights of lessees and their assignees, etc.—Whatever remedies the lessee of any real property may have against his immediate lessor, for the breach of any agreement in the lease, he may have against the assigns of the lessor, and the assigns of the lessee may have against the lessor and his assigns, except upon covenants against incumbrances or relating to the title or possession of the premises.

4524. (§ 1276.) Remedy on leases for life.—Rent due upon a lease for life may be recovered in the same manner as upon a lease for years.

4525. (§ 1277.) Rent dependent on life.—Rent dependent on the life of a person may be recovered after as well as before his death.

4526. (§ 1278.) Remedy of reversioners, etc.—A person having an estate in fee, in remainder or reversion, may maintain an action for any injury done to the inheritance, notwithstanding an intervening estate for life or years, and although, after its commission, his estate is transferred, and he has no interest in the property at the commencement of the action.

4527. (§ 1279.) Terms of lease may be changed by notice.—In all leases of lands or tenements, or of any interest therein, from month to month, the landlord may, upon giving notice in writing at least fifteen days before the expiration of the month, change the terms of the lease, to take effect at the expiration of the month. The notice, when served upon the tenant, shall of itself operate and be effectual to create and establish, as a part of the lease, the terms, rent, and conditions specified in the notice; if the tenant shall continue to hold the premises after the expiration of the month.

4528. (§ 1290.) Rights of owner.—The owner of land in fee has the right to the surface and to everything permanently situated beneath or above it.

4529. (§ 1291.) Boundaries by water.—Except where the grant under which the land is held indicates a different intent, the owner of the land when it borders upon a navigable lake or stream takes to the edge of the lake or stream at low-water mark; when it borders upon any other water, the owner takes to the middle of the lake or stream.

Gibson v. Kelly, 15 Mont. 422; 39 Pac. 517. The boundary of land on a non-tidal navigable river, when another intent is not expressed, extends to the ordinary low-water mark, and ejectment will lie at the suit of a riparian owner on a navigable stream to recover the possession of land between high and low water mark, from one who is in possession thereof and not claiming rights as a navigator or fisherman.

4530. (§ 1292.) Boundaries by ways.—An owner of land bounded by a road or street is presumed to own to the center thereof, but the contrary may be shown.

Larrabee v. Cloverdale, 131 Cal. 99; 63 Pac. 143.

4531. (§ 1293.) Lateral and subjacent support.—Each co-terminous owner is entitled to the lateral and subjacent support which his land receives from the adjoining land, subject to the right of the owner of the adjoining land to make proper and usual excavations on the same for the purposes of construction, on using ordinary care and skill, and taking reasonable precautions to sustain the land of the other, and giving previous reasonable notice to the other of his intention to make such excavations.

In re Kelso, 147 Cal. 611; 82 Pac. 241.

4532. (§ 1294.) Trees whose trunks are wholly on land of one.—Trees whose trunks stand wholly upon the land of one owner belong exclusively to him, although their roots grow into the land of another.

4533. (§ 1295.) Line trees.—Trees whose trunks stand partly on the land of two or more co-terminous owners belong to them in common.

CHAPTER II.

OBLIGATIONS OF OWNERS.

Section 4534. Duties of tenant for life.

4534. (§ 1300.) Duties of tenant for life.—The owner of a life estate must keep the buildings and fences in repair from ordinary waste, and must pay the taxes and other annual charges, and a just proportion of extraordinary assessments benefitting the whole inheritance.

Huddelston v. Washington, 136 Cal. 518; 69 Pac. 146.

4535. (§ 1301.) Monuments and fences.—Co-terminous owners are mutually bound equally to maintain:

1. The boundaries and monuments between them.
2. The fences between them, unless one of them chooses to let his land lie without fencing, in which case, if he afterwards encloses it, he must refund to the other a just proportion of the value, at that time, of any division fence made by the latter

Hoar v. Hennessy, 29 Mont. 253; 74 Pac. 452. This action contemplates that the fence shall lie one-half on the land of each owner, each contributing his share to its erection and maintenance and the ground on which it stands; and the fence may stand on the land of each without any agreement. A division fence erected on a boundary line agreed upon between adjoining properties is properly erected.

" 4545. Title of grantor of trust property.

" 4546. Interests remaining in grantor of express trust.

" 4547. Powers over trust of party interested.

" 4548. Effect of omitting trust in conveyance.

" 4549. Certain sales, etc., by trustees, void.

" 4550. When estate of trustee to cease.

4536. (§ 1310.) What uses and trusts may exist.—Uses and trusts in relation to real property are those only which are specified in this title.

McCurdy v. Otto, 140 Cal. 51; 73 Pac. 748.

4537. (§ 1311.) Trusts must be in writing.—No trust in relation to real property is valid unless created or declared:

1. By a written instrument, subscribed by the trustee, or by his agent thereto authorized by writing.

2. By the instrument under which the trustee claims the estate affected; or,

3. By operation of law.

Lynch v. Herrig, 32 Mont. 278; 80 Pac. 243. An express trust cannot be based on an oral agreement, and the statute of frauds is inapplicable in the case of resulting trusts. An equitable title to land, which will ripen into a legal title upon payment of a balance due on the purchase price, is property, and a resulting trust therein may be enforced by a court of equity.

Kimbal v. Tripp, 136 Cal. 634; 69 Pac. 428.

4538. (§ 1312.) Transfer to one for money paid by another.—When a transfer of real property is made to one person, and the consideration thereof is paid by or for another, a trust is presumed to result in favor of the person by or for whom such payment is made.

Lynch v. Herrig, 32 Mont. 274; 80 Pac. 242.

Los Angeles Co. v. Occidental Co., 144 Cal. 533; 78 Pac. 25.

4539. (§ 1313.) Purchasers protected.—No implied or resulting trust can prejudice the rights of a purchaser or incumbrancer of real property for value and without notice of the trust.

Chappius v. Blankman, 128 Cal. 365; 60 Pac. 925.

4540. (§ 1314.) For what purposes express trusts may be created.—Express trusts may be created for any of the following purposes:

1. To sell real property, and apply or dispose of the proceeds in accordance with the instrument creating the trust.

2. To mortgage or lease real property for the benefit of of annuitants or other legatees, or for the purpose of satisfying any charge thereon.

3. To receive the rents and profits of real property and pay them to or apply them to the use of any person, whether ascertained at the time of the creation of the trust or not, for himself or for his family, during the life of such person, or for any shorter term, subject to the rules of title II., of this part; or,

4. To receive the rents and profits of real property, and to accumulate the same for the purposes and within the limits prescribed by the same title.

Estate of Lux, 149 Cal. 205; 85 Pac. 147.

4541. (§ 1315.) Profits of land liable to creditors in certain cases.—When a trust is created to receive the rents and profits of real property, and no valid direction for accumulation is given, the surplus of such rents and profits, beyond the sum that may be necessary for the education and support of the persons for whose benefit the trust is created, is liable to the claims of the creditors of such person, in the same manner as personal property which cannot be reached by execution.

4542. (§ 1316.) Powers, execution of.—Where a power is vested in several persons, all must unite in its execution; but in case any one or more of them is dead, the power may be executed by the survivor or survivors, unless otherwise prescribed by the terms of the power.

4543. (§ 1317.) Trustees of express trusts to have whole estate.—Except as hereinafter otherwise provided, every express trust in real property, valid as such in its creation, vests the whole estate in the trustees, subject only to the execution of the trust. The beneficiaries take no estate or interest in the property, but may enforce the performance of the trust.

Estate of Heywood, 148 Cal. 188; 82 Pac. 755.

4544. (§ 1318.) Author of trust may devise, etc.—Notwithstanding anything contained in the last section, the author of a trust may, in its creation, prescribe to whom the real property to which the trust relates, belong, in the event of the failure or termination of the trust, and may transfer or devise such property, subject to the execution of the trust.

Sacramento Bank v. Montgomery, 146 Cal. 749; 81 Pac. 138.

4545. (§ 1319.) Title of grantor of trust property.—The grantee or devisee of real property subject to a trust acquires a legal estate in the property, as against all persons except the trustees and those lawfully claiming under them.

Sacramento Bank v. Alcorn, 121 Cal. 383; 53 Pac. 813.

4546. (§ 1320.) Interests remaining in grantor of express trust.—Where an express trust is created in relation to real property, every estate not embraced in the trust, and not otherwise disposed of, is left in the author of the trust or his successors.

4547. (§ 1321.) Powers over trust of party interested.—The beneficiary of a trust for the receipt of the rents and profits of real property, or for the payment of an annuity out of such rents and profits, cannot transfer or in any manner dispose of his interest in such trust.

Fatjo v. Swasey, 111 Cal. 637; 44 Pac. 225.

4548. (§ 1322.) Effect of omitting trust in conveyance.—Where an express trust is created in relation to real property, but is not contained or declared in the grant to the trustee, or in an instrument signed by him, and recorded in the office with the grant to the trustee, such grant must be deemed absolute in favor of purchasers from such trustee without notice, and for a valuable consideration.

4549. (§ 1323.) Certain sales, etc., by trustees, void.—Where a trust in relation to real property is expressed in the instrument creating the estate, every transfer or other act of the trustees, in contravention of the trust, is absolutely void.

Estate of Sanford, 136 Cal. 105; 68 Pac. 494.

4550. (§ 1324.) When estate of trustee to cease.—When the purpose for which an express trust was created ceases, the estate of the trustee also ceases.

TITLE V.

POWERS.

Section 4551. Definition.

“ 4555. How executed.

4551. (§ 1330.) Definition.—A power, as the term is used in this title, is an authority to do some act in relation to real property, or to the creation or revocation of an estate therein, or a charge thereon, which the owner granting or reserving such power might himself perform for any purpose.

4552. (§ 1331.) Who to execute powers.—A power cannot be executed by any person not capable of disposing of real property.

4553. (§ 1332.) Married women.—A married woman may execute a power during her marriage, without the concurrence of her husband, unless otherwise prescribed by the terms of the power.

4554. (§ 1333.) Same.—No power can be executed by a married woman before she attains her majority.

4555. (§ 1334.) How executed.—A power can be executed only by a written instrument which would be sufficient to pass the estate or interest intended to pass under the power, if the person executing the power was the actual owner.

PART III.

PERSONAL OR MOVABLE PROPERTY.

TITLE I. PERSONAL PROPERTY IN GENERAL.

II. PARTICULAR KINDS OF PERSONAL PROPERTY.

TITLE I.

PERSONAL PROPERTY IN GENERAL.

4556. (§ 1340.) By what law governed.—If there is no law to the contrary in the place where personal property is situated, it is deemed to follow the person of its owner and is governed by the law of his domicile.

Whitney v. Dodge, 105 Cal. 199; 38 Pac. 636.

TITLE II.

PARTICULAR KINDS OF PERSONAL PROPERTY.

CHAPTER I. THINGS IN ACTION.

II. PRODUCTS OF THE MIND.

III. OTHER KINDS OF PERSONAL PROPERTY.

CHAPTER I.

THINGS IN ACTION.

Section 4557. Things in action defined.

4557. (§ 1350.) Things in action defined.—A thing in action is a right to recover money or other personal property by a judicial proceeding.

Driscoll v. Driscoll, 143 Cal. 534; 77 Pac. 471.

4558. (§ 1351.) Transfer and survivorship.—A thing in action, arising out of the violation of a right of property, or out of an obligation, may be transferred by the owner. Upon the death of the owner, it passes to his personal representatives, except where, in the cases provided in the Code of Civil Procedure, it passes to his devisees or successor in office.

Caledonia I. Co. v. N. P. R. Co., 32 Mont. 49; 79 Pac. 545. The right to recover damages with interest for the negligent destruction of property by fire is assignable and passes by subrogation to an insurance company to the extent of the proportion of the loss paid by it to the owner of the property destroyed.

CHAPTER II.

PRODUCTS OF THE MIND.

Section 4559. How far the subject of ownership.

“ 4564. Private writings.

4559. (§ 1360.) How far the subject of ownership.—The author of any product of the mind, whether it is an invention, or a composition in letters or art, or a design, with or without delineation, or other graphical representation, has an exclusive ownership therein, and in the representation or expression thereof, which continues so long as the product and the representations or expressions thereof made by him remain in his possession.

4560. (§ 1361.) Joint ownership.—Unless otherwise agreed, a product of the mind in the production of which several persons are jointly concerned, is owned by them as follows:

1. If the product is single, in equal proportions.
2. If it is not single, in proportion to the contribution of each.

4561. (§ 1362.) Transfer.—The owner of any product of the mind, or of any representation or expression thereof, may transfer his property in the same.

4562. (§ 1363.) Effect of publication.—If the owner of a product of the mind intentionally makes it public, a copy or reproduction may be made public by any person, without responsibility to the owner, so far as the law of this state is concerned.

4563. (§ 1364.) Subsequent inventor, author, etc.—If the owner of a product of the mind does not make it public, any other person subsequently and originally producing the same has the same right therein as the prior author, which is exclusive to the same extent against all persons except the prior author, or those claiming under him.

4564. (§ 1365.) Private writings.—Letters and other private communications in writing belong to the person to whom they are addressed and delivered; but they cannot be published against the will of the writer, except by authority of law.

CHAPTER III.

OTHER KINDS OF PERSONAL PROPERTY.

Section 4565. Trade marks.

“ 4566. Good will of business.

4565. (§ 1370.) Trade marks.—One who produces or deals in a particular thing, or conducts a particular business, may appropriate to his exclusive use, as a trade mark, any form, symbol, or name, which has not been so appropriated by another, to designate the origin or ownership thereof; but he cannot exclusively appropriate any designation, or part of a designation, which relates only to the name, quality, or the description of the thing or business, or the place where the thing is produced, or the business is carried on.

Hainque v. Cyclops Works, 136 Cal. 352; 68 Pac. 1014.

4566. (§ 1371.) Good will of business.—Good will of a business is the expectation of continued public patronage, but it does not include a right to use the name of any person from whom it was acquired.

Dodge Co. v. Dodge, 145 Cal. 388; 78 Pac. 879.

4567. (§ 1372.) Same.—The good will of a business is property, transferable like any other.

Yoder v. Reynolds, 28 Mont. 193; 72 Pac. 418. A debtor transferred his stock of goods by an itemized bill of sale, which did not include the good will of the business, and on an issue of fraud towards creditors in the conveyance, evidence of such good will was immaterial. Merchants Co. v. Sterling, 124 Cal. 43; 57 Pac. 468.

4568. (§ 1373.) Title of deeds.—Instruments essential to the title of real property, and which are not kept in a public office as a record pursuant to law, belong to the person in whom for the time being, such title may be vested, and pass with the title.

| | VI. | WILLS. |
| | VII. | SUCCESSION. |
| | VIII. | WATER RIGHTS. |

TITLE I.

MODES IN WHICH PROPERTY MAY BE ACQUIRED.

4569. (§ 1380.) Property, how acquired.—Property is acquired by:

1. Occupancy.
2. Accession.
3. Transfer.
4. Will; or,
5. Succession.

In re Burdick, 112 Cal. 394; 44 Pac. 734.

TITLE II.

OCCUPANCY.

4570. (§ 1390.) Simple occupancy.—Occupancy for any period confers a title sufficient against all except the state, and those who have title by prescription, accession, transfer, will, or succession.

Pendola v. Ramm, 138 Cal. 520; 71 Pac. 624.

4571. (§ 1391.) Prescription.—Occupancy for the period prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure as sufficient to bar an action for the recovery of the property confers a title thereto, denominated a title by prescription, which is sufficient against all.

State v. Auchard, 22 Mont. 16; 55 Pac. 362.

Wutchumna Co. v. Ragle, 148 Cal. 764; 84 Pac. 162.

TITLE III.

ACCESSION.

CHAPTER I. TO REAL PROPERTY.

II. TO PERSONAL PROPERTY.

CHAPTER I.

ACCESSION TO REAL PROPERTY.

Section 4572. Fixtures.

“ 4573. Alluvion.

“ 4575. Islands in navigable streams.

“ 4578. What fixtures tenant may remove.

4572. (§ 1400.) Fixtures.—When a person affixes his property to the land of another, without an agreement permitting him to remove it, the thing affixed, except as provided in § 4578 (1406), belongs to the owner of the land, unless he chooses to require the former to remove it.

West Coast Co. v. Apfield, 86 Cal. 339; 24 Pac. 993.

4573. (§ 1401.) Alluvion.—Where, from natural causes, land forms by imperceptible degrees upon the bank of a river or stream, navigable or not navigable, either by accumulation of material or by the recession of the stream, such land belongs to the owner of the bank, subject to any existing right of way over the bank.

4574. (§ 1402.) Sudden removal of bank.—If a river or stream, navigable or not navigable, carries away, by sudden violence, a considerable and distinguishable part of a bank, and bears it to the opposite bank, or to another part of the same bank, the owner of the part carried away may reclaim it within a year after the owner of the land to which it has been united takes possession thereof.

4575. (§ 1403.) Islands, in navigable streams.—Islands and accumulations of land, formed in the beds of streams which are navigable, belong to the state, if there is no title or prescription to the contrary.

Glassell v. Hansen, 149 Cal. 513; 87 Pac. 200.

4576. (§ 1404.) In unnavigable streams.—An island, or accumulation of land, formed in a stream which is not navigable, belongs to the owner of the shore on that side where the island or accumulation is formed; or, if not formed on one side only, to the owners of the shore on the two sides, divided by an imaginary line drawn through the middle of the river.

4577. (§ 1405.) Islands formed by division of stream.—If a stream, navigable or not navigable, in forming itself a new arm, divides itself and surrounds land belonging to the owner of the shore, and thereby forms an island, the island belongs to such owner.

4578. (§ 1406.) What fixtures tenants may remove.—A tenant may remove from the demised premises any time during the continuance of his term, anything affixed thereto for purposes of trade, manufacture, ornament, or domestic use, if the removal can be effected without injury to the premises, unless the thing has, by the manner in which it is affixed, become an integral part of the premises.

Pomeroy v. Bell, 118 Cal. 636; 50 Pac. 683.

CHAPTER II.

ACCESSION TO PERSONAL PROPERTY.

Section 4579. Accession by uniting several things.

“ 4587. Wrongdoer liable in damages.

4579. (§ 1410.) Accession by uniting several things.—When things belonging to different owners have been united so as to form a single thing, and cannot be separated without injury, the whole belongs to the owner of the thing which forms the principal part; who must, however, reimburse the value of the residue to the other owner, or surrender the whole to him.

Byrne v. McGrath, 130 Cal. 320; 62 Pc. 559.

4580. (§ 1411.) Principal part, what.—That part is deemed to be the principal to which the other has been united only for the use, ornament, or completion of the former, unless the latter is the more valuable, and has been united without the knowledge of its owner, who may, in the latter case, require it to be separated and returned to him, although some injury should result to the thing to which it has been united.

4581. (§ 1412.) Same.—If neither part can be considered the principal, within the rule prescribed by the last section, the more valuable, or if the values are nearly equal, the most considerable in bulk, is to be deemed the principal part.

4582. (§ 1413.) Uniting materials and workmanship.—If one makes a thing from materials belonging to another, the latter may claim the thing on reimbursing the value of the workmanship, unless the value of the workmanship exceeds the value of the materials, in which case the thing belongs to the maker, on reimbursing the value of the materials.

4583. (§ 1414.) Inseparable materials.—Where one has made use of materials which in part belong to him and in part to another, in order to form a thing of a new description, without having destroyed any of the materials, but in such a way that they cannot be separated without inconvenience, the thing formed is common to both proprietors; in proportion, as respects the one, of the materials belonging to him, and as respects the other, of the materials belonging to him and the price of his workmanship.

4584. (§ 1415.) Materials of several owners.—When a thing has been formed by the admixture of several materials of different owners, and neither can be considered the principal substance, an owner without whose consent the admixture was made, may require a separation, if the materials can be separated without inconvenience. If they cannot be thus separated, the owners acquire the thing in common in proportion to the quantity, quality, and value of their materials; but if the materials of one were far superior to those of the others, both in quantity and value, he may claim the thing on reimbursing to the others the value of their materials.

Arnold v. Producers' Co., 128 Cal. 641; 61 Pac. 283.

4585. (§ 1416.) Willful trespassers.—The foregoing sections of this article are not applicable to cases in which one willfully uses the materials of another without his consent; but, in such cases, the product belongs to the owner of the material, if its identity can be traced.

4586. (§ 1417.) Owner may elect between the thing and its value.—In all cases where one whose material has been used without his knowledge, in order to form a product of a different description, can claim an interest in such product, he has an option to demand either restitution of his material in kind, in the same quantity, weight, measure, and quality, or the value thereof; or, where he is entitled to the product, the value thereof in place of the product.

4587. (§ 1418.) Wrongdoer liable in damages.—One who wrongfully employs materials belonging to another is liable to him in damages, as well as under the foregoing provisions of this chapter.

- V. UNLAWFUL TRANSFERS.

CHAPTER I.

TRANSFERS IN GENERAL.

- ARTICLE I. DEFINITION OF TRANSFER.
- II. WHAT MAY BE TRANSFERRED.
- III. MODE OF TRANSFER.
- IV. INTERPRETATION OF GRANTS.
- V. EFFECT OF TRANSFER.

ARTICLE I.

DEFINITION OF TRANSFER.

Section 4588. Transfer, what.

4588. (§ 1430.) Transfer, what.—Transfer is an act of the parties, or of the law, by which the title to property is conveyed from one living person to another.

Enscoe v. Fletcher, 1 C. App. 664; 82 Pac. 1075.

4589. (§ 1431.) Voluntary transfer.—A voluntary transfer is an executed contract subject to all rules of law concerning contracts in general; except that a consideration is not necessary to its validity.

Curtin v. Kowalski, 145, Cal. 434; 78 Pac. 962.

ARTICLE II.

WHAT MAY BE TRANSFERRED.

Section 4590. What may be transferred.

“ 4593. Owner ousted of possession may transfer.

4590. (§ 1440.) What may be transferred.—Property of any kind may be transferred, except as otherwise provided by this article.

Curtin v. Kowalski, 145 Cal. 434; 78 Pac. 962.

4591. (§ 1441.) Possibility.—A mere possibility, not coupled with an interest, can not be transferred.

Estate of Ryder, 141 Cal. 370; 74 Pac. 993.

4592. (§ 1442.) Right of re-entry can be transferred.—A right of re-entry, or of re-possession for breach of condition subsequent, can be transferred.

4593. (§ 1443.) Owner ousted of possession may transfer.—Any person claiming title to real property in the adverse possession of another may transfer it with the same effect as if in actual possession.

ARTICLE III.

MODE OF TRANSFER.

Section 4594. When oral.

“ 4598. Delivery to grantee is necessarily absolute.

“ 4599. Delivery in escrow.

4594. (§ 1450.) When oral.—A transfer may be made without writing, in every case in which a writing is not expressly required by statute.

Bickerdike v. State, 144 Cal. 691; 78 Pac. 270.

4595. (§ 1451.) Grant, what.—A transfer in writing is called a grant, or conveyance, or bill of sale. The term “grant,” in this and the next two articles, includes all these instruments, unless it is specially applied to real property.

Driscoll v. Driscoll, 143 Cal. 536; 77 Pac. 471.

4596. (§ 1452.) Delivery necessary.—A grant takes effect, so as to vest the interest intended to be transferred, only upon its delivery by the grantor.

Whitney v. American Co., 127 Cal. 467; 59 Pac. 897.

4597. (§ 1453.) Date.—A grant duly executed is presumed to have been delivered at its date.

Daneri v. Gazzola, 2 C. App. 352; 83 Pac. 455.

4598. (§ 1454.) Delivery to grantee is necessarily absolute.—A grant cannot be delivered to the grantee conditionally. Delivery to him, or to his agent as such, is necessarily absolute, and the instrument takes effect thereupon, discharged of any condition on which the delivery is made.

Kenney v. Parks, 137 Cal. 531; 70 Pac. 556.

4599. (§ 1455.) Delivery in escrow.—A grant may be deposited by the grantor with a third person, to be delivered on performance of a condition, and, on delivery by the depositary, it will take effect. While in the possession of the third person, and subject to condition, it is called an escrow.

Keyes v. Myers, 147 Cal. 705; 82 Pac. 305.

4600. (§ 1456.) Surrendering of canceling grant does not reconvey.—Re-delivering a grant of real property to the grantor, or canceling it, does not operate to re-transfer the title.

Keyes v. Myers, 147 Cal. 705; 82 Pac. 305.

4601. (§ 1457.) Constructive delivery.—Though a grant be not actually delivered into the possession of the grantee, it is yet to be deemed constructively delivered in the following cases:

1. Where the instrument is, by the agreement of the parties at the time of execution, understood to be delivered, and under such circumstances that the grantee is entitled to immediate delivery; or,

2. Where it is delivered to a stranger for the benefit of the grantee, and his assent is shown, or may be presumed.

ARTICLE IV.

INTERPRETATION OF GRANTS.

Section 4602. Grants, how interpreted.

4602. (§ 1470.) Grants, how interpreted.—Grants are to be interpreted in like manner with contracts in general, except so far as is otherwise provided in this article.

Pellissier v. Corker, 103 Cal. 518; 37 Pac. 465.

4603. (§ 1471.) Limitations, how controlled.—A clear and distinct limitation in a grant is not controlled by other words less clear and distinct.

Watson v. Sutro, 86 Cal. 522; 24 Pac. 172.

4604. (§ 1472.) Recitals, when resorted to.—If the operative words of a grant are doubtful, recourse may be had to its recitals to assist the construction.

4605. (§ 1473.) Interpretation against grantor.—A grant is to be interpreted in favor of the grantee, except that a reservation in any grant, and every grant by a public officer or body, as such, to a private party is to be interpreted in favor of the grantor.

Adams v. Hopkins, 144 Cal. 37; 77 Pac. 712.

4606. (§ 1474.) Irreconcilable provisions.—If several parts of a grant are absolutely irreconcilable, the former part prevails.

Barnett v. Barnett, 104 Cal. 300; 37 Pac. 1049.

4607. (§ 1475.) Meaning of "heirs" and "issue," in certain remainders.—Where a future interest is limited by a grant to take effect on the death of any person without heirs, or heirs of his body, or without issue, or, in equivalent words, such words must be taken to mean successors, or issue living at the death of the person named as ancestor.

4608. (§ 1476.) Words of inheritance unnecessary.—Words of inheritance or succession are not requisite to transfer a fee in real property.

Sears v. Ackerman, 138 Cal. 586; 72 Pac. 171.

ARTICLE V.

EFFECT OF TRANSFER.

Section 4609. What title passes.

" 4610. Incidents.

" 4611. Grant may inure to the benefit of stranger.

4609. (§ 1490.) What title passes.—A transfer vests in the transferee all the actual title to the thing transferred which the transferer then has, unless a different intention is expressed or is necessarily implied.

Curtin v. Kowalski, 145 Cal. 434; 78 Pac. 962.

4610. (§ 1491.) Incidents.—The transfer of a thing transfers also all its incidents, unless expressly excepted; but the transfer of an incident to a thing does not transfer the thing itself.

Jones v. Sanders, 138 Cal. 411; 71 Pac. 506.

4611. (§ 1492.) Grant may inure to the benefit of stranger.—A present interest, and the benefit of a condition or covenant respecting property, may be taken by any natural person under a grant, although not named a party thereto.

CHAPTER II.

TRANSFER OF REAL PROPERTY.

ARTICLE I. MODE OF TRANSFER.

II. EFFECT OF TRANSFER.

ARTICLE I.

MODE OF TRANSFER.

Section 4612. Requisites for transfer of certain estates.

" 4613. Form of grant.

" 4614. Grant by married women, how acknowledged.

Section 4615. Power of attorney of married women, how acknowledged.

“ 4617. Former name of owner.

4612. (§ 1500.) Requisites for transfer of certain estates.—

An estate in real property, other than an estate at will or for a term not exceeding one year, can be transferred only by operation of law, or by an instrument in writing subscribed by the party disposing of the same, or by his agent thereunto authorized by writing.

Farmers Bank v. Purdy, 130 Cal. 457; 62 Pac. 738.

4613. (§ 1501.) Form of grant.—A grant of an estate in real property may be made in substance as follows:

1. “I, A. B., in consideration of——dollars now paid, grant to C. D. all the real property situated in (insert name of county) county, State of Montana, bounded (or described) as follows: (here insert description, or if the land sought to be conveyed has a descriptive name, it may be described by the name, as, for instance, ‘The Norris ranch’).

“Witness my hand this (insert day) day of (insert month) 18—

Hill v. McCoy, 1 C. App. 162; 81 Pac. 1015.

4614. (§ 1502.) Grant by married women, how acknowledged.—No estate in the real property of a married woman passes by any grant purporting to be executed or acknowledged by her, unless the grant or instrument is acknowledged by her in the manner prescribed by §§ 4660 (1606) and 4665 (1611).

Loupe v. Smith, 123 Cal. 494; 56 Pac. 254.

4615. (§ 1503.) Power of attorney of married women, how acknowledged.—A power of attorney, of a married woman, authorizing the execution of an instrument transferring an estate in her separate real property, has no validity for that purpose unless acknowledged by her in the manner provided in §§ 4660 (1606) and 4665 (1611).

4616. (§ 1504.) Attorney in fact, how must execute for principal.—When an attorney in fact executes an instrument transferring an estate in real property, he must subscribe the name of his principal to it, and his own name as attorney in fact.

Shackleton v. Allen Church, 25 Mont. 425; 65 Pac. 429. A second mortgage of church property was executed by the president and secretary of the trustees individually, and recorded. It was not necessary, in order to foreclose their equitable right to redeem, to make the second mortgagees parties to an action to foreclose a prior mortgage on the property, because the second mortgage was not constructive notice that it was on the property. A deed executed by an agent or attorney in fact should be executed in the name of the principal.

4617. (§ 1505.) Former name of owner.—Any person in whom the title of real estate is vested, who shall afterwards, from any cause, have his or her name changed, shall, in any conveyances of said real estate so held, set forth the name in which he or she derived title to said real estate, and a failure to comply with the provisions of this section, shall subject any such person to a penalty of fifty dollars, to be collected by the county attorney of the county in which the real estate is situated, and by him paid into the treasury of said county for the benefit of the common schools thereof.

ARTICLE II.

EFFECT OF TRANSFER.

- Section 4618. What easements pass with property.*
 “ 4619. When fee simple title is presumed to pass.
 “ 4622. Conveyance by owner for life or for years.
 “ 4629. Lineal and collateral warranties abolished.

4618. (§ 1510.) What easements pass with property.—A transfer of real property passes all easements attached thereto, and creates in favor thereof an easement to use other real property of the person whose estate is transferred in the same manner and to the same extent as such property was obviously and permanently used by the person whose estate is transferred, for the benefit thereof, at the time when the transfer was agreed upon or completed.

Pogue v. Collins, 146 Cal. 440; 80 Pac. 623.

4619. (§ 1511.) When fee simple is presumed to pass.—A fee simple title is presumed to be intended to pass by a grant of real property, unless it appears from the grant that a lesser estate was intended.

Burnett v. Piercy, 149 Cal. 190; 86 Pac. 603.

4620. (§ 1512.) Subsequently acquired title passes by operation of law.—Where a person purports by proper instrument to grant real property in fee simple, and subsequently acquires any title, or claim of title thereto, the same passes by operation of law to the grantee, or his successors.

Estate of Ryder, 141 Cal. 371; 74 Pac. 993.

4621. (§ 1513.) Grant, how far conclusive on purchasers.—Every grant of an estate in real property is conclusive against the grantor, also against every one subsequently claiming under him, except a purchaser or incumbrancer who in good faith and for a valuable consideration acquires a title or lien by an instrument that is first duly recorded.

Commercial Bank v. Pritchard, 126 Cal. 604; 59 Pac. 130.

4622. (§ 1514.) Conveyances by owner for life or for years.—A grant made by an owner of an estate for life or years, purporting to transfer a greater estate than he could lawfully transfer, does not work a forfeiture of his estate, but passes to the grantee all the estate which the grantor could lawfully transfer.

4623. (§ 1515.) Grant made on condition subsequent.—When a grant is made upon condition subsequent, and is subsequently defeated by the non-performance of the condition, the person otherwise entitled to hold under the grant must re-convey the property to the grantor or his successors by grant, duly acknowledged for record.

Quatman v. McCray, 128 Cal. 291; 60 Pac. 855.

4624. (§ 1516.) Grant on condition precedent.—An instrument purporting to be a grant of real property, to take effect upon condition precedent, passes the estate upon the performance of the condition.

4625. (§ 1517.) Attornment of tenant, when unnecessary.—When real property is occupied by a tenant a grant of any estate therein, by his landlord, is valid without an attornment of the tenant to the grantee; but the payment of rent to such grantor, by his tenant, before notice of the grant, is binding upon the grantee; and the tenant is not liable to the grantee for any breach of the condition of the lease until he has had notice of the grant.

4626. (§ 1518.) Boundary by highway, what passes.—A transfer of land, bounded by a highway, passes the title of the person whose estate is transferred to the soil of the highway in front of the center thereof, unless a different intent appears from the grant.

Montgomery v. Railway Co., 104 Cal. 188; 37 Pac. 786.

4627. (§ 1519.) Implied covenants.—From the use of the word "grant" in any conveyance by which an estate of inheritance or fee simple or possessory title is to be passed, the following covenants, and none other, on the part of the grantor for himself and his heirs to the grantee, his heirs and assigns, are implied, unless restrained by express terms contained in such conveyance:

1. That previous to the time of the execution of such conveyance, the grantor has not conveyed the same estate, or any right, title, or interest therein, to any person other than the grantee.
2. That such estate is at the time of the execution of such conveyance free from incumbrances done, made, or suffered by the grantor or any person claiming under him.

Such covenants may be sued upon in the same manner as if they had been expressly inserted in the conveyance.

Estate of Porter, 138 Cal. 624; 72 Pac. 173.

4628. (§ 1520.) What the term "incumbrances" embraces.—The term "incumbrances" includes taxes, assessments and all liens upon real property.

Weber v. McCleverty, 149 Cal. 320; 86 Pac. 706.

4629. (§ 1521.) Lineal and collateral warranties abolished.—Lineal and collateral warranties, with all their incidents, are abolished; but the heirs and devisees of every person who has made any covenant or agreement in reference to the title of, in, or to any real property, are answerable upon such covenant or agreement to the extent of the land descended or devised to them, in the cases and in the manner prescribed by law.

CHAPTER III.

TRANSFER OF PERSONAL PROPERTY.

ARTICLE I. MODE OF TRANSFER.

II. WHAT OPERATES AS A TRANSFER.

III. GIFTS.

ARTICLE I.

MODE OF TRANSFER.

Section 4630. When must be in writing.

" 4631. Transfer by sale, etc.

4630. (§ 1530.) When must be in writing.—An interest in an existing trust can be transferred only by operation of law, or by a written instrument, subscribed by the person making the transfer, or by his agent.

4631. (§ 1531.) Transfer by sale, etc.—The mode of transferring other personal property by sale is regulated by the title on that subject, in division third of this code.

ARTICLE II.

WHAT OPERATES AS A TRANSFER.

Section 4632. Transfer of title under sale.

" 4633. Transfer of title under executory agreement for sale.

" 4634. When buyer acquires better title than seller has.

4632. (§ 1540.) Transfer of title under sale.—The title to personal property, sold or exchanged, passes to the buyer when—ever the parties agree upon a present transfer, and the thing itself is identified, whether it is separated from other things or not.

Adam v. McKnight, 32 Mont. 353; 80 Pac. 615. The actual passing of a title, as between the parties to a contract of sale of personal property, depends upon the intention of the parties and the identification of the thing sold.
Gardiner v. McDonogh, 147 Cal. 322; 81 Pac. 964.

4633. (§ 1541.) Transfer of title under executory agreement for sale.—Title is transferred by an executory agreement for the sale or exchange of personal property only when the buyer has accepted the thing, or when the seller has completed it, prepared it for delivery, and offered it to the buyer, with intent to transfer the title thereto, in the manner prescribed by the chapter upon offer of performance.

Hewes v. Germain Co., 106 Cal. 446; 39 Pac. 853.

4634. (§ 1542.) When buyer acquires better title than seller has.—Where the possession of personal property together with a power to dispose thereof, is transferred by its owner to another person, an executed sale by the latter, while in possession, to a buyer in good faith and in the ordinary course of business, for value, transfers to such buyer the title of the former owner, though he may be entitled to rescind, and does rescind, the transfer made by him.

Goldstone v. Merchants' Co., 123 Cal. 632; 56 Pac. 776.

ARTICLE III.

GIFTS.

Section 4635. Gifts defined.

“ 4636. Gifts, how made.

“ 4637. Gift, how revocable.

“ 4638. Gift in view of death, what.

“ 4639. When gift presumed to be in view of death.

“ 4640. Revocation of gift in view of death.

“ 4642. When treated as legacy.

4635. (§ 1550.) Gifts defined.—A gift is a transfer of personal property, made voluntarily, and without consideration.

Collins v. Maude, 144 Cal. 294; 77 Pac. 945.

4636. (§ 1551.) Gifts, how made.—A verbal gift is not valid unless the means of obtaining possession and control of the thing are given, nor, if it is capable of delivery, unless there is an actual or symbolical delivery of the thing to the donee.

Noble v. Garden, 146 Cal. 230; 79 Pac. 883.

4637. (§ 1552.) Gift, how revocable.—A gift, other than a gift in view of death, cannot be revoked by the giver.

4638. (§ 1553.) Gift in view of death, what.—A gift in view of death is one which is made in contemplation, fear, or peril of death, and with intent that it shall take effect only in case of the death of the giver.

Zeller v. Jordan, 105 Cal. 147; 38 Pac. 640.

4639. (§ 1554.) When gift presumed to be in view of death.—A gift made during the last illness of the giver, or under circumstances which would impress him with an expectation of speedy death, is presumed to be a gift in view of death.

Knight v. Tripp, 121 Cal. 677; 54 Pac. 267.

4640. (§ 1555.) Revocation of gift in view of death.—A gift in view of death may be revoked by the giver at any time, and is revoked by his recovery from the illness, or escape from the peril, under the presence of which it was made, or by the occurrence of any event which would operate as a revocation of a will made at the same time.

Adams v. Atherton, 132 Cal. 166; 64 Pac. 283.

4641. (§ 1556.) Effect of will upon gift.—A gift in view of death is not affected by a previous will; nor by a subsequent will, unless it expresses intention to revoke the gift.

Adams v. Atherton, 132 Cal. 166; 64 Pac. 283.

4642. (§ 1557.) When treated as legacy.—A gift in view of death must be treated as a legacy, so far as relates to the creditors of the giver.

CHAPTER IV.

RECORDING TRANSFERS.

ARTICLE I. WHAT MAY BE RECORDED.

II. MODE OF RECORDING.

III. PROOF OF ACKNOWLEDGMENTS OF INSTRUMENTS.

IV. EFFECT OF RECORDING, OR OF THE WANT THEREOF.

ARTICLE I.

WHAT MAY BE RECORDED.

Section 4643. What may be recorded.

4643. (§ 1570.) What may be recorded.—Any instrument or judgment affecting the title to or possession of real property may be recorded under this chapter.

Kent v. Williams, 146 Cal. 8; 79 Pac. 527.

4644. (§ 1571.) Judgments may be recorded without acknowledgment.—Judgments affecting the title to or possession of real property, authenticated by the certificate of the clerk of the court in which such judgments were rendered, may be recorded without acknowledgment or further proof.

4645. (§ 1572.) Letters patent may be recorded without acknowledgment.—Letters patent from the United States, or from the state of Montana, executed and authenticated pursuant to existing law, may be recorded without acknowledgment or further proof; and where letters patent have been lost, or are beyond the control of any party deraigning title therefrom, or for any reason they remain unrecorded, any person claiming title thereunder may cause a transcript of the copy of such letters patent kept by the government issuing the same, duly certified by the officer or individual having lawful custody of such copy, to be recorded in lieu of the original; and such recorded copy shall have prima facie the same force and effect as the original, for title or for evidence, until the said original letters patent be recorded.

4646. (§ 1573.) Instruments may be acknowledged, except, etc.—Before an instrument can be recorded, unless it belongs to the class provided for in either §§ 4644 (1571), 4645 (1572), 4676 (1622) or 4677 (1623), its execution must be acknowledged by the person executing it, or, if executed by a corporation, by its president or secretary, or proved by a subscribing witness, or as provided in §§ 4672 (1618) and 4673 (1619), and the acknowledgment or proof certified in the manner prescribed by article III., of this chapter.

Emeric v. Alvarado, 90 Cal. 477; 27 Pac. 356.

4647. (§ 1574.) Same.—An instrument, proved and certified pursuant to §§ 4672 (1618) and 4673 (1619), may be recorded in the proper office if the original is at the same time deposited therein to remain for public inspection, but not otherwise.

4648. (§ 1575.) Transfers in trust, etc.—Transfers of property in trust for the benefit of creditors, and transfers or liens on property by way of mortgage, are required to be recorded in the cases specified in the titles on the special relation of debtor and creditor and the chapter on mortgages, respectively.

Cardenas v. Miller, 108 Cal. 256; 39 Pac. 783.

4649. (§ 1576.) Fees of recorder to be endorsed.—The county clerk must in all cases indorse the amount of his fee for recording the instrument recorded.

ARTICLE II.

MODE OF RECORDING.

Section 4650. In what office.

“ 4653. Duties of recorder.

4650. (§ 1590.) In what office.—Instruments entitled to be recorded must be recorded by the county clerk of the county in which the real property affected thereby is situated.

4651. (§ 1591.) Instrument, when deemed recorded.—An instrument is deemed to be recorded, when, being duly acknowledged or proved, and certified, it is deposited in the county clerk's office with the proper officer for record.

Cady v. Purser, 131 Cal. 556; 63 Pac. 844.

4652. (§ 1592.) Books of record.—Grants, absolute in terms, are to be recorded in one set of books, and mortgages, and securities in the nature of mortgages, in another.

Kent v. Williams, 146 Cal. 10; 79 Pac. 527.

4653. (§ 1593.) Duties of recorder.—The duties of county clerks, in respect to recording instruments, are prescribed by the Political Code.

ARTICLE III.

PROOF AND ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF INSTRUMENTS.

" 4679. Conveyances heretofore made to be governed by then existing laws.

" 4680. Recording, and as evidence, to be governed by then existing laws.

" 4681. Certified copies as evidence. Records, what notice deemed from.

" 4682. Deeds heretofore executed valid though not acknowledged.

4654. (§ 1600.) By whom acknowledgments may be taken in this state.—The proof of acknowledgment of an instrument may be made at any place within this state before a justice or clerk of the supreme court or a judge of the district court.

4655. (§ 1601.) Same.—The proof or acknowledgment of an instrument may be made in this state within the city, county or district for which the officer was elected or appointed, before either:

1. A clerk of a court of record; or,
2. A county clerk; or,
3. A notary public; or,
4. A justice of the peace.

Malone v. Bosch, 104 Cal. 682; 38 Pac. 516.

4656. (§ 1602.) By whom taken without the state.—The proof of acknowledgment of an instrument may be made without this state, but within the United States, and within the jurisdiction of the officer, before either:

1. A justice, judge, or clerk of any court of record of the United States; or,
2. A justice, judge, or clerk of any court of record of any state or territory; or,
3. A commissioner appointed by the governor of this state for that purpose; or,
4. A notary public; or,
5. Any other officer of the state or territory where the acknowledgment is made authorized by its laws to take such proof or acknowledgment.

4657. (§ 1603.) By whom taken without the United States.—The proof or acknowledgment of an instrument may be made without the United States, before either:

1. A minister, commissioner, or charge d'affaires of the United States, resident and accredited in the country where the proof or acknowledgment is made; or,

2. A consul, vice consul, or consular agent of the United States, resident in the country where the proof or acknowledgment is made; or,

3. A judge of a court of record of the country where the proof or acknowledgment is made; or,

4. Commissioners appointed for such purposes by the governor of the state, pursuant to special statutes; or,

5. A notary public.

Gibson v. Wheeler, 110 Cal. 245; 42 Pac. 810.

4658. (§ 1604.) Deputy can take acknowledgment.—When any of the officers mentioned in the four preceding sections are authorized by law to appoint a deputy, the acknowledgment or proof may be taken by such deputy, in the name of his principal.

4659. (§ 1605.) Requisites for acknowledgments.—The acknowledgment of an instrument must not be taken unless the officer taking it knows, or has satisfactory evidence, on the oath or affirmation of a credible witness, that the person making such acknowledgment is the individual who is described in, and who executed the instrument; or if executed by a corporation, that the person making such acknowledgment is the president or secretary of such corporation.

Joost v. Craig, 131 Cal. 507; 63 Pac. 840.

4660. (§ 1606.) Acknowledgment by married women.—The acknowledgment of a married woman to an instrument purporting to be executed by her, must be taken the same as that of any other person.

4661. (§ 1607.) Same.—A conveyance by a married woman has the same effect as if she were unmarried, and may be acknowledged in the same manner.

Loupe v. Smith, 123 Cal. 493; 56 Pac. 254.

4662. (§ 1608.) Officer must endorse certificate.—An officer taking the acknowledgment of an instrument must indorse thereon, or attach thereto, a certificate substantially in the forms hereinafter prescribed.

4663. (§ 1609.) General form of certificate.—The certificate of acknowledgment, unless it is otherwise in this article provided, must be substantially in the following form:

State of _____, }
County of _____, } ss.

On this _____ day of _____, in the year _____, before me (here insert the name and quality of the officer), personally appeared _____, known to me (proved to me on oath of _____), to be the person whose name is subscribed to the within instrument, and acknowledged to me that he (or they) executed the same.

Joost v. Craig, 131 Cal. 508; 63 Pac. 840.

4664. (§ 1610.) Form of acknowledgment by corporation.—The certificate of acknowledgment of an instrument executed by a corporation must be substantially in the following form:

State of _____, }
County of _____, } ss.

On this _____ day of _____, in the year _____, before me (here insert the name and quality of the officer), personally appeared _____, known to me (or proved to me on the oath of _____) to be the president (or secretary) of the corporation that executed the within instrument, and acknowledged to me that such corporation executed the same.

4665. (§ 1611.) Form of certificate of acknowledgment by married women.—The certificate of acknowledgment by a married woman must be substantially in the form prescribed in § 4663 (1609.)

Loupe v. Smith, 123 Cal. 493; 56 Pac. 254.

4666. (§ 1612.) Form of certificate of acknowledgment by attorney in fact.—The certificate of acknowledgment by an attorney in fact must be substantially in the following form:

State of _____, }
County of _____, } ss.

On this _____ day of _____, in the year _____, before me (here insert name and quality of the officer), personally appeared _____, known to me (or proved to me on the oath of _____) to be the person whose name is subscribed to the within instrument as the attorney in fact of _____; and acknowledged to me that he subscribed the name of _____ thereto as principal, and his own name as attorney in fact.

4667. (§ 1613.) Officers must affix their signatures.—Officers taking and certifying acknowledgments or proof of instruments for record, must authenticate their certificates by affixing their signatures, followed by the names of their offices; also, their seals of office, if by the laws of the state or country where the acknowledgment or proof is taken, or by authority of which they are acting, they are required to have official seals.

Emeric v. Alvarado, 90 Cal. 478; 27 Pac. 356.

4668. (§ 1614.) Certificate of authority of justices in certain cases.—The certificate of proof or acknowledgment, if made before a justice of the peace, when used in any county other than that in which he resides, must be accompanied by a certificate under the hand and seal of the clerk of the county in which the justice resides, setting forth that such justice, at the time of making such proof or acknowledgment, was authorized to take the same, and that the clerk is acquainted with his handwriting, and believes that the signature to the original certificate is genuine.

4669. (§ 1615.) Proof of execution, how made.—Proof of the execution of an instrument, when not acknowledged, may be made either:

1. By the party executing it, or either of them; or,
2. By a subscribing witness, or,
3. By other witnesses, in cases mentioned in § 4672 (1618).

4670. (§ 1616.) Witness must be personally known to officer.—If by a subscribing witness, such witness must be personally known to the officer taking the proof to be the person whose name is subscribed to the instrument as a witness, or must be proved to be such by the oath of a credible witness.

4671. (§ 1617.) Witness must prove, what.—The subscribing witness must prove that the person whose name is subscribed to the instrument as a party, is the person described in it, and that such person executed it, and that the witness subscribed his name thereto as a witness.

4672. (§ 1618.) Handwriting may be proved, when.—The execution of an instrument may be established by proof of the handwriting of the party and of a subscribing witness, if there is one, in the following cases:

1. When the parties and all the subscribing witnesses are dead; or,
2. When the parties and all the subscribing witnesses are non-residents of the state; or,
3. When the place of their residence is unknown to the party desiring proof, and can not be ascertained by the exercise of due diligence; or,
4. When the subscribing witness conceals himself or can not be found by the officer by the exercise of due diligence in attempting to serve the subpoena or attachment; or,

5. In case of the continued failure or refusal of the witness to testify for the space of one hour, after his appearance.

4673. (§ 1619.) Evidence must prove, what.—The evidence taken under the preceding section must satisfactorily prove to the officer the following facts:

1. The existence of one or more of the conditions mentioned therein; and,
2. That the witness testifying knew the person whose name purports to be subscribed to the instrument as a party and is well acquainted with his signature, and that it is genuine; and,
3. That the witness testifying personally knew the person who subscribed the instrument as a witness, and is well acquainted with his signature, and that it is genuine; and,
4. The place of residence of the witness.

4674. (§ 1620.) Certificate of proof.—An officer taking proof of the execution of any instrument must, in his certificate indorsed thereon or attached thereto, set forth all the matters required by law to be done, or known by him, or proved before him on the proceeding, together with the names of all the witnesses examined before him, their place of residence, respectively, and the substance of their testimony.

4675. (§ 1621.) Officers authorized to do certain things.—Officers authorized to take the proof of instruments are authorized in such proceedings:

1. To administer oaths or affirmations, as prescribed in the Code of Civil Procedure.
2. To employ and swear interpreters.
3. To issue subpoenas, as prescribed in the Code of Civil Procedure.
4. To punish for contempt, as prescribed in the Code of Civil Procedure.

The civil damages and forfeiture to the party aggrieved are prescribed in the Code of Civil Procedure.

4676. (§ 1622.) When instrument is improperly certified, party may have action to correct error.—When the acknowledgment or proof of the execution of an instrument is properly made, but defectively certified, any party interested may have an action in the district court to obtain a judgment correcting the certificate.

Poledori v. Newman, 116 Cal. 376; 48 Pac. 325.

4677. (§ 1623.) In certain cases parties interested may obtain judgment of proof of an instrument.—Any person interested under an instrument entitled to be proved for record may institute an action in the district court against the proper parties to obtain a judgment proving such instrument.

4678. (§ 1624.) Effect of judgment in such action.—A certified copy of the judgment in a proceeding instituted under either of the two preceding sections, showing the proof of the instrument, and attached thereto, entitles such instrument to record, with the like effect as if acknowledged.

4679. (§ 1625.) Conveyances heretofore made to be governed by then existing laws.—The legality of the execution, acknowledgment, proof, form, or record of any conveyance or other instrument made before this code goes into effect, executed, acknowledged, proved, or recorded, is not affected by anything contained in this chapter, but depends for its validity and legality upon the laws in force when the act was performed.

Westheimer v. Goodkind, 24 Mont. 100; 60 Pac. 814.

4680. (§ 1626.) Recording, and as evidence, to be governed by then existing laws.—All conveyances of real property made before this code goes into effect and acknowledged or proved according to the laws in force at the time of such making and acknowledgment of proof, have the same force as evidence, and may be recorded, in the same manner and with the like effect, as conveyances executed and acknowledged in pursuance of this chapter.

4681. (§ 1627.) Certified copies as evidence. Records, what notice deemed from.—Any instrument affecting real property, which was, previous to the date this code takes effect, copied into the proper book, kept in the office of the county clerk, shall be deemed to impart, after that date, notice of its contents to subsequent purchasers and incumbrancers, notwithstanding any defect, omission, or informality in the execution of the instrument, or in the certificate of acknowledgment thereof, or the absence of any such certificate; but nothing herein shall be deemed to affect the rights of purchasers or incumbrancers previous to that date. Duly certified copies of the record of any such instrument may be read in evidence, with like effect as copies of an instrument duly acknowledged and recorded, provided it be first shown that the original instrument was genuine.

4682. Deeds heretofore executed valid though not acknowledged.—All deeds to real property heretofore executed in this State, or any State or Territory of the United States, which shall have been signed by the grantors in due form, shall be sufficient in law to convey the legal title to the premises therein described from the grantors to the grantees, without any other execution or acknowledgment or witnesses thereto whatever; and such deeds so executed shall be received in evidence in all courts in this State, and be conclusive evidence of the title to the lands therein described against the grantors, their heirs and assigns. [Act approved March 2nd, 1899, § 1.] (6th Sess. 145.)

ARTICLE IV.

EFFECT OF RECORDING, OR OF THE WANT THEREOF.

Section 4683. Record, where and to whom notice.

“ 4684. Conveyances to be recorded, or are void, etc.

“ 4687. Unrecorded instruments valid between the parties.

4683. (§ 1640.) Record, where and to whom notice.—Every conveyance of real property, acknowledged or proved, and certified and recorded as prescribed by law, from the time it is filed with the county clerk for record, is constructive notice of the contents thereof to subsequent purchasers and mortgagees.

Mullins v. Butte H. Co., 25 Mont. 538
65 Pac. 1009.

Trerise v. Bottego, 32 Mont. 248; 79
Pac. 1058.

Cornish v. Wolverton, 32 Mont. 475;
81 Pac. 10. A mortgage is a conveyance within the meaning of the record laws though it is a conveyance of a chattel interest only.

Kent v. Williams, 146 Cal. 8; 79 Pac.
527.

4684. (§ 1641.) Conveyances to be recorded, or are void, etc.—Every conveyance of real property other than a lease for a term not exceeding one year, is void against any subsequent purchaser or incumbrancer, including an assignee of a mortgage, lease, or other conditional estate, of the same property, or any part thereof, in good faith and for a valuable consideration, whose conveyance is first duly recorded.

Estate of Tuohy, 23 Mont. 308; 58 Pac. 723.

Mullins v. Butte H. Co., 25 Mont. 538; 65 Pac. 1009.

Sheldon v. Powell, 31 Mont. 254; 78 Pac. 491. All unrecorded deeds and conveyances, except leases for one year, are void as to subsequent purchasers and incumbrancers in good faith and for a valuable consideration.

Trerise v. Bottego, 32 Mont. 248; 79 Pac. 1058.

Cornish v. Woolverton, 32 Mont. 475; 81 Pac. 10.

Bell v. Pleasant, 145 Cal. 413; 78 Pac. 957.

4685. (§ 1642.) Conveyances defined.—The term “conveyance,” as used in § § 4683 (1640) and 4684 (1641), embraces every instrument in writing by which any estate or interest in real property is created, aliened, mortgaged, or incumbered, or by which the title to real property may be affected, except wills.

Estate of Tuohy, 23 Mont. 308; 58 Pac. 723.

Mueller v. Renkes, 31 Mont. 103; 77 Pac. 513. A mortgage is a conveyance of a chattel interest.

Adams v. Hopkins, 144 Cal. 36; 77 Pac. 712.

Cornish v. Woolverton, 32 Mont. 475; 81 Pac. 10.

4686. (§ 1643.) Powers of attorney, how revoked.—No instrument containing a power to convey or execute instruments affecting real property, which has been recorded, is revoked by any act of the party by whom it was executed, unless the instrument containing such revocation is also acknowledged or proved, certified and recorded, in the same office in which the instrument containing the power was recorded.

4687. (§ 1644.) Unrecorded instruments valid between the parties.—An unrecorded instrument is valid as between the parties and those who have notice thereof.

Mullins v. Butte H. Co., 25 Mont. 538; 65 Pac. 1009.

Sheldon v. Powell, 31 Mont. 254; 78 Pac. 491.

Bell v. Pleasant, 145 Cal. 413; 78 Pac. 957.

CHAPTER V.

UNLAWFUL TRANSFERS.

Section 4688. Certain instruments void against purchasers, etc.

“ 4693. Other provisions.

4688. (§ 1650.) Certain instruments void against purchasers, etc.—Every instrument, other than a will, affecting an estate in real property, including every charge upon real property, or upon its rents or profits, made with intent to defraud prior or subsequent purchasers thereof or incumbrancers thereon, is void as against every purchaser or incumbrancer, for value, of the same property, or the rents or profits thereof.

4689. (§ 1651.) Not void against purchaser having notice, unless fraud is mutual.—No instrument is to be avoided under the last section, in favor of a subsequent purchaser or incumbrancer having notice thereof at the time his purchase was made or his lien acquired, unless the person in whose favor the instrument was made was a privy to the fraud intended.

4690. (§ 1652.) Power to revoke, when deemed executed.—Where a power to revoke or modify an instrument affecting the title to, or enjoyment of, an estate in real property, is reserved to the grantor, or given to any other person, a subsequent grant of, or charge upon, the estate, by the person having the power of revocation, in favor of a purchaser or incumbrancer for value, operates as a revocation of the original instrument, to the extent of the power, in favor of such purchaser or incumbrancer.

4691. (§ 1653.) Same.—Where a person having a power of revocation, within the provisions of the last section, is not entitled to execute it until after the time at which he makes such a grant or charge as described in that section, the power is deemed to be executed as soon as he is entitled to execute it.

4692. (§ 1654.) Purchaser in good faith not affected.—The rights of a purchaser or incumbrancer in good faith and for value are not to be impaired by any of the foregoing provisions of this chapter.

4693. (§ 1655.) Other provisions.—Other provisions concerning unlawful transfers are contained in part II., division fourth, of this code, concerning the special relations of debtor and creditor.

TITLE V.

HOMESTEADS.

CHAPTER I. GENERAL PROVISIONS.

II. HOMESTEAD OF THE HEAD OF A FAMILY.

CHAPTER I.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

Section 4694. Homestead, of what it consists.

“ 4695. From what it may be carved.

“ 4697. Exempt from forced sale.

“ 4698. Subject to, when.

- Section 4699. How conveyed or incumbered.*
 “ 4702. Proceedings on execution against homestead.
 “ 4703. Application for appraisement.
 “ 4706. Appointment of appraisers.
 “ 4707. Oath of appraisers.
 “ 4708. Duty of appraisers.
 “ 4709. Report.
 “ 4712. Amount of bid.
 “ 4713. Balance of proceeds.
 “ 4716. Costs.

4694. (§ 1670.) Homestead, of what it consists.—The homestead consists of the dwelling house in which the claimant resides, and the land on which the same is situated, selected as in this title provided.

Mitchell v. McCormick, 22 Mont. 252; 56 Pac. 218. A homestead will be protected to the amount of $2500, though it exceeds such value. A money judgment cannot be impressed as a lien on a homestead without showing that the money was borrowed for the purpose of buying the homestead.

Yerrick v. Higgins, 22 Mont. 505; 57 Pac. 96. Where a declaration of homestead inadvertently included one-sixth more land than allowed the whole claim was invalid. A declaration of homestead is valid, though the estimated cash value is far in excess of the limit fixed in the statute, provided it contains the other statements which are required.

Vincent v. Vineyard, 24 Mont. 213; 61 Pac. 132. The homestead character is impressed on all the property described in the declaration.

Payne v. Cummings, 146 Cal. 429; 80 Pac. 620.

4695. (§ 1671.) From what it may be carved.—If the claimant be married, the homestead may be selected from the property of the husband, or, with the consent of the wife, from her separate property. When the claimant is not married, but is head of a family, within the meaning of § 4718 (1694), the homestead may be selected from any of his or her property.

Simonson v. Burr, 121 Cal. 585; 54 Pac. 87.

4696. (§ 1672.) Separate property of wife.—The homestead cannot be selected from the separate property of the wife without her consent, shown by her making, or joining in making, the declaration of homestead

Arkle v. Beedie, 141 Cal. 462; 74 Pac. 1033.

4697. (§ 1673.) Exempt from forced sale.—The homestead is exempt from execution or forced sale, except as in this title provided.

Vincent v. Vineyard, 24 Mont. 214; 61 Pac. 132.

Gray v. Burnold, 140 Cal. 621; 74 Pac. 303.

4698. (§ 1674.) Subject to, when.—The homestead is subject to execution or forced sale in satisfaction of judgments obtained:

1. Before the declaration of homestead was filed for record, and which constitute liens upon the premises; but no judgments obtained before this code takes effect shall constitute such liens.

2. On debts secured by mechanics', or vendors' liens upon the premises.

3. On debts secured by mortgages on the premises, executed and acknowledged by the husband and wife, or by an unmarried claimant.

4. On debts secured by mortgages on the premises, executed and recorded before the declaration of homestead was filed for record.

American Association v. Burghardt, 19 Mont. 323; 48 Pac. 391. The acknowledgment by the wife was an essential part of the execution of a mortgage of a homestead by the husband and wife. The mortgage was void if such acknowledgment was fatally defective. The abandonment of a homestead does not make valid a mortgage void ab initio.

Watterson v. Bonner Co., 19 Mont. 554; 48 Pac. 1108. A homestead can be had in lands belonging to the United States and all improvements including fences belong to the homestead. The mortgage of a homestead, not signed by the wife, is void.

Mitchell v. McCormick, 22 Mont. 251; 56 Pac. 217.

Yerrick v. Higgins, 22 Mont. 508; 57 Pac. 97.

Vincent v. Vineyard, 24 Mont. 214; 61 Pac. 133. A judgment docketed in 1892 was not a lien on the homestead subject to execution under this section, whatever its value. A mortgage of the homestead in 1895 took precedence to such judgment.

Woodland Bank v. Oberhaus, 125 Cal. 325; 57 Pac. 1070.

4699. (§ 1675.) How conveyed or incumbered.—The homestead of a married person cannot be conveyed or incumbered unless the instrument by which it is conveyed or incumbered is executed and acknowledged by both husband and wife.

Friermuth v. Steigleman, 130 Cal. 393; 62 Pac. 615.

4700. (§ 1676.) How abandoned. A homestead can be abandoned only by a declaration of abandonment, or a grant thereof, executed and acknowledged:

1. By the husband and wife, if the claimant is married.

2. By the claimant if unmarried.

Payne v. Cummings, 146 Cal. 431; 80 Pac. 620.

4701. (§ 1677.) When declaration effectual.—A declaration of abandonment is effectual only from the time it is filed in the office in which the homestead was recorded.

Estate of Winslow, 121 Cal. 94; 53 Pac. 362.

4702. (§ 1678.) Proceedings on execution against homestead.—When an execution for the enforcement of a judgment obtained in a case not within the classes enumerated in § 4698 (1674) is levied upon the homestead, the judgment creditor may apply to the district court of the county in which the homestead is situated, or a judge thereof, for the appointment of persons to appraise the value thereof

Yerrick v. Higgins, 22 Mont. 507; 57 Pac. 97. The statute establishing the homestead exemption right is mandatory.

Vincent v. Vineyard, 24 Mont. 215; 61 Pac. 133. Judgments not constituting liens could be enforced under this section, and the execution could be paid from the excess over $2,500.

Lean v. Givens, 146 Cal. 740; 81 Pac. 128.

4703. (§ 1679.) Application for appraisal.—The application must be made upon a verified petition, showing:

1. The fact that an execution has been levied upon the homestead.

2. The name of the claimant.

3. That the value of the homestead exceeds the amount of the homestead exemption.

Vincent v. Vineyard, 24 Mont. 214; 61 Pac. 133. The homestead consists of the real property described in the declaration although its value exceeds $2,500.

4704. (§ 1680.) Filing petition.—The petition must be filed with the clerk of the district court.

4705. (§ 1681.) Service of petition.—A copy of the petition, with a notice of the time and place of hearing, must be served upon the claimant, at least two days before the hearing.

4706. (§ 1682.) Appointment of appraisers.—At the hearing the judge may, upon proof of the service of a copy of the petition and notice, and of the facts stated in the petition, appoint three disinterested residents and freeholders of the county to appraise the value of the homestead

Harrier v. Bassford, 145 Cal. 533; 78 Pac. 1038.

4707. (§ 1683.) Oath of appraisers.—The persons appointed, before entering upon the performance of their duties, must take an oath to faithfully perform the same.

4708. (§ 1684.) Duty of appraisers.—They must view the premises and appraise the value thereof, and if the appraised value exceeds the homestead exemption they must determine whether the land claimed can be divided without material injury.

Brown v. Starr, 79 Cal. 610; 21 Pac. 973.

4709. (§ 1685.) Report.—Within fifteen days after their appointment they must make to the judge a report in writing, which report must show the appraised value and their determination upon the matter of a division of the land claimed.

4710. (§ 1686.) Setting apart homestead.—If, from the report, it appears to the judge that the land claimed can be divided without material injury, he must, by an order, direct the appraisers to set off to the claimant so much of the land, including the residence, as will amount in value to the homestead exemption, and the execution may be enforced against the remainder of the land.

Brown v. Starr, 79 Cal. 610; 21 Pac. 973.

4711. (§ 1687.) When sale ordered.—If, from the report, it appears to the judge that the land claimed exceeds in value the amount of the homestead exemption, and that it cannot be divided, he must make an order directing its sale under execution.

Lean v. Givens, 146 Cal. 744; 81 Pac. 128.

4712. (§ 1688.) Amount of bid.—At such sale no bid must be received, unless it exceeds the amount of the homestead exemption.

4713. (§ 1689.) Balance of proceeds.—If the sale is made the proceeds thereof, to the amount of the homestead exemption, must be paid to the claimant and the balance applied to the satisfaction of the execution.

4714. (§ 1690.) After sale, money equal to homestead exemption protected.—The money paid to the claimant is entitled, for the period of six months thereafter, to the same protection against legal process and the voluntary disposition of the husband, which the law gives to the homestead.

4715. (§ 1691.) Compensation of appraisers.—The court must fix the compensation of the appraisers, not to exceed three dollars per day each for the time actually engaged.

4716. (§ 1692.) Costs.—The execution creditor must pay the costs of these proceedings in the first instance, but in the cases provided for in § § 4710 (1686) and 4711 (1687) the amount so paid must be added as costs on execution, and collected accordingly

4717. (§ 1693.) Who may select homestead, value of.—Homesteads may be selected and claimed:

1. Consisting of any quantity of land not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres used for agricultural purposes, and the dwelling house thereon and its appurtenances, and not included in any town plot, city, or village; or,

2. A quantity of land not exceeding in amount one-fourth of an acre, being within a town plot, city, or village, and the dwelling house thereon and its appurtenances. Such homestead, in either case, shall not exceed in value the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars

American Association v. Burghardt, 19 Mont. 323; 48 Pac. 391.

Watterson v. Bonner Co., 19 Mont. 554; 48 Pac. 1108.

Mitchell v. McCormick, 22 Mont. 253; 56 Pac. 218.

Yerrick v. Higgins, 22 Mont. 506; 57 Pac. 96.

Vincent v. Vineyard, 24 Mont. 213; 61 Pac. 132.

Payne v. Cummings, 146 Cal. 429; 80 Pac. 620.

4718. (§ 1694.) Head of family defined.—The phrase “head of a family,” as used in this title, includes within its meaning:

1. The husband, when the claimant is a married person.

2. Every person who has residing on the premises with him or her or under his or her care and maintenance, either:

First—His or her minor child, or the minor child of his or her deceased wife or husband.

Second—A minor brother or sister, or the minor child of a deceased brother or sister.

Third.—A father, mother, grandfather, or grandmother.

Fourth—The father, mother, grandfather, or grandmother, of a deceased husband or wife

Fifth—An unmarried sister or any other of the relatives mentioned in this section who have attained the age of majority and are unable to take care of or support themselves.

Hansen v. Union Bank, 148 Cal. 158 82 Pac. 768.

CHAPTER II.

HOMESTEAD OF THE HEAD OF A FAMILY.

Section 4719. Mode of selection.

“ 4720. Declaration of homestead.

4719. (§ 1700.) Mode of selection.—In order to select a homestead, the husband or other head of a family, or in case the husband has not made such selection, the wife must execute and acknowledge, in the same manner as a grant of real property is acknowledged, a declaration of homestead, and file the same for record.

Hansen v. Union Bank, 148 Cal. 158; 82 Pac. 768.

4720. (§ 1701.) Declaration of homestead.—The declaration of homestead must contain:

1. A statement showing that the person making it is the head of a family; or when the declaration is made by the wife, showing that her husband has not made such declaration, and that she therefore makes the declaration for their joint benefit.

2. A statement that the person making it is residing on the premises and claims them as a homestead.

3. A description of the premises.

4. An estimate of their actual cash value.

Mitchell v. McCormick, 22 Mont. 252; Vincent v. Vineyard, 24 Mont. 213; 61 Pac. 218.

Yerrick v. Higgins, 22 Mont. 506; 57 Pac. 97. Harris v. Duarte, 141 Cal. 500; 70 Pac. 298.

4721. (§ 1702.) Declaration must be recorded.—The declaration must be recorded in the office of the clerk of the county in which the land is situated.

Kennedy v. Gloster, 98 Cal. 148; 32 Pac. 941.

4722. (§ 1703.) Tenure by which homestead is held.—From and after the time the declaration is filed for record, the premises therein described constitute a homestead. Upon the death of the person whose property was selected as a homestead, it shall go to his or her heirs or devisees, subject to the use of the widow during her life, if the property selected as a homestead, before selection, belonged to the husband; and subject to the use of the husband during his life, if the property selected as a homestead before selection belonged to the wife. And in no case shall the homestead be held liable for the debts of the owner, except as provided in this title.

Mitchell v. McCormick, 22 Mont. 253;
56 Pac. 218.

Yerrick v. Higgins, 22 Mont. 508; 57
Pac. 97.

Vincent v. Vineyard, 24 Mont. 213; 61
Pac. 132.

Otto v. Long, 144 Cal. 147; 77 Pac.
885.

4723. (§ 1720.) Who may make a will.—Every person over the age of eighteen years of sound mind, may, by last will, dispose of all of his estate, real and personal, and such estate not disposed of by will is succeeded to as provided in title VII., of this part, being chargeable in both cases with the payment of all the decedent's debts, as provided in the Code of Civil Procedure.

4724. (§ 1721.) Will, or part thereof, procured by fraud.—A will, or a part of a will, procured to be made by duress, menace, fraud, or undue influence, may be denied probate: and a revocation, procured by the same means, may be declared void.

4725. (§ 1722.) Who may take by will.—A testamentary disposition may be made to any person capable of taking the property so disposed of, except corporations other than those formed for scientific, literary, or solely educational purposes, cannot take under a will, unless expressly authorized by statute.

Estate of Royer, 123 Cal. 624; 56 Pac. 461.

4726. (§ 1723.) Written will, how to be executed.—Every will, other than a nuncupative will, must be in writing; and every will, other than a holographic will, and a nuncupative will, must be executed and attested as follows:

1. It must be subscribed at the end thereof by the testator himself, or some person in his presence and by his direction must subscribe his name thereto.

2. The subscription must be made in the presence of the attesting witnesses, or be acknowledged by the testator to them, to have been made by him or by his authority.

3. The testator must, at the time of subscribing or acknowledging the same, declare to the attesting witnesses that the instrument is his will; and,

4. There must be two attesting witnesses, each of whom must sign his name as a witness, at the end of the will, at the testator's request, and in his presence.

Farleigh v. Kelley, 28 Mont. 430; 72 Pac. 759. When a will is contested, the subscribing witnesses, if present in the county and of sound mind, must be produced and examined. If absent, the court may receive other evidence, if any can be had, of the facts mentioned in this section.

Estate of Seaman, 146 Cal. 460; 80 Pac. 700.

4727. (§ 1724.) Definition of an holographic will.—A holographic will is one that is entirely written, dated, and signed by the hand of the testator himself. It is subject to no other form, and may be made in or out of this state, and need not be witnessed.

Estate of Fay, 145 Cal. 83; 78 Pac. 340.

4728. (§ 1725.) Witness to add residence.—A witness to a written will must write, with his name, his place of residence; and a person who subscribes the testator's name, by his direction, must write his own name as a witness to the will. But a violation of this section does not affect the validity of the will.

4729. (§ 1726.) Mutual will.—A conjoint or mutual will is valid, but it may be revoked by any of the testators, in like manner with any other will.

4730. (§ 1727.) Competency of subscribing witness.—If the subscribing witnesses to a will are competent at the time of attesting its execution, their subsequent incompetency, from whatever cause it may arise, does not prevent the probate and allowance of the will, if it is otherwise satisfactorily proved.

In re Klein's Estate, 35 Mont. 209; 88 Pac. 803.

4731. (§ 1728.) Conditional will.—A will, the validity of which is made by its own terms conditional, may be denied probate, according to the event, with reference to the condition.

4732. (§ 1729.) Gifts to subscribing witnesses void. Creditors competent witnesses.—All beneficial devises, legacies, and gifts whatever, made or given in any will to a subscribing witness thereto, are void, unless there are two other competent subscribing witnesses to the same; but a mere charge on the estate of the testator for the payment of debts does not prevent his creditors from being competent witnesses to his will.

State v. Court, 34 Mont. 105; 85 Pac. 869.

subscribing witness to a will cannot take as a beneficiary under it.

Murray v. Tulare Co., 120 Cal. 315; 49 Pac. 563.

4733. (§ 1730.) Witness who is a devisee, and who would be entitled to share of testator's estate if no will, entitled to share to amount of devise.—If a witness, to whom any beneficial devise, legacy, or gift, void by the preceding section, is made, would have been entitled to any share of the estate of the testator, in case the will should not be established, he succeeds to so much of the share as would be distributed to him, not exceeding the devise or bequest made to him in the will, and he may recover the same of the other devisees or legatees named in the will, in proportion to and out of the parts devised or bequeathed to them.

4734. (§ 1731.) Will made out of state.—A will of real or personal property, or both, or a revocation thereof made out of this state by a person not having his domicile in this state, is as valid when executed according to the law of the place in which the same was made, or in which the testator was at the time domiciled, as if it were made in this state, and according to the provisions of this chapter

State v. Court, 34 Mont. 104; 85 Pac. 869. To allow a will executed in another state to probate in this state it must be shown that such will was duly proved, allowed and admitted to probate in the court of such state; that it was executed according to the law of the place where it was made, or the laws of this state; and that the record is authenticated as required by section 905 of the Revised Statutes of the United States.

Estate of McCauley, 138 Cal. 434; 71 Pac. 512.

4735. (§ 1732.) Subsequent change of domicile.—Whenever a will or revocation thereof is duly executed according to the law of the place in which the same was made, or in which the testator was at the time domiciled, the same is regulated, as to the validity of its execution, by the law of such place, notwithstanding the testator subsequently changed his domicile to a place by the law of which such will would be void.

4736. (§ 1733.) Republication by codicil.—The execution of a codicil, referring to a previous will, has the effect to republish the will, as modified by the codicil.

4737. (§ 1734.) Noncupative will, how to be executed.—A noncupative will is not required to be written, nor to be declared or attested with any formalities.

4738. (§ 1735.) Requisites of a valid noncupative will.—To make a noncupative will valid, and to entitle it to be admitted to probate, the following requisites must be observed:

1. The estate bequeathed must not exceed in value the sum of one thousand dollars.

2. It must be proved by two witnesses who were present at the making thereof, one of whom was asked by the testator at the time to bear witness that such was his will, or to that effect.

3. The decedent must, at the time, have been in actual military service in the field, or doing duty on shipboard at sea, and in either case in actual contemplation, fear, or peril of death; or the decedent must have been, at the time, in expectation of immediate death from injury received the same day.

4739. (§ 1736.) Proof of noncupative wills.—No proof must be received of any noncupative will, unless it is offered within six months after speaking the testamentary words, nor unless the words, or the substance thereof, were reduced to writing within thirty days after they were spoken.

4740. (§ 1737.) Probate of nuncupative wills.—No probate of any nuncupative will must be granted for fourteen days after the death of the testator, nor must any nuncupative will be at any time proved, unless the testamentary words, or the substance thereof, be first committed to writing, and a process issued to call in the widow, or other persons interested, to contest the probate of such will, if they think proper.

4741. (§ 1738.) Written will, how revoked.—Except in the cases in this chapter mentioned, no written will, nor any part thereof, can be revoked or altered otherwise than:

2. By being burnt, torn, canceled, obliterated, or destroyed, with the intent and for the purpose of revoking the same, by the testator himself, or by some person in his presence and by his direction.

Estate of Wikman 148 Cal. 644; 84 Pac. 212.

4742. (§ 1739.) Evidence of revocation.—When a will is canceled or destroyed by any other person than the testator, the direction of the testator and the fact of such injury or destruction, must be proved by two witnesses.

4743. (§ 1740.) Revocation of duplicate.—The revocation of a will, executed in duplicate, may be made by revoking one of the duplicates.

4744. (§ 1741.) Revocation by subsequent will.—A prior will is not revoked by a subsequent will, unless the latter contains an express revocation, or provisions wholly inconsistent with the terms of the former will; but in other cases the prior will remains effectual so far as consistent with the provisions of the subsequent will.

4745. (§ 1742.) Antecedent not revived by revocation of subsequent will.—If after making a will, the testator duly makes and executes a second will, the destruction, cancellation, or revocation of such section will does not revive the first will, unless it appears by the terms of such revocation that it was the intention to revive and give effect to the first will, or unless, after such destruction, cancellation, or revocation, the first will was duly republished.

4746. (§ 1743.) Revocation by marriage and birth of issue.—If, after having made a will, the testator marries, and has issue of such marriage, born either in his life time or after his death, and the wife or issue survives him, the will is revoked, unless provision has been made for such issue by some settlement, or unless such issue are provided for in the will, or in such way mentioned therein as to show an intention not to make such provision; and no other evidence to rebut the presumption of such revocation can be received.

4747. (§ 1744.) Effect of marriage of a man on his will.—If, after making a will, the testator marries, and the wife survives the testator, the will is revoked, unless provision has been made for her by marriage contract, or unless she is provided for in the will, or in such way mentioned therein as to show an intention not to make such provision; and no other evidence to rebut the presumption of revocation must be received.

State v. Court, 34 Mont. 105; 85 Pac. 869.

4748. (§ 1745.) Effect of marriage of a woman on her will.—A will, executed by an unmarried woman, is revoked by her subsequent marriage, and is not revived by the death of her husband.

4749. (§ 1746.) Contract of sale not a revocation.—An agreement made by a testator, for the sale or transfer of property disposed of by a will previously made, does not revoke such disposal; but the property passes by the will, subject to the same remedies on the testator's agreement, for a specific performance or otherwise against the devisees or legatees, as might be had against the testator's successors, if the same had passed by succession.

4750. (§ 1747.) Mortgage not a revocation of will.—A charge or incumbrance upon any estate, for the purpose of securing the payment of money or the performance of any covenant or agreement, is not a revocation of any will relating to the same estate which was previously executed; but the devises and legacies therein contained must pass, subject to such charge or incumbrance.

4752. (§ 1749.) When it is a revocation.—If the instrument by which an alteration is made of the testator's interest in a thing previously disposed of by his will expresses his intent that it shall be a revocation, or if it contains provisions wholly inconsistent with the terms and nature of the testamentary disposition, it operates as a revocation thereof, unless such inconsistent provisions depend on a condition or contingency by reason of which they do not take effect.

4753. (§ 1750.) Revocation of codicils.—The revocation of a will revokes all its codicils.

4754. (§ 1751.) After-born child, unprovided for, to succeed.—Whenever a testator has a child born after the making of his will, either in his lifetime or after his death, and dies leaving such child unprovided for by any settlement, and neither provided for nor in any way mentioned in his will, the child succeeds to the same portion of the testator's real and personal property that he would have succeeded to if the testator had died intestate.

State v. Court, 34 Mont. 105; 85 Pac. 869.

Estate of Smith, 145 Cal. 120; 78 Pac. 369.

4755. (§ 1752.) Children or issue of children of testator unprovided for by his will.—When any testator omits to provide in his will for any of his children, or for the issue of any deceased child, unless it appears that such omission was intentional, such child, or the issue of such child, must have the same share in the estate of the testator as if he had died intestate, and succeeds thereto as provided in the preceding section.

State v. Court, 34 Mont. 105; 85 Pac. 869.

Estate of Ross, 140 Cal. 289; 73 Pac. 976.

4756. (§ 1753.) Share of after-born child, out of what part of estate to be paid.—When any share of the estate of a testator is assigned to a child born after the making of a will, or to a child, or the issue of a child, omitted in the will, as hereinbefore mentioned, the same must first be taken from the estate not disposed of by the will, if any; if that is not sufficient, so much as may be necessary must be taken from the devisees or legatees in proportion to the value they may respectively receive under the will, unless the obvious intention of the testator in relation to some specific devise or bequest, or other provision in the will, would thereby be defeated; in such case, such specific devise, legacy, or provision, may be exempted from such apportionment, and a different apportionment, consistent with the intention of the testator, may be adopted.

Estate of Smith, 145 Cal. 121; 78 Pac. 369.

4757. (§ 1754.) Advancement during lifetime of testator.—If such children, or their descendants, so unprovided for, had an equal proportion of the testator's estate bestowed on them in the testator's lifetime, by way of advancement, they take nothing in virtue of the provisions of the three preceding sections.

4758. (§ 1755.) Death of devisee, being relation of testator, in lifetime of testator, leaving lineal descendants.—When any estate is devised to any child, or other relation of the testator, and the devisee dies before the testator, leaving lineal descendants, such descendants take the estate so given by the will, in the same manner as the devisee would have done had he survived the testator.

Estate of Ross, 140 Cal. 289; 73 Pac. 976.

4759. (§ 1756.) Devise of land, how construed.—Every devise of land in any will conveys all the estate of the deviser therein, which he could lawfully devise, unless it clearly appears by the will that he intended to convey a less estate.

4760. (§ 1757.) Will to pass rights acquired after the making thereof.—Any estate, right, or interest in lands acquired by the testator after the making of his will, passess thereby and in like manner as if title thereto was vested in him at the time of making the will, unless the contrary manifestly appears by the will to have been the intention of the testator. Every will made in express terms devising, or in any other terms denoting the intent of the testator to devise all real estate of such testator, passes all the real estate which such testator was entitled to devise at the time of his decease.

4761. (§ 1758.) Restriction to devise for charitable purposes.—No estate, real or personal, shall be bequeathed or devised to any charitable or benevolent society, or corporation or to any person or persons in trust for charitable uses, except the same be done by will duly executed at least thirty days before the decease of the testator; and if so made, at least thirty days prior to such death, such devise or legacy, and each of them, shall be valid; Provided, That no such devises or bequests shall collectively exceed one-third of the estate of the testator, leaving legal heirs, and in such case a pro rata deduction from such devises or bequests shall be made, so as to reduce the aggregate thereof to one-third of such estate; and all dispositions of property made contrary hereto shall be void, and go to the residuary legatee or devisee, next of kin, or heirs, according to law.

4762. (§ 1759.) Same.—No estate, real or personal, shall be bequeathed or devised to any charitable or benevolent society or corporation, or to any person or persons in trust for charitable uses except the same be done by letters duly executed at least thirty days before the decease of the testator, and if so made at least thirty days prior to such death, such devise or legacy and each of them shall be valid; Provided, That the prohibition contained in this section shall not apply to cases where not more than one-third of the estate of the testator shall be bequeathed or devised for charitable or benevolent purposes. [Act approved March 7, 1893.]

4763. (§ 1770.) Testator’s intention to be carried out.—A will is to be construed according to the intention of the testator. Where his intention cannot have effect to its full extent, it must have effect as far as possible.

In re Klein’s Estate, 35 Mont. 204; 88 Pac. 802. Estate of Buhrmeister, 1 C. App. 82; 81 Pac. 752.

4764. (§ 1771.) Intention to be ascertained from will.—In cases of uncertainty arising upon the face of a will, as to the application of any of its provisions, the testator’s intention is to be ascertained from the words of the will, taking into view the circumstances under which it was made, exclusive of his oral declarations.

In re Klein’s Estate, 35 Mont. 204; 88 Pac. 802. Estate of Buhrmeister, 1 C. App. 82; 81 Pac. 752.

4765. (§ 1772.) Rules of interpretation.—In interpreting a will, subject to the law of this state, the rules prescribed by the following sections of this chapter are to be observed, unless an intention to the contrary clearly appears.

Estate of Sutro, 139 Cal. 89; 72 Pac. 827.

4766. (§ 1773.) Several instruments are to be taken together.—Several testamentary instruments, executed by the same testator, are to be taken and construed together as one instrument.

Estate of Murphy, 104 Cal. 568; 38 Pac. 543.

4767. (§ 1774.) Harmonizing various parts.—All the parts of a will are to be construed in relation to each other, and so as, if possible, to form one consistent whole but where several parts are absolutely irreconcilable, the latter must prevail.

Estate of Lux, 149 Cal. 206; 85 Pac. 147.

4768. (§ 1775.) In what case devise not affected.—A clear and distinct devise or bequest cannot be affected by any reasons assigned therefor, or by any other words not equally clear and distinct, or by inference or argument from other parts of the will, or by an inaccurate recital of or reference to its contents in another part of the will.

Estate of Granniss, 142 Cal. 7; 75 Pac. 324.

4769. (§ 1776.) When ambiguous or doubtful.—Where the meaning of any part of a will is ambiguous or doubtful, it may be explained by any reference thereto, or recital thereof, in another part of the will.

4770. (§ 1777.) Words taken in ordinary sense.—The words of a will are to be taken in their ordinary and grammatical sense, unless a clear intention to use them in another sense can be collected, and that other can be ascertained.

In re Klein's Estate, 35 Mont. 204; 88 Pac. 802.

Estate of Jeffreys, 1 C. App. 527; 82 Pac. 549.

4771. (§ 1778.) Words to receive an operative construction.—The words of a will are to receive an interpretation which will give to every expression some effect, rather than one which will render any of the expressions inoperative.

Estate of Buhrmeister, 1 C. App. 82; 81 Pac. 752.

4772. (§ 1779.) Intestacy to be avoided.—Of two modes of interpreting a will, that is to be preferred which will prevent a total intestacy.

Estate of Fay, 145 Cal. 86; 78 Pac. 340.

4773. (§ 1780.) Effect of technical words.—Technical words in a will are to be taken in their technical sense, unless the context clearly indicates a contrary intention.

4774. (§ 1781.) Technical words not necessary.—Technical words are not necessary to give effect to any species of disposition by a will.

In re Klein's Estate, 35 Mont. 204; 88 Pac. 802.

4775. (§ 1782.) Certain words not necessary to pass a fee.—The term “heirs,” or other words of inheritance, are not requisite to devise a fee, and a devise of real property passes all the estate of the testator, unless otherwise limited.

4776. (§ 1783.) Power to devise, how executed by terms of will.—Real or personal property embraced in a power to devise passes by a will purporting to devise all the real or personal property of the testator.

Estate of Fair, 132 Cal. 558; 60 Pac. 442.

4777. (§ 1784.) Devise or bequest of all real or personal property, or both.—A devise or bequest of all the testator’s real or personal property, in express terms, or in any other terms, denoting his intent to dispose of all his real or personal property, passes all the real or personal property which he was entitled to dispose of by will at the time of his death.

4778. (§ 1785.) Residuary clause.—A devise of the residue of the testator’s real property passes all the real property which he was entitled to devise at the time of his death, not otherwise effectually devised by his will.

O’Connor v. Murphy; 147 Cal. 152; 81 Pac. 406.

4779. (§ 1786.) Same.—A bequest of the residue of the testator’s personal property (passes all the personal property)* which he was entitled to bequeath at the time of his death, not otherwise effectually bequeathed by his will.

Estate of Granniss, 142 Cal. 7; 75 Pac. 324.

4780. (§ 1787.) “Heirs,” “relatives,” “issue,” “descendants,” etc.—A testamentary disposition to “heirs,” “relations,” “nearest relations,” “representatives,” “legal representatives,” or “personal representatives,” or “family,” “issue,” “descendants,” “nearest,” or “next of kin” of any person, without words of qualification, and when the terms are used as words of donation, and not of limitation, vests the property in those who would be entitled to succeed to the property of such person, according to the provisions of the title on succession in this code.

4781. (§ 1788.) Words of donation and limitation.—The terms mentioned in the last section are used as words of donation, and not of limitation, when the property is given to the person so designated directly, and not as a qualification of an estate given to the ancestor of such person.

4782. (§ 1789.) To what time words refer.—Words in a will referring to death or survivorship, simply, relate to the time of the testator’s death, unless possession is actually postponed, when they must be referred to the time of possession.

Estate of Alexander, 149 Cal. 150; 85 Pac. 308.

4783. (§ 1790.) Devise or bequest to a class.—A testamentary disposition to a class includes every person answering the description at the testator's death; but when the possession is postponed to a future period, it includes also all persons coming within the description before the time to which possession is postponed.

Estate of Cavarly, 119 Cal. 410; 51 Pac. 629.

4784. (§ 1791.) When conversion takes effect.—When a will directs the conversion of real property into money, such property and all its proceeds must be deemed personal property from the time of the testator's death.

Fatjo v. Swasey, 111 Cal. 638; 49 Pac. 225.

4785. (§ 1792.) When child born after testator's death takes under will.—A child conceived before, but not born until after a testator's death, or any other period when a disposition to a class vests in right or in possession, takes, if answering to the description of the class.

Estate of Fair, 132 Cal. 580; 60 Pac. 442.

4786. (§ 1793.) Mistakes and omissions.—When applying a will it is found that there is an imperfect description, or that no person or property exactly answers the description, mistakes and omissions must be corrected, if the error appears from the context of the will or from extrinsic evidence; but evidence of the declarations of the testator as to his intentions cannot be received

In re Klein's Estate, 35 Mont. 204; Estate of Lynch, 142 Cal. 374; 75 Pac. 802. 88 Pac. 1086.

4787. (§ 1794.) When devises and bequests vest.—Testamentary dispositions, including devises and bequests to a person on attaining majority, are presumed to vest at the testator's death.

Gelsthorpe v. Furnell, 20 Mont. 310; to his widow is not subject to the inheritance tax. 51 Pac. 270.
Hinds v. Wilcox, 22 Mont. 11; 55 Pac. Estate of Campbell 149 Cal. 717; 87 355. Real estate devised by a testator Pac. 573.

4788. (§ 1795.) When cannot be divested.—A testamentary disposition, when vested, cannot be divested unless upon the occurrence of the precise contingency prescribed by the testator for that purpose.

4789. (§ 1796.) Death of devisee or legatee.—If a devisee or legatee dies during the lifetime of the testator, the testamentary disposition to him fails, unless an intention appears to substitute some other in his place, except as provided in § 4758 (1755).

Estate of Ross, 140 Cal. 290; 73 Pac. 976.

4790. (§ 1797.) Interests in remainder are not affected.—The death of a devisee or legatee of a limited interest before the testator's death does not defeat the interests of persons in remainder, who survive the estate.

4791. (§ 1798.) Conditional devises and bequests.—A conditional disposition is one which depends upon the occurrence of some uncertain event, by which it is either to take effect or be defeated.

4792. (§ 1799.) Conditions precedent, what.—A condition precedent in a will is one which is required to be fulfilled before a particular disposition takes effect.

4793. (§ 1800.) Effect of condition precedent.—Where a testamentary disposition is made upon a condition precedent, nothing vests until the condition is fulfilled, except where such fulfillment is impossible, in which case the disposition vests, unless the condition was the sole motive thereof, and the impossibility was unknown to the testator, or arose from an unavoidable event subsequent to the execution of the will.

4794. (§ 1801.) Conditions precedent, when deemed performed.—A condition precedent in a will is to be deemed performed when the testator's intention has been substantially, though not literally, complied with.

In re Klein's Estate, 35 Mont. 204; 88 Pac. 802.

4795. (§ 1802.) Conditions subsequent, what.—A condition subsequent is where an estate or interest is so given as to vest immediately, subject only to be divested by some subsequent act or event.

4796. (§ 1803.) Devisees, etc., take as tenants in common.—A devise or legacy given to more than one person vests in them as owners in common.

Estate of Hittell, 141 Cal. 434; 75 Pac. 53.

4797. (§ 1804.) Advancements, when ademptions.—Advancements or gifts are not to be taken as ademptions of general legacies, unless such intention is expressed by the testator in writing.

4798. (§ 1820.) Nature and designation of legacies. 1. Specific. 2. Demonstrative. 3. Annuities. 4. Residuary. 5. General.—Legacies are distinguished and designated, according to their nature, as follows:

1. A legacy of a particular thing, specified and distinguished from all others of the same kind belonging to the testator, is specific; if such legacy fails, resort can not be had to the other property of the testator.

2. A legacy is demonstrative when the particular fund or personal property is pointed out from which it is to be taken or paid; if such fund or property fails, in whole or in part, resort may be had to the general assets, as in case of a general legacy.

3. An annuity is a bequest of certain specified sums periodically; if the fund or property out of which they are payable fails, resort may be had to the general assets, as in case of a general legacy.

4. A residuary legacy embraces only that which remains after all the bequests of the will are discharged.

5. All other legacies are general legacies.

Estate of Smith, 145 Cal. 121; 78 Pac. 369.

4799. (§ 1821.) Order of sale in case of an intestate.—When a person dies intestate, all his property, real and personal, without any distinction between them, is chargeable with the payment of his debts, except as otherwise provided in this code and the Code of Civil Procedure.

In re Tuohy's Estate, 33 Mont. 246; 83 Pac. 490.

4800. (§ 1822.) Order of sale in case of testator.—The property of a testator, except as otherwise specially provided for in this code and the Code of Civil Procedure, must be resorted to for the payment of debts, in the following order:

1. The property which is expressly appropriated by the will for the payment of the debts.

2. Property not disposed of by will.

3. Property which is devised or bequeathed to a residuary legatee.

4. Property which is not specifically devised or bequeathed; and,

5. All other property ratably. Before any debts are paid the expenses of the administration and the allowance to the family must be paid or provided for.

In re Tuohy's Estate, 33 Mont. 244; 83 Pac. 490. Specific devises, whether made for charitable purposes, or for valuable consideration, fall within the fifth class enumerated in this section, and no distinction may be made, but all must be resorted to ratably for the payment of debts of the testator, after the property falling in the first four classes has been exhausted for that purpose.

4801. (§ 1823.) Legacies, how charged with debt.—The property of a testator, except as otherwise specially provided in this code and the Code of Civil Procedure, must be resorted to for the payment of legacies, in the following order:

1. The property which is expressly appropriated by the will for the payment of the legacies.

2. Property not disposed of by will.

3. Property which is devised or bequeathed to a residuary legatee.

4. Property which is not specifically devised or bequeathed.

In re Tuohy's Estate, 33 Mont. 246; 83 Pac. 490.

Estate of Ratto, 149 Cal. 554; 86 Pac. 1107.

4802. (§ 1824.) Same.—Legacies to husband, widow, or kindred of any class are chargeable only after legacies to persons not related to the testator.

4803. (§ 1825.) Abatement.—Abatement takes place in any class only as between legacies of that class, unless a different intention is expressed in the will.

4804. (§ 1826.) Specific devises and legacies.—In a specific devise or legacy, the title passes by the will, but possession can only be obtained from the personal representative; and he may be authorized by the district court to sell the property devised and bequeathed, in the cases herein provided.

In re Tuohy's Estate, 33 Mont. 246; 83 Pac. 490.

4805. (§ 1827.) Heirs' conveyance good, unless will is proved within four years.—The rights of a purchaser or incumbrancer of real property, in good faith and for value, derived from any person claiming the same by succession, are not impaired by any devise made by the decedent from whom succession is claimed, unless the instrument containing such devise is duly proved as a will, and recorded in the office of the clerk of the district court having jurisdiction thereof, or unless written notice of such devise is filed with the clerk of the county where the real property is situated, within four years after the deviser's death.

4806. (§ 1828.) Possession of legatees.—When specific legacies are for life only, the first legatee must sign and deliver to the second legatee, or if there is none, to the personal representative, an inventory of the property, expressing that the same is in his custody for life only, and that, on his decease, it is to be delivered and to remain to the use and for the benefit of the second legatee, or to the personal representative, as the case may be.

4807. (§ 1829.) Bequest of interest.—In case of a bequest of the interest or income of a certain sum or fund, the income accrues from the testator's death.

Estate of Brown, 143 Cal. 454; 77 Pac. 160.

4808. (§ 1830.) Satisfaction.—A legacy, or a gift in contemplation, fear or peril of death, may be satisfied before death.

4809. (§ 1831.) Legacies, when due.—Legacies are due and deliverable at the expiration of one year after the testator's decease. Annuities commence at the testator's decease.

In re Williams, 112 Cal. 524; 44 Pac. 808.

4810. (§ 1832.) Interest.—Legacies bear interest from the time when they are due and payable, except that legacies for maintenance, or to the testator's widow, bear interest from the testator's decease.

Estate of Brown, 143 Cal. 456; 77 Pac. 160.

4811. (§ 1833.) Construction of these rules.—The four preceding sections are in all cases to be controlled by a testator's express intention.

In re Williams, 112 Cal. 524; 44 Pac. 808.

4812. (§ 1834.) Executor according to the tenor.—Where it appears, by the term of a will, that it was the intention of the testator to commit the execution thereof and the administration of his estate to any person as executor, such person, although not named executor, is entitled to letters testamentary in like manner as if he had been made executor.

Estate of Ringot, 124 Cal. 47; 56 Pac. 781.

4813. (§ 1835.) Power to appoint is invalid.—An authority to an executor to appoint an executor is void.

4814. (§ 1836.) Executor not to act till qualified.—No person has any power, as an executor, until he qualifies, except that, before letters have been issued, he may pay funeral charges and take necessary measures for the preservation of the estate.

4815. (§ 1837.) Execution and construction of prior wills not affected.—The provisions of this title do not impair the validity of the execution of any will made before it takes effect, or affect the construction of any such will.

4816. (§ 1838.) The law of what place applies.—Except as otherwise provided, the validity and interpretation of wills are governed, when relating to real property within this state, by the law of this state; when relating to personal property, by the law of the testator's domicile.

State v. Court, 34 Mont. 105; 85 Pac. 869.

4817. (§ 1839.) Liability of beneficiaries for testator's obligations.—Those to whom property is given by will are liable for the obligations of the testator in the cases and to the extent prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure.

 “ 4839. Successor liable for decedent's obligations.

4818. (§ 1850.) Succession defined.—Succession is the coming in of another to take the property of one who dies without disposing of it by will.

In re Tuohy's Estate, 33 Mont. 246; Estate of Miner, 143 Pac. 198; 76 Pac. 83 Pac. 490. 968.

4819. (§ 1851.) Who first succeeds to possession of estates not devised.—The property, both real and personal, of one who dies without disposing of it by will, passes to the heirs of the intestate, subject to the control of the district court, and to the possession of any administrator appointed by that court for the purposes of administration.

Hinds v. Wilcox, 22 Mont. 11; 55 Pac. Trippet v. State, 149 Cal. 529; 86 Pac. 1084. 358.

4820. (§ 1852.) Succession to and distribution of property.—When any person having title to any estate not limited by marriage contract, dies without disposing of the estate by will, it is succeeded to and must be distributed, unless otherwise expressly provided in this code and the Code of Civil Procedure, subject to the payment of his debts, in the following manner:

1. If the decedent leave a surviving husband or wife, and only one child, or the lawful issue of one child, in equal shares to the surviving husband, or wife and child, or issue of such child. If the decedent leave a surviving husband or wife, and more than one child living, or one child living, and the lawful issue of one or more deceased children, one-third to the surviving husband or wife, and the remainder in equal shares to his children, and to the lawful issue of any deceased child, by right of representation; but if there be no child of the decedent living at his death, the remainder goes to all of his lineal descendants; and if all the descendants are in the same degree of kindred to the decedent, they share equally, otherwise they take according to the right of representation. If the decedent leave no surviving husband or wife, but leave issue, the whole estate goes to such issue; and if such issue consists of more than one child living, or one child living, and the lawful issue of one or more deceased children, then the estate goes in equal shares to the children living, or to the child living, and the issue of the deceased child or children by right of representation.

2. If the decedent leave no issue, the estate goes one-half to the surviving husband or wife, and the other to the decedent's father and mother in equal shares, and if either be dead the whole of said half goes to the other. If there be no father or mother, then one-half goes in equal shares to the brothers and sisters of the decedent, and to the children of any deceased brother or sister, by right of representation. If the decedent leave no issue, nor husband nor wife, the estate must go to his father and mother in equal shares, or if either be dead then to the other.

3. If there be neither issue, husband, wife, father, nor mother, then in equal shares to the brothers and sisters of the decedent, and to the children of any deceased brother or sister, by right of representation.

4. If the decedent leave a surviving husband or wife, and neither issue, father, mother, brother, nor sister, the whole estate goes to the surviving husband or wife.

5. If the decedent leave neither issue, husband, wife, father, mother, brother, nor sister, the estate goes to the next of kin, in equal degree, excepting that where there are two or more collateral kindred, in equal degree, but claiming through different ancestors, those who claimed through the nearest ancestors must be preferred to those claiming through an ancestor more remote.

6. If the decedent leave several children, or one child, and the issue of one or more children, and any such surviving child dies under age, and not having been married, all the estate that came to the deceased child by inheritance from such decedent descends in equal shares to the other children of the same parent, and to the issue of any such other children who are dead, by right of representation.

7. If, at the death of such child, who dies under age, not having been married, all the other children of his parents are also dead, and any of them have left issue, the estate that came to such child by inheritance from his parent descends to the issue of all other children of the same parent; and if all the issue are in the same degree of kindred to the child, they share the estate equally, otherwise they take according to the right of representation.

8. If the decedent leave no husband, wife, or kindred, the estate escheats to the state.

State v. Court, 25 Mont. 365; subd. 8; 65 Pac. 122. Where a testator died without heirs, the state is entitled to contest a proposed will.

Dahlman v. Dahlman, 28 Mont. 377; 72 Pac. 749. The right of a wife to dower or election under sections 228 and 236 supra are separate from her rights as an heir of her husband under this section.

In re Dahlman's Estate, 28 Mont. 379; 72 Pac. 750. A court exercising its probate jurisdiction has no power with reference to dower.

State v. Miller, 149 Cal. 212; 75 Pac. 609.

4821. (§ 1853.) Illegitimate children to inherit in certain events.—Every illegitimate child is an heir of the person who, in writing, signed in the presence of a competent witness, acknowledges himself to be the father of such child; and in all cases is an heir of his mother; and inherits his or her estate, in whole or in part, as the case may be, in the same manner as if he had been born in lawful wedlock; but he does not represent his father or mother by inheriting any part of the estate of his or her kindred, either lineal or collateral, unless before his death, his parents shall have inter-married, and his father, after such marriage, acknowledges him as his child, or adopts him into his family, in which case such child and all the legitimate children are considered brothers and sisters, and on the death of either of them, intestate, and without issue, the others inherit his estate, and are heirs, as hereinbefore provided, in like manner as if all the children had been legitimate; saving to the father and mother respectively their rights in the estates of all the children in like manner as if all had been legitimate. The issue of all marriages null in law, or dissolved by divorce, are legitimate.

Estate of DeLaveaga, 142 Cal. 159; 75 Pac. 790.

4822. (§ 1854.) The mother is a successor to illegitimate child.—If an illegitimate child, who has not been acknowledged or adopted by his father, dies intestate, without lawful issue, his estate goes to his mother, or, in case of her decease, to her heirs at law.

4823. (§ 1855.) Degrees of kindred, how computed.—The degree of kindred established by the number of generations, and each generation is called a degree.

4824. (§ 1856.) Same.—The series of degrees forms the line; the series of degrees between persons who descend from one another is called direct or lineal consanguinity; and the series of degrees between persons who do not descend from one another, but spring from a common ancestor, is called the collateral line or collateral consanguinity.

4825. (§ 1857.) Same.—The direct line is divided into a direct line descending and a direct line ascending. The first is that which connects the ancestors with those who descend from him. The second is that which connects a person with those from whom he descends.

4826. (§ 1858.) Same.—In the direct line there are as many degrees as there are generations. Thus, the son is, with regard to the father, in the first degree; the grandson in the second; and vice versa with regard to the father and grandfather toward the sons and grandsons.

4827. (§ 1859.) Same.—In the collateral line, the degrees are counted by generations from one of the relations up to the common ancestor, and from the common ancestor to the other relations. In such computation the decedent is excluded, the relative included, and the ancestor counted but once. Thus, brothers are related in the second degree; uncle and nephew in the third degree; cousins german in the fourth, and so on.

Robinson v. Southern Co., 105 Cal. 557; 38 Pac. 94.

4828. (§ 1860.) Relatives of half blood.—Kindred of the half blood inherit equally with those of the whole blood in the same degree, unless the inheritance comes to the intestate by descent, devise, or gift of some one of his ancestors, in which case all those who are not of the blood of such ancestors must be excluded from such inheritance.

Estate of Lynch, 132 Cal. 216; 64 Pac. 284.

4829. (§ 1861.) Advancements, constitute part of distributive share.—Any estate, real or personal, given by the decedent in his lifetime as an advancement to any child, or other lineal descendant, is a part of the estate of the decedent for the purposes of division and distribution thereof among his issue, and must be taken by such child, or other lineal descendant, toward his share of the estate of the decedent.

4830. (§ 1862.) Advancements, when too much, or not enough.—If the amount of such advancement exceeds the share of the heir receiving the same, he must be excluded from any further portion in the division and distribution of the estate, but he must not be required to refund any part of such advancement; and if the amount so received is less than his share, he is entitled to so much more as will give him his full share of the estate of the decedent.

4831. (§ 1863.) What are advancements.—All gifts and grants are made as advancements, if expressed in the gift or grant to be so made, or if charged in writing by the decedent as an advancement, or acknowledged in writing as such, by the child or other successor or heir.

4832. (§ 1864.) Value of advancements, how determined.—If the value of the estate so advanced is expressed in the conveyance, or in the charge thereof made by the decedent, or in the acknowledge of the party receiving it, it must be held as of that value in the division and distribution of the estate; otherwise, it must be estimated according to its value when given, as nearly as the same can be ascertained.

4833. (§ 1865.) When heir, advanced to, dies before decedent.—If any child, or other lineal descendant receiving advancement, dies before the decedent, leaving issue, the advancement must be taken into consideration in the division and distribution of the estate, and the amount thereof must be allowed accordingly by the representatives of the heirs receiving the advancement, in the like manner as if the advancement had been made directly to them.

4834. (§ 1866.) Inheritance by representation.—Inheritance or succession “by right of representation” takes place when the descendants of any deceased heir take the same share or right in the estate of another person that their parents would have taken if living. Posthumous children are considered as living at the death of their parents.

4835. (§ 1867.) Aliens may inherit, when and how.—Resident aliens may take in all cases by succession as citizens; and no person capable of succeeding under the provisions of this title is precluded from such succession by reason of the alienage of any relative; but no non-resident foreigner can take by succession, unless he appears and claims such succession within five years after the death of the decedent to whom he claims succession.

State v. Court, 25 Mont. 364; 65 Pac. 121. Where a testator had no resident heirs, the state was entitled to file objections to the probate of the will before the expiration of five years from the death of the testator.

In re Watson's Estate, 31 Mont. 440; 78 Pac. 703. The court properly granted letters of administration to a resident of the state, whose appointment had been asked by non-resident brothers and sisters of decedent, and denied the request of a public administrator for such letters.

In re Pomeroy, 33 Mont. 73; 81 Pac. 30. Sections 1867, 1868 and 1869 of this Code do not apply to cases in which citizens of the United States are claimants.

4836. (§ 1868.) Succession not claimed, attorney general to cause to be sold, and proceeds deposited.—When succession is not claimed as provided in the preceding section, the district court, on information, must direct the attorney general to reduce the property to his or the possession of the state, or to cause the same to be sold, and the same or the proceeds thereof to be deposited in the state treasury for the benefit of such non-resident alien, or his legal representative, to be paid to him whenever, within five years after such deposit, proof to the satisfaction of the state auditor and treasurer is produced that he is entitled to succeed thereto.

State v. Court 25 Mont. 364; 65 Pac. 121.

In re Pomeroy, 33 Mont. 73; 81 Pac. 630.

Estate of Pendergast, 143 Cal. 140; 76 Pac. 962.

4837. (§ 1869.) When the property and estate escheat to the state.—When so claimed, the evidence and the joint order of the auditor and treasurer must be filed by the treasurer as his voucher, and the property delivered or the proceeds paid to the claimant on filing his receipt therefor. If no one succeeds to the estate or the proceeds, as herein provided, the property of the decedent devolves and escheats to the state, and is placed by the state treasurer to the credit of the general fund.

State v. Court, 25 Mont. 364; 65 Pac. 121. In re Pomeroy, 33 Mont. 73; 81 Pac. 630.

4838. (§ 1870.) Property escheated subject to charges as other property.—Real property passing to the state under the last section, whether held by the state or its officers, is subject to the same charges and trusts to which it would have been subject if it had passed by succession, and is also subject to all the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, in relation to escheated estates.

4839. (§ 1871.) Successor liable for decedent's obligations.—Those who succeed to the property of a decedent are liable for his obligations in the cases and to the extent prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure.

4840. What waters may be appropriated.—The right to the use of any unappropriated water of any natural stream, water course, spring, dry coulee, or other natural source of supply, and of any running water flowing in the streams, rivers, canyons and ravines of this State, may hereafter be acquired by appropriation. [Act approved March 16th, 1901.] (7th Sess. Chap. 152-3.)

Power v. Switzer, 21 Mont. 529; 55 Pac. 35.

Helena v. Rogan, 26 Mont. 477; 68 Pac. 803.

Quinlan v. Calvert, 31 Mont. 119; 77 Pac. 429. The mere fact that water has its source on land owned by a plaintiff does not of itself give him the exclusive right therein so as to prevent others from acquiring rights to it under the laws of the state.

Chessman v. Hale, 31 Mont. 583; 79 Pac. 255.

Norman v. Corbley, 32 Mont. 202; 79 Pac. 1060. The title to the corpus of such waters cannot be acquired so that a prior appropriator, who has all the water he needs, cannot question the right of another to use the remainder of the water, or maintain an action against him on account of such use. The latter cannot, so long as the former has all the water he needs, acquire a prescriptive right to use any given quantity of the water to the detriment of the appropriation by the former.

4841. (§ 1881.) Appropriations must be for a useful purpose.—The appropriation must be for some useful or beneficial purpose, and when the appropriator or his successor in interest abandons and ceases to use the water for such purpose the right ceases; but questions of abandonment shall be questions of fact, and shall be determined as other questions of fact.

Power v. Switzer, 21 Mont. 529; 55 Pac. 35. The diversion of water for domestic purposes in excess of what is required, and allowing such excess to overflow lands without any intention of irrigating or using such excess for any useful purpose, does not constitute an appropriation of such excess.

Toohey v. Campbell, 24 Mont. 18; 60 Pac. 397. A claimant's intent at the time of the appropriation of water must be determined by his acts and surrounding circumstances and its actual and contemplated use. The right to the use of water may be owned without regard to the title to lands on which the water is to be used.

Miles v. Butte E. Co. 32 Mont. 67; 79 Pac. 54. Until a claimant can use the water of a stream, the right thereto does not exist in such sense that the mere diversion of the water by another is a cause of action to recover the water, or damages for its diversion.

Sayre v. Johnson, 33 Mont. 19; 81 Pac. 390. Water used to increase the amount of grass for pasture by irrigation is useful and beneficial within this section. An appropriator may use the water on school land leased from the state.

4842. (§ 1882.) Point of diversion may be changed.—The person entitled to the use of water may change the place of diversion, if others are not thereby injured, and may extend the ditch, flume, pipe, or aqueduct, by which the diversion is made, to any place other than where the first use was made, and may use the water for other purposes than that for which it was originally appropriated.

Smith v. Denniff 24 Mont. 20; 60 Pac. 398.
Helena v. Rogan, 26 Mont. 475; 68 Pac. 802.

Hays v. Buzard, 31 Mont. 81; 77 Pac. 425.

4843. (§ 1883.) Water may be turned into natural channels.—The water appropriated may be turned into the channel of another stream and mingled with its waters, and then be reclaimed; but, in reclaiming it, water already appropriated by another must not be diminished in quantity, or deteriorated in quality.

4844. Return of surplus water to stream.—In all cases where, by virtue of prior appropriation, any person may have diverted all the water of any stream, or to such an extent that there shall not be an amount sufficient left therein for those having a subsequent right to the waters of such stream, and there shall, at any time, be a surplus of water so diverted, over and above what is actually, and necessarily used by the prior appropriator, such person shall be required to turn, and cause to flow back into the stream, such surplus water, and, upon failure so to do within twenty-four hours after demand being made upon him in writing, to him in person or at his place of abode, by any person having a right to the use of such surplus water, the person so diverting the same shall be liable to the person aggrieved for the damage resulting therefrom, in such sum as may be determined by court. [Act approved March 1, 1907.] (10th Sess. Chap. 56.)

4845. (§ 1885.) First in time, first in right.—As between appropriators the one first in time is first in right.

4846. Appropriation by United States.—That the Government of the United States may by and through the Secretary of the Interior, or any person by him duly authorized to act in that behalf, appropriate the water of streams or lakes within the State of Montana in the same manner and subject to the general conditions applicable to the appropriation of the waters of the state by private individuals; provided, such appropriation shall be held valid for the period of three years after the filing of the notice of appropriation thereof in the office of the County Clerk and Recorder of the appropriate county, but such appropriation shall be null and void after the period of three years unless prior to the expiration of such period the work of constructing the canal or ditch by which the same is to be diverted shall have been commenced; and be it further provided, that if at any time prior to the expiration of the aforesaid period of three years the Secretary of the Interior, or a person by him duly authorized to act in the premises, files a notice with the County Clerk and Recorder in the county in which the original appropriation notice was filed, announcing an abandonment by the Government of the United States of the irrigation project for which the water was appropriated, then and in that event the appropriation shall become null and void. [Act approved February 27, 1905.] (9th Sess. Chap. 44.)

4847. (§ 1886.) Notice of appropriation.—Any person hereafter desiring to appropriate water must post a notice in writing in a conspicuous place at the point of intended diversion, stating therein:

1. The number of inches claimed, measured as hereinafter provided.
2. The purpose for which it is claimed and place of intended use.
3. The means of diversion, with size of flume, ditch, pipe, or aqueduct, by which he intends to divert it.
4. The date of appropriation.
5. The name of the appropriator.

Within twenty days after the date of appropriation the appropriator shall file with the county clerk of the county in which such appropriation is made a notice of appropriation, which in addition to the facts required to be stated in the posted notice, as hereinbefore prescribed, shall contain the name of the stream from which the diversion is made, if such stream have a name, and if it have not, such a description of the stream as will identify it, and an accurate description of the point of diversion on such stream, with reference to some natural object or permanent monument. The notice shall be verified by the affidavit of the appropriator, or some one in his behalf, which affidavit must state that the matters and facts contained in the notice are true.

Murray v. Tingley, 20 Mont. 20; 50 Pac. 723. A notice of location of a water right is fatally defective unless it is verified in conformity with this section. A valid water right may be acquired, where there has been no compliance with the statute and the water is actually diverted and applied to a beneficial use. The right of one who complies with the law regulating the appropriation of water, relates back to the date of the posting of his notice of location.

4848. (§ 1887.) Diligence in appropriating.—Within forty days after posting such notice the appropriator must proceed to prosecute the excavation or construction of the work by which the water appropriated is to be diverted, and must prosecute the same with reasonable diligence to completion. If the ditch or flume, when constructed, is inadequate to convey the amount of water claimed in the notice aforesaid, the excess claimed above the capacity of the ditch or flume shall be subject to appropriation by any other person, in accordance with the provisions of this title.

Murray v. Tingley, 20 Mont. 266; 50 Pac. 724.

4849. (§ 1888.) Effect of failure.—A failure to comply with the provisions of this title deprives the appropriator of the right to the use of water as against a subsequent claimant who complies therewith, but by complying with the provisions of this title, the right to the use of the water shall relate back to the date of posting the notice.

Murray v. Tingley, 20 Mont. 265; 50 Pac. 724.

Wells v. Mantes, 99 Cal. 586; 34 Pac. 324.

4850. (§ 1889.) Record of declaration.—Persons who have heretofore acquired rights to the use of water shall, within six months after the publication of this title, file in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the water right is situated, a declaration in writing, except notice be already given of record as required by this title, or a declaration in writing be already filed as required by this section, containing the same facts as required in the notice provided for record in § 4847 (1886), of this title, and verified as required in said last mentioned section, in cases of notice of appropriation of water; Provided, That a failure to comply with the requirements of this section shall in no wise work a forfeiture of such heretofore acquired rights, or prevent any such claimant from establishing such rights in the courts.

4852. (§ 1891.) Rights settled in one action.—In any action hereafter commenced for the protection of rights acquired to water under the laws of this state, the plaintiff may make any or all persons who have diverted water from the same stream or source parties to such action, and the court may in one judgment settle the relative priorities and rights of all the parties to such action. When damages are claimed for the wrongful diversion of water in any such action, the same may be assessed and apportioned by the jury in their verdicts, and judgment thereon may be entered for or against one or more of several plaintiffs, or for or against one or more of several defendants, and may determine the ultimate rights of the parties between themselves. In any action concerning joint water rights, or joint rights in water ditches, unless partition of the same kind is asked by parties to the action, the court shall hear and determine such controversy as if the same were several as well as joint.

Beach v. Spokane Co., 25 Mont. 382; 65 Pac. 112. Parties having the right to divert water of a creek for irrigation purposes may join in a suit to restrain a third person from diminishing the volume of the water to which they are entitled.

McNinch v. Crawford 30 Mont. 297; 76 Pac. 698. In an action to settle the relative priorities and rights of the parties to the use of the waters of a stream, every party to the suit is an antagonist of every other party.

4853. (§ 1892.) Record of declaration notices.—The county clerk must keep a well bound book, in which he must record the notices and declarations provided for in this title, and he shall be entitled to have and receive the same fees as are now or hereafter may be allowed by law for recording instruments entitled to be recorded.

4854. Measurement of water. Cubic foot.—Hereafter a cubic foot of water (7.48 gallons) per second of time shall be the legal standard for the measurement of water in this State. [Act approved March 3rd, 1899, § 1.] (6th Sess. 126.)

4855. Miners inch equivalent in gallons.—Where water rights expressed in miners' inches have been granted, one hundred miners' inches shall be considered equivalent to a flow of two and one-half cubic feet (18.7 gallons) per second; two hundred miners' inches shall be considered equivalent to a flow of five cubic feet (37.4 gallons) per second, and this proportion shall be observed in determining the equivalent flow represented by any number of miners' inches. [Act approved March 3rd, 1899, § 2.] (6th Sess. 126.)

4856. Not to affect existing decrees.—Provided, that the provisions of this bill shall not affect or change the measurement of water heretofore decreed by a Court, but such decreed water shall be measured according to the law in force at the time such decree was made and entered. [Act approved March 3rd, 1899, § 3.] (6th Sess. 126.)

railway of their intention to construct a ditch or flume across the right of way of such railroad and the point at which the said ditch or flume will cross the railroad; also the time when the construction of said ditch or flume will be made. If the owner or owners of such railroad or their agent fails to appear and attend at the time and place fixed in said notice, it shall be lawful for the owner or owners of the said flume or ditch to construct the same across the right of way of such railroad, without further notice to said owner or owners of the railroad. [Act approved March 18, 1895.]

4858. (§ 1895.) Highways to be protected.—Any person who digs and constructs ditches, dykes, flumes or canals, over or across any public roads or highways, or who uses the waters of such ditches, dykes, flumes or canals, is required to keep the same in good repair at such crossings or other places where the water from any such ditches, dykes, flumes or canals may flow over, or in anywise injure any roads or highways, either by bridging or otherwise.

4860. (§ 1897.) Owners of water to sell surplus.—Any person having the right to use, sell or dispose of water, and engage in using, selling or disposing of the same, who has a surplus of water not used, or sold, or any person having a surplus of water, and the right to sell and dispose of the same, is required, upon the payment or tender to the person entitled thereto an amount equal to the usual and customary rates per inch, to convey and deliver to the person such surplus of unsold water, or so much thereof for which said payment or tender shall have been made, and shall continue so to convey and deliver the same weekly so long as said surplus of unused or unsold water exists and said payment or tender be made as aforesaid.

Helena Co. v. Lynch, 25 Mont. 503; 65 Pac. 921.

4861. (§ 1898.) Duty of purchaser to dig ditches.—Any person desiring to avail himself of the provisions of the preceding section must, at his own cost and expense, construct or dig the necessary flumes or ditches to receive and convey the surplus water so desired by him, and pay or tender to the person having the right to the use, sale or disposal thereof, an amount equal to the necessary cost and expense of tapping any gulch, stream, reservoir, ditch, flume or aqueduct, and putting in gates, gauges or other proper and necessary appliances usual and customary in such cases, and until the same shall be done, the delivery of the said surplus water shall not be required as provided in the preceding section.

Helena Co. v. Lynch, 25 Mont. 503; 65 Pac. 921.

4862. (§ 1899.) Enforcement of right to surplus.—Any person constructing the necessary ditches, aqueducts or flumes, and making the payments or tenders hereinbefore provided, is entitled to the use of so much of the said surplus water as said ditches, flumes or aqueducts have the capacity to carry, and for which payment or tender is made, and may institute and maintain any appropriate action at law or in equity for the enforcement of such right or recovery of damages arising from a failure to deliver or wrongful diversion of the same.

Helena Co. v. Lynch, 25 Mont. 503; 65 Pac. 921.

4863. (§ 1900.) Purchaser cannot sell.—Nothing in the three preceding sections shall be so construed as to give the person acquiring the right to the use of water as therein provided, the right to sell or dispose of the same after being so used by him, or prevent the original owner or proprietor from retaking, selling and disposing of the same in the usual and customary manner, after it is so used as aforesaid.

4864. (§ 1901.) Dam or reservoir to be securely constructed.—No person shall hereafter fill, or procure to be filled, with water, any dam or reservoir which is not so thoroughly and substantially constructed as that it will safely and securely hold the water to be turned therein.

4865. (§ 1902.) No person to use insecure reservoir.—No person shall hereafter construct, or cause to be constructed, on a stream, any dam or reservoir to accumulate the waters thereof, except in a thorough, secure and substantial manner.

4866. Surveys of ditches. Filing map.—Any person availing himself of the provisions of the preceding Sections, and who shall have complied with said preceding Sections relating to the appropriation of water, may, within six months after his ditch is completed, publish a notice once a week for two successive weeks, in a newspaper designated by the County Commissioners as the official paper of the County, stating that he will, on a date to be therein mentioned, which date shall be not less than twenty nor more than thirty days after the first publication of said notice, cause said ditch to be surveyed by a competent Civil Engineer, whose name shall be given, and stating the name of stream, and such a general description as will identify the ditch. It shall be the duty of said person to employ a competent civil engineer to make such survey, and it shall be the duty of such civil engineer to survey said ditch, ascertain its grade, measure the headgate thereof, and measure said ditch in such other places as may be necessary to show its carrying capacity, and also measure the land irrigated by said ditch, or proposed to be irrigated thereby, and to make a map showing the general courses of the ditch and the land irrigated or proposed to be irrigated therefrom, giving the grade and dimensions of the headgate and other dimensions of the ditch where measured, and attach thereto his affidavit showing the date when he commenced the survey of said ditch, the date when completed, the names of the persons who assisted him, and that said map and the date given thereon are correct. If for any reason the survey cannot be made upon the day designated in the notice, it may be made on any subsequent day, and the person who caused said survey to be made shall file an affidavit showing why the survey was not made on the day mentioned in the notice; Provided, however, that if any person appears upon the ground at the time mentioned in the notice, and serves a written notice that he desires to be present when said survey is made, the person who caused said ditch to be made shall give such person at least three days written notice of the time when said ditch shall be surveyed. The said survey of said ditch may be continued from day to day, or from time to time, as may be necessary to complete it, and any person shall have the right to be present at said survey. The map made by the surveyor, his affidavit, and the affidavit of publication of the notice aforesaid, shall, within thirty days from the completion of said survey, be filed in the office of the Clerk and Recorder of the county wherein the notice of appropriation is filed, and such affidavit and map, or certified copies thereof, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein shown and stated in all courts in this State in actions relating to said ditch and water right. [Act approved March 4, 1905, § 1.] (9th Sess. Chap. 95.)

4867. Effect of decree upon subsequent appropriations.—Whenever there shall have been an adjudication of the rights between appropriators or claimants, any stream or any other water supply in this State, in any District Court of the State, or the United States Court, in an action prosecuted in good faith between such appropriators, or claimants, to determine their respective rights to the use of such waters, and which decree is based upon evidence introduced, and not upon stipulations or admissions of the parties, such adjudication and decree, or certified copies thereof, shall, as against all persons, appropriating or diverting any of the waters of the said stream, or other water supply, after the date of such decree, in an action relating to such waters, be prima facie evidence of the facts therein found, determined and decreed, respecting the rights of parties to said action to the use of the waters of said stream, or other water supply. [Act approved March 4, 1905.] (9th Sess. Chap. 95.)

4868. Appropriations of water subject to prior decrees adjudicating rights.—All water hereafter appropriated by any person, association, company, or corporation after the passage of this Act, from any stream, creek, spring, canyon, river or ravine in this State, in which the water rights therein have been adjudicated and decreed prior to the passage of this Act, and a decree of a Court of Competent Jurisdiction entered therein, shall be subject to such decree. [Act approved March 9, 1907, § 1.] (10th Sess. Chap. 185.)

4870. Appropriations pending litigation subject to decree.—At such time as there may be legal proceedings instituted by the owner or owners of any water right or water rights in any stream, spring, creek, canyon, river or ravine, before any court of competent jurisdiction, all subsequent appropriations made in any such streams, creeks, springs, canyons, rivers or ravines will be subject to such suit as may be instituted and shall not date prior to the date of the beginning of said suit, and will be subject to the rulings and decisions thereunder. [Act approved March 9, 1907, § 3.] (10th Sess. Chap. 185.)

4871. Appropriation from adjudicated streams, notice.—Any person desiring to appropriate water in any stream, creek, canyon, river or ravine, wherein the rights of water therein have been adjudicated and decreed, shall post a notice in writing in a conspicuous place at the point of the intended diversion, stating therein:

1. The flow claimed, expressed in cubic feet per second.
2. The purpose for which said water is claimed, and the place of intended use.
3. The name of the stream, creek, spring, canyon, river or ravine.
4. The name of the appropriator or appropriators.
5. The date of posting said notice.

The work in the construction and completion of the means of diverting and conveying water to place of use, shall be prosecuted with reasonable diligence, otherwise no rights shall be acquired by such appropriator, and no appropriator shall acquire any rights to water in excess of the carrying capacity of the ditch or means of conveying water, nor in excess of the amount actually needed by the appropriator for some useful and beneficial purpose. [Act approved March 9, 1907, § 4.] (10th Sess. Chap. 185.)

4872. Application must be filed with the clerk of the district court.—Within forty days from the date of the completion of the works of irrigation, the appropriator shall file with the Clerk of the District Court in the County in which said water is to be appropriated, an application in writing to have such ditch measured and the capacity determined, as herein provided. Such application shall contain the sworn statement of the appropriator, in which is given the name of the stream from which said water is to be appropriated, the amount of water to be diverted, the intended point of diversion, the intended use of such water and the place of intended use, and the name of the appropriator. The Clerk of the District Court upon receipt of such application, duly executed and presented by the applicant or his attorney shall enter the same upon the Court records of said County, and thereupon issue an order directing a competent civil engineer to proceed to measure and determine the capacity of said ditch (expressed in flow of cubic feet per second) definitely locate the exact point of the diversion by a course and distance to some established corner of the public surveys, or if there be no such corner within two miles of said ditch, then a connecting line shall be run to some suitable permanent object or monument that will not be destroyed or defaced, and to report the results of such measurements and surveys, together with a plat, in duplicate, on which shall be shown the location of said point of diversion, together with the connecting line, to the corner of the public surveys or monuments, the size and capacity of the ditch and headgate, the date of the notice of appropriation, the date of the survey, the name of the stream, the name of the appropriator or appropriators, the purpose and place of intended use, and in case the use be for irrigation, the plat must show the location and area of land to be irrigated thereby, and make such returns to the Clerk of the Court within thirty (30) days from the receipt of said order. The Clerk shall thereupon cause to be published, in the newspaper published nearest the point of diversion once a week in three successive issues of said paper, a notice giving the name of the appropriator, amount of appropriation, and name of stream from which the water is appropriated. Any person or persons interested in the waters of said stream may on or before the last day of publication, file with the Clerk, written objections to such appropriation. [Act approved March 9, 1907, § 5.] (10th Sess. Chap. 185.)

shall enter an order allowing said appropriation. If objections are made, the court shall fix a day for hearing, and on such hearing witnesses may testify, and the court after hearing may make any order deemed proper in the premises. [Act approved March 9, 1907, § 6.] (10th Sess. Chap. 185.)

4874. Deposit for expenses.—The appropriator shall, at the time of filing his application with the Clerk of the District Court, make a deposit with said Clerk, in a sum sufficient to cover all expense for the legal fees for filing any action, together with stenographer's fees, and fees for filing and recording all decrees and other papers in the matter, and the cost of the survey, not to exceed ten dollars per day, and necessary traveling expenses, and five dollars for each plat filed, said sum to be fixed and estimate made by the Clerk of the District Court, and residue remaining in the possession of said Clerk, when all fees and costs are paid shall be returned to the applicant; should there not be sufficient money deposited to meet all fees and expenses, said water right shall be of no force and effect, until the same have been paid. [Act approved March 9, 1907, § 7.] (10th Sess. Chap. 185.)

4875. Payment of expenses.—The Clerk of the District Court, shall upon receipt of any report made in conformity with the provisions of this Act, and duly certified to by a civil engineer, pay to him out of the moneys deposited with him for said purpose, a sum not to exceed ten dollars per day and necessary traveling expenses, and five dollars for each plat made and filed, upon the civil engineer presenting the proper bill, duly sworn to, for said expenses. A receipt of any such payment shall be given to the Clerk. [Act approved March 9, 1907, § 8.] (10th Sess. Chap. 185.)

4876. Record of survey.—The Clerk of the District Court shall keep in his office a suitable bound book, in which shall be kept an accurate record of all surveys and reports made in accordance with this Act. [Act approved March 9, 1907, § 9.] (10th Sess. Chap. 185.)

4877. Statutory measurements.—Where water rights have been decreed in statutory or miners inch measurement, the measurement shall be in cubic feet per second, and one hundred miners or statutory inches shall be equivalent to a flow of two and one half cubic feet per second, and this proportion shall be observed in determining the equivalent flow of any number of miners or statutory inches. [Act approved March 9, 1907, § 10.] (10th Sess. Chap. 185.)

4878. Penalty.—A failure to comply with the provisions of this Act deprives the appropriator of the right to such decree, as against a subsequent claimant who complies herewith. [Act approved March 9, 1907, § 11.] (10th Sess. Chap. 185.)

4879. Effect of decree.—Any person or persons appropriating water under the provisions of this Act, shall be subject to, bound by, and shall comply with any decree of court adjudicating the waters of such stream, or any stream of which the same may be a tributary or feeder, as fully and to the same extent as if said person or persons were original parties to the action wherein the said decree is made and entered, and any water commissioner or commissioners, appointed by the Court to distribute waters under any decree shall have jurisdiction over, and shall distribute any waters appropriated under the provisions of this Act, according to priority. [Act approved March 9, 1907, § 12.] (10th Sess. Chap. 185.)

4880. Effect of failure to comply as against subsequent appropriators.—A failure to comply with the provisions of this Act, deprives the appropriator of the right to use any water of such stream, as against any subsequent appropriator complying herewith, and as against any prior appropriator mentioned in or bound by a decree of court. [Act approved March 9, 1907, § 13.] (10th Sess. Chap. 185.)

4881. Appointment of water commissioner.—Whenever the water rights pertaining to any stream or water system within the State of Montana have been determined by a decree of a competent Court it shall be the duty of the district judge of the district within which such water rights are situated, upon the application of the owners of at least twenty-five per cent of the water rights affected by such decree, to appoint a commissioner, who shall have the authority to measure and distribute to the parties interested under such decree the waters to which they are entitled, according to their priority as established by such decree; and for that purpose such commissioner shall have authority to enter upon any ditch, canal, aqueduct, or other source for conveying the waters affected by such decree, and to visit, inspect and adjust all headgates or other means of distributing such waters; and shall have the same power as a sheriff or constable to arrest any and all persons interfering with the distribution made by him, and to take such persons so arrested before the Judge of the District Court for trial for contempt of the decree of said Court. [Act approved March 2nd, 1899, § 1.] (6th Sess. 136-137.)

4882. Compensation of commissioner.—The parties using the water shall be liable for the payment of the fees and compensation of such Commissioner, and the Judge of the District Court is authorized and directed to fix the compensation of such Commissioner, and to apportion the amount of such compensation proportionately among the water users named in said decree, and which said order shall have the force and effect of a judgment, and may be enforced by an execution. [Act approved March 2nd, 1899, § 2.] (6th Sess. 137.)

4883. Failure of commissioner to perform duty.—If said Commissioner shall fail to perform the duties imposed upon him by the order of Court, he shall be deemed guilty of contempt of the order of said Court. [Act approved March 2nd, 1899, § 3.] (6th Sess. 137.)

4884. Appointment of water commissioner.—Whenever the water rights pertaining to any stream or water system within the State of Montana have been determined by a decree of a competent court it shall be the duty of the District Judge of the District within which such water rights are situated, upon the application of the owners of at least twenty five per cent. of the water rights affected by such decree, to appoint a Commissioner, who shall have the authority to measure and distribute to the parties interested under such decree the waters to which they are entitled, according to their priority as established by such decree; provided, however, that upon the application of the owners of at least fifty-one per cent. of the water rights in any ditch or single water system affected by such decree, a Commissioner shall be appointed who shall have authority to measure and distribute to the parties interested under such decree, the waters to which they are entitled, as heretofore provided, and in addition shall have the authority to keep in reasonable repair and maintain such water ditch or water system at the expense of the owners thereof, and for each of the purposes above set forth such Commissioner or Commissioners shall have authority to enter upon any ditch, canal, aqueduct, or other source for conveying the waters affected by such decree, and to visit, inspect and adjust all head gates, or other means of distribution of such waters, and shall have the same power as a sheriff or constable to arrest any or all persons interfering with the distribution made by him, and to take such person so arrested before the Judge of the District Court for trial for contempt of the decree of said Court. [Act approved March 2, 1905, § 1.] (9th Sess Chap. 64.)

State v. Court, 33 Mont. 117; 82 Pac. 451. This act does not constitute a commissioner specified therein a judicial officer in the sense that a violation of his orders is a contempt committed in the presence of the court.

State v. Court, 34 Mont. 267; 86 Pac.

801. A person not mentioned in the decree, who signs a petition for the appointment of the water commissioner and afterwards refused to respect the decree, makes himself a party thereto and is liable to be punished in contempt proceedings.

4885. Term of office.—Such Water Commissioner, so appointed, shall hold his office for such time during the irrigating season of each year as may be designated by the Judge, in the order making such appointment, provided, that said Judge may in his discretion, at any time, change the time for the closing of such service of such commissioner. [Act approved March 2, 1905, § 2.] (9th Sess. Chap. 64.)

4886. Oath of office.—The Water Commissioner, so appointed by the Court, shall take and subscribe and file with the Clerk of the District Court, an oath of office, before commencing the discharge of his duties as such commissioner. [Act approved March 2, 1905, § 3.] (9th Sess. Chap. 64.)

4887. Objections to commissioner's award.—Any person owning any of the waters of such stream, who is dissatisfied with the method of distribution of the waters of such stream by such Water Commissioner, and who claims to be entitled to more water than he is receiving, or is entitled to a prior right than that allowed him by such Commissioner, may file his written complaint, duly verified, setting forth the facts of such claim. Thereupon the Judge shall fix a time for the hearing of such petition and shall direct that notice be given to the parties interested in such hearing, the Judge may deem necessary. At the time fixed for such hearing, the Judge of said District Court must hear and examine the complainant and such other parties as may appear to support or resist such claim, and also examine such Water Commissioner and witnesses as to the charges contained in said complaint. Upon the determination of such hearing, the Judge shall make such findings and order as said Judge may deem just and proper in the premises. If it shall appear to such Judge that the Water Commissioner has not properly distributed the water according to the provisions of such decree, then the Judge shall give the proper instructions for such distribution. The Judge may remove such Water Commissioner and appoint some other person in his stead, if he deems that the interests of the parties in the waters mentioned in such decree will be best subserved thereby, and if it shall appear to such Judge that the said Water Commissioner has wilfully failed to perform his duties, he may adjudge on said hearing said Water Commissioner guilty of a contempt of the Court and punish him as for a contempt. The Judge shall make such order as to the payment of costs of such hearing as may appear to him to be just and proper. [Act approved March 2, 1905, § 4.] (9th Sess. Chap. 64.)

shall be assessed against and paid by the party or parties for whom such services in the repair of such ditch or ditches, and the making of any dams or head gates were necessary. And the Judge shall in the order fixing the amount to be paid by each water user also fix the amount to be paid for the services and expenses last herein mentioned. Upon the filing of such report by the Water Commissioner, the Clerk of the Court, as above provided for, shall notify each person mentioned in such report, by mail, that objections to such report may be made by any persons objecting thereto within thirty days after the filing of such report, and unless such objections are filed, the report will be approved by the Judge of the Court. At any time during said thirty days, any person objecting to such report may make a motion to retax such costs, and the Judge may hear and determine such motion and make such orders in reference thereto, as in the re-taxation of costs in other cases. [Act approved March 2, 1905, § 5.] (9th Sess. Chap. 64.)

4889. Fees and compensation.—At the time of the appointment of such Water Commissioner, his fees and compensation must be fixed by an order of the Judge of such Court, and the Judge may also allow as a charge, any expenses necessarily incurred by said Water Commissioner in the discharge of his duties, in the employment of extra labor for the repair of dams, head gates, ditches or flumes, when immediate action is necessary to preserve the rights of the parties entitled to the waters of such stream, or when the Judge has, in his order appointing such Commissioner, required such Commissioner to repair ditches and keep in repair the necessary head gates, ditches or flumes. The costs thereof, however, shall be taxed against the party or parties for whose benefit the same were incurred. [Act approved March 2, 1905, § 6.] (9th Sess. Chap. 64.)

4890. Users must maintain headgates.—All persons using water under a decree from any stream whereon a Water Commissioner is appointed, shall be required to have suitable head gates at the point wherein a ditch taps a stream, and shall also, at some suitable place on the ditch and as near the head thereof as practicable, place and maintain a proper measuring box, weir or other appliance for the measurement of the waters flowing in such ditch. In case any person or persons shall fail to place or maintain a proper measuring appliance, it shall be the duty of such Water Commissioner not to apportion or distribute any water through said ditch. [Act approved March 2, 1905, § 7.] (9th Sess. Chap. 64.)

4891. United States may take ditches by right of eminent domain.—That where in the course of the construction of irrigation works, the Secretary of the Interior, or any person or agent authorized to act in the premises, deems it necessary to use the right of way of any existing ditch, canal or reservoir, such right and privilege may be enjoyed by the government of the United States under, and subject to, either of the following provisions, to-wit:

1. The existing ditch, canal or reservoir may be condemned as provided by law.

2. The existing ditch, canal or reservoir after having been condemned as provided for by law, may be enlarged or extended by the United States without charge or cost to the owner or owners thereof; provided, that such enlargement or extension shall not be so made as to deprive any owner of such reservoir, ditch or canal of the water rights and privileges owned or enjoyed, at the time of such enlargement or extension, but such rights shall be and remain undiminished and unimpaired by, through, or on account of such extension or enlargement, and the ownership or the right to the use and enjoyment of such water rights and privileges by any owner thereof in and through the enlarged or extended reservoir, canal or ditch shall never be questioned by the United States, its successors or assigns, but shall be perpetually recognized and facilitated. [Act approved March 2, 1905.] (9th Sess. Chap. 70.)

TITLE I.

DEFINITION OF OBLIGATIONS.

Section 4892. Obligation, what.

“ 4893. How created and enforced

4892. (§ 1920.) Obligation, what.—An obligation is a legal duty, by which a person is bound to do or not to do a certain thing.

Riddell v. Peck W. Co., 27 Mont. 59; 69 Pac. 243.

4893. (§ 1921.) How created and enforced.—An obligation arises either from:

1. The contract of the parties; or,
2. The operation of law.

An obligation arising from operation of law may be enforced by civil action or proceeding, or in the manner provided by law.

Riddell v. Peck W. Co., 27 Mont. 59; Bancroft v. Bancroft, 110 Cal. 385; 69 Pac. 243. 42 Pac. 896.

TITLE II.

INTERPRETATION OF OBLIGATIONS.

CHAPTER I. GENERAL RULES OF INTERPRETATION.

II. JOINT OR SEVERAL OBLIGATIONS.

III. CONDITIONAL OBLIGATIONS.

IV. ALTERNATIVE OBLIGATIONS.

CHAPTER I.

GENERAL RULES OF INTERPRETATION.

4894. (§ 1930.) General rules.—The rules which govern the interpretation of contracts are prescribed by part II. of this division. Other obligations are interpreted by the same rules by which statutes of a similar nature are interpreted.

CHAPTER II.

JOINT OR SEVERAL OBLIGATIONS.

Section 4895. Obligations, joint or several, etc.

“ 4896. When joint and several.

4895. (§ 1940.) Obligations, joint or several, etc.—An obligation imposed upon several persons, or a right created in favor of several persons, may be:

1. Joint.
2. Several; or,
3. Joint and several.

Farmers' Bank v. Morse, 129 Cal. 241; 61 Pac. 1088.

4896. (§ 1941.) When joint and several.—All joint obligations and covenants shall hereafter be taken and held to be joint and several obligations and covenants.

Brownlee v. Young, 25 Mont. 40; 63 Pac. 799. Muth v. Goddard, 28 Mont. 246; 72 Pac. 623.

4897. (§ 1942.) Contribution between joint parties.—A party to a joint, or joint and several obligation, who satisfies more than his share of the claim against all, may require a proportionate contribution from all the parties joined with him.

Bunker v. Osborn, 132 Cal. 482; 64 Pac. 853.

CHAPTER III.

CONDITIONAL OBLIGATIONS.

- Section 4898. Obligation, when conditional.*
 “ 4899. Conditions, kinds of.
 “ 4902. Condition subsequent.
 “ 4904. When performance, etc., excused.
 “ 4906. Conditions involving forfeiture, how construed.

4898. (§ 1950.) Obligation, when conditional.—An obligation is conditional, when the rights or duties of any party thereto depend upon the occurrence of an uncertain event.

Porter v. Plymouth Co., 29 Mont. 348; 74 Pac. 938. A purchaser of corporate stock, who, under his contract of purchase, was entitled to reconvey the same to the corporation, and receive the price paid, could not compel the corporation to repurchase the stock, without performing the concurrent condition of redelivery to the corporation. Where the option of resale of the corporate stock was to be exercised “at the expiration of six months from this date” the seller was not bound to repurchase until the expiration of this period, and an offer to deliver the stock before the expiration of said period was premature, and of no avail.

Stockton v. Weber, 98 Cal. 440; 33 Pac. 332.

4899. (§ 1951.) Conditions, kinds of.—Conditions may be precedent, concurrent, or subsequent.

4900. (§ 1952.) Conditions precedent.—A condition precedent is one which is to be performed before some right dependent thereon accrues, or some act dependent thereon is performed.

4901. (§ 1953.) Conditions concurrent.—Conditions concurrent are those which are mutually dependent, and are to be performed at the same time.

Porter v. Plymouth Co., 29 Mont. 349;

Benson v. Shotwell, 87 Cal. 59; 25 Pac. 249.

4902. (§ 1954.) Condition subsequent.—A condition subsequent is one referring to a future event, upon the happening of which the obligation becomes no longer binding upon the other party, if he chooses to avail himself of the condition.

4903. (§ 1955.) Performance, etc., of conditions, when essential.—Before any party to an obligation can require another party to perform any act under it, he must fulfill all conditions precedent thereto imposed upon himself; and must be able and offer to fulfill all conditions concurrent so imposed upon him on the like fulfillment by the other party, except as provided by the next section.

Porter v. Plymouth Co., 29 Mont. 348;

Cameron v. Burnham, 146 Cal. 584; 80 Pac. 929.

4904. (§ 1956.) When performance, etc., excused.—If a party to an obligation gives notice to another before the latter is in default, that he will not perform the same upon his part, and does not retract such notice before the time at which performance upon his part is due, such other party is entitled to enforce the obligation without previously performing or offering to perform any conditions upon his part in favor of the former.

Scribner v. Schenkel 128 Cal. 253; 60 Pac. 860.

4905. (§ 1957.) Impossible or unlawful conditions void.—A condition in a contract, the fulfillment of which is impossible or unlawful, within the meaning of the article on the object of contracts, or which is repugnant to the nature of the interest created by the contract, is void.

4906. (§ 1958.) Conditions involving forfeitures, how construed.—A condition involving a forfeiture must be strictly interpreted against the party for whose benefit it is created.

Reclamation District v. Sels, 145 Cal. 184; 78 Pac. 638.

CHAPTER IV.

ALTERNATIVE OBLIGATIONS.

Section 4907. Who has the right of selection.

“ 4910. Nullity of one or more of alternative obligations.

4907. (§ 1970.) Who has the right of selection.—If an obligation requires the performance of one of two acts in the alternative, the party required to perform has the right of selection, unless it is otherwise provided by the terms of the obligation.

Dittrich v. Gobey, 119 Cal. 601; 51 Pac. 962.

4908 (§ 1971.) Right of selection, how lost.—If the party having the right of selection between alternative acts does not give notice of his selection to the other party within the time, if any, fixed by the obligation for that purpose, or, if none is to be fixed, before the time at which the obligation ought to be performed, the right of selection passes to the other party.

4909 (§ 1972.) Alternatives indivisible.—The party having the right of selection between alternative acts, must select one of them in its entirety, and can not select part of one and part of another without the consent of the other party.

Rosenthal v. Perkins, 123 Cal. 243; 55 Pac. 804.

4910. (§ 1973.) Nullity of one or more of alternative obligations.—If one of the alternative acts required by an obligation is such as the law will not enforce, or becomes unlawful or impossible of performance, the obligation is to be interpreted as though the other stood alone.

TITLE III.

TRANSFER OF OBLIGATIONS.

- Section 4911. Burden of obligation not transferable.*
 “ 4912. Rights arising out of obligation transferable.
 “ 4914. Covenants running with land, what.
 “ 4915. What covenants run with land.
 “ 4917. Same.
 “ 4919. Who are bound by covenants.
 “ 4920. Who are not.
 “ 4921. Apportionment of covenants.

4911. (§ 1980.) Burden of obligation not transferable.—The burden of an obligation may be transferred with the consent of the party entitled to its benefits, but not otherwise except as provided by § 4920 (1989).

Enscoe v. Fletcher, 1 C. App., 69; 82 Pac. 1075.

4912. (§ 1981.) Rights arising out of obligation transferable.—A right arising out of an obligation is the property of the person to whom it is due, and may be transferred as such.

Stadler v. First National Bank, 22 Mont. 206; 56 Pac. 115. A demand against the assignor of a non-negotiable contract cannot be set off against the assignee, unless due and payable when the assignment was made, and notice was unnecessary to prevent set-off of a demand becoming payable subsequently.

Cornish v. Woolverton 32 Mont. 473; 81 Pac. 10. This section protects the assignee of a non-negotiable contract against counter-claims and set-offs unless they are in existence and available at the date of the assignment.

Long Beach District v. Lutge 129 Cal. 412; 62 Pac. 36.

4913. (§ 1982.) Non-negotiable instrument may be transferred.—A non-negotiable written contract for the payment of money or personal property may be transferred by indorsement, in like manner with negotiable instruments. Such indorsement shall transfer all the rights of the assignor under the instrument to the assignee, subject to all equities and defenses existing in favor of the maker at the time of the indorsement.

4914. (§ 1983.) Covenants running with land, what.—Certain covenants, contained in grants of estates in real property, are appurtenant to such estates, and pass with them, so as to bind the assigns of the covenantor and to vest in the assigns of the covenantee, in the same manner as if they had personally entered into them. Such covenants are said to run with the land.

4915. (§ 1984.) What covenants run with land.—The only covenants which run with the land are those specified in this title, and those which are incidental thereto.

Los Angeles Co. v. Muir, 136 Cal. 42; 68 Pac. 308.

4916. (§ 1985.) Same.—Every covenant contained in a grant of an estate in real property, which is made for the direct benefit of the property, or some part of it then in existence, runs with the land.

Los Angeles Co. v. Muir, 136 Cal. 42; 68 Pac. 308.

4917. (§ 1986.) Same.—The last section includes covenants “of warranty,” “for quiet enjoyment,” or for further assurance on the part of the grantor, and covenants for the payment of rent, or of taxes or assessments upon the land, on the part of a grantee.

4918. (§ 1987.) What covenants run with land when assigns are named.—A covenant for the addition of some new thing to real property, or for the direct benefit of some part of the property not then in existence or annexed thereto, when contained in a grant of an estate in such property, and made by the covenantor expressly for his assigns or to the assigns of the covenantee, runs with the land so far as the assigns thus mentioned are concerned.

4919. (§ 1988.) Who are bound by covenants.—A covenant running with the land, binds those only who acquire the whole estate of the covenantor in some part of the property.

4920. (§ 1989.) Who are not.—No one, merely by reason of having acquired an estate subject to a covenant running with the land, is liable for a breach of the covenant before he acquired the estate, or after he has parted with it or ceased to enjoy its benefits.

Gardner v. Samuels 116 Cal. 88; 47 Pac. 935.

4921. (§ 1990.) Apportionment of covenants.—Where several persons, holding by several titles, are subject to the burden or entitled to the benefits of a covenant running with the land, it must be apportioned among them according to the value of the property subject to it held by them respectively, if such value can be ascertained, and if not, then according to their respective interests in point of quantity.

TITLE IV.

EXTINCTION OF OBLIGATIONS.

CHAPTER I. PERFORMANCE.

II. OFFER OF PERFORMANCE.

III. PREVENTION OF PERFORMANCE.

IV. ACCORD AND SATISFACTION.

V. NOVATION.

VI. RELEASE.

CHAPTER I.

PERFORMANCE.

- Section 4922. Obligation extinguished by performance.*
 “ 4923. Performance by one of several joint debtors.
 “ 4928. Application of general performance.

4922. (§ 2000.) Obligation extinguished by performance.—Full performance of an obligation by the party whose duty it is to perform it, or by any other person on his behalf, and with his assent, if accepted by the creditor, extinguishes it.

Enscoe v. Fletcher, 1 C. App., 664; 82 Pac. 1075.

4923. (§ 2001.) Performance by one of several joint debtors.—Performance of an obligation by one of several persons who are jointly liable under it, extinguishes the liability of all.

4924. (§ 2002.) Performance to one of joint creditors.—An obligation in favor of several persons is extinguished by performance rendered to any of them, except in the case of a deposit made by owners in common, or in joint ownership, which is regulated by the title on deposit.

4925. (§ 2003.) Effect of directions by creditors.—If a creditor, or any one of two or more joint creditors, at any time directs the debtor to perform his obligations in a particular manner, the obligation is extinguished by performance in that manner, even though the creditor does not receive the benefit of such performance.

4926. (§ 2004.) Partial performance.—Partial performance of an indivisible obligation extinguishes a corresponding proportion thereof, if the benefit of such performance is voluntarily retained by the creditor, but not otherwise. If such partial performance is of such a nature that the creditor cannot avoid retaining it without injuring his own property, his retention thereof is not presumed to be voluntary.

Riddell v. Peck W. Co., 27 Mont. 62; 69 Pac. 244. Cavanaugh v. Casselman, 88 Cal., 552; 26 Pac. 515.

4927. (§ 2005.) Payment, what.—Performance of an obligation for the delivery of money only is called payment.

Enscoe v. Fletcher, 1 C. App., 664; 82 Pac. 1075.

4928. (§ 2006.) Application of general performance.—Where a debtor, under several obligations to another, does an act, by way of performance, in whole or in part, which is equally applicable to two or more of such obligations, such performance must be applied as follows:

1. If, at the time of performance, the intention or desire of the debtor that such performance should be applied to the extinction of any particular obligation, be manifested to the creditor, it must be so applied.

2. If no such application be then made, the creditor, within a reasonable time after such performance, may apply it toward the extinction of any obligation, performance of which was due to him from the debtor, at the time of such performance, except that if similar obligations were due to him, both individually and as a trustee, he must, unless otherwise directed by the debtor, apply the performance to the extinction of all such obligations in equal proportion; and an application once made by the creditor cannot be rescinded without the consent of the debtor.

3. If neither party makes such application within the time prescribed herein, the performance must be applied to the extinction of obligations in the following order; and if there be more than one obligation of a particular class, to the extinction of all in that class, ratably:

First—Of interest due at the time of the performance.

Second—Of principal due at that time.

Third—Of the obligation earliest in date of maturity.

Fourth—Of an obligation not secured by a lien or collateral undertaking.

Fifth—Of an obligation secured by a lien or collateral undertaking.

Grogan v. Valley T. Co., 30 Mont. 237; 76 Pac. 214. Where several written instruments relating to the same indebtedness contained no provision for the order of payment, parol evidence was competent to show what application of a payment was agreed on.

Frutig v. Trafton 2 C. App. 48; 83 Pac. 70.

CHAPTER II.

OFFER OF PERFORMANCE.

Section 4929. Obligation extinguished by offer of performance.

" 4930. Offer of partial performance.

" 4931. By whom to be made.

" 4932. To whom to be made.

" 4933. Where offer may be made.

" 4934. When offer must be made.

“ 4947. Custody of thing offered.
“ 4948. Effect of offer on accessories of obligation.

4929. (§ 2020.) Obligation extinguished by offer of performance.—An obligation is extinguished by an offer of performance, made in conformity to the rules herein prescribed, and with intent to extinguish the obligation.

Hanson v. Slaven, 98 Cal. 382; 33 Pac. 266.

4930. (§ 2021.) Offer of partial performance.—An offer of partial performance is of no effect.

4931. (§ 2022.) By whom to be made.—An offer of performance must be made by the debtor, or by some person on his behalf, and with his assent.

4932. (§ 2023.) To whom to be made.—An offer of performance must be made to the creditor, or to any one or two or more joint creditors, or to a person authorized by one or more of them to receive or collect what is due under the obligation, if such creditor or authorized person is present at the place where the offer may be made; and, if not, wherever the creditor may be found.

Ferrea v. Tubbs, 125 Cal. 690; 58 Pac. 308.

4933. (§ 2024.) Where offer may be made.—In the absence of an express provision to the contrary, an offer of performance may be made, at the option of the debtor:

1. At any place appointed by the creditor; or,
2. Wherever the person to whom the offer ought to be made can be found; or,
3. If such person cannot, with reasonable diligence, be found within the state, and within a reasonable distance from his residence or place of business, or if he evades the debtor, then at his residence or place of business, if the same can with reasonable diligence, be found within the state; or,
4. If this cannot be done, then at any place within this state.

Swain v. Jacks, 125 Cal. 219; 57 Pac. 989.

4934. (§ 2025.) When offer must be made.—Where an obligation fixes a time for its performance, an offer of performance must be made at that time within reasonable hours, and not before nor afterwards.

Maurer v. King, 127 Cal. 117; 59 Pac. 290.

4935. (§ 2026.) Same.—Where an obligation does not fix the time for its performance, an offer of performance may be made at any time before the debtor, upon reasonable demand, has refused to perform.

4936. (§ 2027.) Compensation after delay in performance.—Where delay in performance is capable of exact and entire compensation, and time has not been expressly declared to be of the essence of the obligation, an offer of performance, accompanied with an offer of such compensation, may be made at any time after it is due, but without prejudice to any rights acquired by the creditor, or by any other person, in the meantime.

Glock v. Howard Co., 123 Cal. 10; 55 Pac. 713.

4937. (§ 2028.) Offer to be made in good faith.—An offer of performance must be made in good faith, and in such manner as is most likely, under the circumstances, to benefit the creditor.

Horan v. Harrington, 130 Cal. 143; 62 Pac. 400.

4938. (§ 2029.) Conditional offer.—An offer of performance must be free from any conditions which the creditor is not bound on his part to perform.

Stanton v. Singleton, 126 Cal. 668; 59 Pac. 146.

4939. (§ 2030.) Ability and willingness essential.—An offer of performance is of no effect if the person making it is not able and willing to perform according to the offer.

4940. (§ 2031.) Production of thing to be delivered not necessary.—The thing to be delivered, if any, need not in any case be actually produced upon an offer of performance unless the offer is accepted.

Latimer v. Capay Valley Co., 137 Cal. 288; 70 Pac. 82.

4941. (§ 2032.) Thing offered to be kept separate.—A thing, when offered by way of performance, must not be mixed with other things from which it cannot be separated immediately and without difficulty.

4942. (§ 2033.) Performance of condition precedent.—When a debtor is entitled to the performance of a condition to, or concurrent with, performance on his part, he may make his offer to depend upon the due performance of such condition.

Wadleigh v. Phelps, 149 Cal. 642; 87 Pac. 93.

4943. (§ 2034.) Written receipts.—A debtor has a right to require from his creditor a written receipt for any property delivered in performance of his obligation.

Ferrea v. Tubbs, 125 Cal. 690; 58 Pac. 308.

4944. (§ 2035.) Extinction of pecuniary obligation.—An obligation for the payment of money is extinguished by a due offer of payment, if the amount is immediately deposited in the name of the creditor, with some bank of deposit within this state, of good repute, and notice thereof is given to the creditor.

Owen v. Herzikoff, 2 C. App., 623; 84 Pac. 274.

4945. (§ 2036.) Objections to mode of offer.—All objections to the mode of an offer of performance, which the creditor has an opportunity to state at the time to the person making the offer, and which could be then obviated by him, are waived by the creditor, if not then stated.

Colton v. Oakland Bank, 137 Cal. 382; 70 Pac. 225.

4946. (§ 2037.) Title to thing offered.—The title to a thing duly offered in performance of an obligation passes to the creditor, if the debtor at the time signifies his intention to that effect.

Hewes v. Germain Co., 106 Cal. 446; 39 Pac. 853.

4947. (§ 2038.) Custody of thing offered.—The person offering a thing, other than money, by way of performance, must, if he means to treat it as belonging to the creditor, retain it as a depositary for hire, until the creditor accepts it, or until he has given reasonable notice to the creditor that he will retain it no longer, and, if with reasonable diligence he can find a suitable depositary therefor, until he has deposited it with such person.

4948. (§ 2039.) Effect of offer on accessories of obligation.—An offer of payment or other performance, duly made, though the title to the thing offered be not transferred to the creditor, stops the running of interest on the obligation and has the same effect upon all its incidents as a performance thereof.

Wadleigh v. Phelps, 149 Cal. 642; 87 Pac. 93.

4949. (§ 2040.) Creditor's retention of thing which he refuses to accept.—If anything is given to a creditor by way of performance, which he refuses to accept as such, he is not bound to return it without demand; but if he retains it, he is a gratuitous depositary thereof.

CHAPTER III.

PREVENTION OF PERFORMANCE.

Section 4950. What excuses performance, etc.

“ 4953. Effect of refusal to accept performance before offer.

4950. (§ 2050.) What excuses performance, etc.—The want of performance of an obligation, or of an offer of performance, in whole or in part, or any delay therein, is excused by the following causes, to the extent to which they operate:

1. When such performance or offer is prevented or delayed by the act of the creditor, or by the operation of law, even though there may have been a stipulation that this shall not be an excuse.

2. When it is prevented or delayed by an irresistible, superhuman cause, or by the act of public enemies of this state or of the United States, unless the parties have expressly agreed to the contrary; or,

3. When the debtor is induced not to make it, by any act of the creditor intended, or naturally tending to have that effect, done at or before the time at which such performance or offer may be made, and not rescinded before that time.

McCue v. Bradbury, 149 Cal. 113; 84 Pac. 993.

4951. (§ 2051.) Effect of prevention of performance.—If the performance of an obligation be prevented by the creditor the debtor is entitled to all the benefits which he would have obtained if it had been performed by both parties.

Frese v. Moore, 1 C. App., 592; 82 Pac. 542.

4952. (§ 2052.) Same.—If performance of an obligation is prevented by any cause excusing performance, other than the act of the creditor, the debtor is entitled to a ratable proportion of the consideration to which he would have been entitled upon full performance, according to the benefit which the creditor receives from the actual performance.

4953. (§ 2053.) Effect of refusal to accept performance before offer.—A refusal by a creditor to accept performance made before an offer thereof, is equivalent to an offer and refusal, unless before performance is actually due, he gives notice to the debtor of his willingness to accept it.

Randol v. Tatum, 98 Cal. 399; 33 Pac. 433.

CHAPTER IV.

ACCORD AND SATISFACTION.

Section 4954. Accord, what.

“ 4957. Accord of liquidated debt.

4954. (§ 2060.) Accord, what.—An accord is an agreement to accept, in extinction of an obligation, something different from or less than that to which the person agreeing to accept is entitled.

Creighton v. Gregory, 142 Cal. 41; 75 Pac. 569.

4955. (§ 2061.) Effect of accord.—Though the parties to an accord are bound to execute it, yet it does not extinguish the obligation until it is fully executed.

Creighton v. Gregory, 142 Cal. 41; 75 Pac. 569.

4956. (§ 2062.) Satisfaction, what.—Acceptance by the creditor, of the consideration of an accord, extinguishes the obligation, and is called satisfaction.

Creighton v. Gregory, 142 Cal. 41; 75 Pac. 569.

4957. (§ 2063.) Accord of liquidated debt.—Part performance of an obligation, either before or after a breach thereof, when expressly accepted by the creditor in writing, in satisfaction, or rendered in pursuance of an agreement in writing, for that purpose, though without any new consideration, extinguishes the obligation.

Enscoe v. Fletcher, 1 C. App., 665; 82 Pac. 1075.

CHAPTER V.

NOVATION.

Section 4958. Novation, what.

" 4959. Modes of novation.

" 4960. Novation a contract.

" 4961. Rescission of novation.

4958. (§ 2070.) Novation, what.—Novation is the substitution of a new obligation for an existing one.

4959. (§ 2071.) Modes of novation.—Novation is made:

1. By the substitution of a new obligation between the same parties, with intent to extinguish the old obligation.

2. By the substitution of a new debtor in place of the old one; with intent to release the latter; or,

3. By the substitution of a new creditor in place of the old one with intent to transfer the rights of the latter to the former.

Carpy v. Dowdell, 131 Cal. 497; 63 Pac. 778.

4960. (§ 2072.) Novation a contract.—Novation is made by contract, and is subject to all the rules concerning contracts in general.

Market Street Co. v. Hellman, 109 Cal. 596; 42 Pac. 225.

4961. (§ 2073.) Rescission of novation.—When the obligation of a third person, or an order upon such person, is accepted in satisfaction, the creditor may rescind such acceptance if the debtor prevents such person from complying with the order, or from fulfilling the obligation; or if, at the time the obligation or order is received, such person is insolvent, and the fact is unknown to the creditor; or if, before the creditor can with reasonable diligence present the order to the person upon whom it is given, he becomes insolvent.

CHAPTER VI.

RELEASE.

Section 4962. Obligation extinguished by release.

" 4963. Certain claims not affected by general release.

" 4964. Release of several joint debtors.

4962. (§ 2080.) Obligation extinguished by release.—An obligation is extinguished by a release therefrom given to the debtor by the creditor, upon a new consideration, or in writing, with or without new consideration.

Enscoe v. Fletcher, 1 C. App., 664; 82 Pac. 1075.

4963. (§ 2081.) Certain claims not affected by general release.—A general release does not extend to claims which the creditor does not know or suspect to exist in his favor at the time of executing the release, which if known by him must have materially affected his settlement with the debtor.

Rued v. Cooper, 119 Cal. 469; 51 Pac. 704.

4964. (§ 2082.) Release of several joint debtors.—A release of one of two or more joint debtors does not extinguish the obligation of any of the others unless they are mere guarantors; nor does it affect their rights to contribution from him.

Enscoe v. Fletcher, 1 C. App., 665; 82 Pac. 1075.

PART II.

CONTRACTS.

- TITLE I. NATURE OF A CONTRACT.
- II. MANNER OF CREATING CONTRACTS.
- III. INTERPRETATION OF CONTRACTS.
- IV. UNLAWFUL CONTRACTS.
- V. EXTINCTION OF CONTRACTS.

TITLE I.

NATURE OF A CONTRACT.

- CHAPTER I. DEFINITION.
- II. PARTIES.
- III. CONSENT.
- IV. OBJECT.
- V. CONSIDERATION.

CHAPTER I.

DEFINITION.

Section 4965. Contract, what.

4965. (§ 2090.) Contract, what.—A contract is an agreement to do or not to do a certain thing.

Oppenheimer v. Regan, 32 Mont. 116; Breckenridge v. Crocker, 78 Cal. 536;
79 Pac. 697. 21 Pac. 179.

4966. (§ 2091.) Essential elements of contract.—It is essential to the existence of a contract that there should be:

1. Parties capable of contracting.
2. Their consent.
3. A lawful object; and
4. A sufficient cause or consideration.

Jacks v. Estee, 139 Cal. 512; 73 Pac. 247.

CHAPTER II.

PARTIES.

- Section 4967. Who may contract.*
 “ 4968. Minors, etc.
 “ 4969. Identification of parties necessary.
 “ 4970. When contract for benefit of third person may be enforced.

4967. (§ 2100.) Who may contract.—All persons are capable of contracting, except minors, persons of unsound mind, and persons deprived of civil rights.

4968. (§ 2101.) Minors, etc.—Minors and persons of unsound mind have only such capacity as is defined by part I., of division one of this code.

4969. (§ 2102.) Identification of parties necessary.—It is essential to the validity of a contract, not only that the parties should exist, but that it should be possible to identify them.

4970. (§ 2103.) When contract for benefit of third person may be enforced.—A contract, made expressly for the benefit of a third person, may be enforced by him at any time before the parties thereto rescind it.

McDonald v. American Bank, 25 Mont. 489; 65 Pac. 909. Plaintiffs were not entitled to enforce a contract for the payment of the balance of the purchase price of a mine as a contract made for their benefit, because this section does not apply to executory contracts without consideration.

Western Co. v. S. B. Co., 31 Mont. 450; 78 Pac. 775.

Washer v. Independent Co. 142 Cal. 708; 76 Pac. 654.

CHAPTER III.

CONSENT.

- Section 4971. Essentials of consent.*
 “ 4972. Consent, when voidable.
 “ 4973. Apparent consent when not free.
 “ 4978. Actual fraud, what.
 “ 4984. Mistake of law.
 “ 4986. Mutuality of consent.

Section 4988. Mode of communicating acceptance of proposal.

" 4989. When communication deemed complete.

" 4990. Acceptance by performance of conditions.

" 4991. Acceptance must be absolute.

" 4992. Revocation of proposal.

" 4993. Revocation, how made.

" 4994. Ratification of contract void for want of consent.

" 4995. Assumption of obligation by acceptance of benefits.

4971. (§ 2110.) Essentials of consent.—The consent of the parties to a contract must be:

1. Free.
2. Mutual; and,
3. Communicated by each to the other.

Niles v. Hancock, 140 Cal. 162; 73 Pac. 840.

4972. Consent, when voidable.—A consent which is not free is nevertheless not absolutely void, but may be rescinded by the parties in the manner prescribed by the chapter on rescission.

Westerfeld v. New York I. Co., 129 Cal. 82; 58 Pac. 92.

4973. (§ 2112.) Apparent consent when not free.—An apparent consent is not real or free when obtained through:

1. Duress.
2. Menace.
3. Fraud.
4. Undue influence, or,
5. Mistake.

Bullard v. Smith, 28 Mont. 403; 72 Pac. 765. The defense of duress or menace is based upon the proposition that the consent of the party to the contract over whom it was exercised was not free.

Colton v. Stanford 82 Cal. 399; 23 Pac. 16.

4974. (§ 2113.) When deemed to have been obtained by fraud, etc.—Consent is deemed to have been obtained through one of the causes mentioned in the last section only when it would not have been given had such cause not existed.

* Elliott v. Southern P. Co., 145 Cal. 448; 79 Pac. 420.

4975. (§ 2114.) Duress, what.—Duress consists in:

1. Unlawful confinement of the person of the party, or of the husband or wife of such party, or of an ancestor, descendant, or adopted child of such party, husband or wife.

2. Unlawful detention of the property of any such person; or,

3. Confinement of such person, lawful in form, but fraudulently obtained, or fraudulently made unjustly harassing or oppressive.

Bullard v. Smith, 28 Mont. 403; 72 Pac. 765.

Woodham v. Allen, 130 Cal. 198; 62 Pac. 822.

4976. (§ 2115.) Menace, what.—Menace consists in a threat:

1. Of such duress as is specified in subdivisions 1 and 3; of the last section.

2. Of unlawful and violent injury to the person or property of any such person, as is specified in the last section; or,

3. Of injury to the character of any such person.

Bullard v. Smith, 28 Mont. 403; 72 Pac. 765.
 Woodham v. Allen, 130 Cal. 198; 62 Pac. 398.

4977. (§ 2116.) Fraud, actual or constructive.—Fraud is either actual or constructive.

Loaiza v. Court, 85 Cal. 30; 24 Pac. 707.

4978. (§ 2117.) Actual fraud, what.—Actual fraud, within the meaning of this chapter, consists in any of the following acts, committed by a party to the contract, or with his connivance, with intent to deceive another party thereto, or to induce him to enter into the contract:

1. The suggestion, as a fact, of that which is not true, by one who does not believe it to be true.

2. The positive assertion, in a manner not warranted by the information of the person making it, of that which is not true, though he believes it to be true.

3. The suppression of that which is true, by one having knowledge or belief of the fact.

4. A promise made without any intention of performing it; or,

5. Any other act fitted to deceive.

Sathre v. Rolfe, 31 Mont. 88; 77 Pac. 432.
 the United States unlawfully and fraudulently; and the court in a case between them as to the land, will leave the parties where it finds them.

Keely v. Gregg, 33 Mont. 223, subd. 4; 82 Pac. 28.
 A trust cannot result in one of two persons for the benefit of the other, if they agreed to obtain land from Muller v. Palmer, 144 Cal. 312; 77 Pac. 954.

4979. (§ 2118.) Constructive fraud, what.—Constructive fraud consists:

1. In any breach of duty which, without an actually fraudulent intent, gains an advantage to the person in fault, or any one claiming under him, by misleading another to his prejudice, or to the prejudice of any one claiming under him; or,

2. In any such act or omission as the law especially declares to be fraudulent, without respect to actual fraud.

Estate of Johnson, 134 Cal. 63; 66 Pac. 847.

4980. (§ 2119.) Actual fraud a question of fact.—Actual fraud is always a question of fact.

Moore v. Copp, 119 Cal. 434; 51 Pac. 630.

4981. (§ 2120.) Undue influence, what.—Undue influence consists:

1. In the use, by one in whom a confidence is reposed by another, or who holds a real or apparent authority over him, of such confidence or authority for the purpose of obtaining an unfair advantage over him.

2. In taking an unfair advantage of another's weakness of mind; or,

3. In taking a grossly oppressive and an unfair advantage of another's necessities or distress.

Dimond v. Sanderson, 103 Cal. 102, subd. 1; 37 Pac. 189.

4982. (§ 2121.) Mistake, what.—Mistake may be either of fact or law.

Douglass v. Todd, 98 Cal. 659; 31 Pac. 623.

4983. (§ 2122.) Mistake of fact.—Mistake of fact is a mistake not caused by the neglect of a legal duty on the part of the person making the mistake, and consisting in:

1. An unconscious ignorance or forgetfulness of a fact, past or present, material to the contract; or,

2. Belief in the present existence of a thing material to the contract, which does not exist, or in the past existence of such a thing, which has not existed.

White v. Stevenson, 144 Cal. 110; 77 Pac. 828.

4984. (§ 2123.) Mistake of law.—Mistake of law constitutes a mistake, within the meaning of this article, only when it arises from:

1. A misapprehension of the law by all parties, all supposing that they knew and understood it, and all making substantially the same mistake as to the law; or,

2. A misapprehension of the law by one party, of which the others are aware at the time of contracting, but which they do not rectify.

Sathre v. Rolfe, 31 Mont. 88; 77 Pac. 432.

Bottego v. Carroll, 31 Mont. 126; 77 Pac. 430. Where plaintiff brought suit under the second subdivision to recover an overpayment made on a repurchase of property sold under foreclosure, and alleged that she made the payment under misapprehension as to her right to redeem, and the proof showed that it was a mooted question of law as to the right of redemption at the time, and defendants acted in good faith in their contention that her right of redemption was barred, there was a fatal variance.

Gregory v. Clabrough, 129 Cal. 478; 62 Pac. 72.

4985. (§ 2124.) Mistake of foreign laws.—Mistake of foreign laws is a mistake of fact.

4986. (§ 2125.) Mutuality of consent.—Consent is not mutual, unless the parties all agree upon the same thing in the same sense. But in certain cases defined by the chapter on interpretation, they are to be deemed so to agree without regard to the fact.

Farmers' Bank v. De Shorb, 137 Cal. 692; 70 Pac. 771.

4987. (§ 2126.) Communication of consent.—Consent can be communicated with effect only by some act or omission of the party contracting, by which he intends to communicate it, or which necessarily tends to such communication.

Niles v. Hancock, 140 Cal. 162; 73 Pac. 840.

4988. (§ 2127.) Mode of communicating acceptance of proposal.—If a proposal prescribes any conditions concerning the communication of its acceptance, the proposer is not bound unless they are conformed to; but in other cases any reasonable and usual mode may be adopted.

4989. (§ 2128.) When communication deemed complete.—Consent is deemed to be fully communicated between the parties as soon as the party accepting a proposal has put his acceptance in the course of transmission to the proposer, in conformity to the last section.

4990. (§ 2129.) Acceptance by performance of conditions.—Performance of the conditions of a proposal, or the acceptance of the consideration offered with a proposal, is an acceptance of the proposal.

Gallagher v. Equitable Co., 141 Cal. 706; 75 Pac. 329.

4991. (§ 2130.) Acceptance must be absolute.—An acceptance must be absolute and unqualified, or must include in itself an acceptance of that character which the proposer can separate from the rest, and which will conclude the person accepting. A qualified acceptance is a new proposal.

Four Co. v. United Producers, 145 Cal. 625; 79 Pac. 366.

4992. (§ 2131.) Revocation of proposal.—A proposal may be revoked at any time before its acceptance is communicated to the proposer, but not afterwards.

Wristen v. Bowles, 82 Cal. 87; 22 Pac. 1136.

4993. (§ 2132.) Revocation, how made.—A proposal is revoked:

1. By the communication of notice of revocation by the proposer to the other party, in the manner prescribed by §§ 4987 (2126) and 4989 (2128) before his acceptance has been communicated to the former.

2. By the lapse of the time prescribed in such proposal for its acceptance, or if no time is so prescribed, the lapse of a reasonable time without communication of the acceptance.

3. By the failure of the acceptor to fulfill a condition precedent to acceptance; or,

4. By the death or insanity of the proposer.

4994. (§ 2133.) Ratification of contract void for want of consent.—A contract which is voidable solely for want of due consent may be ratified by a subsequent consent.

4995. (§ 2134.) Assumption of obligation by acceptance of benefits.—A voluntary acceptance of the benefit of a transaction is equivalent to a consent to all the obligations arising from it, so far as the facts are known, or ought to be known, to the person accepting.

Colpe v. Jubilee Co., 2 C. App. 397; 84 Pac. 324.

CHAPTER IV.

OBJECT.

- Section 4996. Object, what.*

4996. (§ 2150.) Object, what.—The object of a contract is the thing which it is agreed, on the part of the party receiving the consideration, to do or not to do.

Glass v. Basin Co., 31 Mont. 32; 77 Pac. 304.

4997. (§ 2151.) Requisites of object.—The object of the contract must be lawful when the contract is made, and possible and ascertainable by the time the contract is to be performed.

Glass v. Basin Co. 31 Mont. 32; 77 Pac. 304.

4998. (§ 2152.) Impossibility, what.—Everything is deemed possible except that which is impossible in the nature of things.

4999. (§ 2153.) When contract wholly void.—Where a contract has but a single object, and such object is unlawful, whether in whole or in part, or wholly impossible of performance, or so vaguely expressed as to be wholly unascertainable, the entire contract is void.

Glass v. Basin Co., 31 Mont. 32; 77 Pac. 304. Sutliff v. Seidenberg, 132 Cal. 65; 64 Pac. 131.

5000. (§ 2154.) When contract partially void.—Where a contract has several distinct objects, of which one at least is lawful, and one at least is unlawful, in whole or in part, the contract is void as to the latter and valid as to the rest.

McVicker v. McKenzie 136 Cal. 660; 69 Pac. 495.

CHAPTER V.

CONSIDERATION.

- Section 5001. Good consideration, what.*
 “ 5009. Same.
 “ 5010. Written instrument presumptive evidence of consideration.
 “ 5011. Burden of proof to invalidate sufficient consideration.

5001. (§ 2160.) Good consideration, what.—Any benefit conferred or agreed to be conferred upon the promisor, by any other person, to which the promisor is not lawfully entitled, or any prejudice suffered, or agreed to be suffered, by such person, other than such as he is at the time of consent lawfully bound to suffer, as an inducement to the promisor, is a good consideration for a promise.

Schaadt v. Mutual I. Co., 2 C. App. 719; 84 Pac. 249.

5002. (§ 2161.) How far legal or moral obligation is a good consideration.—An existing legal obligation resting upon the promisor, or a moral obligation originating in some benefit conferred upon the promisor, or prejudice suffered by the promisee, is also a good consideration for a promise, to an extent corresponding with the extent of the obligation, but no further or otherwise.

5003. (§ 2162.) Consideration lawful.—The consideration of a contract must be lawful within the meaning of § 5051 (2240).

Glass v. Basin Co., 31 Mont. 32; 77 Pac. 304. Berka v. Woodward, 125 Cal. 122; 57 Pac. 777.

5004. (§ 2163.) Effect of illegality.—If any part of a single consideration for one or more objects, or of several considerations for a single object, is unlawful, the entire contract is void.

Glass v. Basin Co., 31 Mont. 32 77 Pac. 304. Ripperdan v. Weldy, 149 Cal. 676; 87 Pac. 276.

5005. (§ 2164.) Consideration executed or executory.—A consideration may be executed or executory, in whole or in part. In so far as it is executory it is subject to the provisions of chapter IV., of this title.

La Grill v. Mallard, 90 Cal. 375; 27 Pac. 294.

5006. (§ 2165.) Executory consideration.—When a consideration is executory it is not indispensable that the contract should specify its amount or the means of ascertaining it. It may be left to the decision of a third person or regulated by any specified standard.

5007. (§ 2166.) How ascertained.—When a contract does not determine the amount of the consideration, nor the method by which it is to be ascertained, or when it leaves the amount thereof to the discretion of an uninterested party, the consideration must be so much money as the object of the contract is reasonably worth.

5008. (§ 2167.) Effect of impossibility of ascertaining consideration.—Where a contract provides an exclusive method by which its consideration is to be ascertained, which method is on its face impossible of execution, the entire contract is void.

5009. (§ 2168.) Same.—Where a contract provides an exclusive method by which its consideration is to be ascertained, which method appears possible on its face, but in fact is, or becomes impossible of execution, such provision only is void.

5010. (§ 2169.) Written instrument presumptive evidence of consideration.—A written instrument is presumptive evidence of a consideration.

Edwards v. Spalding, 20 Mont. 59; 49 Pac. 445.

Noyes v. Young, 32 Mont. 236; 79 Pac. 1065. In an action on an instrument acknowledging an indebtedness and promising to pay it a consideration need not be alleged or proved independently of the proof of the contract itself.

Borden v. Lynch, 34 Mont. 511; 87 Pac. 611.

Kennedy v. Lee, 147 Cal. 603; 82 Pac. 257.

5011. (§ 2170.) Burden of proof to invalidate sufficient consideration.—The burden of showing a want of consideration sufficient to support an instrument lies with the party seeking to invalidate or avoid it.

Mueller v. Renkes, 31 Mont. 103; 77 Pac. 513.

Noyes v. Young, 32 Mont. 236; 79 Pac. 1065.

Borden v. Lynch, 34 Mont. 511, 87 Pac. 611.

Castor v. Bernstein, 2 C. App., 708; 84 Pac. 244.

“ 5021. Corporate seal, how affixed.

“ 5022. Provisions abolishing seals made applicable.

5012. (§ 2180.) Contracts, express or implied.—A contract is either express or implied.

5013. (§ 2181.) Express contract, what.—An express contract is one the terms of which are stated in words.

Nevills v. Moore Co., 135 Cal. 563; 67 Pac. 1054.

5014. (§ 2128.) Implied contract, what.—An implied contract is one the existence and terms of which are manifested by conduct.

Jennings v. California Bank, 79 Cal. 326; 21 Pac. 852.

5015. (§ 2183.) What contracts may be oral.—All contracts may be oral except such as are specially required by statute to be in writing.

Converse v. Scott, 137 Cal. 243; 70 Pac. 13.

5016. (§ 2184.) Contract not in writing through fraud, may be enforced against fraudulent party.—Where a contract, which is required by law to be in writing, is prevented from being put into writing by the fraud of a party thereto, any other party who is by such fraud led to believe that it is in writing, and acts upon such belief to his prejudice, may enforce it against the fraudulent party.

5017. (§ 2185.) When contracts must be written.—The following contracts are invalid, unless the same, or some note or memorandum thereof, be in writing and subscribed by the party to be charged, or his agent:

1. An agreement that by its terms is not to be performed within a year from the making thereof.

2. A special promise to answer for the debt, default, or mis-carriage of another, except in the cases provided for in § 5660 (3612) of this code.

3. An agreement made upon consideration of marriage other than a mutual promise to marry.

4. An agreement for the sale of goods, chattels, or things in action, at a price not less than two hundred dollars, unless the buyer accept or receive part of such goods, chattels, or the evidences, or some of them, of such things, or pay at the time some part of the purchase money; but when a sale is made at auction, an entry by the auctioneer in his sale book, at the time of the sale, the price, and the names of the purchasers and person on whose account the sale is made, is a sufficient memorandum.

5. An agreement for the leasing for a longer period than one year, or for the sale of real property, or of an interest therein; and such agreement, if made by an agent of the party sought to be charged, is invalid, unless the authority of the agent be in writing, subscribed by the party sought to be charged.

6. An agreement authorizing or employing an agent or broker to purchase or sell real estate for compensation, or a commis-sion.

Great Falls Co. v. G. N. R. Co., 21 Mont. 502; 54 Pac. 967. A license to lay a water main through land may be given by parol, as no interest in the land is given, but the license may be revoked at any time, even after it has been executed and money expended in reliance thereon. The licensee has a reasonable time after notice of revocation, in which to remove his property.

King v. Benson, 22 Mont. 258; 56 Pac. 281. A recovery cannot be had for services in effecting a sale of realty rendered by plaintiff and accepted by defendant, unless there is a note or memorandum in writing of a contract for such services.

Cobban v. Hecklen, 27 Mont. 257; 70 Pac. 809. An oral contract to sell land, which has been partly performed, is mutual, for both parties are reciprocally bound, the one to convey, and the other to pay the purchase price.

Easterly v. Jackson, 29 Mont. 502; 75 Pac. 358.

Landt v. Schneider, 31 Mont. 19; 77 Pac. 308.

McCormick v. Johnson, 31 Mont. 269; 78 Pac. 502.

Brophy v. Idaho Co., 31 Mont. 283; 78 Pac. 494.

Ayotte v. Nadeau, 32 Mont. 519; 81 Pac. 151. A contract between tenants in common for the erection of a house on the common property by one of them at his own expense, and requiring him to make an equal division of the rents when the rents received equaled one-half the cost, is not a contract of leasing within this section.

Marshall v. Trerise, 33 Mont. 31; 81 Pac. 401. A recovery cannot be had for services rendered by a broker where it did not appear that his contract of employment to sell real estate was in writing, or that any note or memorandum thereof signed by the party to be charged, had been executed as required by this section.

Case v. Kramer, 34 Mont. 149; 85 Pac. 879.

5018. (§ 2186.) Effect of writing.—The execution of a contract in writing, whether the law requires it to be written or not, supercedes all the oral negotiations or stipulations concerning its matter which preceded or accompanied the execution of the instrument.

Riddell v. Peck W. Co., 27 Mont. 57; 69 Pac. 242. Evidence of oral promises or agreements, made prior to or contemporaneously with the execution of a written contract purporting to embrace all its terms, which contradict, change, add to, or subtract from the express terms, is inadmissible.

Armington v. Stelle, 27 Mont. 18; 69 Pac. 116. Evidence of a contemporaneous agreement between the parties to a written sublease of a lode mining claim, that in case the sublessors should buy the property the lease would be extended, is inadmissible.

Easterly v. Jackson, 29 Mont. 502; 75 Pac. 358.

Largey v. Leggatt, 30 Mont. 148; 75 Pac. 950. Evidence of negotiations and conversations immediately preceding the execution of a written contract is incompetent to show an agreement concerning its matter made by one claimed to be bound thereby.

Sathre v. Rolfe, 31 Mont. 88; 77 Pac. 432.

Ames v. Southern P. Co., 141 Cal. 734; 75 Pac. 310.

5019. (§ 2187.) Contract in writing, takes effect when.—A contract in writing takes effect upon its delivery to the party in whose favor it is made, or to his agent.

Ivey v. Kern County, 115 Cal. 202; 46 Pac. 926.

5020. (§ 2188.) Provisions of chapter on transfers of real property.—The provisions of the chapter on transfers in general, concerning the delivery of grants, absolute and conditional, apply to all written contracts.

5021. (§ 2189.) Corporate seal how affixed.—A corporate or official seal may be affixed to an instrument by the mere impression upon the paper or other material on which such instrument is written.

5022. (§ 2190.) Provisions abolishing seals made applicable.—All distinctions between sealed and unsealed instruments are abolished.

Estate of Kennedy, 129 Cal. 389; 62 Pac. 64.

5023. (§ 2191.) Instruments effectual without seal.—All instruments shall be as effectual without a seal as if the same had a seal attached thereto, but this section shall not apply to municipal or other corporations which by law are required to attest their action under seal.

Gordon v. San Diego, 101 Cal. 528; 36 Pac. 18.

5024. (§ 2200.) Uniformity of interpretation.—All contracts, whether public or private, are to be interpreted by the same rules, except as otherwise provided by this code.

Schroeder v. Imperial Co., 132 Cal. 19 ; 3 Pac. 1074.

5025. (§ 2201.) Contracts, how to be interpreted.—A contract must be so interpreted as to give effect to the mutual intention of the parties as it existed at the time of contracting, so far as the same is ascertainable and lawful.

Ames v. S. P. Co., 141 Cal. 731 ; 75 Pac. 310.

5026. (§ 2202.) Intention of parties, how ascertained.—For the purpose of ascertaining the intention of the parties to a contract, if otherwise doubtful, the rules given in this chapter are to be applied.

5027. (§ 2203.) Intention to be ascertained from language.—The language of a contract is to govern its interpretation, if the language is clear and explicit, and does not involve an absurdity.

Harris v. Root, 28 Mont. 166 ; 72 Pac. 31. Ames v. S. P. Co., 141 Cal. 734 ; 75 Pac. 310.

5028. (§ 2204.) Interpretation of written contracts.—When a contract is reduced to writing, the intention of the parties is to be ascertained from the writing alone, if possible ; subject, however, to the other provisions of this title.

Stadler v. First N. Bank, 22 Mont. 104 ; 56 Pac. 114. A provision in a note that is negotiable at a particular bank is not a waiver of the effect of a stipulation for payment of attorney's fees, which, under other statutory provisions, renders the note non-negotiable.
Riddell v. Peck W. Co., 27 Mont. 57 ; 9 Pac. 242. Bullard v. Smith, 28 Mont. 399 ; 72 Pac. 763. Easterly v. Jackson, 29 Mont. 502 ; 75 Pac. 358. Rose v. N. R. R. Co., 35 Mont. 77 ; 88 Pac. 767. Cutten v. Pearsall, 146 Cal. 694 ; 81 Pac. 25.

5029. (§ 2205.) Writing, when disregarded.—When, through fraud, mistake, or accident, a written contract fails to express the real intention of the parties, such intention is to be regarded, and the erroneous parts of the writing disregarded.

Lassing v. James, 107 Cal. 355; 40 Pac. 534.

5030. (§ 2206.) Effect to be given to every part of contract.—The whole of a contract is to be taken together, so as to give effect to every part, if reasonably practicable, each clause helping to interpret the other.

Ackley v. Phenix I. Co., 25 Mont. 280; 64 Pac. 668.

Bickford v. Kirwin, 30 Mont. 7; 75 Pac. 520.

Burnett v. Piercy, 149 Cal. 189; 86 Pac. 603.

5031. (§ 2207.) Several contracts, when taken together.—Several contracts relating to the same matters, between the same parties, and made as parts of substantially one transaction, are to be taken together.

Cornish v. Woolverton, 32 Mont. 470; 81 Pac. 8. A note was secured by a mortgage of even date therewith, and the mortgage provided that the mortgagor should pay the taxes and insurance etc., and in default of performance of any covenant the principal and interest should become due, and the mortgage be subject to foreclosure, at the option of the mortgagee, and that, if foreclosure proceedings were commenced, $150 should be allowed as an attorney's fee. The note and mortgage are parts of the same contract under this section.

Bartels v. Davis, 34 Mont. 290; 85 Pac. 1028. Where a note, deed and defeasance were executed at the same time, referred to the same subject matter, and were a part of the same transaction, the three instruments should be construed as one under this section.

Talbott v. Heinze, 25 Mont. 9; 63 Pac. 626. A note was given in consideration of the written contracts of the payee, made a few days before the date of the note, that he would on or before a certain day, purchase or procure a purchaser for the interest of the maker in certain mines at a stated price, and that, if he failed to do so, the maker would be absolved from all liability to convey such interests. The contracts were admissible under this section, as relating to the same matters as the note in suit between the same parties, and as parts of substantially one transaction.

Getz Co. v. Federal Co., 147 Cal. 118; 81 Pac. 416.

5032. (§ 2208.) Interpretation in favor of contract.—A contract must receive such an interpretation as will make it lawful, operative, definite, reasonable, and capable of being carried into effect, if it can be done, without violating the intention of the parties.

Messer v. Hibernia Society, 149 Cal. 127; 84 Pac. 835.

5033. (§ 2209.) Words to be understood in usual sense.—The words of a contract are to be understood in their ordinary and popular sense, rather than according to their strict legal meaning; unless used by the parties in a technical sense, or unless a special meaning is given to them by usage, in which case the latter must be followed.

Chambers v. Lowry, 21 Mont. 480; 54 Pac. 817.

Harris v. Root, 28 Mont. 166; 72 Pac. 431.

Collins v. Metropolitan I. Co., 32 Mont. 337; 80 Pac. 610. The assured represented in his application for an insurance policy that he was not "connected" with the sale of spirituous liquors. The word "connected" must be presumed to have been used in its popular sense involving the idea of permanency.

In re Klein's Estate, 35 Mont. 205; 88 Pac. 798. The word "firm" was used in the will by the testator as an equivalent for "Gans & Klein," and had no technical reference to the copartnership of Gans & Klein.

Adams v. Hopkins, 144 Cal. 37; 77 Pac. 712.

5034. (§ 2210.) Technical words.—Technical words are to be interpreted as usually understood by persons in the profession or business to which they relate, unless clearly used in a different sense.

Cambers v. Lowry, 21 Mont. 478; 54 Pac. 816. Witnesses may testify as to the meaning of the following words in a mining lease, "there shall be no ores stoped, except at the 300 foot level, and all ores shall be extended from the drifts, raises or winzes."

Adams v. Hopkins, 144 Cal. 37; 77 Pac. 712.

5035. (§ 2211.) Law of place.—A contract is to be interpreted according to the law and usage of the place where it is to be performed; or, if it does not indicate a place of performance, according to the law and usage of the place where it is made.

5036. (§ 2212.) Contracts explained by circumstances.—A contract may be explained by reference to the circumstances under which it was made and the matter to which it relates.

Alvey v. Continental Co., 2 C. App. 257; 83 Pac. 285.

5037. (§ 2213.) Contract restricted to its evident object.—However broad may be the terms of a contract, it extends only to those things concerning which it appears that the parties intended to contract.

Alvey v. Continental Co., 2 C. App. 257; 83 Pac. 285.

5038. (§ 2214.) Interpretation in sense in which promisor believed promisee to rely.—If the terms of a promise are in any respect ambiguous or uncertain, it must be interpreted in the sense in which the promisor believed, at the time of making it, that the promisee understood it.

Blankenship v. Decker, 34 Mont. 300; 35 Pac. 1037. Where the attendant facts and circumstances in the making of an agreement are resorted to as an aid to an understanding of it, no greater burden rests on the promisor than to show by a preponderance of the evidence that the promisee understood it as the promisor believed he understood it.

Ennis Brown Co. v. Hurst, 1 C. App. 759; 82 Pac. 1056.

5039. (§ 2215.) Particular clause subordinate to general intent.—Particular clauses of a contract are subordinate to its general intent.

5040. (§ 2216.) Contract, partly written and partly printed.—Where a contract is partly written and partly printed, or where part of it is written or printed under the special directions of the parties, and with a special view to their intention, and the remainder is copied from a form originally prepared without special reference to the particular parties and the particular contract in question, the written parts control the printed parts and the parts which are purely original control those which are copied from a form. And if the two are absolutely repugnant, the latter must be so far disregarded.

Bickford v. Kirwin, 30 Mont. 6; 75 Pac. 520.

Alvey v. Continental Co., 2 C. App. 257; 83 Pac. 285.

5041. (§ 2217.) Repugnancies, how reconciled.—Repugnancy in a contract must be reconciled, if possible, by such an interpretation as will give some effect to the repugnant clauses, subordinate to the general intent and purpose of the whole contract.

Ackley v. Phenix I. Co., 25 Mont. 281; 64 Pac. 668.

5042. (§ 2218.) Inconsistent words rejected.—Words in a contract which are wholly inconsistent with its nature, or with the main intention of the parties, are to be rejected.

Ames v. S. P. Co., 141 Cal. 731; 75 Pac. 310.

5043. (§ 2219.) Words to be taken most strongly against whom.—In cases of uncertainty not removed by the preceding rules, the language of a contract should be interpreted most strongly against the party who caused the uncertainty to exist. The promisor is presumed to be such party; except in a contract between a public officer or body, as such, and a private party, in which it is presumed that all uncertainty was caused by the private party.

Bickford v. Kirwin, 30 Mont. 7; 75 Pac. 520.

Blankenship v. Decker, 34 Mont. 300; 85 Pac. 1037. Where the evidence tends to prove that the promisee wrote the agreement and selected the terms thereof, the presumption under this section gives way to the contrary one that the latter caused the uncertainty, and the burden rests on him to remove it.

Miller v. Grunsky, 141 Cal. 454; 66 Pac. 858.

5044. (§ 2220.) Reasonable stipulations, when implied.—Stipulations which are necessary to make a contract reasonable, or conformable to usage, are implied, in respect to matters concerning which the contract manifests no contrary intention.

5045. (§ 2221.) Necessary incidents implied.—All things that in law or usage are considered as incidental to a contract, or as necessary to carry it into effect are implied therefrom, unless some of them are expressly mentioned therein, when all other things of the same class are deemed to be excluded.

5046. (§ 2222.) Time of performance of contract.—If no time is specified for the performance of an act required to be performed, a reasonable time is allowed. If the act is in its nature capable of being done instantly—as, for example, if it consists in the payment of money only—it must be performed immediately upon the thing to be done being exactly ascertained.

Nason v. Lingle, 143 Cal. 366; 77 Pac. 71.

5047. (§ 2223.) Time, when of essence.—Time is never considered as of the essence of a contract, unless by its terms expressly so provided.

5048. (§ 2224.) When joint and several.—Where all the parties who unite in a promise receive some benefit from the consideration, whether past or present, their promise is presumed to be joint and several.

McKee v. Cunningham, 2 C. App. 687; 84 Pac. 260.

5049. (§ 2225.) Same.—A promise, made in the singular number, but executed by several persons, is presumed to be joint and several.

Farmers' Bank v. Altura Co., 129 Cal. 269; 61 Pac. 1077.

5050. (§ 2226.) Executed and executory contracts, what.—An executed contract is one the object of which is fully performed. All others are executory.

TITLE IV.

UNLAWFUL CONTRACTS.

- Section 5051. What is unlawful.
- “ 5052. Certain contracts unlawful.

 - “ 5059. Exception in favor of partnership arrangements.
 - “ 5060. Contract in restraint of marriage, void.

5051. (§ 2240.) What is unlawful.—That is not lawful which is:

- 1. Contrary to an express provision of law.
- 2. Contrary to the policy of express law, though not expressly prohibited; or,
- 3. Otherwise contrary to good morals.

Finlen v. Heinze, 28 Mont. 566; 73 Pac. 127. leged that the business has never been in operation. The contract is contrary to this section and void.

Glass v. Basin Co., 31 Mont. 31; 77 Pac. 304. The contract pleaded by plaintiffs set forth that plaintiffs should be directors until the business of defendant should be in successful operation. Over four years elapsed and it is al-

Rose v. N. P. R. R. Co., 35 Mont. 78; 88 Pac. 767.

Flynn v. Mowry, 131 Cal. 488; 63 Pac. 724.

5052. (§ 2241.) Certain contracts unlawful.—All contracts which have for their object, directly or indirectly, to exempt any one from responsibility for his own fraud, or for wilful injury to the person or property of another, or violation of law, whether wilful or negligent, are against the policy of the law.

Morrill v. Nightingale, 93 Cal. 457; 28 Pac. 1068.

5053. (§ 2242.) Employes protected from negligence.—Any contract or agreement entered into by any person, company or corporation. with its servants or employes, whereby such person, company or corporation shall be released or discharged from liability or responsibility on account of personal injuries received by such servants or employes while in the service of such person, company or corporation, by reason of the negligence of such person, company or corporation, or the agents or employes thereof, shall be absolutely null and void.

5054. (§ 2243.) Contracts fixing damages, void.—Every contract by which the amount of damage to be paid, or other compensation to be made, for a breach of an obligation, is determined in anticipation thereof, is to that extent void, except as expressly provided in the next section.

Bennett B. Co. v. Fitchett, 24 Mont. 468; 62 Pac. 780.

Deuninck v. West G. Co., 28 Mont. 259; 72 Pac. 619. A contract bound an irrigation company to furnish to plaintiff a certain amount of water during a certain season, and provided if the company should for any reason fail to deliver the water, it would return to plaintiff money paid by him, and plaintiff agreed to accept the same and release the company for any damage arising from such failure. This contract falls within this section, and is void on its face to the extent of the liquidated damages agreed on.

Long Beach v. Dodge, 135 Cal. 404; 67 Pac. 499.

5055. (§ 2244.) Exception.—The parties to a contract may agree therein upon an amount which shall be presumed to be an amount of damage sustained by a breach thereof, when, from the nature of the case, it would be impracticable or extremely difficult to fix the actual damage.

Deuninck v. West G. Co., 28 Mont. 259; 72 Pac. 619. Where suit is brought on a contract for actual damages, the defendant may show that the contract for stipulated damages is valid under this section.

Long Beach v. Dodge, 135 Cal. 405; 67 Pac. 499.

5056. (§ 2245.) Restraints upon legal proceedings.—Every stipulation or condition in a contract by which any party thereto is restricted from enforcing his rights under the contract, by the usual proceedings in the ordinary tribunals, or which limits the time within which he may thus enforce his rights, is void.

Wortman v. M. C. Co., 22 Mont. 278; 56 Pac. 321. This section not applicable to prior contracts is an enactment of the common law as it existed in the state prior to the adoption of the codes in 1895. A provision of a contract by which the construction to be placed on it by the agent of one of the parties shall be final, without the right of appeal to the courts, is void.

Cotter v. A. O. U. W., 23 Mont. 82; 57 Pac. 650. This section does not apply to contracts made before the adoption of the Civil Code.

5057. (§ 2246.) Contract in restraint of trade, void.—Any contract by which any one is restrained from exercising a lawful profession, trade or business of any kind, otherwise than is provided for by the next two sections, is to that extent void.

Getz Co. v. Federal Co., 147 Cal. 118; 81 Pac. 416.

5058. (§ 2247.) Exception in favor of sale of good will.—One who sells the good will of a business may agree with the buyer to refrain from carrying on a similar business within a specified county, city, or part thereof, so long as the buyer, or any person deriving title to the good will from him, carries on a like business therein.

Merchants Co. v. Sterling, 124 Cal. 431; 57 Pac. 468.

5059. (§ 2248.) Exception in favor of partnership agreements.—Partners may, upon or in anticipation of a dissolution of the partnership, agree that none of them will carry on a similar business within the same city or town where the partnership business has been transacted, or within a specified part thereof.

5060. (§ 2249.) Contract in restraint of marriage, void.—Every contract in restraint of the marriage of any person, other than a minor, is void.

TITLE V.

EXTINCTION OF CONTRACTS.

CHAPTER I. CONTRACTS, HOW EXTINGUISHED.

II. RESCISSION.

III. ALTERATION AND CANCELLATION.

CHAPTER I.

CONTRACTS, HOW EXTINGUISHED.

5061. (§ 2260.) A contract may be extinguished in like manner with any other obligation, and also in the manner prescribed by this title.

CHAPTER II.

RESCISSION.

Section 5062. Rescission extinguishes contract.

“ 5063. When party may rescind.

“ 5065. Rescission, how effected.

5062. (§ 2270.) Rescission extinguished contract.—A contract is extinguished by its rescission

5063. (§ 2271.) When party may rescind.—A party to a contract may rescind the same in the following cases only:

2. If, through the fault of the party as to whom he rescinds the consideration for his obligation fails, in whole or in part.

3. If such consideration becomes entirely void from any cause.

4. If such consideration, before it is rendered to him, fails in a material respect, from any cause; or,

5. By consent of all the other parties.

Cotter v. Butte S. Co., 31 Mont. 133; Sterling v. Gregory, 149 Cal. 121; 85
77 Pac. 510. Pac. 305.

5064. (§ 2272.) When stipulations against right to rescind do not defeat it.—A stipulation that errors of description shall not avoid a contract, or shall be the subject of compensation, or both, does not take away the right of rescission for fraud, nor for mistake, where such mistake is in a matter essential to the inducement of the contract, and is not capable of exact and entire compensation.

5065. (§ 2273.) Rescission, how effected.—Rescission, when not effected by consent, can be accomplished only by the use, on the part of the party rescinding, of reasonable diligence to comply with the following rules:

1. He must rescind promptly, upon discovering the facts which entitle him to rescind, if he is free from duress, menace, undue influence or disability, and is aware of his right to rescind; and,

2. He must restore to the other party everything of value which he has received from him under the contract, or must offer to restore the same, upon condition that such party shall do likewise, unless the latter is unable or positively refuses to do so.

Cotter v. Butte S. Co., 31 Mont. 134;
77 Pac. 510.

Bernard v. Sloan, 2 C. App. 744; 84
Pac. 232.

CHAPTER III.

ALTERATION AND CANCELLATION.

Section 5066. Alteration of verbal contract.

“ 5067. Sealed contracts, how modified.

“ 5068. Extinction by cancellation, etc.

“ 5069. Extinction by unauthorized alteration.

“ 5070. Alteration of duplicate, not to prejudice.

5066. (§ 2280.) Alteration of verbal contract.—A contract not in writing may be altered in any respect by consent of the parties in writing, without a new consideration, and is extinguished thereby to the extent of the new alteration.

5067. (§ 2281.) Sealed contracts, how modified.—A contract in writing may be altered by a contract in writing, or by an executed oral agreement, and not otherwise.

Gaffney M. Co. v. Hopkins, 21 Mont.
17; 52 Pac. 561.

Armington v. Stelle, 27 Mont. 17; 69
Pac. 116. A subsequent oral agreement between the parties to a written sub-lease of a mining claim that, in case the sub-lessors should buy the property, the lease would be extended, was void under this section.

Easterly v. Jackson, 29 Mont. 502; 75
Pac. 358.

Brenneke v. Smallman, 2 C. App. 309;
83 Pac. 302.

5068. (§ 2282.) Extinction by cancellation, etc.—The destruction or cancellation of a written contract, or of the signature of the parties liable thereon, with intent to extinguish the obligation thereof, extinguishes it as to all the parties consenting to the act.

5069. (§ 2283.) Extinction by unauthorized alteration.—The intentional destruction, cancellation, or material alteration of a written contract by a party entitled to any benefit under it, or with his consent, extinguishes all the executory obligations of the contract in his favor against parties who do not consent to the act.

5070. (§ 2284.) Alteration of duplicate, not to prejudice.—Where a contract is executed in duplicate, an alteration or destruction of one copy, while the other exists, is not within the provisions of the last section.

PART III.

OBLIGATIONS IMPOSED BY LAW.

- Section 5071. Abstinence from injury.*
 “ 5072. Fraudulent deceit.
 “ 5074. Deceit upon the public, etc.
 “ 5075. Restoration of thing wrongfully acquired.
 “ 5076. When demand necessary.
 “ 5077. Responsibility for wilful acts, negligence, etc.
 “ 5078. Other obligations.

5071. (§ 2290.) Abstinence from injury.—Every person is bound, without contract, to abstain from injuring the person or property of another, or infringing upon any of his rights.

Bancroft v. Bancroft, 110 Cal. 385; 42 Pac. 896.

5072. (§ 2291.) Fraudulent deceit.—One who wilfully deceives another, with intent to induce him to alter his position to his injury or risk, is liable for any damage which he thereby suffers.

Hoffman v. Kirby, 136 Cal. 28; 68 Pac. 321.

5073. (§ 2292.) Deceit, what.—A deceit, within the meaning of the last section, is either:

1. The suggestion, as a fact, of that which is not true, by one who does not believe it to be true.

2. The assertion as a fact, of that which is not true, by one who has no reasonable ground for believing it to be true.

3. The suppression of a fact by one who is bound to disclose it, or who gives information of other facts which are likely to mislead for want of communication of that fact; or,

4. A promise, made without any intention of performing it.

Daley v. Quick, 99 Cal. 186; 33 Pac. 859.

5074. (§ 2293.) Deceit upon the public, etc.—One who practices a deceit with intent to defraud the public, or a particular class of persons, is deemed to have intended to defraud every individual in that class, who is actually misled by the deceit.

5077. (§ 2296.) Responsibility for wilful acts, negligence, etc.—Every one is responsible, not only for the result of his wilful acts, but also for an injury occasioned to another by his want of ordinary care or skill in the management of his property or person, except so far as the latter has, wilfully or by want of ordinary care, brought the injury upon himself. The extent of liability in such cases is defined by the title on compensatory relief.

Beinhorn v. Griswold, 27 Mont. 90; Smith v. Whittier, 95 Cal. 291; 30 Pac. 559. Pac. 529.

5078. (§ 2297.) Other obligations.—Other obligations are prescribed by divisions one and two, of this code.

| | III. FORM OF CONTRACT. |
| | IV. CONDITIONAL SALES. |

ARTICLE I.

SALE.

Section 5079. Sale, what.

5079. (§ 2310.) Sale, what.—Sale is a contract by which, for a pecuniary consideration, called a price, one transfers to another an interest in property.

Borland v. Nevada Bank, 99 Cal. 93; 33 Pac. 737.

5080. (§ 2311.) Subject of sale.—The subject of sale must be property, the title to which can be immediately transferred from the seller to the buyer.

Woolley v. Wickerd, 97 Cal. 71; 31 Pac. 733.

ARTICLE II.

AGREEMENTS FOR SALE.

Section 5081. Agreement for sale.

“ 5082. Agreement to sell.

“ 5084. Agreement to sell and buy.

“ 5085. What may be the subject of the contract.

“ 5087. Usual common law covenants required by such contracts, when.

5081. (§ 2320.) Agreement for sale.—An agreement for sale is either:

1. An agreement to sell.

2. An agreement to buy; or,

3. A mutual agreement to sell and buy.

5082. (§ 2321.) Agreement to sell.—An agreement to sell is a contract by which one engages, for a price, to transfer to another the title to a certain thing.

Ward Land Co. v. Mapes, 147 Cal. 749; 82 Pac. 426.

5083. (§ 2322.) Agreement to buy.—An agreement to buy is a contract by which one engages to accept from another, and pay a price for the title to a certain thing.

5084. (§ 2323.) Agreement to sell and buy.—An agreement to sell and buy is a contract by which one engages to transfer the title to a certain thing to another, who engages to accept the same from him and to pay a price therefor.

Adlam v. McKnight, 32 Mont. 353; 80 Pac. 615.

5085. (§ 2324.) What may be the subject of the contract.—Any property which, if in existence, might be the subject of sale may be the subject of an agreement for sale, whether in existence or not.

5086. (§ 2325.) Agreement to sell real property.—An agreement to sell real property binds the seller to execute a conveyance in form sufficient to pass the title to the property.

Royal v. Dennison, 109 Cal. 563; 42 Pac. 39.

5087. (§ 2326.) Usual common law covenants required by such contracts, when.—An agreement on the part of a seller of real property to give the usual covenants, binds him to insert in the grant, covenants of "seizin," "quiet enjoyment," "further assurance," "general warranty," and "against incumbrances."

5088. (§ 2327.) Form of such covenants.—The covenants mentioned in the last section must be in substance as follows: "The party of the first part covenants with the party of the second part, that the former is now seized in fee simple of the property granted; that the latter shall enjoy the same without any lawful disturbance; that the same is free from all incumbrances; that the party of the first part, and all persons acquiring any interest in the same through or for him, will, on demand, execute and deliver to the party of the second part, at the expense of the latter, any further assurance of the same that may be reasonably required; and that the party of the first part will warrant to the party of the second part all the said property against every person lawfully claiming the same."

ARTICLE III.

FORM OF THE CONTRACT.

Section 5089. Contract for sale of personal property.

" 5090. Contract to manufacture.

" 5091. Contract for sale of real property.

5089. (§ 2340.) Contract for sale of personal property.—No sale of personal property, or agreement to buy or sell it for a price of two hundred dollars or more, is valid, unless:

1. The agreement or some note or memorandum thereof be in writing, and subscribed by the party to be charged, or by his agent; or,

2. The buyer accepts and receives part of the thing sold, or when it consists of a thing in action, part of the evidences thereof, or some of them; or,

3. The buyer at the time of sale, pays a part of the price.

Slater B. Co. v. Shackleton, 30 Mont. 392; 76 Pac. 805. The receipt and acceptance of property sold need not be concurrent with the time of sale, but may occur at any time thereafter. If one who assumes the contract of the buyer accepts and receives part of the thing sold, the sale is valid.

Brophy v. Idaho P. Co., 31 Mont. 283; 78 Pac. 493.

Ayotte v. Nadeau, 32 Mont. 519; 81 Pac. 150.

Case v. Kramer, 34 Mont. 149; 85 Pac. 879.

5090. (§ 2341.) Contract to manufacture.—An agreement to manufacture a thing, from materials furnished by the manufacturer, or by another person, is not within the provisions of the last section.

5091. (§ 2342.) Contract for sale of real property.—No agreement for the sale of real property, or of any interest therein, is valid unless the same, or some note or memorandum thereof, be in writing, and subscribed by the party to be charged, or his agent, thereunto authorized, in writing; but this does not abridge the power of any court to compel the specific performance of any agreement for the sale of real property in case of part performance thereof.

Largey v. Leggat, 30 Mont. 149; 75 Pac. 950. An oral agreement by a purchaser at a judicial sale of a lode mining claim to take the deed in his own name, and convey to another, is within this section and void.

Christiansen v. Aldrich, 30 Mont. 453;

76 Pac. 1009. A defendant who admits the making of a contract and relies on other defenses to defeat an action thereon, cannot avail himself of this section unless it is specifically pleaded.

Ayotte v. Nadeau, 32 Mont. 519; 81 Pac. 150.

ARTICLE IV.

CONDITIONAL SALES.

Section 5092. Filing contract.

5092. Filing contracts.—All contracts, notes and instruments for the transfer or sale of personal property where the title is stipulated to remain in the vendor until the payment of the purchase price, or some part thereof, shall be in writing and the original or a true copy thereof certified by the County Clerk and Recorder shall be filed with the county clerk and recorder of the county wherein the property is situate, otherwise any such contract, note or instrument is void as to a purchaser or mortgagee of such property prior to such filing. [Act approved March 3rd, 1899, § 1.] (6th Sess. 124.)

5094. Release of obligation.—Upon receipt of the purchase price the vendor shall cause the clerk and recorder to enter satisfaction and discharge the obligations of such contract, note or instrument, and a failure for thirty (30) days to cause such satisfaction to be made shall render the vendor liable for any actual damage sustained by any person by reason thereof. [Act approved March 3rd, 1899, § 3.] (6th Sess. 124-125.)

CHAPTER II.

RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS OF THE SELLER.

ARTICLE. I. RIGHTS AND DUTIES BEFORE DELIVERY.

II. DELIVERY.

III. WARRANTY.

ARTICLE I.

RIGHTS AND DUTIES BEFORE DELIVERY.

Section 5095. When a seller must act as depositary.

“ 5096. When seller may re-sell.

5095. (§ 2350.) When a seller must act as depositary.—After personal property has been sold, and until the delivery is completed, the seller has the rights and obligations of a depositary for hire, except that he must keep the property, without charge, until the buyer has had a reasonable opportunity to remove it.

5096. (§ 2351.) When seller may re-sell.—If a buyer of personal property does not pay for it according to contract, and it remains in the possession of the seller after payment is due, the seller may rescind the sale, or may enforce his lien for the price, in the manner prescribed by the title on liens.

Rayfield v. Van Meter, 120 Cal. 419; 52 Pac. 666.

ARTICLE II.

DELIVERY.

Section 5097. Delivery on demand.

“ 5098. Delivery, where made.

“ 5099. Expense of transportation.

“ 5102. Delivery to be within reasonable hours.

5097. (§ 2360.) Delivery on demand.—One who sells personal property, whether it was in his possession at the time of sale or not, must put it into a condition fit for delivery, and deliver it to the buyer within a reasonable time after demand, unless he has a lien thereon.

Gardiner v. McDonogh, 147 Cal. 319; 81 Pac. 964.

5098. (§ 2361.) Delivery, where made.—Personal property sold is deliverable at the place where it is at the time of the sale or agreement to sell, or if it is not then in existence, it is deliverable at the place where it is produced.

Gardiner v. McDonogh, 147 Cal. 319; 81 Pac. 964.

5099. (§ 2362.) Expense of transportation.—One who sells personal property must bring it to his own door, or other convenient place, for its acceptance by the buyer, but further transportation is at the risk and expense of the buyer.

5100. (§ 2363.) Notice of election as to delivery.—When either party to a contract of sale has an option as to the time, place or manner of delivery, he must give the other party reasonable notice of his choice, and if he does not give such notice within a reasonable time, his right of option is waived.

5101. (§ 2364.) Buyer's directions as to manner of sending thing sold.—If a seller agrees to send the thing sold to the buyer, he must follow the directions of the latter as to the manner of sending, or it will be at his own risk during its transportation. If he follows such directions, or if, in the absence of special directions, he uses ordinary care in forwarding the thing, it is at the risk of the buyer.

5102. (§ 2365.) Delivery to be within reasonable hours.—The delivery of a thing sold can be offered or demanded only within reasonable hours of the day.

ARTICLE III.

WARRANTY.

Section 5103. Warranty, what.

- “ 5104. No implied warranty in mere contract of sale.
- “ 5105. Warranty of title to personal property.
- “ 5106. Warranty on sale by sample.
- “ 5107. When seller knows that buyer relies on his statements, etc.
- “ 5108. Merchandise not in existence.
- “ 5109. Manufacturer's warranty against latent defects.
- “ 5110. Thing bought for particular purpose.
- “ 5111. When thing cannot be examined by buyer.
- “ 5112. Trade marks.
- “ 5113. Other marks.
- “ 5114. Warranty on sale of written instrument.
- “ 5115. Warranty of provisions for domestic use.
- “ 5116. Warranty on sale of good will.
- “ 5117. Warranty upon judicial sale.
- “ 5118. Effect of general warranty.

5103. (§ 2370.) Warranty, what.—A warranty is an engagement by which a seller assures to a buyer the existence of some fact affecting the transaction, whether past, present or future.

5104. (§ 2371.) No implied warranty in mere contract of sale.—Except as prescribed by this article, a mere contract of sale or agreement to sell does not imply a warranty.

Browning v. McNear, 145 Cal. 280; 78 Pac. 722.

5105. (§ 2372.) Warranty of title to personal property.—One who sells or agrees to sell personal property as his own, thereby warrants that he has a good and unincumbered title thereto.

Pincus v. Muntzer, 34 Mont. 501; 87 Pac. 613. An indorsement on a bill of sale by the buyer of personal property on a resale thereof that he would "guarantee delivery of same" does not constitute a warranty of title.
Jeffers v. Easton Co., 113 Cal. 353; 45 Pac. 680.

5106. (§ 2373.) Warranty on sale by sample.—One who sells or agrees to sell goods by sample, thereby warrants the bulk to be equal to the sample.

Browning v. McNear, 145 Cal. 278; 78 Pac. 722.

5107. (§ 2374.) When seller knows that buyer relies on his statements, etc.—One who sells or agrees to sell personal property, knowing that the buyer relies upon his advice or judgment, thereby warrants to the buyer that neither the seller nor any agent employed by him in the transaction, knows the existence of any fact concerning the thing sold which would to his knowledge destroy the buyer's inducement to buy.

5109. (§ 2376.) Manufacturer's warranty against latent defects.—One who sells or agrees to sell an article of his own manufacture, thereby warrants it to be free from any latent defect, not disclosed to the buyer, arising from the process of manufacture, and also that neither he nor his agent in such manufacture has knowingly used improper materials therein.

Snyder v. Holt Co., 134 Cal. 328; 66 Pac. 311.

5110. (§ 2377.) Thing bought for particular purpose.—One who manufactures an article under an order for a particular purpose, warrants by the sale that it is reasonably fit for that purpose.

Snyder v. Holt Co., 134 Cal. 328; 66 Pac. 311.

5111. (§ 2378.) When thing cannot be examined by buyer.—One who sells or agrees to sell merchandise inaccessible to the examination of the buyer, thereby warrants that it is sound and merchantable.

Browning v. McNear, 145 Cal. 280; 78 Pac. 722.

5112. (§ 2379.) Trade marks.—One who sells or agrees to sell any article to which there is affixed or attached a trade mark, thereby warrants that trade mark to be genuine and lawfully used.

5113. (§ 2380.) Other marks.—One who sells or agrees to sell any article to which there is affixed or attached a statement or mark to express the quantity or quality thereof, or the place where it was, in whole or in part produced, manufactured or prepared, thereby warrants the truth thereof.

5114. (§ 2381.) Warranty on sale of written instrument.—One who sells or agrees to sell an instrument purporting to bind any one to the performance of any act, thereby warrants that he has no knowledge of any facts which tend to prove it worthless, such as the insolvency of any of the parties thereto, where that is material, the extinction of its obligations, or its invalidity for any cause.

Crocker Bank v. Nevada Bank, 139 Cal. 585; 73 Pac. 456.

5115. (§ 2382.) Warranty of provisions for domestic use.—One who makes a business of selling provisions for domestic use, warrants, by a sale thereof, to one who buys for actual consumption, that they are sound and wholesome.

5116. (§ 2383.) Warranty on sale of good will.—One who sells the good will of a business, thereby warrants that he will not endeavor to draw off any of the customers.

Merchants Co. v. Sterling, 124 Cal. 432; 57 Pac. 468.

5117. (§ 2384.) Warranty upon judicial sale.—Upon a judicial sale, the only warranty implied is that the seller does not know that the sale will not pass a good title to the property.

5118. (§ 2385.) Effect of general warranty.—A general warranty does not extend to defects inconsistent therewith, of which the buyer was then aware, or which were then easily discernible by him without the exercise of peculiar skill; but it extends to all other defects.

CHAPTER III.

RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS OF THE BUYER.

Section 5119. Price, when to be paid.

“ 5121. Rights in case of breach of warranty.

5119. (§ 2400.) Price, when to be paid.—A buyer must pay the price of the thing sold on its delivery, and must take it away within a reasonable time after the seller offers to deliver it.

5120. (§ 2401.) Right to inspect goods.—On an agreement for sale, with warranty, the buyer has a right to inspect the thing sold, at a reasonable time, before accepting it, and may rescind the contract if the seller refuses to permit him to do so.

5121. (§ 2402.) Rights in case of breach of warranty.—The breach of a warranty entitles the buyer to rescind an agreement for sale, but not an executed sale, unless the warranty was intended by the parties to operate as a condition.

CHAPTER IV.

SALE BY AUCTION.

- Section 5122. Sale by auction, what.*
“ 5123. Sale, when complete.
“ 5126. Rights of buyer upon sale without reserve.

5122. (§ 2410.) Sale by auction, what.—A sale by auction is a sale by public outcry to the highest bidder on the spot.

5123. (§ 2411.) Sale, when complete.—A sale by auction is complete when the auctioneer publicly announces, by the fall of his hammer, or in any other customary manner, that the thing is sold.

5124. (§ 2412.) Withdrawal of bid.—Until the announcement mentioned in the last section has been made, any bidder may withdraw his bid, if he does so in a manner reasonably sufficient to bring it to the notice of the auctioneer.

5125. (§ 2413.) Sale under written conditions.—When a sale by auction is made upon written or printed conditions, such conditions cannot be modified by any oral declaration of the auctioneer, except so far as they are for his own protection.

5126. (§ 2414.) Rights of buyer upon sale without reserve.—If, at a sale by auction, the auctioneer, having authority to do so, publicly announces that the sale will be without reserve, or makes any announcement equivalent thereto, the highest bidder in good faith has an absolute right to the completion of the sale to him; and, upon such a sale, bids by the seller, or any agent for him, are void.

5127. (§ 2415.) By bidding.—The employment by a seller of any person to bid at a sale by auction, without the knowledge of the buyer, without an intention on the part of such bidder to buy, and on the part of the seller to enforce his bid, is a fraud upon the buyer, which entitles him to rescind his purchase.

5128. (§ 2416.) Auctioneer's memorandum of sale.—When property is sold by auction, an entry made by the auctioneer, in his sale book, at the time of the sale, specifying the name of the person for whom he sells, the thing sold, the price, the terms of sale, and the name of the buyer, binds both the parties in the same manner as if made by themselves.

TITLE II.

EXCHANGE.

Section 5129. Exchange, what.

5129. (§ 2430.) Exchange, what.—Exchange is a contract by which the parties mutually give, or agree to give, one thing for another, neither thing, or both things, being money only.

5130. (§ 2431.) Form of contract.—The provisions of § 5089 (2340) apply to all exchanges in which the value of the thing is to be given by either party is two hundred dollars or more.

5131. (§ 2432.) Parties have rights and obligations of sellers and buyers.—The provisions of the title on sale apply to exchanges. Each party has the rights and obligations of a seller as to the thing which he gives, and of a buyer as to that which he takes.

5132. (§ 2433.) Warranty of money.—On an exchange of money, each party thereby warrants the genuineness of the money given by him.

III. DEPOSIT FOR EXCHANGE.

CHAPTER I.

DEPOSIT IN GENERAL.

ARTICLE I. NATURE AND CREATION OF DEPOSIT.

II. OBLIGATIONS OF THE DEPOSITARY.

ARTICLE I.

NATURE AND CREATION OF DEPOSIT.

Section 5133. Deposit, kinds of.

“ 5137. Deposit for keeping, what.

“ 5138. Deposit for exchange, what.

5133. (§ 2440.) Deposit, kinds of.—A deposit may be voluntary or involuntary; and for safe keeping, or for exchange.

5134. (§ 2441.) Voluntary deposit, how made.—A voluntary deposit is made by one giving to another, with his consent, the possession of personal property to keep for the benefit of the former, or of a third party. The person giving is called the depositor, and the person receiving, the depositary.

5135. (§ 2442.) Involuntary deposit, how made.—An involuntary deposit is made:

1. By the accidental leaving or placing of personal property in the possession of any person, without negligence on the part of the owner; or,

2. In cases of fire, shipwreck, inundation, insurrection, riot, or like extraordinary emergencies, by the owner of personal property committing it, out of necessity, to the care of any person.

5136. (§ 2443.) Same.—The person with whom a thing is deposited in the manner described in the last section is bound to take charge of it, if able to do so.

5137. (§ 2444.) Deposit for keeping, what.—A deposit for keeping is one in which the depositary is bound to return the identical thing deposited.

5138. (§ 2445.) Deposit for exchange, what.—A deposit for exchange is one in which the depositary is only bound to return a thing corresponding in kind to that which is deposited.

ARTICLE II.

OBLIGATIONS OF THE DEPOSITARY.

Section 5139. Depositary must deliver on demand.

" 5140. No obligation to deliver without demand.

" 5141. Place of delivery.

" 5142. Notice to owner of adverse claim.

" 5143. Notice to owner of thing wrongfully detained.

" 5144. Delivery of thing owned jointly, etc.

5139. (§ 2450.) Depositary must deliver on demand.—A depositary must deliver the thing to the person for whose benefit it was deposited, on demand, whether the deposit was made for a specified time or not, unless he has a lien upon the thing deposited, or has been forbidden or prevented from doing so by the real owner thereof, or by the act of the law, and has given the notice required by § 5142 (2453).

Shropshire v. Sidebottom, 30 Mont. 408; 76 Pac. 942. In the absence of a special contract with reference to the bailment, ordinary care only is required of a bailee for hire. In an action against a bailee for hire for failure to deliver two horses, as agreed, the bailee must show that he used ordinary care.

Barrere v. Soms, 113 Cal. 102; 45 Pac. 177.

5140. (§ 2451.) No obligation to deliver without demand.—A depositary is not bound to deliver a thing deposited without demand, even where the deposit is made for a specified time.

Stadler v. First N. Bank, 22 Mont. 216; 56 Pac. 119. A contract is implied that when the thing deposited is money, an equivalent sum of money shall be paid to the depositor upon demand therefor.

Barrere v. Soms, 113 Cal. 102; 45 Pac. 177.

5141. (§ 2452.) Place of delivery.—A depositary must deliver the thing deposited at his residence or place of business, as may be most convenient for him.

5142. (§ 2453.) Notice of owner of adverse claim.—A depositary must give prompt notice to the person for whose benefit the deposit was made, of any proceedings taken adversely to his interest in the thing deposited, which may tend to excuse the depositary from delivering the thing to him.

5143. (§ 2454.) Notice to owner of thing wrongfully detained.—A depositary, who believes that a thing deposited with him is wrongfully detained from its true owner, may give him notice of the deposit; and if within a reasonable time afterwards he does not claim it, and sufficiently establish his right thereto, and indemnify the depositary against the claim of the depositor, the depositary is exonerated from liability to the person to whom he gave the notice, upon returning the thing to the depositor, or assuming, in good faith, a new obligation changing his position in respect to the thing, to his prejudice.

5144. (§ 2455.) Delivery of thing owned jointly, etc.—If a thing deposited is owned jointly or in common by persons who cannot agree upon the manner of its delivery, the depositary may deliver to each his proper share thereof, if it can be done without injury to the thing.

CHAPTER II.

DEPOSIT FOR KEEPING.

ARTICLE I. GENERAL PROVISIONS.

II. GRATUITOUS DEPOSIT.

III. STORAGE.

IV. INNKEEPERS.

V. FINDING.

ARTICLE I.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

Section 5145. Depositor must indemnify depositary.

“ 5146. Obligation of depositary of animals.

“ 5147. Obligations as to use of thing deposited.

“ 5148. Liability for damage arising from wrongful use.

“ 5149. Sale of thing in danger of perishing.

“ 5151. Service rendered by depositary.

“ 5152. Extent of his liability for negligence.

5145. (§ 2460.) Depositor must indemnify depositary.—A depositor must indemnify the depositary:

1. For all damage caused to him by the defects or vices of the thing deposited; and,

2. For all expenses necessarily incurred by him about the thing, other than such as are involved in the nature of the undertaking.

5146. (§ 2461.) Obligation of depositary of animals.—A depositary of living animals must provide them with suitable food and shelter and treat them kindly.

5147. (§ 2462.) Obligations as to use of thing deposited.—A depositary may not use the thing deposited, or permit it to be used, for any purpose, without the consent of the depositor. He may not, if it is purposely fastened by the depositor, open it without the consent of the latter, except in case of necessity.

5148. (§ 2463.) Liability for damage arising from wrongful use.—A depositary is liable for any damage happening to the thing deposited during his wrongful use thereof, unless such damage must inevitably have happened though the property had not been thus used.

5150. (§ 2465.) Injury to, or loss of thing deposited.—If a thing is lost during its deposit, and the depositary refuses to inform the depositor of the circumstances under which the loss or injury occurred, so far as he has information concerning them, or wilfully misrepresents the circumstances to him, the depositary is presumed to have wilfully, or by gross negligence, permitted the loss or injury to occur.

5152. (§ 2467.) Extent of his liability for negligence.—The liability of a depositary for negligence can not exceed the amount which he is informed by the depositor, or has reason to suppose, the thing deposited to be worth.

Cussen v. Southern Bank, 133 Cal. 538; 65 Pac. 1099.

ARTICLE II.

GRATUITOUS DEPOSIT.

Section 5153. Gratuitous deposit, what.

“ 5154. Nature of involuntary deposit.

“ 5156. His duties cease, when.

5153. (§ 2480.) Gratuitous deposit what.—Gratuitous deposit is a deposit for which the depositary receives no consideration beyond the mere possession of the thing deposited.

5154. (§ 2481.) Nature of involuntary deposit.—An involuntary deposit is gratuitous, the depositary being entitled to no reward.

5155. (§ 2482.) Degree of care required of gratuitous depositary.—A gratuitous depositary must use at least slight care for the preservation of the thing deposited.

5156. (§ 2483.) His duties cease, when.—The duties of a gratuitous depositary cease:

1. Upon his restoring the thing deposited to its owner; or,
2. Upon his giving reasonable notice to the owner to remove it, and the owner failing to do so within a reasonable time. But an involuntary depositary, under subdivision 2 of § 5135 (2442) cannot give such notice until the emergency which gave rise to the deposit is past.

ARTICLE III.

STORAGE.

Section 5157. Deposit for hire.

“ 5158. Degree of care required of depositary for hire.

“ 5159. Rate of compensation for fraction of a week, etc.

“ 5162. Sale to pay costs of storage.

“ 5163. Application of proceeds of sale.

5157. (§ 2490.) Deposit for hire.—A deposit not gratuitous is called storage. The depositary in such case is called a depositary for hire.

5158. (§ 2491.) Degree of care required of depositary for hire.—A depositary for hire must use at least ordinary care for the preservation of the thing deposited.

Shropshire v. Sidebottom, 30 Mont. 408; 76 Pac. 942. There is not necessarily any conflict between this section and section 2450 supra. The rule that a bailee for hire is charged only with ordinary care has not been changed.

5159. (§ 2492.) Rate of compensation for fraction of a week, etc.—In the absence of a different agreement or usage, a depositary for hire is entitled to one week's hire for the sustenance and shelter of living animals during any fraction of a week, and to half a month's hire for the storage of any other property during any fraction of a half month.

5160. (§ 2493.) Termination of deposit.—In the absence of an agreement as to the length of time during which a deposit is to continue, it may be terminated by the depositor at any time, and by the depositary upon a reasonable notice.

5161. (§ 2494.) Same.—Notwithstanding an agreement respecting the length of time during which a deposit is to continue, it may be terminated by the depositor on paying all that would become due to the depositary in case of the deposit so continuing.

5162. Sale to pay costs of storage.—Any storage or commission merchant receiving personal property from any person for storage and any common carrier of goods by whom any personal property is lawfully stored before or after the transportation thereof, may, after keeping the same in store for ninety days, in default of the payment of the storage or freight money on such personal property, advertise and sell the same at public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash, first giving notice of the time, the terms, and place of sale, and a description of the property to be sold, by publication in some newspaper published in the county where the property may be stored. Said notice shall be published at least once a week for four weeks next previous to the day of sale, and shall specify the amount due on the property to be sold. When a specified time has been agreed upon between the parties for the storage of said property, the same shall not be advertised until the expiration of the time agreed upon. Should there be no newspaper published in the county where such property is stored, then notice may be given in the newspaper published nearest thereto, in some other county, in this State. But no more of such property shall be sold than is necessary to pay the charges due, together with the costs. [Act approved February 25th, 1901, § 1.] (7th Sess. 153.)

5163. Application of proceeds of sale.—After paying the expenses of sale, including the publication of notice, the storage or commission merchant, or the carrier, shall be authorized, out of the proceeds arising from the sale of the property, to retain the amount due him for storage or freight money, or both, due upon any such property, and the excess, if any, must be paid over to the person entitled to the proceeds thereof. All sales under this Article shall vest the title to the property sold in the purchaser thereof. [Act approved February 25th, 1901, § 2.] (7th Sess. 153-4.)

ARTICLE IV.

INNKEEPERS.

Section 5164. Innkeepers' liability.

“ 5165. How exempted from liability.

“ 5166. Lien of hotel, boarding house and lodging house keepers.

“ 5167. Sale of baggage by boarding or lodging house keepers.

Section 5170. Inspection of hotels, inns and lodging houses.

“ 5171. Penalty.

“ 5173. Liable for negligence.

“ 5174. Not liable without negligence.

“ 5176. Notice of sale.

“ 5177. Defrauding innkeeper, penalty.

5164. (§ 2500.) Innkeeper's liability.—An innkeeper is liable for all losses of or injuries to personal property placed by his guests under his care, unless occasioned by an irresistible superhuman cause, by a public enemy, by the negligence of the owner, or by the act of some one whom he brought into the inn.

Fay v. Pacific Co., 93 Cal. 261; 26 Pac. 1099.

5165. (§ 2501.) How exempted from liability.—If an innkeeper keeps a fireproof safe, and gives notice to a guest, either personally or by putting up a printed notice in a prominent place in the room occupied by the guest, that he keeps such a safe, and will not be liable for money, jewelry, documents, or other articles of unusual value and small compass, unless placed therein, he is not liable, except so far as his own acts contribute thereto, for any loss of, or injury to, such articles, if not deposited with him, and not required by the guest for present use.

5167. (§ 2503.) Sale of baggage by boarding or lodging house keepers.—Whenever any trunk, carpet bag, valise, box, bundle or other baggage, has heretofore come, or shall hereafter come into the possession of the keeper of any hotel, inn, boarding or lodging house, as such, and has remained, or shall remain, unclaimed for the period of six months, such keeper may proceed to sell the same at public auction, and out of the proceeds of such sale, may retain the charges for storage, if any, and the expense of advertising and sale thereof; but no such sale shall be made until the expiration of four weeks from the first publication of notice of such sale in a newspaper published in or nearest the city, town, or place in which said hotel, inn, boarding or lodging house is situated. Said notice shall be published once a week for four successive weeks, in some newspaper, daily or weekly, of general circulation, and shall contain a description of each trunk, carpet bag, valise, box, bundle, or other baggage, as near as may be; the name of the owner, if known; the name of said keeper and the time and place of sale; and the expenses incurred for advertising shall be a lien upon such trunk, carpet bag, valise, box, bundle, or other baggage, in a ratable proportion, according to the value of such piece of property, or thing, or article sold; and in case any balance arising from such sale shall not be claimed by the rightful owner within one week from the day of said sale, the same shall be paid into the treasury of the county in which such sale took place; and if the same be not claimed by the owner thereof, or his legal representatives, within one year thereafter, the same shall be paid into the general fund of said county.

5168. (§ 2504.) How exempted from liability.—Whenever the proprietor or proprietors of any hotel or inn shall provide a safe or other secure place of deposit therein for the safe keeping of any money, jewels, ornaments or other articles of value, belonging to any guest or guests of such hotel or inn, and shall cause to be posted and maintained printed notices thereof in the office or public room, and within every guest's room of such inn or hotel, the proprietor or proprietors thereof shall not be liable to any such guest or guests who shall neglect to deliver their money, jewels, ornaments, or other articles of value to the proprietor or other person in charge of such safe or place of deposit for deposit and safe keeping therein for any loss of such money or other articles which may be sustained by such guest by theft or otherwise. [Act approved Feb'y. 26, 1895.]

5169. Fire escapes for hotels.—Every owner, lessee, proprietor or manager of a hotel, inn or lodging house situated in the State of Montana, shall place or cause to be placed and maintained, or cause to be maintained, a rope or better appliance, to be used as a fire escape, in each and every room of such hotel, inn or lodging house used as a lodging room, except the rooms on the ground floor, which rope or other better appliance shall be securely fastened within the room to a suitable iron hook or ring, which rope shall be at all times kept coiled up and exposed to plain view of any occupant of said room, the coil to be fastened in such manner as to be easily and quickly loosened and uncoiled, and such rope shall be of sufficient length to reach from the window of such room to the ground, and, with its fastenings, shall be of sufficient strength to sustain a weight of four hundred pounds. It shall also be the duty of every such owner, lessee, proprietor or manager to post, or cause to be posted and maintained in a conspicuous place in each lodging room, and each hall of such hotel inn or lodging house, except the rooms and hall on the ground floor thereof, a printed notice to the effect that such rope or better appliance is so placed in every such room thereof for use in case of fire, and giving full instructions for such use. [Act approved February 28, 1907, § 2.] (10th Sess. Chap. 53.)

5170. Inspection of hotels, inns and lodging houses.—It shall be the duty of the fire marshal, or the chief officer of the fire department of every city and town in this state in the months of July and January of each and every year, and at such other times as the said officer may deem necessary, to inspect, or cause to be inspected by some person from said fire department, to be deputized by him for that purpose, every guest's room of every hotel, inn or lodging house in the city or town in which he is performing the duties of such officer, and ascertain whether the provisions of § 5169 (2505) of this Code have been complied with. It shall be the duty of the sheriff of each county in this State in the months of July and January of each and every year, and such other times as the said sheriff shall deem necessary to inspect or cause to be inspected by some person from his department to be deputized by him for that purpose, every lodging room of every hotel, inn or lodging house in his county and situated outside the corporate limits of any city or town, and ascertain whether the provisions of § 5169 (2505) of the Civil Code of the State of Montana have been complied with. Any owner, lessee, proprietor, manager or other person who shall obstruct or prevent such officer or person from making a free inspection of such room, provided for as aforesaid, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not exceeding one hundred dollars, or imprisoned for a term not exceeding three months, in the discretion of the court. It shall be the duty of every sheriff and of every other officer making such inspection on or before the fifteenth day of August and February of each and every year, to make and file a written report to the County Attorney of his county, showing what hotels, inns and lodging houses he has so inspected, and specifying which of them have not fully complied with the provisions of this Act, and to what extent and in what respects they have not so complied. Such County Attorney shall thereupon and within ten days after such report is so rendered to him, file or cause to be filed, before any court or magistrate having jurisdiction of crimes of the grade of misdemeanor, a complaint charging such owner, proprietor, lessee or manager, or other person maintaining such hotel, inn, or lodging house with a violation of § 5169 (2505) of the Civil Code of the State of Montana, and shall procure a warrant and cause to be arrested every person so found violating the provisions of this Act. [Act approved February 28, 1907.] (10th Sess. Chap. 53.)

5171. (§ 2507.) Penalty.—Any person or officer violating the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed ninety days, or by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars, and costs, or both such fine and imprisonment. [Act approved Feby. 26, 1895.]

5172. (§ 2508.) Limitation of innkeeper's liability.—No innkeeper shall be liable for the loss or destruction by fire of the property received by him from a guest, stored or being, with the knowledge of such guest, in a barn or other out-building, where it shall appear that such loss or destruction is the work of an incendiary, and occurred without the fault or negligence of such innkeeper or his servants. [Act approved Feby. 26, 1895.]

5173. (§ 2509.) Liable for negligence.—All inn or hotel keepers contemplated in this act, shall be liable for the loss of, or damage to, any baggage or other property of the guests of any hotel or inn by fire, in every case where such is the result of the negligence of the keeper, or his servants. [Act approved Feby. 26, 1895.]

5175. (§ 2512.) Enforcement of lien.—Any hotel or innkeeper who shall have a lien upon any of the goods, baggage or other chattel property of his guests may, at the expiration of six months from the date of the departure of such guest from such hotel or inn, sell and dispose of the same at public auction and to the highest bidder for cash, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the sum due such hotel or innkeeper, together with the cost of storage, advertisement and sale. [Act approved Feby. 26, 1895.]

5176. (§ 2513.) Notice of sale.—Before proceeding to the sale of the property of any guest, as provided in § 5175 (2512) of this act, such hotel or innkeeper shall cause a notice of such sale, containing a description of the property to be sold, and the time and place where such property will be sold, to be published once each week for two successive weeks in a newspaper published in the city or town in which such hotel or inn is situated; but if there be none, then in some newspaper published nearest such town or city, and in case any balance arising from such sale shall not be claimed by the rightful owner within thirty days from the day of such sale, the same shall be paid into the treasury of the county in which such sale took place; and if such balance be not claimed by the owner thereof, or his legal representatives, within one year thereafter, the same shall be paid into the school fund of such county. [Act approved Feby. 26, 1895.]

5177. (§ 2514.) Defrauding innkeeper, penalty.—Any person who shall put up at any inn or hotel, and who shall (except where credit is given by express agreement) procure any food, entertainment, or accommodation without paying therefor, and with intent to cheat and defraud the owner or keeper thereof out of his pay for the same, or who, with intent to cheat and defraud such owner or keeper out of the pay thereof, shall obtain credit at any hotel or inn for such food, entertainment, or accommodation by means of any false show of baggage or effects brought thereto, or shall with such intent remove, or cause to be removed, any baggage or effects from any hotel or inn, where there is a lien existing thereon for the proper charges due from such guest for fare and board furnished therein, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment not exceeding three months, or by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, and costs, or both such fine and imprisonment. [Act approved Feby. 26, 1895.]

ARTICLE V.

FINDING.

Section 5178. Obligation of finder.

“ 5179. Finder to notify owner.

“ 5180. Claimant to prove ownership.

“ 5181. Reward, etc., to finder.

“ 5182. Finder may put thing found on storage.

“ 5184. How sale is to be made.

“ 5186. Thing abandoned.

5178. (§ 2520.) Obligation of finder.—One who finds a thing lost is not bound to take charge of it, but if he does so, he is thenceforth a depositary for the owner, with the rights and obligations of a depositary for hire.

5179. (§ 2521.) Finder to notify owner.—If the finder of a thing knows or suspects who is the owner, he must, with reasonable diligence, give him notice of the finding; and if he fails to do so, he is liable in damages to the owner, and has no claim to any reward offered by him for the recovery of the thing, or to any compensation for his trouble or expenses.

5180. (§ 2522.) Claimant to prove ownership.—The finder of a thing may, in good faith, before giving it up, require reasonable proof of ownership from any person claiming it.

5181. (§ 2523.) Reward, etc., to finder.—The finder of a thing is entitled to compensation for all expenses necessarily incurred by him in its preservation, and for any other service necessarily performed by him about it, and to a reasonable reward for keeping it.

5182. (§ 2524.) Finder may put thing found on storage.—The finder of a thing may exonerate himself from liability at any time, by placing it on storage with any responsible person of good character, at a reasonable expense.

5183. (§ 2525.) When finder may sell the thing found.—The finder of a thing may sell it, if it is a thing which is commonly the subject of sale, when the owner cannot, with reasonable diligence, be found, or being found, refuses, upon demand, to pay the lawful charges of the finder, in the following cases:

1. When the thing is in danger of perishing, or of losing the greater part of its value; or,

2. When the lawful charges of the finder amount to two-thirds of its value.

5184. (§ 2526.) How sale is to be made.—A sale under the provisions of the last section must be made in the same manner as the sale of a thing pledged.

5185. (§ 2527.) Surrender of thing to the finder.—The owner of a thing found may exonerate himself from the claims of the finder by surrendering it to him in satisfaction thereof.

5186. (§ 2528.) Thing abandoned.—The provisions of this article have no application to things which have been intentionally abandoned by their owners.

CHAPTER III.

DEPOSIT FOR EXCHANGE.

5187. (§ 2540.) A deposit for exchange transfers to the depositary the title to the thing deposited, and creates between him and the depositor the relation of debtor and creditor merely.

Stadler v. First N. Bank, 22 Mont. 216; 56 Pac. 119. By a deposit, not special, in a bank, the money becomes the property of the bank and the relation of debtor and creditor is created.

TITLE IV.

LOAN.

CHAPTER I. LOAN FOR USE.

II. LOAN FOR EXCHANGE.

III. LOAN FOR MONEY.

CHAPTER I.

LOAN FOR USE.

Section 5188. Loan, what.

“ 5189. Title to property lent.

“ 5191. Same.

“ 5192. Degree of skill.

“ 5193. Borrower, when to repair injuries.

Section 5194. Use of thing lent.

“ 5195. Relending forbidden.

“ 5197. Lender liable for defects.

5188. (§ 2550.) Loan, what.—A loan for use is a contract by which one gives to another the temporary use and possession of personal property, and the latter agrees to return the same thing to him at a future time, without reward for its use.

5189. (§ 2551.) Title to property lent.—A loan for use does not transfer the title to the thing; and all its increase during the period of the loan belongs to the lender.

5190. (§ 2552.) Care required of borrower.—A borrower for use must use great care for the preservation in safety and in good condition of the thing lent.

5191. (§ 2553.) Same.—One who borrows a living animal for use must treat it with great kindness, and provide everything necessary and suitable for it.

5192. (§ 2554.) Degree of skill.—A borrower for use is bound to have and to exercise such skill in the care of the thing lent as he causes the lender to believe him to possess.

5193. (§ 2555.) Borrower, when to repair injuries.—A borrower for use must repair all deteriorations or injuries to the thing lent, which are occasioned by his negligence, however slight.

5194. (§ 2556.) Use of thing lent.—The borrower of a thing for use may use it for such purposes only as the lender might reasonably anticipate at the time of lending.

5195. (§ 2557.) Relending forbidden.—The borrower of a thing for use must not part with it to a third person, without the consent of the lender.

5196. (§ 2558.) Borrower, when to bear expenses.—The borrower of a thing for use must bear all its expenses during the loan, except such as are necessarily incurred by him to preserve it from unexpected and unusual injury. For such expenses he is entitled to compensation from the lender, who may, however, exonerate himself by surrendering the thing to the borrower.

5197. (§ 2559.) Lender liable for defects.—The lender of a thing for use must indemnify the borrower for damage caused by defects or vices in it, which he knew at the time of lending, and concealed from the borrower.

5198. (§ 2560.) Lender may require return of things lent.—The lender of a thing for use may at any time require its return, even though he lent it for a specified time or purpose. But if, on the faith of such an agreement, the borrower has made such arrangements that a return of the thing before the period agreed upon would cause him loss, exceeding the benefit derived by him from the loan, the lender must indemnify him for such loss, if he compels such return, the borrower not having in any manner violated his duty.

5199. (§ 2561.) When returnable without demand.—If a thing is lent for use for a specified time or purpose, it must be returned to the lender without demand, as soon as the time has expired, or the purpose has been accomplished. In other cases it need not be returned until demanded.

5200. (§ 2562.) Place of return.—The borrower of a thing for use must return it to the lender, at the place contemplated by the parties at the time of lending; or if no particular place was so contemplated by them, then at the place where it was at that time.

CHAPTER II.

LOAN FOR EXCHANGE.

Section 5201. Loan for exchange, what.

“ 5205. Certain sections applicable.

5201. (§ 2570.) Loan for exchange, what.—A loan for exchange is a contract by which one delivers personal property to another, and the latter agrees to return to the lender a similar thing at a future time, without reward for its use.

5202. (§ 2571.) Same.—A loan, which the borrower is allowed by the lender to treat as a loan for use, or for exchange, at his option, is subject to all of the provisions of this chapter.

5203. (§ 2572.) Title to property lent.—By a loan for exchange, the title to the thing lent is transferred to the borrower, and he must bear all its expenses, and is entitled to all its increase.

5204. (§ 2573.) Contract cannot be modified by lender.—A lender for exchange cannot require the borrower to fulfill his obligations at a time, or in a manner, different from that which was originally agreed upon.

5205. (§ 2574.) Certain sections applicable.—Sections 5197 (2559), 5198 (2560) and 5199 (2561), apply to a loan for exchange.

CHAPTER III.

LOAN OF MONEY.

- Section 5206. Loan of money.*
 “ 5207. Loan to be repaid in current money.
 “ 5213. Interest becomes part of principal, when.

5206. (§ 2580.) Loan of money.—A loan of money is a contract by which one delivers a sum of money to another, and the latter agrees to return at a future time a sum equivalent to that which he borrowed. A loan for mere use is governed by the chapter on loan for use.

5207. (§ 2581.) Loan to be repaid in current money.—A borrower of money, unless there is an express contract to the contrary, must pay the amount due in such money as is current at the time when the loan becomes due, whether such money is worth more or less than the actual money lent.

5208. (§ 2582.) Loan presumed to be on interest.—When-ever a loan of money is made, it is presumed to be made upon interest, unless it is otherwise expressly stipulated at the time in writing.

Wells Co. v. Enright, 127 Cal. 675; 60 Pac. 439.

5209. (§ 2583.) Interest, what.—Interest is the compensation allowed by law or fixed by the parties for the use, or forbearance, or detention of money.

Columbia Bank v. Los Angeles, 137 Cal. 469; 70 Pac. 308.

5210. (§ 2584.) Annual rate.—When a rate of interest is prescribed by a law or contract without specifying the period of time by which such rate is to be calculated, it is to be deemed an annual rate.

5211. Interest. Contracts.—Unless there is an express contract in writing fixing a different rate, interest is payable on all moneys at the rate of eight per cent (8%) per annum, after they become due on any instrument of writing, except a judgment, on an account stated, and on moneys lent or due on any settlement of accounts from the date on which the balance is ascertained, and on moneys received to the use of another and detained from him. In the computation of interest for a period of less than one (1) year, three hundred and sixty-five (365) days are deemed to constitute a year. [Act approved February 28th. 1899.] (6th Sess. 125.)

Stanford v. Coram, 28 Mont. 291; 72 Pac. 655. Interest is recoverable on an open account from demand and the institution of suit is a demand. A judgment rendered prior to the passage of this Act bore interest at the rate of ten per centum per annum and eight per cent thereafter.

5212. (§ 2586.) Same.—Parties may agree in writing for the payment of any rate of interest, and it shall be allowed, according to the terms of the agreement, until the entry of judgment.

Yndart v. Den, 116 Cal. 538; 48 Pac. 618.

5213. (§ 2587.) Interest becomes part of principal, when.—The parties may, in any contract in writing whereby any debt is secured to be paid, agree that if the interest on such debt is not punctually paid, it shall become a part of the principal, and thereafter bear the same rate of interest as the principal debt.

Stanford v. Coram, 26 Mont. 294; 67 Pac. 1008. This section does not affect notes or agreements made before its adoption in 1895, when there was no statute on the subject of usury, and parties were at liberty to fix the rate of interest.

Yndart v. Den, 116 Cal. 536; 48 Pac. 618.

5214. Interest. Judgment.—Interest is payable on judgments recovered in the Courts of this State, at the rate of eight per cent (8%) per annum, and no greater rate, but such interest must not be compounded in any manner or form. [Act approved February 28, 1899.] (6th Sess. 125.)

TITLE V.

HIRING.

CHAPTER I. HIRING IN GENERAL.

II. HIRING OF REAL PROPERTY.

III. HIRING OF PERSONAL PROPERTY.

CHAPTER I.

HIRING IN GENERAL.

Section 5215. Hiring, what.

“ 5218. Degree of care, etc., on part of hirer.

“ 5219. Must repair injuries, etc.

“ 5220. Thing let for a particular purpose.

“ 5222. When hirer may terminate the hiring.

“ 5223. When hiring terminates.

“ 5224. When terminated by death, etc., of party.

“ 5225. Apportionment of hire.

5215. (§ 2600.) Hiring, what.—Hiring is a contract by which one gives to another the temporary possession and use of property, other than money, for reward, and the latter agrees to return the same to the former at a future time.

5216. (§ 2601.) Products of thing.—The products of a thing hired, during the hiring, belong to the hirer.

Frank v. Symons, 35 Mont. 62; 88 Pa. c. 561.

5217. (§ 2602.) Quiet possession.—An agreement to let upon hire binds the letter to secure to the hirer the quiet possession of the thing hired during the term of the hiring, against all persons lawfully claiming the same.

McDowell v. Hyman, 117 Cal. 70; 48 Pac. 984.

5218. (§ 2603.) Degree of care, etc., on part of hirer.—The hirer of a thing must use ordinary care for its preservation in safety and in good condition.

5219. (§ 2604.) Must repair injuries, etc.—The hirer of a thing must repair all deteriorations or injuries thereto occasioned by his ordinary negligence.

5220. (§ 2605.) Things let for a particular purpose.—When a thing is let for a particular purpose, the hirer must not use it for any other purpose; and if he does, the letter may hold him responsible for its safety during such use in all events, or may treat the contract as thereby rescinded.

Isom v. Rex Oil Co., 147 Cal. 661; 82 Pac. 317.

5221. (§ 2606.) When letter may terminate the hiring.—The letter of a thing may terminate the hiring and reclaim the thing before the end of the term agreed upon:

1. When the hirer uses or permits a use of the thing hired in a manner contrary to the agreement of the parties; or,
2. When the hirer does not, within a reasonable time after request, make such repairs as he is bound to make.

5222. (§ 2607.) When hirer may terminate the hiring.—The hirer of a thing may terminate the hiring before the end of the term agreed upon:

1. When the letter does not, within a reasonable time after request, fulfill his obligations, if any, as to placing and securing the hirer in the quiet possession of the thing hired, or putting it into good condition, or repairing; or,
2. When the greater part of the thing hired; or that part which was and which the letter had at the time of the hiring, reason to believe was the material inducement to the hirer to enter into the contract, perishes from any other cause than the ordinary negligence of the hirer.

5223. (§ 2608.) When hiring terminates.—The hiring of a thing terminates:

1. At the end of the term agreed upon.
2. By the mutual consent of the parties.
3. By the hirer acquiring a title to the thing hired superior to that of the letter; or,
4. By the destruction of the thing hired.

McKissick v. Ashby, 98 Cal. 425; 33 Pac. 729.

5224. (§ 2609.) When terminated by death, etc., of party.—If the hiring of a thing is terminable at the pleasure of one of the parties, it is terminated by notice to the other of his death or incapacity to contract. In other cases it is not terminated thereby.

5225. (§ 2610.) Apportionment of hire.—When the hiring of a thing is terminated before the time originally agreed upon, the hirer must pay the due proportion of the hire for such use as he has actually made of the thing, unless such use is merely nominal, and of no benefit to him.

CHAPTER II.

HIRING OF REAL PROPERTY.

Section 5226. Lessor to make dwelling house fit for its purpose.

“ 5227. When lessee may make repairs, etc.

“ 5229. Hiring of lodgings for indefinite term.

“ 5233. Attornment of a tenant to a stranger.

“ 5234. Tenant must deliver notice served on him.

“ 5235. Letting parts of rooms forbidden.

5226. (§ 2620.) Lessor to make dwelling house fit for its purpose.—The lessor of a building intended for the occupation of human beings must, in the absence of an agreement to the contrary, put it into a condition fit for such occupation, and repair all subsequent dilapidations thereof, which render it untenable, except such as are mentioned in § 5219 (2604).

Landt v. Schneider, 31 Mont. 18; 77 Pac. 308. Sections 2620 and 2621 of this code do not apply to business property, but are confined to property used for dwelling house purposes. Gately v. Campbell, 124 Cal. 522; 57 Pac. 567.

5227. (§ 2621.) When lessee may make repairs, etc.—If within a reasonable time after notice to the lessor of dilapidations which he ought to repair, he neglects to do so, the lessee may repair the same himself, where the costs of such repairs do not require an expenditure greater than one month's rent of the premises, and deduct the expenses of such repairs from the rent, or the lessee may vacate the premises, in which case he shall be discharged from further payment of rent, or performance of other conditions.

Landt v. Schneider, 31 Mont. 18; 77 Pac. 308. Gately v. Campbell, 124 Cal. 523; 57 Pac. 567.

5228. (§ 2622.) Term of hiring when no limit is fixed.—A hiring of real property, other than lodgings and dwelling houses, in places where there is no usage on the subject, is presumed to be for one year from its commencement, unless otherwise expressed in the hiring.

Brill v. Carsley, 2 C. App. 333; 84 Pac 57.

5229. (§ 2623.) Hiring of lodgings for indefinite term.—A hiring of lodgings or a dwelling house for an unspecified time is presumed to have been made for such length of time as the parties adopt for the estimation of the rent. Thus a hiring at a monthly rate of rent is presumed to be for one month. In the absence of any agreement respecting the length of time or the rent, the hiring is presumed to be monthly.

5230. (§ 2624.) Renewal of lease by lessee's continued possession.—If a lessee of real property remains in possession thereof after the expiration of the hiring, and the lessor accepts rent from him, the parties are presumed to have renewed the hiring on the same terms and for the same time, not exceeding one month, when the rent is payable monthly, nor in any case one year.

Brill v. Carsley, 2 C. App. 333; 84 Pac 57.

5231. (§ 2625.) Notice to quit.—A hiring of real property, for a term not specified by the parties, is deemed to be renewed as stated in the last section, at the end of the term implied by law, unless one of the parties gives notice to the other of his intention to terminate the same, at least as long before the expiration thereof as the term of the hiring itself, not exceeding one month.

Owen v. Herzikoff, 2 C. App. 623; 84 Pac. 274.

5232. (§ 2626.) Rent, when payable.—When there is no usage or contract to the contrary, rents are payable at the termination of the holding, when it does not exceed one year. If the holding is by the day, week, month, quarter, or year, rent is payable at the termination of the respective periods, as it successively becomes due.

5233. (§ 2627.) Attornment of a tenant to a stranger.—The attornment of a tenant to a stranger is void, unless it is made with the consent of the landlord, or in consequence of a judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

5234. (§ 2628.) Tenant must deliver notice served on him.—Every tenant who receives notice of any proceedings to recover the real property occupied by him, or the possession thereof, must immediately inform his landlord of the same, and also deliver to the landlord the notice, if in writing, and is responsible to the landlord for all damages which he may sustain by reason of any omission to inform him of the notice, or to deliver it to him if in writing.

5235. (§ 2629.) Letting parts of rooms forbidden.—One who hires part of a room for a dwelling is entitled to the whole of the room, notwithstanding any agreement to the contrary, and if a landlord lets a room as a dwelling for more than one family, the person to whom he first lets any part of it is entitled to the possession of the whole room for the term agreed upon, and every tenant in the building, under the same landlord, is relieved from all obligation to pay rent to him while such double letting of any room continues.

CHAPTER III.

HIRING OF PERSONAL PROPERTY.

- Section 5236. Obligations of letter of personal property.*
 “ 5240. Charter party, what.

5236. (§ 2640.) Obligations of letter of personal property.—One who lets personal property must deliver it to the hirer, secure his quiet enjoyment thereof against all lawful claimants, put it into a condition fit for the purpose for which he lets it, and repair all deteriorations thereof not occasioned by the fault of the hirer and not the natural result of its use.

5237. (§ 2641.) Ordinary expenses.—A hirer of personal property must bear all such expenses concerning it as might naturally be foreseen to attend it during its use by him. All other expenses must be borne by the letter.

5238. (§ 2642.) Extraordinary expenses.—If a letter fails to fulfill his obligations, as prescribed by § 5236 (2640), the hirer after giving him notice to do so, if such notice can conveniently be given, may expend any reasonable amount necessary to make good the letter's default, and may recover such amount from him.

5239. (§ 2643.) Return of the thing hired.—At the expiration of the term for which personal property is hired, the hirer must return it to the letter at the place contemplated by the parties at the time of hiring; or, if no particular place was so contemplated by them, at the place at which it was at that time.

5240. (§ 2644.) Charter party, what.—The contract by which a ship is let is termed a charter party. By it the owner may either let the capacity or burden of the ship, and continuing the employment of the owner's master, crew and equipments, or may surrender the entire ship to the charterer, who then provides them himself. The master or part owner may be a charterer.

 III. SERVICE WITHOUT EMPLOYMENT.

CHAPTER I.

SERVICE WITH EMPLOYMENT.

- ARTICLE I. DEFINITION OF EMPLOYMENT.
 II. OBLIGATIONS OF THE EMPLOYER.
 III. OBLIGATIONS OF EMPLOYEE.
 IV. TERMINATION OF EMPLOYMENT.

ARTICLE I.

DEFINITION OF EMPLOYMENT.

5241. (§ 2650.) The contract of employment is a contract by which one, who is called the employer, engages another, who is called the employe, to do something for the benefit of the employer or of a third person.

White v. Alameda, 124 Cal. 98; 56 Pac. 795.

ARTICLE II.

OBLIGATIONS OF THE EMPLOYER.

- Section 5242. When employer must indemnify employe.
 “ 5244. Employer to indemnify for his own negligence.
 “ 5245. Railway corporation. Vice principals.
 “ 5246. Mines, mills and smelters. Vice principals.
 “ 5249. Contract of insurance no bar to recovery.
 “ 5251. Railway corporations liable for negligence of fellow servant.

5242. (§ 2660.) When employer must indemnify employe.—
 An employer must indemnify his employe, except as prescribed in the next section, § 5243 (2661), for all that he necessarily expends or loses in direct consequence of the discharge of his duties as such, or of his obedience to the directions of the employer, even though unlawful, unless the employe, at the time of obeying such directions, believed them to be unlawful.

Coulter v. Union L. Co., 34 Mont. 605; 87 Pac. 977.

Hardesty v. Largey L. Co., 34 Mont. 161; 86 Pac. 32. Sections 2660, 2661 and 2662 are directly applicable to cases arising between master and servant on account of personal injuries sustained by the latter in the course of his employment.

5243. (§ 2661.) When not.—An employer is not bound to indemnify his employe for losses suffered by the latter in consequence of the ordinary risks of the business in which he is employed.

Hardesty v. Largey L. Co., 34 Mont. 161; 86 Pac. 32.

Coulter v. Union L. Co., 34 Mont. 604; 87 Pac. 977.

Leishman v. Union Works, 148 Cal. 282; 83 Pac. 30.

5244. (§ 2662.) Employer to indemnify for his own negligence.—An employer must in all cases indemnify his employe for losses caused by the former's want of ordinary care.

Coulter v. Union L. Co., 34 Mont. 600; 87 Pac. 975.

Hardesty v. Largey L. Co., 34 Mont. 161; 86 Pac. 32.

Thompson v. California C. Co., 148 Cal. 37; 82 Pac. 367.

5245. Railway corporation. Vice principals.—Every railway corporation including electric railway corporations, doing business in this State, shall be liable for all damages sustained by an employe thereof, within this State, without contributing negligence on his part, when such damages is caused by the negligence of any train dispatcher, telegraph operator, superintendent, master mechanic, yardmaster, conductor, engineer, motorman, or of any other employe who has superintendence of any stationary or hand signal. [Act approved March 5th, 1903, § 1.] (8th Sess. Chap. 83.)

Kelly v. Northern P. Co. 35 Mont. 520; 88 Pac. 1009. A servant of a railway company, who relies for recovery of damages for personal injuries upon the provisions of either of the fellow servant acts, creating a liability on the part of the master where none existed before their enactment, must set forth in ordinary and concise language a statement of facts showing his right to recover under such special statute.

5246. Mines, mills and smelters. Vice principals.—That every company, corporation, or individual operating any mine, smelter or mill for the refining of ores shall be liable for all damages sustained by an employe thereof within this State, without contributing negligence on his part, when such damage is caused by the negligence of any superintendent, foreman, shift-boss, hoisting or other engineer, or crane-men. [Act approved March 5th, 1903, § 2.] (8th Sess. Chap. 83.)

5247. Contract of insurance not to relieve employer.—No contract of insurance, relief, benefit, or indemnity in case of injury or death, nor any other contract entered into either before or after the injury, between the person injured and any of the employers named in this Act shall constitute any bar or defense to any cause of action brought under the provisions of this Act. [Act approved March 5th, 1903, § 3.] (8th Sess. Chap. 83.)

5248. Mining companies liable for negligence of certain employes.—That every company, corporation, or individual operating any mine, smelter, or mill for the refining of ores shall be liable for any damages sustained by any employes thereof within this State, without contributing negligence on his part, when such damage is caused by the negligence of any superintendent, foreman, shift-boss, hoisting, or other engineer, or crane men. [Act approved February 20, 1905, § 1.] (9th Sess. Chap. 23.)

5249. Contract of insurance no bar to recovery.—No contract of insurance, relief, benefit, or indemnity in case of injury or death, nor any other contract entered into before the injury, between the person injured and any of the employers named in this Act shall constitute any bar or defense to any cause of action brought under the provision of this Act. [Act approved February 20, 1905, § 2.] (9th Sess. Chap. 23.)

5250. Survival of action.—In case of the death of any such employes in consequence of any injury or damages so sustained, the right of action shall survive and may be prosecuted and maintained by its heirs, or personal representatives. [Act approved February 20, 1905, § 3.] (9th Sess. Chap. 23.)

5251. Railway corporations liable for negligence of fellow servant.—Every person or corporation operating a railway or railroad in this State shall be liable for all damages sustained by any employe of such person or corporation in consequence of the neglect of any other employe or employes thereof, or by the mismanagement of any other employe or employes thereof, and in consequence of the wilful wrongs, whether of commission or omission, of any other employe or employes thereof, when such neglect, mismanagement or wrongs, are in any manner connected with the use and operation of any railway or railroad on or about which they shall be employed, and no contract which restricts such liability shall be legal or binding. [Act approved January 16, 1905, § 1.] (9th Sess. Chap. 1.)

Kelly v. Northern P. Co., 35 Mont. 250; 88 Pac. 1009.

5252. Survival of action.—In case of the death of any such employe in consequence of any injury or damage so sustained, the right of action shall survive and may be prosecuted and maintained by his heirs or personal representatives. [Act approved January 16, 1905, § 2.] (9th Sess. Chap. 1.)

ARTICLE III.

OBLIGATIONS OF THE EMPLOYEE.

Section 5253. Duties of gratuitous employe.

" 5254. Same.

" 5255. Same.

" 5256. Duties of employe for reward.

- Section 5257. Duties of employe for his own benefit.*
“ 5258. Contracts for service limited to two years.
“ 5259. Employe must obey employer.
“ 5261. Degree of skill required.
“ 5263. What belongs to employer.
“ 5266. Reference to be given to employers.
“ 5267. Responsibility of employe for substitute.
“ 5268. Responsibility for negligence.

5253. (§ 2670.) Duties of gratuitous employe.—One who, without consideration, undertakes to do a service for another, is not bound to perform the same, but if he actually enters upon its performance, he must use at least slight care and diligence therein.

5254. (§ 2671.) Same.—One who, by his own special request, induces another to intrust him with the performance of a service, must perform the same fully. In other cases, one who undertakes a gratuitous service may relinquish it at any time.

5255. (§ 2672.) Same.—A gratuitous employe, who accepts a written power of attorney, must act under it so long as it remains in force, or until he gives notice to his employer that he will not do so.

5256. (§ 2673.) Duties of employe for reward.—One who, for a good consideration, agrees to serve another, must perform the service, and must use ordinary care and diligence therein, so long as he is thus employed.

5257. (§ 2674.) Duties of employe for his own benefit.—One who is employed at his own request to do that which is more for his own advantage than for that of his employer, must use great care and diligence therein to protect the interest of the latter.

5258. (§ 2675.) Contracts for service limited to two years.—A contract to render personal service, other than a contract of apprenticeship, as provided in the chapter on apprentices, cannot be enforced against the employe beyond the term of two years from the commencement of service under it; but if the employe voluntarily continues his service under it beyond that time, the contract may be referred to as affording a presumptive measure of the compensation.

Stone v. Bancroft, 139 Cal. 81; 70 Pac. 1017.

5259. (§ 2676.) Employe must obey employer.—An employe must substantially comply with all the directions of his employer concerning the service on which he is engaged, except where such obedience is impossible or unlawful, or would impose new and unreasonable burdens upon the employee.

5260. (§ 2677.) Employee to conform to usage.—An employee must perform his service in conformity to the usage of the place of performance, unless otherwise directed by his employer, or unless it is impracticable, or manifestly injurious to his employer to do so.

Burns v. Sennett, 99 Cal. 371; 33 Pac. 916.

5261. (§ 2678.) Degree of skill required.—An employee is bound to exercise a reasonable degree of skill, unless his employer has notice, before employing him, of his want of skill.

5262. (§ 2679.) Must use what skill he has.—An employee is always bound to use such skill as he possesses, so far as the same is required, for the service specified.

5263. (§ 2680.) What belongs to employer.—Everything which an employee acquires by virtue of his employment, except the compensation, if any, which is due to him from his employer, belongs to the latter, whether acquired lawfully or unlawfully, or during or after the expiration of the term of his employment.

5264. (§ 2681.) Duty to account.—An employee must, on demand, render to his employer just accounts of all his transactions in the course of his service, as often as may be reasonable, and must, without demand, give prompt notice to his employer of everything which he receives for his account.

5265. (§ 2682.) Employee not bound to deliver without demand.—An employee who receives anything on account of his employer, in any capacity other than that of a mere servant, is not bound to deliver it to him until demanded, and is not at liberty to send it to him from a distance, without demand, in any mode involving greater risk than its retention by the employee himself.

5266. (§ 2683.) Reference to be given to employers.—An employee who has any business to transact on his own account, similar to that intrusted to him by his employer, must always give the latter the preference.

5267. (§ 2684.) Responsibility of employee for substitute.—An employee who is expressly authorized to employ a substitute is liable to his principal only for want of ordinary care in his selection. The substitute is directly responsible to the principal.

5268. (§ 2685.) Responsibility for negligence.—An employee who is guilty of a culpable degree of negligence is liable to his employer for the damage thereby caused to the latter; and the employer is liable to him, if the service is not gratuitous, for the value of such services only as are properly rendered.

5269. (§ 2686.) Surviving employee.—Where service is to be rendered by two or more persons jointly, and one of them dies.

the survivor must act alone, if the service to be rendered is such as he can rightly perform without the aid of the deceased person, but not otherwise.

5270. (§ 2687.) Confidential employment.—The obligations peculiar to confidential employments are defined in the title on trusts.

ARTICLE IV.

TERMINATION OF EMPLOYMENT.

Section 5271. Termination by death, etc., of employer.

“ 5272. Employment, how terminated.

“ 5274. Termination at will.

“ 5276. Termination by employe for fault.

“ 5277. Compensation of employe dismissed for cause.

“ 5278. Compensation of employe leaving for cause.

5271. (§ 2700.) Termination by death, etc., of employer.—Every employment in which the power of the employe is not coupled with an interest in its subject is terminated by notice to him of:

1. The death of the employer; or,
2. His legal incapacity to contract.

5272. (§ 2701.) Employment, how terminated.—Every employment is terminated:

1. By the expiration of its appointed term.
2. By the extinction of its subject.
3. By the death of the employe: or,
4. By his legal incapacity to act as such.

White v. Alameda, 124 Cal. 98; 56 Pac. 795.

5273. (§ 2702.) Continuance of service in certain cases.—An employe, unless the term of his service has expired, or unless he has a right to discontinue it at any time without notice, must continue his service after notice of the death or incapacity of his employer, so far as is necessary to protect from serious injury the interests of the employer's successor in interest, until a reasonable time after notice of the facts has been communicated to such successor. The successor must compensate the employe for such service according to the terms of the contract of employment.

5274. (§ 2703.) Termination at will.—An employment having no specified term, may be terminated at the will of either party, on notice to the other, except where otherwise provided by this title.

5275. (§ 2704.) Termination by employer for fault.—An employment, even for a specified term, may be terminated at any time by the employer, in case of any wilful breach of duty by the employe in the course of his employment, or in case of his habitual neglect of his duty or continued incapacity to perform it.

5276. (§ 2705.) Termination by employe for fault.—An employment, even for a specified term, may be terminated by the employe at any time, in case of any wilful or permanent breach of obligations of his employer to him as an employe.

5277. (§ 2706.) Compensation of employe dismissed for cause.—An employe, dismissed by his employer for good cause, is not entitled to any compensation for services rendered since the last day upon which a payment became due to him under the contract.

5278. (§ 2707.) Compensation of employe leaving for cause.—An employe who quits the service of his employer for good cause, is entitled to such proportion of the compensation which would become due in case of full performance, as the services which he has already rendered, bear to the services which he was to render as full performance.

CHAPTER II.

PARTICULAR EMPLOYMENTS.

ARTICLE I. MASTER AND SERVANT.

II. AGENTS.

III. FACTORS.

ARTICLE I.

MASTER AND SERVANT.

Section 5279. Servant, what.

“ 5282. Renewal of hiring.

“ 5283. Time of service.

“ 5284. Servant to pay over without demand.

“ 5285. When servant may be discharged.

5279. (§ 2720.) Servant, what.—A servant is one who is employed to render personal service to his employer, otherwise than in the pursuit of an independent calling, and who in such service remains entirely under the control and direction of the latter, who is called his master.

Hedge v. Williams, 131 Cal. 459; 63 Pac. 721.

5280. (§ 2721.) Term of hiring.—A servant is presumed to have been hired for such length of time as the parties adopt for the estimation of wages. A hiring at a yearly rate is presumed to be for one year; a hiring at a daily rate, for one day; a hiring by piece work, for no specified term.

Etchas v. Orena, 127 Cal. 592; 60 Pac. 45.

5281. (§ 2722.) Same.—In the absence of any agreement or custom as to the term of service, the time of payment, or rate or value of wages, a servant is presumed to be hired by the month, at a monthly rate of reasonable wages, to be paid when the service is performed.

White v. Alameda, 124 Cal. 98; 56 Pac. 795.

5282. (§ 2723.) Renewal of hiring.—Where, after the expiration of an agreement respecting the wages and the term of service, the parties continue the relation of master and servant, they are presumed to have renewed the agreement for the same wages and term of service.

Gabriel v. Suisun Bank, 145 Cal. 267; 78 Pac. 736.

5283. (§ 2724.) Time of service.—The entire time of a domestic servant belongs to the master, and the time of other servants to such extent as is usual in the business in which they serve, not exceeding in any case ten hours in the day.

5284. (§ 2725.) Servant to pay over without demand.—A servant must deliver to his master, as soon as with reasonable diligence he can find him, everything that he receives for his account, without demand; but he is not bound without orders from his master, to send anything to him through another person.

5285. (§ 2726.) When servant may be discharged.—A master may discharge any servant, other than an apprentice, whether engaged for a fixed term or not:

1. If he is guilty of misconduct in the course of his service, or of gross immorality, though unconnected with the same; or,

2. If, being employed about the person of his master, or in a confidential position, the master discovers that he has been guilty of misconduct, before or after the commencement of his service, of such a nature that if the master had known or contemplated it, he would not have so employed him.

ARTICLE II.

AGENTS.

Section 5286. Agent to conform to his authority.

“ 5287. Must keep his principal informed.

“ 5288. Collecting agent.

5286. (§ 2740.) Agent to conform to his authority.—An agent must not exceed the limits of his actual authority, as defined by the title on agency.

5287. (§ 2741.) Must keep his principal informed.—An agent must use ordinary diligence to keep his principal informed of his acts in the course of the agency.

5288. (§ 2742.) Collecting agent.—An agent employed to collect a negotiable instrument must collect it promptly, and take all measures necessary to charge the parties thereto, in case of its dishonor; and, if it is a bill of exchange, must present it for acceptance with reasonable diligence.

5289. (§ 2743.) Responsibility of sub-agent.—A mere agent of an agent is not responsible as such to the principal of the latter.

ARTICLE III.

FACTORS.

Section 5290. Factor, what.

“ 5291. Obedience required from factor.

“ 5294. Factor cannot relieve himself of liability.

5290. (§ 2750.) Factor, what.—A factor is an agent, who, in the pursuit of an independent calling, is employed by another to sell property for him, and is vested by the latter with the possession or control of the property, or authorized to receive payment therefor from the purchaser.

5291. (§ 2751.) Obedience required from factor.—A factor must obey the instructions of his principal to the same extent as any other employe, notwithstanding any advances he may have made to his principal upon the property consigned to him, except that if the principal forbids him to sell at the market price, he may, nevertheless, sell for his reimbursement, after giving to his principal reasonable notice of his intention to do so, and of the time and place of sale, and proceeding in all respects as a pledgee.

5292. (§ 2752.) Sales on credit.—A factor may sell property consigned to him on such credit as is usual; but, having once agreed with the purchaser upon the terms of credit, may not extend it.

5293. (§ 2753.) Liability of factor under guaranty commission.—A factor who charges his principal with a guaranty commission upon a sale, thereby assumes absolutely to pay the price when it falls due, as if it were a debt of his own, and not as a mere guarantor for the purchaser; but he does not thereby assume any additional responsibility for the safety of his remittance of the proceeds.

5294. (§ 2754.) Factor cannot relieve himself from liability.—A factor who receives property for sale, under a general agreement or usage to guarantee the sales or the remittance of the proceeds, cannot relieve himself from responsibility therefor without the consent of his principal.

CHAPTER III.

SERVICE WITHOUT EMPLOYMENT.

5295. (§ 2760.) One who officiously, and without the consent of the real or apparent owner of a thing, takes it into his possession for the purpose of rendering service about it, must complete such service, and use ordinary care, diligence, and reasonable skill about the same. He is not entitled to any compensation for his service or expenses, except that he may deduct actual and necessary expenses, incurred by him about such service from any profits which his service has caused the thing to acquire for its owner, and must account to the owner for the residue.

TITLE VII.

CARRIAGE.

- CHAPTER I. CARRIAGE IN GENERAL.
- II. CARRIAGE OF PERSONS.
- III. CARRIAGE OF PROPERTY.
- IV. CARRIAGE OF MESSAGES.
- V. COMMON CARRIERS.

CHAPTER I.

CARRIAGE IN GENERAL.

Section 5296. Contract of carriage.

“ 5297. Obligations of gratuitous carriers.

“ 5298. Obligations of gratuitous carrier who has begun to carry.

5296. (§ 2770.) Contract of carriage.—The contract of carriage is a contract for the conveyance of property, persons or messages, from one place to another.

5297. (§ 2771.) Obligations of gratuitous carriers.—Carriers without reward are subject to the same rules as employes without reward, except so far as is otherwise provided by this title.

5298. (§ 2772.) Obligations of gratuitous carrier who has begun to carry.—A carrier without reward, who has begun to perform his undertaking, must complete it in like manner as if he had received a reward, unless he restores the person or thing carried to as favorable a position as before he commenced his carriage.

CHAPTER II.

CARRIAGE OF PERSONS.

ARTICLE I. GRATUITOUS CARRIAGE OF PERSONS.

II. CARRIAGE FOR REWARD.

ARTICLE I.

GRATUITOUS CARRIAGE OF PERSONS.

5299. (§ 2780.) A carrier of persons without reward must use ordinary care and diligence for their safe carriage.

ARTICLE II.

CARRIAGE FOR REWARD.

Section 5300. General duties of carrier.

“ 5301. Vehicles.

“ 5302. Not to overlook his vehicle.

5300. (§ 2790.) General duties of carrier.—A carrier of persons for reward must use the utmost care and diligence for their safe carriage, must provide everything necessary for that purpose, and must exercise to that end a reasonable degree of skill.

Taillon v. Mears, 29 Mont. 169; 74 Pac. 423. This section is declaratory of the common law as it has existed for many years. A contract of carriage is, in effect, that the carrier, in consideration of the payment of the rate demanded, will use all possible care and diligence in delivering the passenger safely and promptly at the place of destination.

Osgood v. Los Angeles Co., 137 Cal. 28; 70 Pac. 169.

5301. (§ 2791.) Vehicles.—A carrier of persons for reward is bound to provide vehicles safe and fit for the purposes to which they are put, and is not excused for default in this respect by any degree of care.

Fisher v. S. P. R. Co., 89 Cal. 406; 26 Pac. 894.

5302. (§ 2792.) Not to overload his vehicle.—A carrier of persons for reward must not overcrowd or overload his vehicle.

5303. (§ 2793.) Treatment of passengers.—A carrier of persons for reward must give to passengers all such accommodations as are usual and reasonable, and must treat them with civility, and give them a reasonable degree of attention.

5304. (§ 2794.) Rate of speed and delays.—A carrier of persons for reward must travel at a reasonable rate of speed, and without any unreasonable delay, or deviation from his proper route.

CHAPTER III.

CARRIAGE OF PROPERTY.

- ARTICLE I. GENERAL DEFINITIONS.
II. OBLIGATIONS OF THE CARRIER.
III. BILL OF LADING.
IV. FREIGHTAGE.

ARTICLE I.

GENERAL DEFINITIONS.

5305. (§ 2800.) Property carried is called freight; the reward, if any, to be paid for its carriage is called freightage; the person who delivers the freight to the carrier is called the consignor; and the person to whom it is to be delivered is called the consignee.

ARTICLE II.

OBLIGATIONS OF THE CARRIER.

- Section 5306. Care and diligence required of carriers.*
“ 5307. Carrier to obey directions.
“ 5308. Conflict of orders.

5306. (§ 2810.) Care and diligence required of carriers.—A carrier of property for reward must use at least ordinary care and diligence in the performance of all his duties. A carrier without reward must use at least slight care and diligence.

5307. (§ 2811.) Carrier to obey directions.—A carrier must comply with the directions of the consignor or consignee to the same extent as an employe is bound to comply with those of his employer.

5308. (§ 2812.) Conflict of orders.—When the directions of a consignor and consignee are conflicting, the carrier must comply with those of the consignor in respect to all matters except the delivery of the freight, as to which he must comply with the directions of the consignee, unless the consignor has specially forbidden the carrier to receive orders from the consignee inconsistent with his own.

5309. (§ 2813.) Delivery of freight.—A carrier of property must deliver it to the consignee at the place to which it is addressed, in the manner usual at that place.

5310. (§ 2814.) Place of delivery.—If there is no usage to the contrary at the place of delivery, freight must be delivered as follows:

1. If carried on a railway owned or managed by the carrier, it may be delivered at the station nearest to the place to which it is addressed.

2. If carried by water, it may be delivered at a wharf or other suitable landing, at or within a reasonable distance from the place of address.

3. In other cases, it must be delivered to the consignee or his agent, personally, if either can, with reasonable diligence, be found.

5311. (§ 2815.) Obligations of carrier when freight is not delivered to consignee.—If, for any reason, a carrier does not deliver freight to the consignee or his agent personally, he must give notice to the consignee of its arrival, and keep the same in safety upon his responsibility as a warehouseman, until the consignee has had a reasonable time to remove it. If the place of residence or business of the consignee be unknown to the carrier he may give the notice by letter dropped in the nearest postoffice.

5312. (§ 2816.) How carrier may terminate his liability.—If a consignee does not accept and remove freight within a reasonable time after the carrier has fulfilled his obligation to deliver, or duly offered to fulfill the same, the carrier may exonerate himself from further liability by placing the freight in a suitable warehouse on storage, on account of the consignee, and giving notice thereof to him.

ARTICLE III.

BILL OF LADING.

- Section 5314. Bill of lading, what.*
 “ 5315. Bill of lading negotiable.
 “ 5316. Same.
 “ 5319. Carrier exonerated by delivery according to bill of lading.

5314. (§ 2830.) Bill of lading, what.—A bill of lading is an instrument in writing, signed by a carrier or his agent, describing the freight so as to identify it, stating the name of the consignor, the terms of the contract for carriage, and agreeing or directing that the freight be delivered to the order or assigns of a specified person at a specified place.

5315. (§ 2831.) Bill of lading negotiable.—All the title to the freight which the first holder of a bill of lading had when he received it, passes to every subsequent indorsee thereof in good faith and for value, in the ordinary course of business, with like effect and in like manner as in the case of a bill of exchange.

5316. (§ 2832.) Same.—When a bill of lading is made to “bearer” or equivalent terms, a simple transfer thereof, by delivery, conveys the same title as an indorsement.

5317. (§ 2833.) Effect of bill of lading on rights, etc., of carrier.—A bill of lading does not alter the rights or obligations of the carrier as defined in this chapter, unless it is plainly inconsistent therewith.

5318. Bills of lading.—A carrier on demand must subscribe and deliver to the consignor an original Bill of Lading and on demand must also furnish to him any reasonable number of copies thereof, each of such copies to be of the same tenor as the original and to express truly the original contract for carriage; and if any carrier refuses to do so, the consignor may take the freight from him and recover from him, besides, all damage thereby occasioned. [Act approved February 28th, 1901.] (7th Sess. 154.)

5319. (§ 2835.) Carrier exonerated by delivery according to bill of lading.—A carrier is exonerated from liability for freight by delivery thereof, in good faith, to any holder of a bill of lading therefor, properly indorsed, or made in favor of the bearer.

McKelvey v. Perham, 31 Mont. 606; Cavallaro v. Texas R. Co., 110 Cal. 79 Pac. 254. 357; 42 Pac. 918.

5320. (§ 2836.) Carrier may demand surrender of bill of lading before delivery.—When a carrier has given a bill of lading, or other instrument substantially equivalent thereto, he may require its surrender or a reasonable indemnity against claims thereon, before delivering the freight.

ARTICLE IV.

FREIGHTAGE.

Section 5321. When freightage is to be paid.

“ 5322. Consignor, when liable for freightage.

“ 5327. Apportionment according to distance.

“ 5329. Carrier's lien for freightage.

5321. (§ 2840.) When freightage is to be paid.—A carrier may require his freightage to be paid upon his receiving the freight; but if he does not demand it then, he cannot until he is ready to deliver the freight to the consignee.

5322. Consignor, when liable for freightage.—The consignor of freight is presumed to be liable for the freightage, but if the contract between him and the carrier provides that the consignee shall pay it, and the carrier allows the consignee to take the freight, he cannot afterwards recover the freightage from the consignor.

5323. (§ 2842.) Consignee, when liable.—The consignee of freight is liable for the freightage, if he accepts the freight with notice of the intention of the consignor that he should pay it.

5324. (§ 2843.) Natural increase of freight.—No freightage can be charged upon the natural increase of freight.

5325. (§ 2844.) Apportionment by contract.—If freightage is apportioned by a bill of lading or other contract made between a consignor and carrier, the carrier is entitled to payment, according to the apportionment, for so much as he delivers.

5326. (§ 2845.) Same.—If a part of the freight is accepted by a consignee, without a specific objection that the rest is not delivered, the freightage must be apportioned and paid as to that part, though not apportioned in the original contract.

5327. (§ 2846.) Apportionment according to distance.—If a consignee voluntarily receives freight at a place short of the one appointed for delivery, the carrier is entitled to a just proportion of the freightage, according to distance. If the carrier, being ready and willing, offers to complete the transit, he is entitled to the full freightage. If he does not thus offer completion, and the consignee receives the freight only from necessity, the carrier is not entitled to any freightage.

5328. (§ 2847.) Freight carried further than agreed, etc.—If freight is carried further, or more expeditiously, than was agreed upon by the parties, the carrier is not entitled to additional compensation, and cannot refuse to deliver it, on demand of the consignee, at the place and time of its arrival.

5329. (§ 2848.) Carrier's lien for freightage.—A carrier has a lien for freightage, which is regulated by the title on liens.

CHAPTER IV.

CARRIAGE OF MESSAGES.

Section 5330. Obligations of carriers of messages.

“ 5331. Degree of care and diligence required.

5330. (§ 2860.) Obligations of carriers of messages.—A carrier of messages for reward, other than by telegraph or telephone, must deliver them at the place to which they are addressed, or to the person for whom they are intended. Such carrier, by telegraph or telephone, must deliver them at such place and to such person, provided the place of address, or the person for whom they are intended, is within a distance of two miles from the main office of the carrier in the city or town to which the messages are transmitted, and the carrier is not required, in making the delivery, to pay on his route, toll or ferriage; but for any distance beyond one mile from such office, compensation may be charged for a messenger employed by the carrier.

Pacific Co. v. Western Union Co., 123 Cal. 430; 56 Pac. 103.

5331. (§ 2861.) Degree of care and diligence required.—A carrier of messages for reward must use great care and diligence in the transmission and delivery of messages.

Coit v. Western Union Co., 130 Cal. 660; 63 Pac. 83.

| ARTICLE | I. | COMMON CARRIERS IN GENERAL |
| | II. | COMMON CARRIERS OF PERSONS. |
| | III. | COMMON CARRIERS OF PROPERTY. |
| | IV. | COMMON CARRIERS OF MESSAGES. |

ARTICLE I.

COMMON CARRIERS IN GENERAL.

Section 5332. Common carrier, what.

“ 5333. Obligation to accept freight.

“ 5334. Obligation not to give preference.

“ 5337. Compensation.

“ 5338. Obligations of carrier altered only by agreement.

“ 5339. Certain agreements void.

“ 5341. When not liable for loss.

5332. (§ 2870.) Common carrier, what.—Every one who offers to the public to carry persons, property, or messages, excepting only telegraphic or telephonic messages, is a common carrier of whatever he thus offers to carry.

5333. (§ 2871.) Obligation to accept freight.—A common carrier must, if able to do so, accept and carry whatever is offered to him, at a reasonable time and place, of a kind that he undertakes or is accustomed to carry.

Barrett v. Market R. Co., 81 Cal. 298; 22 Pac. 859.

5334. (§ 2872.) Obligation not to give preference.—A common carrier must not give preference in time, price or otherwise to one person over another. Every common carrier of passengers by railroad, or by vessel plying upon waters lying wholly within this state, shall establish a schedule time for the starting of trains or vessels from their respective stations or wharves, of which public notice shall be given, and shall, weather permitting, except in case of accident or detention caused by connecting lines, start their said trains or vessels at or within ten minutes after the schedule time so established and notice given, under a penalty of two hundred and fifty dollars for each neglect so to do, to be recovered by action before any court of competent jurisdiction, upon complaint filed by the county attorney of the county in the name of the state, and paid into the common school fund of the said county.

Pfister v. Central P. R. Co., 70 Cal. 178; 11 Pac. 686.

5335. (§ 2873.) What preferences he must give.—A common carrier must always give a preference in time, and may give a preference in price, to the United States and to this state.

5336. (§ 2874.) Starting.—A common carrier must start at such time and place as he announces to the public, unless detained by accident or the elements, or in order to connect with carriers on other lines of travel.

5337. (§ 2875.) Compensation.—A common carrier is entitled to a reasonable compensation and no more, which he may require to be paid in advance. If payment thereof is refused, he may refuse to carry.

5338. (§ 2876.) Obligations of carrier altered only by agreement.—The obligations of a common carrier cannot be limited by general notice on his part, but may be limited by special contract.

Nelson v. Great N. R. Co., 28 Mont. 321; 72 Pac. 649. A common carrier cannot by special contract limit its liability for delay in the transportation of property arising from its negligence, or the negligence of its servants.

Rose v. N. P. R. Co., 35 Mont. 78; 88 Pac. 767.

5339. (§ 2877.) Certain agreements void.—A common carrier cannot be exonerated by any agreement made in anticipation thereof, from liability for the gross negligence, fraud, or wilful wrong of himself or his servants.

Nelson v. Great N. R. Co., 28 Mont. 321; 72 Pac. 649.

Merrill v. Pacific T. Co., 131 Cal. 589; 63 Pac. 915.

5340. (§ 2878.) Effect of written contract.—A passenger, consignor, or consignee, by accepting a ticket, bill of lading or written contract for carriage, with a knowledge of its terms, assents to the rate of hire, the time, place and manner of delivery therein stated. But his assent to any other modification of the carrier's rights or obligations contained in such instrument can only be manifested by his signature to the same.

Rose v. N. P. R. Co., 35 Mont. 78; 88 Pac. 767. A contract made by a railway company with a passenger in the sale of a ticket, which contained the provision that in view of the reduced rate at which it was furnished, the liability of the carrier for loss of baggage should be limited to $100, is not void as against public policy.

Merrill v. Pacific I. Co., 131 Cal. 586; 63 Pac. 915.

5341. (§ 2879.) When not liable for loss.—A common carrier is not responsible for loss or miscarriage of a letter, or package having the form of a letter, containing money or notes, bills of exchange, or other papers of value, unless he is informed at the time of its receipt of the value of its contents.

 " 5349. Fare, when payable.
 " 5350. Ejection of passengers.
 " 5351. Fare not payable after ejection.
 " 5352. Carrier's lien.

5342. (§ 2890.) Obligation to carry baggage.—A common carrier of persons, unless his vehicle is fitted for the reception of persons exclusively, must receive and carry a reasonable amount of baggage for each passenger, without charge, except for an excess of weight over one hundred pounds to a passenger; but if such carrier be a proprietor of a stage line, he may not receive and carry for each passenger by such stage line, without charge, more than sixty pounds of baggage.

Metz v. California R. Co., 85 Cal. 330; 24 Pac. 610.

5343. (§ 2891.) Baggage, what.—Baggage may consist of any articles intended for the use of a passenger while traveling, or for his personal equipment.

Metz v. California R. Co., 85 Cal. 330; 24 Pac. 610.

5344. (§ 2892.) Liability for baggage.—The liability of a carrier for baggage received by him with a passenger is the same as that of a common carrier of property.

Rose v. N. P. R. Co., 35 Mont. 80; 88 Pac. 767. Pfister v. Central P. R. Co., 70 Cal. 173; 11 Pac. 686.

5345. (§ 2893.) Baggage, how carried and delivered.—A common carrier must deliver every passenger's baggage, whether within the prescribed weight or not, immediately upon the arrival of the passenger at his destination; and, unless the vehicle would be overcrowded or overloaded thereby, must carry it on the same vehicle by which he carries the passenger to whom it belonged, except that where baggage is transported by rail, it must be checked and carried in a regular baggage car; and whenever passengers neglect or refuse to have their baggage so checked and transported, it is carried at their risk.

Pfister v. Central P. R. Co., 70 Cal. 173; 11 Pac. 686.

5346. (§ 2894.) Obligation to provide vehicles.—A common carrier of persons must provide a sufficient number of vehicles to accommodate all the passengers who can be reasonably expected to require carriage at any one time.

5347. (§ 2895.) Seats for passengers.—A common carrier of persons must provide every passenger with a seat. He must not overload his vehicle by receiving and carrying more passengers than its rated capacity allows.

5348. (§ 2896.) Regulations for conduct of business.—A common carrier of persons may make rules for the conduct of his business, and may require passengers to conform to them, if they are lawful, public, uniform in their application, and reasonable.

Ames v. Southern P. Co., 141 Cal. 732; 75 Pac. 310.

5349. (§ 2897.) Fare, when payable.—A common carrier may demand the fare of passengers, either at starting or at any subsequent time.

5350. (§ 2898.) Ejection of passengers.—A passenger who refuses to pay his fare or conform to any lawful regulation of the carrier, may be ejected from the vehicle by the carrier. But this must be done with as little violence as possible, and at any usual stopping place or near some dwelling house.

Ames v. Southern P. Co., 141 Cal. 732; 75 Pac. 310.

5351. (§ 2899.) Fare not payable after ejection.—After having ejected a passenger, a carrier has no right to require the payment of any part of his fare.

5352. (§ 2900.) Carrier's lien.—A common carrier has a lien upon the baggage of a passenger for the payment of such fare as he is entitled to from him. This lien is regulated by the title on liens.

ARTICLE III.

COMMON CARRIERS OF PROPERTY.

Section 5353. Liability of inland carriers for loss.

“ 5354. When exemptions do not apply.

“ 5356. Consignor of valuables to declare their nature.

“ 5357. Delivery of freight beyond usual route.

“ 5358. Proof to be given in case of loss.

“ 5359. Carrier's services, other than carriage and delivery.

“ 5360. Sale of perishable property for freight

5353. (§ 2910.) Liability of inland carriers for loss.—Unless the consignor accompanies the freight and retains exclusive control thereof, an inland common carrier of property is liable, from the time that he accepts until he relieves himself from liability, pursuant to §§ 5309 (2813) to 5312 (2816), for the loss or injury thereof from any cause whatever, except:

1. An inherent defect, vice, weakness, or a spontaneous action of the property itself.

2. The act of a public enemy of the United States, or of this state.

3. The act of the law; or,

4. An irresistible superhuman cause.

Palmer v. Atchison R. Co., 101 Cal. 194; 35 Pac. 630.

5354. (§ 2911.) When exemptions do not apply.—A common carrier is liable, even in the cases excepted by the last section, if his ordinary negligence exposes the property to the cause of the loss.

5355. (§ 2912.) Liability for delay.—A common carrier is liable for delay only when it is caused by his want of ordinary care and diligence.

Nelson v. Great N. R. Co., 28 Mont. 321; 72 Pac. 649. A common carrier cannot by special contract limit its liability for delay in the transportation of property arising from its negligence, or the negligence of its servants.

Palmer v. Atchison R. Co., 101 Cal. 193; 35 Pac. 630.

5356. (§ 2913.) Consignor of valuables to declare their nature.—A common carrier of gold, silver, platina, or of precious stones, or of imitations thereof, in a manufactured or unmanufactured state; of timepieces of any description; of negotiable paper or other valuable writings; of pictures, glass or china-ware; of statuary, silk, or laces; or of plated ware of any kind, is not liable for more than fifty dollars upon the loss or injury of any one package of such articles, unless he has notice upon his receipt thereof, by mark upon the package or otherwise, of the nature of the freight, nor is such carrier liable upon any package carried for more than the value of the articles named in the receipt or the bill of lading.

Michalitschke v. Wells F. & Co., 118 Cal. 689; 50 Pac. 847.

5357. (§ 2914.) Delivery of freight beyond usual route.—If a common carrier accepts freight for a place beyond his usual, route, he must, unless he stipulates otherwise, deliver it at the end of his route, in that direction, to some other competent carrier carrying to the place of address, or connected with those who thus carry.

Colfax Co. v. Southern P. Co., 118 Cal. 651; 50 Pac. 775.

5358. (§ 2915.) Proof to be given in case of loss.—If freight addressed to a place beyond the usual route of the common carrier who first received it, is lost or injured, he must, within a reasonable time after demand, give satisfactory proof to the consignor that the loss or injury did not occur while it was in his charge, or he will be himself liable therefor.

5359. (§ 2916.) Carrier's services, other than carriage and delivery.—In respect to any service rendered by a common carrier about freight, other than its carriage and delivery, his rights and obligations are defined by the titles on deposit and service.

5360. (§ 2917.) Sale of perishable property for freight.—If, from any cause other than want of ordinary care and diligence on his part, a common carrier is unable to deliver perishable property transported by him, and collect his charges thereon, he may cause the property to be sold in open market, to satisfy his lien for freightage

ARTICLE IV.

COMMON CARRIERS OF MESSAGES.

Section 5361. Order of transmission of telegraphic messages.

5361. (§ 2930.) Order of transmission of telegraphic messages.—A carrier of messages by telegraph or telephone must, if it is practicable, transmit every such message immediately upon its receipt. But if this is not practicable, and several messages accumulate upon his hands, he must transmit them in the following order:

1. Messages from public agents of the United States or of this state, on public business.

2. Messages giving information relating to the sickness or death of any person.

3. Messages intended in good faith for immediate publication in newspapers, and not for any secret use.

4. Other messages in the order in which they were received.

5362. (§ 2931.) Order in other cases.—A common carrier of messages, otherwise than by telegraph or telephone, must transmit them in the order in which he receives them, except messages from agents of the United States, or of this state, on public business, to which he must always give priority.

5363. (§ 2932.) Damages when message is refused or postponed.—Every person whose message is refused or postponed, contrary to the provisions of this chapter, is entitled to recover from the carrier his actual damages, and fifty dollars in addition thereto.

II. OBLIGATIONS OF TRUSTEES.

III. OBLIGATIONS OF THIRD PERSONS.

ARTICLE I.

NATURE AND CREATION OF A TRUST.

Section 5364. Trusts classified.

- “ 5365. Voluntary trust, what.
- “ 5366. Involuntary trust, what.
- “ 5367. Parties to the contract.
- “ 5368. What constitutes one a trustee.
- “ 5369. For what purpose a trustee may be created.
- “ 5370. Voluntary trust, how created as to trustor.
- “ 5371. How created as to trustee.
- “ 5372. Involuntary trustee, who is.
- “ 5373. Involuntary trust, resulting from fraud, etc.

5364. (§ 2950.) Trusts classified.—A trust is either:

1. Voluntary; or,
2. Involuntary.

McDonald v. American N. Bank, 25 Mont. 489; 65 Pac. 911.

Barker v. Hurley, 132 Cal. 26; 63 Pac. 1071.

5365. (§ 2951.) Voluntary trust, what.—A voluntary trust is an obligation arising out of a personal confidence reposed in and voluntarily accepted by one for the benefit of another.

McDonald v. American N. Bank, 25 Mont. 489; 65 Pac. 911.

5366. (§ 2952.) Involuntary trust, what.—An involuntary trust is one which is created by operation of law.

Fulton v. Jansen, 99 Cal. 590; 34 Pac. 331.

5367. (§ 2953.) Parties to the contract.—The person whose confidence creates the trust is called the trustor; the person in whom the confidence is reposed is called the trustee; and the person for whose benefit the trust is created is called the beneficiary.

McDonald v. American N. Bank, 25 Mont. 494; 65 Pac. 911.

Colton v. Stanford, 82 Cal. 374; 23 Pac. 16.

5368. (§ 2954.) What constitutes one a trustee.—Every person who voluntarily assumes a relation of personal confidence with another is deemed a trustee, within the meaning of this chapter, not only as to the person who reposes such confidence, but also as to all persons to whose affairs he thus acquires information which was given to such person in the like confidence, or over whose affairs he, by such confidence, obtains any control.

White v. Warren, 120 Cal. 323; 49 Pac. 129.

5369. (§ 2955.) For what purpose a trustee may be created.—A trust may be created for any purpose for which a contract may lawfully be made, except as otherwise prescribed by the titles on uses and trusts and on transfers.

Toland v. Toland, 123 Cal. 144; 55 Pac. 681.

5370. (§ 2956.) Voluntary trust, how created as to trustor.—Subject to the provisions of § 4537 (1311), a voluntary trust is created, as to the trustor and beneficiary, by any words or acts of the trustor, indicating with reasonable certainty:

1. An intention on the part of the trustor to create a trust; and,
2. The subject, purpose, and beneficiary of the trust.

McDonald v. American N. Bank, 25 Mont. 494; 65 Pac. 911. Barker v. Hurley, 132 Cal. 27; 63 Pac. 1071.

5371. (§ 2957.) How created as to trustee.—Subject to the provisions of § 4537 (1311), a voluntary trust is created, as to the trustee, by any words or acts of his indicating, with reasonable certainty:

1. His acceptance of the trust, or his acknowledgement, made upon sufficient consideration, of its existence; and,
2. The subject, purpose, and beneficiary of the trust.

Barker v. Hurley, 132 Cal. 27; 63 Pac. 1071.

5372. (§ 2958.) Involuntary trustee, who is.—One who wrongfully detains a thing is an involuntary trustee thereof, for the benefit of the owner.

Lutey v. Clark, 31 Mont. 54; 77 Pac. 307. Where the receiver of a corporation sold some of its property, and thereafter the order appointing the receiver and authorizing a sale was reversed on appeal, the purchasers held the property and the proceeds of their sale thereof as involuntary trustees for the corporation, and the receiver held the purchase price as an involuntary trustee for the purchasers.

5373. (§ 2959.) Involuntary trust, resulting from fraud, etc.—One who gains a thing by fraud, accident, mistake, undue influence, the violation of a trust, or other wrongful act, is, unless he has some other or better right thereto, an involuntary trustee of the thing gained, for the benefit of the person who would otherwise have had it.

Lutey v. Clark, 31 Mont. 54; 77 Pac. 307.

Bank v. Wakefield, 148 Cal. 561; 83 Pac. 1076.

ARTICLE II.

OBLIGATIONS OF TRUSTEES.

- Section 5374. Trustee's obligation to good faith.
- " 5375. Trustee not to use property for his own benefit.
- " 5376. Certain transactions forbidden.
- " 5377. Trustee's influence not to be used for his advantage.
- " 5378. Trustee not to assume a trust adverse to interest of beneficiary.
- " 5379. To disclose adverse interest.
- " 5380. Trustee guilty of fraud, when.
- " 5381. Presumption against trustees.
- " 5382. Trustee mingling trust property with his own.
- " 5383. Measure of liability for breach of trust.
- " 5384. Same.
- " 5385. Co-trustees, how far liable for each other.

5374. (§ 2970.) Trustee's obligation to good faith.—In all matters connected with his trust, a trustee is bound to act in the highest good faith toward his beneficiary, and may not obtain any advantage therein over the latter by the slightest misrepresentation, concealment, threat, or adverse pressure of any kind.

McConnell v. Combination Co., 30 Mont. 257; 76 Pac. 200. Donations by a corporation organized for general mining purposes for the purpose of creating a new county are ultra vires.

The majority stockholders of a corporation, who sanction the acts of its directors and officials in making illegal expenditures of the corporate funds, bind themselves by estoppel, but such acts are not binding on stockholders, who did not take part in the proceedings or sanction the making of such expenditures.

A resolution of four directors of a corporation voting three of their number salaries and giving them back pay, predicated on by-laws previously passed by five directors, including the four first mentioned, is void.

The removal of the official business of a domestic mining corporation beyond the state, and acts of the directors in attempting to hold regular monthly meetings and sit as the board of directors in another state, are ultra vires.

Coombs v. Barker, 31 Mont. 545; 79 Pac. 7. The directors of a mining corporation are not allowed to profit by virtue of their position, and a breach of official duty on their part is fraud in law. A director, who purchases the property of the corporation at a judicial sale, must not be permitted to obtain a dishonest advantage over the corporation, or its stockholders.

Smith v. Goethe, 147 Cal. 732; 82 Pac. 384.

5375. (§ 2971.) Trustee not to use property for his own benefit.—A trustee may not use or deal with the trust property for his own benefit, or for any other purpose unconnected with the trust, in any manner.

Pacific Works v. Smith, 145 Cal. 364; 78 Pac. 550.

5376. (§ 2972.) Certain transactions forbidden.—Neither a trustee nor any of his agents may take part in any transaction concerning the trust in which he or any one for whom he acts as agent has an interest, present or contingent, adverse to that of his beneficiary, except as follows:

1. When the beneficiary, having capacity to contract, with full knowledge of the motives of the trustee, and of all other facts concerning the transaction which might affect his own decision, and without the use of any influence on the part of the trustee, permits him to do so.

2. When the beneficiary, not having capacity to contract, the proper court, upon the like information of the facts, grants the like permission; or,

3. When some of the beneficiaries having capacity to contract, and some not having it, the former grant permission for themselves, and the proper court for the latter, in the manner above prescribed.

Smith v. Goethe, 147 Cal. 732; 82 Pac. 384.

5377. (§ 2973.) Trustee's influence not to be used for his advantage.—A trustee may not use the influence which his position gives to him to obtain any advantage from his beneficiary.

Calmon v. Sarraille, 142 Cal. 641; 76 Pac. 486.

5378. (§ 2974.) Trustee not to assume a trust adverse to interest of beneficiary.—No trustee, so long as he remains in the trust, may undertake another trust adverse in its nature to the interest of his beneficiary in the subject of the trust, without the consent of the latter.

McCabe v. Healy, 138 Cal. 95; 70 Pac. 1008.

5379. (§ 2975.) To disclose adverse interest.—If a trustee acquires any interest, or becomes charged with any duty, adverse to the interest of his beneficiary in the subject of the trust, he must immediately inform the latter thereof, and may be at once removed.

5380. (§ 2976.) Trustee guilty of fraud, when.—Every violation of the provisions of the preceding sections of this article is a fraud against the beneficiary of the trust.

McConnell v. Combination Co., 30 Mont. 264; 76 Pac. 202. McCabe v. Healy, 138 Cal. 95; 70 Pac. 1008.

5381. (§ 2977.) Presumption against trustees.—All transactions between a trustee and his beneficiary during the existence of the trust, or while the influence acquired by the trustee remains, by which he obtains any advantage from his beneficiary, are presumed to be entered into by the latter without sufficient consideration, and under undue influence.

Heinrich v. Heinrich, 2 C. App. 485; 84 Pac. 326.

5382. (§ 2978.) Trustee mingling trust property with his own.—A trustee who wilfully and unnecessarily mingles the trust property with his own, so as to constitute himself in appearance its absolute owner, is liable for its safety in all events.

Matter of Bane, 120 Cal. 536-7; 52 Pac. 852.

5383. (§ 2979.) Measure of liability for breach of trust.—A trustee who uses or disposes of the trust property contrary to § 5375 (2971), may, at the option of the beneficiary, be required to account for all profits so made, or to pay the value of its use, and, if he has disposed thereof, to replace it with its fruits, or to account for its proceeds, with interest.

Demars v. Hudon, 33 Mont. 175; 82 Pac. 952.

5384. (§ 2980.) Same.—A trustee who uses or disposes of the trust property in any manner not authorized by the trust, but in good faith, and with intent to serve the interests of the beneficiary, is liable only to make good whatever is lost to the beneficiary by his error.

5385. (§ 2981.) Co-trustees, how far liable for each other.—A trustee is responsible for the wrongful acts of a co-trustee to which he consented, or which, by his negligence, he enabled the latter to commit, but for no others.

Bermingham v. Wilcox, 120 Cal. 471; 52 Pac. 822.

ARTICLE III.

OBLIGATIONS OF THIRD PERSONS.

Section 5386. Third person, when involuntary trustee.

“ 5387. When third person must see to application of trust property.

5386. (§ 2990.) Third person, when involuntary trustee.—Every one to whom property is transferred in violation of a trust, holds the same as an involuntary trustee under such trust, unless he purchased it in good faith, and for a valuable consideration.

Chapman v. Hughes, 134 Cal. 657; 58 Pac. 298.

5387. (§ 2991.) When third person must see to application of trust property.—One who actually and in good faith transfers any money or other property to a trustee, as such, is not bound to see to the application thereof, and his rights can in no way be prejudiced by a misapplication thereof by the trustee. Other persons must, at their peril, see to the proper application of money or other property paid or delivered by them.

CHAPTER II.

TRUSTS FOR THE BENEFIT OF THIRD PERSONS.

ARTICLE I. NATURE AND CREATION OF THE TRUST.

II. OBLIGATIONS OF TRUSTEES.

III. POWERS OF TRUSTEES.

IV. RIGHTS OF TRUSTEES.

V. TERMINATION OF THE TRUST.

VI. SUCCESSION OR APPOINTMENT OF NEW TRUSTEES.

ARTICLE I.

NATURE AND CREATION OF THE TRUST.

Section 5388. Who are trustees within scope of this chapter.

“ 5389. Creation of trust.

“ 5392. Same.

5388. (§ 3000.) Who are trustees within scope of this chapter.—The provisions of this chapter apply only to express trusts, created for the benefit of another than the trustor, and in which the title to the trust property is vested in the trustee; not including, however, those of executors, administrators and guardians, as such.

Estate of Bell, 145 Cal. 649; 79 Pac. 358.

5389. (§ 3001.) Creation of trust.—The mutual consent of a trustor and trustee creates a trust of which the beneficiary may take advantage at any time prior to its rescission.

Booth v. Oakland Bank, 122 Cal. 25; 54 Pac. 370.

5390. (§ 3002.) Trustees appointed by court.—When a trustee is appointed by a court or public officer, as such, such court or officer is the trustor, within the meaning of the last section.

Dyer v. Leach, 91 Cal. 193; 27 Pac. 598.

5391. (§ 3003.) Declaration of trust.—The nature, extent and object of a trust are expressed in the declaration of trust.

5392. (§ 3004.) Same.—All declarations of a trustor to his trustees, in relation to the trust, before its acceptance by the trustees, or any of them, are to be deemed part of the declaration of the trust, except that when a declaration of trust is made in writing, all previous declarations by the same trustor are merged therein.

ARTICLE II.

OBLIGATIONS OF TRUSTEES.

Section 5393. Trustees must obey declaration of trust.

“ 5394. Degree of care and diligence in execution of trust.

“ 5395. Duty of trustee as to appointment of successor.

“ 5396. Investment of money by trustee.

“ 5397. Interest, simple or compound, on omission to invest trust moneys.

“ 5398. Purchase by trustee of claims against trust fund.

5393. (§ 3010.) Trustees must obey declaration of trust.—A trustee must fulfill the purpose of the trust, as declared at its creation, and must follow all the directions of the trustor given at that time, except as modified by the consent of all parties interested in the same manner and to the same extent as an employee.

5394. (§ 3011.) Degree of care and diligence in execution of trust.—A trustee, whether he receives any compensation or not, must use at least ordinary care and diligence in the execution of his trust.

5395. (§ 3012.) Duty of trustee as to appointment of successor.—If a trustee procures or assents to his discharge from his office, before his trust is fully executed, he must use at least ordinary care and diligence to secure the appointment of a trustworthy successor before accepting his own final discharge.

5396. (§ 3013.) Investment of money by trustee.—A trustee must invest money received by him under the trust, as fast as he collects a sufficient amount, in such manner as to afford reasonable security and interest for the same.

Elizalde v. Elizalde, 137 Cal. 638; 66 Pac. 369.

5397. (§ 3014.) Interest, simple or compound, on omission to invest trust moneys.—If a trustee omits to invest the trust moneys according to the last section, he must pay simple interest thereon, if such omission is negligent merely, and compound interest if it is wilful.

Bemmerly v. Woodward, 124 Cal. 573; 57 Pac. 561.

5398. (§ 3015.) Purchase by trustee of claims against trust fund.—A trustee cannot enforce any claim against the trust property which he purchases after or in contemplation of his appointment as trustee; but he may be allowed, by any competent court, to charge to the trust property what he has in good faith paid for the claim, upon discharging the same.

Smith v. Goethe, 147 Cal. 732; 82 Pac. 384.

ARTICLE III.

POWERS OF TRUSTEES.

Section 5399. Trustee's powers as agent.

5399. (§ 3020.) Trustee's powers as agent.—A trustee is a general agent for the trust property. His authority is such as is conferred upon him by the declaration of trust and by this chapter and none other. His acts, within the scope of his authority, bind the trust property to the same extent as the acts of an agent bind his principal.

5400. (§ 3021.) All must act.—Where there are several co-trustees, all must unite in any act to bind the trust property, unless the declaration of trust otherwise provides.

5401. (§ 3022.) Discretionary powers.—A discretionary power conferred upon a trustee is presumed not to be left to his arbitrary discretion, but may be controlled by the proper court if not reasonably exercised, unless an absolute discretion is clearly conferred by the declaration of trust.

ARTICLE IV.

RIGHTS OF TRUSTEES.

Section 5402. Indemnification of trustee.

“ 5403. Compensation of trustee.

“ 5404. Involuntary trustee.

5402. (§ 3030.) Indemnification of trustee.—A trustee is entitled to the repayment, out of the trust property, of all expenses actually and properly incurred by him in the performance of his trust. He is entitled to the repayment of even unlawful expenditures, if they were productive of actual benefit to the estate.

Mitau v. Roddan, 149 Cal. 16; 84 Pac. 145.

5403. (§ 3031.) Compensation of trustee.—When a declaration of trust is silent upon the subject of compensation, the trustee is entitled to the same compensation as an executor. If it specifies the amount of his compensation, he is entitled to the amount thus specified and no more. If it directs that he shall be allowed a compensation, but does not specify the rate or amount, he is entitled to such compensation as may be reasonable under the circumstances.

5404. (§ 3032.) Involuntary trustee.—An involuntary trustee, who becomes such through his own fault, has none of the rights mentioned in this article.

ARTICLE V.

TERMINATION OF THE TRUST.

Section 5405. Trust, how extinguished.

“ 5409. Removal by district court.

5405. (§ 3040.) Trust, how extinguished.—A trust is extinguished by the entire fulfillment of its object, or by such object becoming impossible or unlawful.

Wittfield v. Forster, 124 Cal. 420; 57 Pac. 219.

5406. (§ 3041.) Not revocable.—A trust cannot be revoked by the trustor after its acceptance, actual or presumed, by the trustee and beneficiaries, except by the consent of all the beneficiaries, unless the declaration of trust reserves a power of revocation to the trustor, and in that case the power must be strictly pursued.

Booth v. Oakland Bank, 122 Cal. 26; 54 Pac. 370.

5407. (§ 3042.) Trustees office, how vacated.—The office of a trustee is vacated:

1. By his death; or,
2. By his discharge.

5408. (§ 3043.) Trustee, how discharged.—A trustee can be discharged from his trust only as follows:

1. By the extinction of the trust.
2. By the completion of his duties under the trust.
3. By such means as may be prescribed by the declaration of trust.

4. By the consent of the beneficiary, if he had capacity to contract.

5. By the judgment of a competent tribunal, in a direct proceeding for that purpose, that he is of unsound mind; or,

6. By the district court.

Estate of Fair, 132 Cal. 542; 60 Pac. 442.

5409. (§ 3044.) Removal by district court.—The district court may remove any trustee who has violated or is unfit to execute the trust; or may accept the resignation of a trustee.

Fatjo v. Swasey, 111 Cal. 635; 44 Pac. 225.

ARTICLE VI.

SUCCESSION OR APPOINTMENT OF NEW TRUSTEES.

Section 5410. Vacant trusteeship filled by court.

“ 5411. Survivorship between co-trustees.

“ 5412. District court as trustee.

5410. (§ 3050.) Vacant trusteeship filled by court.—The district court may appoint a trustee whenever there is a vacancy, and the declaration of trust does not provide a practicable method of appointment.

Dyer v. Leach, 91 Cal. 193; 27 Pac. 598.

5411. (§ 3051.) Survivorship between co-trustees.—On the death, renunciation or discharge of one of several co-trustees, the trust survives to the others.

5412. (§ 3052.) District court as trustee.—When a trust exists without any appointed trustee, or where all the trustees renounce, die, or are discharged, the district court of the county where the trust property, or some portion thereof is situated, must appoint another trustee, and direct the execution of the trust. The court may, in its discretion, appoint the original number, or any less number of trustees.

In re Walker, 149 Cal. 214; 85 Pac. 310.

TITLE IX.

AGENCY.

CHAPTER I. AGENCY IN GENERAL.

II. PARTICULAR AGENCIES.

CHAPTER I.

AGENCY IN GENERAL.

ARTICLE I. DEFINITION OF AGENCY.

II. AUTHORITY OF AGENTS.

III. MUTUAL OBLIGATIONS OF PRINCIPALS AND THIRD PERSONS.

ARTICLE IV. OBLIGATIONS OF AGENTS TO THIRD PERSONS.

V. DELEGATION OF AGENCY.

VI. TERMINATION OF AGENCY.

ARTICLE I.

DEFINITION OF AGENCY.

Section 5413. Agency, what.

“ 5414. Who may appoint and who may be an agent.

“ 5415. Agents, general or special.

“ 5416. Agency, actual or ostensible.

“ 5417. Actual agency.

5413. (§ 3070.) Agency, what.—An agent is one who represents another, called the principal, in dealings with third persons. Such representation is called agency.

Nicholls v. Mapes, 1 C. App. 355; 82 Pac. 265.

5414. (§ 3071.) Who may appoint and who may be an agent.—Any person having capacity to contract may appoint an agent, and any person may be an agent.

5415. (§ 3072.) Agents, general or special.—An agent for a particular act or transaction is called a special agent. All others are general agents.

Moore v. Skyles, 33 Mont. 137; 82 Pac. 799. One to whom a money order was given by another, with instructions to see if it was all right, and if so, to get it cashed, was a special agent of the latter.

People v. Jones, 123 Cal. 302; 55 Pac. 992.

5416. (§ 3073.) Agency, actual or ostensible.—An agency is either actual or ostensible.

5417. Actual agency.—An agency is actual when the agent is really employed by the principal.

5418. (§ 3075.) Ostensible agency.—An agency is ostensible when the principal intentionally, or by want of ordinary care, causes a third person to believe another to be his agent, who is not really employed by him.

Dover v. Pittsburg Co., 143 Cal. 504; 77 Pac. 405.

ARTICLE II.

AUTHORITY OF AGENTS.

Section 5419. What authority may be conferred.

“ 5421. Agent cannot have authority to defraud principal.

- Section 5425. Ratification of agent's act.*
 " 5426. Ratification of part of a transaction.
 " 5427. When ratification void.
 " 5428. Ratification not to work injury to third persons.
 " 5429. Rescission of ratification.
 " 5430. Measure of agent's authority.
 " 5431. Actual authority, what.
 " 5432. Ostensible authority, what.
 " 5433. Agent's authority as to persons having notice of restrictions upon it.
 " 5434. Agent's necessary authority.
 " 5435. Agent's power to disobey instructions.
 " 5436. Authority to be construed by its specific, rather than by its general terms.
 " 5437. Exceptions to general authority.
 " 5438. What included in authority to sell personal property.
 " 5439. What included in authority to sell real property.
 " 5440. Authority of general agent to receive price of property.
 " 5441. Authority of special agent to receive price.

5419. (§ 3080.) What authority may be conferred.—An agent may be authorized to do any acts which his principal might do, except those to which the latter is bound to give his personal attention.

Nicholls v. Mapes, 1 C. App. 355; 82 Pac. 265.

5420. (§ 3081.) Agent may perform acts required of principal by code.—Every act which, according to this code, may be done by or to any person, may be done by or to the agent of such person for that purpose, unless a contrary intention clearly appears.

5421. (§ 3082.) Agent cannot have authority to defraud principal.—An agent can never have authority, either actual or ostensible, to do an act which is, and is known or suspected by the person with whom he deals to be, a fraud upon the principal.

5422. (§ 3083.) Creation of agency.—An agency may be created, and an authority may be conferred, by a precedent authorization or a subsequent ratification.

Dover v. Pittsburg Co., 143 Cal. 504; 77 Pac. 405.

5423. (§ 3084.) Consideration unnecessary.—A consideration is not necessary to make an authority, whether precedent or subsequent, binding upon the principal.

5424. (§ 3085.) Form of authority.—An oral authorization is sufficient for any purpose, except that an authority to enter into a contract required by law to be in writing can only be given by an instrument in writing.

Cobban v. Hecklen, 27 Mont. 257; 70 Pac. 809. The authority of an agent to contract to sell land before the adoption of this section was not required to be in writing, and could be shown by oral testimony, or any evidence tending to prove agency.

Case v. Kramer, 34 Mont. 149; 85 Pac. 879.

Lindsley v. McGrath, 34 Mont. 569; 87 Pac. 962.

Curtin v. Salmon River Co., 141 Cal. 311; 74 Pac. 851.

5425. (§ 3086.) Ratification of agent's act.—A ratification can be made only in the manner that would have been necessary to confer an original authority for the act ratified, or where an oral authorization would suffice, by accepting or restraining the benefit of the act, with notice thereof.

Cobban v. Hecklen, 27 Mont. 258; 70 Pac. 809.

5426. (§ 3087.) Ratification of part of a transaction.—Ratification of part of an indivisible transaction is a ratification of the whole.

Colpe v. Jubilee Co., 2 C. App. 399; 84 Pac. 324.

5427. (§ 3088.) When ratification void.—A ratification is not valid unless, at the time of ratifying the act done, the principal has power to confer authority for such an act.

Krumdick v. White, 107 Cal. 41; 39 Pac. 1066.

5428. (§ 3089.) Ratification not to work injury to third persons.—No unauthorized act can be made valid, retroactively, to the prejudice of third persons, without their consent.

Krumdick v. White, 107 Cal. 41; 39 Pac. 1066.

5429. (§ 3090.) Rescission of ratification.—A ratification may be rescinded when made without such consent as is required in a contract, or with an imperfect knowledge of the material facts of the transaction ratified, but not otherwise.

Willey v. Clements, 146 Cal. 99; 79 Pac. 850.

5430. (§ 3091.) Measure of agent's authority.—An agent has such authority as the principal, actually or ostensibly, confers upon him.

5431. (§ 3092.) Actual authority, what.—Actual authority is such as the principal intentionally confers upon the agent, or intentionally, or by want of ordinary care, allows the agent to believe himself to possess.

5432. (§ 3093.) Ostensible authority, what.—Ostensible authority is such as a principal, intentionally or by want of ordinary care, causes or allows a third person to believe the agent to possess.

Case v. Kramer, 34 Mont. 150; 85 Pac. 880.

Dover v. Pittsburg Co., 143 Cal. 504; 77 Pac. 405.

5433. (§ 3094.) Agent's authority as to persons having notice of restrictions upon it.—Every agent has actually such authority as is defined by this title, unless specially deprived thereof by his principal, and has even then such authority ostensibly, except as to persons who have actual or constructive notice of the restriction upon his authority.

5434. (§ 3095.) Agent's necessary authority.—An agent has authority:

1. To do everything necessary and proper and usual, in the ordinary course of business, for effecting the purpose of his agency; and,

2. To make a representation respecting any matter of fact, not including the terms of his authority, but upon which his right to use his authority depends, and the truth of which cannot be determined by the use of reasonable diligence on the part of the person to whom the representation is made.

Case v. Kramer, 34 Mont. 150; 85 Pac. 880.

Consolidated Bank v. Pacific Co., 95 Cal. 12; 30 Pac. 96.

5435. (§ 3096.) Agent's power to disobey instructions.—An agent has power to disobey instructions in dealing with the subject of the agency, in cases where it is clearly for the interest of his principal that he should do so, and there is not time to communicate with the principal.

5436. (§ 3097.) Authority to be construed by its specific, rather than by its general terms.—When an authority is given partly in general and partly in specific terms, the general authority gives no higher powers than those specifically mentioned.

5437. (§ 3098.) Exceptions to general authority.—An authority expressed in general terms, however broad, does not authorize an agent:

1. To act in his own name, unless it is the usual course of business to do so.

2. To define the scope of his agency; or,

3. To do any act which a trustee is forbidden to do by article II., chapter I., of the last title.

Pacific Works v. Smith, 145 Cal. 363; 78 Pac. 550.

5438. (§ 3099.) What included in authority to sell personal property.—An authority to sell personal property includes authority to warrant the title of the principal, and the quantity and quality of the property.

5439. (§ 3100.) What included in authority to sell real property.—An authority to sell and convey real property includes authority to give the usual covenants of warranty.

5440. (§ 3101.) Authority of general agent to receive price of property.—A general agent to sell, who is intrusted by the principal with the possession of the thing sold, has authority to receive the price.

Rigby v. Lowe, 125 Cal. 614; 58 Pac. 153.

5441. (§ 3102.) Authority of special agent to receive price.—A special agent to sell has authority to receive the price on delivery of the thing sold, but not afterwards.

ARTICLE III.

MUTUAL OBLIGATIONS OF PRINCIPALS AND THIRD PERSONS.

Section 5442. Principal, how affected by acts of agent within the scope of his authority.

“ 5443. Principal, when bound by incomplete execution of authority.

“ 5445. Obligation of principal when agent exceeds his authority.

“ 5446. For acts done under a mere ostensible authority.

“ 5448. Rights of person who deals with agent without knowledge of agency.

“ 5449. Instrument intended to bind principal does bind him.

5442. (§ 3110.) Principal, how affected by acts of agent within the scope of his authority.—An agent represents his principal for all purposes within the scope of his actual or ostensible authority, and all the rights and liabilities which would accrue to the agent from transactions within such limit, if they had been entered into on his own account, accrue to the principal.

5443. (§ 3111.) Principal, when bound by incomplete execution of authority.—A principal is bound by an incomplete execution of an authority, when it is consistent with the whole purpose and scope thereof, but not otherwise.

5444. (§ 3112.) Notice to agent, when notice to principal.—As against a principal, both principal and agent are deemed to have notice of whatever either has notice of, and ought, in good faith, and the exercise of ordinary care and diligence, to communicate to the other.

Coombs v. Barker, 31 Mont. 560; 79 Pac. 12. One who joins through an agent in the redemption of property sold at a judicial sale is charged with all the knowledge that the agent possesses concerning the matter.

5445. (§ 3113.) Obligation of principal when agent exceeds his authority.—When an agent exceeds his authority, his principal is bound by his authorized acts so far only as they can be plainly separated from those which are unauthorized.

5446. (§ 3114.) For acts done under a mere ostensible authority.—A principal is bound by acts of his agent, under a merely ostensible authority, to those persons only who have in good faith, and without ordinary negligence, incurred a liability or parted with value upon the faith thereof.

Dover v. Pittsburg Co., 143 Cal. 504; 77 Pac. 405.

5447. (§ 3115.) When exclusive credit is given to agent.—If exclusive credit is given to an agent by the person dealing with him, his principal is exonerated by payment or other satisfaction made by him to his agent in good faith, before receiving notice of the creditor's election to hold him responsible.

5448. (§ 3116.) Rights of person who deals with agent without knowledge of agency.—One who deals with an agent without knowing or having reason to believe that the agent acts as such in the transaction, may set off against any claim of the principal arising out of the same, all claims which he might have set off against the agent before notice of the agency.

5449. (§ 3117.) Instrument intended to bind principal does bind him.—An instrument within the scope of his authority, by which an agent intends to bind his principal, does bind him if such intent is plainly inferable from the instrument itself.

5450. (§ 3118.) Principal's responsibility for agent's negligence or omission.—Unless required by or under the authority of law to employ that particular agent, a principal is responsible to third persons for the negligence of his agent in the transaction of the business of the agency, including wrongful acts committed by such agent in and as a part of the transaction of such business, and for his wilful omission to fulfill the obligations of the principal.

5451. (§ 3119.) Principal's responsibility for wrongs wilfully committed by the agent.—A principal is responsible for no other wrongs committed by his agent than those mentioned in the last section, unless he has authorized or ratified them, even though they are committed while the agent is engaged in his service.

ARTICLE IV.

OBLIGATIONS OF AGENTS TO THIRD PERSONS.

Section 5452. Warranty of authority.

“ 5453. Agent's responsibility to third persons.

“ 5454. Obligation of agent to surrender property to third person.

“ 5455. Agent not having capacity to contract.

5452. (§ 3130.) Warranty of authority.—One who assumes to act as an agent thereby warrants, to all who deal with him in that capacity, that he has the authority which he assumes.

5453. (§ 3131.) Agent's responsibility to third persons.—One who assumes to act as an agent is responsible to third persons as a principal for his acts in the course of his agency, in any of the following cases, and in no other:

1. When, with his consent, credit is given to him personally in a transaction.

2. When he enters into a written contract in the name of his principal, without believing, in good faith, that he has authority to do so; or,

3. When his acts are wrongful in their nature.

5454. (§ 3132.) Obligation of agent to surrender property to third person.—If an agent receives anything for the benefit of his principal, to the possession of which another person is entitled, he must, on demand, surrender it to such person, or so much of it as he has under his control at the time of demand, on being indemnified for any advance which he has made to his principal, in good faith, on account of the same; and is responsible therefor, if, after notice to the owner, he delivers it to his principal.

5455. (§ 3133.) Agent not having capacity to contract.—The provisions of this article are subject to the provisions of part I., divisions first, of this code.

ARTICLE V.

DELEGATION OF AGENCY.

Section 5456. Agent's delegation of his powers.

“ 5457. Agent's unauthorized employment of sub-agent.

“ 5458. Sub-agent, rightfully appointed, represents principal.

5456. (§ 3140.) Agent's delegation of his powers.—An agent, unless specially forbidden by his principal to do so, can delegate his powers to another person in any of the following cases, and in no others:

1. When the act to be done is purely mechanical.

2. When it is such as the agent cannot himself, and the sub-agent can, lawfully perform.

3. When it is the usage of the place to delegate such powers; or,

4. When such delegation is specially authorized by the principal.

Bond v. Hurd, 31 Mont. 320; 78 Pac. 582. Where an agent was authorized by a master to employ medical assistance for an injured servant, such agent had no authority to delegate to a physician employed authority to employ an assistant.

5457. (§ 3141.) Agent's unauthorized employment of sub-agent.—If an agent employs a sub-agent without authority, the former is a principal and the latter his agent, and the principal of the former has no connection with the latter.

5458. (§ 3142.) Sub-agent, rightfully appointed, represents principal.—A sub-agent lawfully appointed, represents the principal in like manner with the original agent, and the original agent is not responsible to third persons for the acts of the sub-agent.

ARTICLE VI.

TERMINATION OF AGENCY.

Section 5459. Termination of agency.

5459. (§ 3150.) Termination of agency.—An agency is terminated, as to every person having notice thereof, by:

1. The expiration of its term.
2. The extinction of its subject.
3. The death of the agent.
4. His renunciation of the agency; or,
5. The incapacity of the agent to act as such.

Nord v. B. & M. Co., 33 Mont. 476; 89 Pac. 647. This section is declaratory of the common law.

5460. (§ 3151.) Same.—Unless the power of the agent is coupled with an interest in the subject of the agency, it is terminated as to every person having notice thereof, by:

1. Its revocation by the principal.
2. His death; or,
3. His incapacity to contract.

State v. Court, 30 Mont. 8; 75 Pac. 516. A party became insane and was indebted to an attorney who was representing him at the time with respect to his property interests. The attorney did not have the right per se to appear for the guardian of the party.

Nord v. B. & M. Co., 33 Mont. 476; 89 Pac. 647. This section is declaratory of the common law rule.

CHAPTER II.

PARTICULAR AGENCIES.

ARTICLE I. AUCTIONEERS.

II. FACTORS.

ARTICLE I.

AUCTIONEERS.

Section 5461. Auctioneer's authority from the seller.

“ 5462. Auctioneer's authority from the bidder.

5461. (§ 3160.) Auctioneer's authority from the seller.—An auctioneer, in the absence of special authority or usage to the contrary, has authority from the seller only as follows:

1. To sell by public auction to the highest bidder.
2. To sell for cash only, except such articles as are usually sold on credit at auction.
3. To warrant in like manner with other agents to sell according to § 5438 (3099).
4. To prescribe reasonable rules and terms of sale.
5. To deliver the thing sold, upon payment of the price.
6. To collect the price; and,

7. To do whatever else is necessary, or proper and usual, in the ordinary course of business, for effecting these purposes.

5462. (§ 3161.) Auctioneer's authority from the bidder.—An auctioneer has authority from a bidder at the auction, as well as from the seller, to bind both by a memorandum of the contract, as prescribed in the title on sale.

ARTICLE II.

FACTORS.

Section 5463. Factor, what.

5463. (§ 1370.) Factor, what.—A factor is an agent, as defined by § 5290 (2750).

5464. (§ 3171.) Actual authority of factor.—In addition to the authority of agents in general, a factor has actual authority for his principal, unless specially restricted:

1. To insure property consigned to him uninsured.
2. To sell, on credit, anything intrusted to him for sale, except such things as it is contrary to usage to sell on credit; but not to pledge, mortgage, or barter the same; and,
3. To delegate his authority to his partner or servant, but not to any person in an independent employment.

5465. (§ 3172.) Ostensible authority.—A factor has ostensible authority to deal with the property of his principal as his own, in transactions with persons not having notice of the actual ownership.

TITLE X.

PARTNERSHIP.

CHAPTER. I. PARTNERSHIP IN GENERAL.

II. GENERAL PARTNERSHIP.

III. SPECIAL PARTNERSHIP.

IV. MINING PARTNERSHIP.

CHAPTER I.

PARTNERSHIP IN GENERAL.

ARTICLE I. WHAT CONSTITUTES A PARTNERSHIP.

II. PARTNERSHIP PROPERTY.

III. MUTUAL OBLIGATIONS OF PARTNERS.

IV. RENUNCIATION OF PARTNERSHIP.

ARTICLE I.

WHAT CONSTITUTES A PARTNERSHIP.

Section 5466. Partnership, what.

“ 5467. Formation of partnership.

5466. (§ 3180.) Partnership, what.—Partnership is the association of two or more persons, for the purpose of carrying on business together, and dividing its profits between them.

Beasley v. Berry, 33 Mont. 481; 84 Pac. 792. The fact that an employe hired to buy and handle sheep, and purchase feed for them, and generally to have charge of the business of the employe, was to receive one-third of the profits, besides a monthly salary, did not constitute him a partner. The business was carried on in the name of the employer, who furnished the funds and never permitted himself to be held out as a partner with the employe. The sharing of profits is evidence that a partner exists, but is not conclusive.

Prince v. Lamb, 128 Cal. 126; 60 Pac. 689.

5467. (§ 3181.) Formation of partnership.—A partnership can be formed only by the consent of all the parties thereto, and therefore no new partner can be admitted into a partnership without the consent of every existing member thereof.

Beasley v. Berry, 33 Mont. 481; 84 Pac. 792.

ARTICLE II.

PARTNERSHIP PROPERTY.

Section 5468. Partnership property, what.

“ 5469. Partner's interest in partnership property.

“ 5470. Partner's share in profits and losses.

“ 5471. When division of losses implied.

“ 5472. Partner may require application of partnership property to payment of debts.

“ 5473. What property is partnership property by presumption.

5468. (§ 3190.) Partnership property, what.—The property of a partnership consists of all that is contributed to the common stock at the formation of the partnership, and all that is subsequently acquired thereby.

5469. (§ 3191.) Partner's interest in partnership property.—The interest of each member of a partnership extends to every portion of its property.

Beasley v. Berry, 33 Mont. 481; 84 Pac. 792.

People v. Warner, 147 Cal. 594; 82 Pac. 196.

5470. (§ 3192.) Partner's share in profits and losses.—In the absence of any agreement on the subject, the shares of partners in the profit or loss of the business are equal, and the share of each in the partnership property is the value of his original contribution, increased or diminished by his share of profit or loss.

5471. (§ 3193.) When division of losses implied.—An agreement to divide the profits of a business implies an agreement for a corresponding division of its losses, unless it is otherwise expressly stipulated.

Plass v. Plass, 122 Cal. 12; 54 Pac. 372.

5472. (§ 3194.) Partner may require application of partnership property to payment of debts.—Each member of a partnership may require its property to be applied to the discharge of its debts, and has a lien upon the shares of the other partners for this purpose, and for the payment of the general balance, if any, due to him.

5473. (§ 3195.) What property is partnership property by presumption.—Property, whether real or personal, acquired with partnership funds, is presumed to be partnership property.

ARTICLE III.

MUTUAL OBLIGATION OF PARTNERS.

Section 5474. Partners trustees for each other.

“ 5476. Mutual liability of partners to account.

“ 5477. No compensation for services to firm.

5474. (§ 3200.) Partners trustees for each other.—The relations of partners are confidential. They are trustees for each other within the meaning of chapter I., of the title on trusts, and their obligations as such trustees are defined by that chapter.

5475. (§ 3201.) Good faith to be observed between them.—In all proceedings connected with the formation, conduct, dissolution, and liquidation of a partnership, every partner is bound to act in the highest good faith toward his co-partners. He may not obtain any advantage over them in the partnership affairs by the slightest misrepresentation, concealment, threat, or adverse pressure of any kind.

Richards v. Fraser, 122 Cal. 460; 55 Pac. 246.

5476. (§ 3202.) Mutual liability of partners to account.—Each member of a partnership must account to it for everything that he receives on account thereof, and is entitled to reimbursement therefrom for everything that he properly expends for the benefit thereof, and to be indemnified thereby for all losses and risks which he necessarily incurs on its behalf.

5477. (§ 3203.) No compensation for services to firm.—A partner is not entitled to any compensation for services rendered by him to the partnership, unless there is an agreement to that effect.

Nevills v. Moore M. Co., 135 Cal. 564; 67 Pac. 1054.

ARTICLE IV.

RENUNCIATION OF PARTNERSHIP.

Section 5478. Renunciation of future profits exonerates from liability.

“ 5479. Effect of renunciation.

5478. (§ 3210.) Renunciation of future profits exonerates from liability.—A partner may exonerate himself from all future liability to a third person, on account of the partnership, by renouncing, in good faith, all participation in its future profits, and giving notice to such third person and to his own co-partners, that he has made such renunciation, and that, so far as may be in his power, he dissolves the partnership and does not intend to be liable on account thereof for the future.

5479. (§ 3211.) Effect of renunciation.—After a partner has given notice of his renunciation of the partnership, he cannot claim any of its subsequent profits, and his co-partners may proceed to dissolve the partnership.

CHAPTER II.

GENERAL PARTNERSHIP.

- ARTICLE I. WHAT IS A GENERAL PARTNERSHIP.
 II. POWERS AND AUTHORITY OF PARTNERS.
 III. MUTUAL OBLIGATIONS OF PARTNERS.
 IV. LIABILITY OF PARTNERS.
 V. TERMINATION OF PARTNERSHIP.
 VI. LIQUIDATION.
 VII. OF THE USE OF FICTITIOUS NAMES.

ARTICLE I.

WHAT IS A GENERAL PARTNERSHIP.

5480. (§ 3220.) Every partnership that is not formed in accordance with the law concerning special or mining partnerships, and every special partnership so far only as the general partners are concerned, is a general partnership.

ARTICLE II.

POWERS AND AUTHORITY OF PARTNERS.

- Section 5481. Power of majority of partners.*
 “ 5483. What authority partner has not.
 “ 5484. Partner's acts in bad faith, when ineffectual.

5481. (§ 3230.) Power of majority of partners.—Unless otherwise expressly stipulated, the decision of the majority of the members of a general partnership binds it in the conduct of its business.

5482. (§ 3231.) Authority of individual partner.—Every general partner is agent for the partnership in the transaction of its business, and has authority to do whatever is necessary to carry on such business in the ordinary manner, and for this purpose may bind his co-partners by an agreement in writing.

Hefferlin v. Karlman, 29 Mont. 146; 74 Pac. 203.

5483. (§ 3232.) What authority partner has not.—A partner, as such, has not authority to do any of the following acts, unless his co-partners have wholly abandoned the business to him, or are incapable of acting:

1. To make an assignment of the partnership property or any portion thereof to a creditor, or to a third person in trust for the benefit of a creditor or of all creditors.
2. To dispose of the good will of the business.
3. To dispose of the whole of the partnership property at once.
4. To do any act which would make it impossible to carry on the ordinary business of the partnership.
5. To confess a judgment.
6. To submit a partnership claim to arbitration.
7. To do any other act not within the scope of the preceding section.

Doll v. Hennessy M. Co., 33 Mont. 87; 81 Pac. 626. A sale of the stock in trade of a partnership to a stranger is void as to the nonassenting partner's interest in the property sold, and both purchaser and seller may be held liable by the nonassenting partner. Such sale is a violation of subdivision 3 of this section.

Merchants Co v. Sterling, 124 Cal. 432; 57 Pac. 468.

5484. (§ 3233.) Partner's acts in bad faith, when ineffectual.—A partner is not bound by any act of a co-partner, in bad faith toward him, though the scope of the partner's powers, except in favor of persons who have in good faith parted with value in reliance upon such act.

Hefferlin v. Karlman, 29 Mont. 146; 74 Pac. 203.

ARTICLE III.

MUTUAL OBLIGATIONS OF PARTNERS.

Section 5485. Profits of individual partner.

“ 5486. In what business partner may not engage.

“ 5488. Must account to firm for profits.

5485. (§ 3240.) Profits of individual partner.—All profits made by a general partner, in the course of any business usually carried on by the partnership, belong to the firm.

Peasley v. Berry, 33 Mont. 481; 84 Pac. 792.

5486. (§ 3241.) In what business partner may not engage.—A general partner, who agrees to give his personal attention to the business of the partnership, may not engage in any business which gives him an interest adverse to that of the partnership, or which prevents him from giving to such business all the attention which would be advantageous to it

Bremner v. Leavitt, 109 Cal. 132; 41 Pac. 859.

5487. (§ 3242.) In what he may engage.—A partner may engage in any separate business, except as otherwise provided by the last two sections.

5488. (§ 3243.) Must account to firm for profits.—A general partner transacting business contrary to the provisions of this article, may be required by any co-partner to account to the partnership for the profits of such business.

ARTICLE IV.

LIABILITY OF PARTNERS.

Section 5489. Liability of partners to third persons.

“ 5490. Liability for each other's acts as agents.

“ 5492. No one liable as partner unless partner or held out as such.

5489. (§ 3250.) Liability of partners to third persons.—Every general partner is liable to third persons for all the obligations of the partnership, jointly with his co-partners.

Muth v. Goddard, 28 Mont. 246; 72 Pac. 623. Stuart v. Adams, 89 Cal. 370; 26 Pac. 970.

Hefferlin v. Karlman, 29 Mont. 139; 74 Pac. 203.

5490. (§ 3251.) Liability for each other's acts as agents.—The liability of general partners for each other's acts is defined by the title on agency.

5491. (§ 3252.) Liability of one held out as partner.—Any one permitting himself to be represented as a partner, general or special, is liable as such to third persons to whom such representation is communicated, and who, on the faith thereof, give credit to the partnership.

Beasley v. Berry, 33 Mont. 481; 84 Pac. 792. Nofsinger v. Goldman, 122 Cal. 614; 55 Pac. 425.

5492. (§ 3253.) No one liable as partner unless partner or held out as such.—No one is liable as a partner who is not such in fact, except as provided in the last section.

Beasley v. Berry, 33 Mont. 481; 84 Pac. 792.

ARTICLE V.

TERMINATION OF PARTNERSHIP.

Section 5493. Duration of partnership.

“ 5494. Total dissolution of partnership.

“ 5495. Partial dissolution.

“ 5496. Partner entitled to dissolution.

“ 5498. Notice by change of name.

5493. (§ 3260.) Duration of partnership.—If no term is prescribed by agreement for its dissolution, a general partnership continues until dissolved by a partner or by operation of law.

5494. (§ 3261.) Total dissolution of partnership.—A general partnership is dissolved as to all the partners:

1. By the lapse of the time prescribed by agreement for its duration.
2. By the expressed will of any partner, if there is no such agreement.
3. By the death of a partner.
4. By the transfer to a person, not a partner, of the interest of any partner in the partnership property.
5. By war, or the prohibition of commercial intercourse between the country in which one partner resides and that in which another resides; or,
6. By a judgment of dissolution.

Chapman v. Hughes, 104 Cal. 305; 37 Pac. 1048.

5495. (§ 3262.) Partial dissolution.—A general partnership may be dissolved, as to himself only, by the expressed will of any partner, notwithstanding his agreement for its continuance, subject, however, to liability to his co-partners for any damage caused to them thereby, unless the circumstances are such as entitle him to a judgment of dissolution.

5496. (§ 3263.) Partner entitled to dissolution.—A general partner is entitled to a judgment of dissolution;

1. When he, or another partner, becomes legally incapable of contracting.
2. When another partner fails to perform his duties under the agreement of partnership, or is guilty of serious misconduct; or,
3. When the business of the partnership can be carried on only at a permanent loss.

5497. (§ 3264.) Notice of termination.—The liability of a general partner for the acts of his co-partners, continues, even after a dissolution of the co-partnership, in favor of persons who have dealings with and given credit to the partnership during its existence, until they have had personal notice of the dissolution; and in favor of other persons until such dissolution has been advertised in a newspaper published in every county where the partnership, at the time of its dissolution, had a place of business, if a newspaper is there published, to the extent in either case to which such persons part with value in good faith, and in the belief that such partner is still a member of the firm.

Dellapiazza v. Foley, 112 Cal. 382; 44 Pac. 727.

5498. (§ 3265.) Notice by change of name.—A change of the partnership name, which plainly indicates the withdrawal of a partner, is a sufficient notice of the fact of such withdrawal to all persons to whom it is communicated; but a change in the name, which does not contain such an indication, is not notice of the withdrawal of any partner.

ARTICLE VI.

LIQUIDATION.

Section 5499. Powers of partners after dissolution.

“ 5500. Who may act in liquidation.

“ 5501. Who may not act in liquidation.

“ 5502. Powers of partners in liquidation.

“ 5503. What partner may do in liquidation.

5499. (§ 3270.) Powers of partners after dissolution.—After the dissolution of a partnership, the powers and authority of the partners are only such as are prescribed by this article.

5500. (§ 3271.) Who may act in liquidation.—Any member of a general partnership may act in liquidation of its affairs, except as provided by the next section.

5501. (§ 3272.) Who may act in liquidation.—If the liquidation of a partnership is committed, by consent of all the partners, to one or more of them, the others have no right to act therein; but their acts are valid in favor of persons parting with value, in good faith, upon credit thereof.

5502. (§ 3273.) Powers of partners in liquidation.—A partner authorized to act in liquidation may collect, compromise, or release any debts due to the partnership, pay or compromise any claims against it, and dispose of the partnership property.

Berson v. Ewing, 84 Cal. 92; 23 Pac. 1112.

5503. (§ 3274.) What partners may do in liquidation.—A partner authorized to act in liquidation may indorse, in the name of the firm, promissory notes, or other obligations held by the partnership, for the purpose of collecting the same, but he cannot create any new obligation in its name, or revive a debt against the firm, by an acknowledgement when an action thereon is barred under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure

ARTICLE VII.

OF THE USE OF FICTITIOUS NAMES.

Section 5504. Fictitious name.

“ 5505. Certificate, when to be filed.

“ 5506. New certificate on change of partner.

“ 5507. Register of such firms to be kept by county clerk.

“ 5508. Certified copies of register, and proof of publication, to be evidence.

5504. (§ 3280.) Fictitious name.—Every partnership transacting business in this state under a fictitious name, or a designation not showing the names of the persons interested as partners in such business, must file with the clerk of the county in which its principal place of business is situated, a certificate stating the names in full of all the members of such partnership and their places of residence, and publish the same once a week, for four successive weeks, in a newspaper published in the county, if there be one, and if there be none in such county, then in a newspaper published in an adjoining county.

Guiterman v. Wishon, 21 Mont. 463; 54 Pac. 568. A. Guiterman, S. A. Guiterman and L. A. Guiterman were doing business under the firm name of Guiterman Bros. This was not a fictitious name, or a designation not showing the persons interested as partners.

Lander v. Sheehan, 32 Mont. 28; 79 Pac. 407.

North v. Moore, 135 Cal. 623; 67 Pac. 1037.

5505. (§ 3281.) Certificate, when to be filed.—The certificate filed with the clerk, as provided in § 5504 (3280), must be signed by the partners and acknowledged before some officer authorized to take acknowledgment of conveyances of real property. Where the partnership is hereafter formed, the certificate must be filed, and the publication designated in that section, must be made within one month after the formation of the partnership, or within one month from the time designated in the agreement of its members for the commencement of the partnership; where the partnership has been heretofore formed, the certificate must be filed, and the publication made within six months after the passage of this code. Persons doing business as partners contrary to the provisions of this article, or any assigns thereof, shall not maintain any action upon or on account of any contracts made or transactions had in their partnership name, in any court of this state, until they have first filed the certificate and made the publication herein required.

Lander v. Sheehan, 32 Mont. 28; 79 Pac. 407.

North v. Moore, 135 Cal. 623; 67 Pac. 1037.

5506. (§ 3282.) New certificate on change of partner.—On every change of the members of a partnership transacting business in this state under a fictitious name, or a designation which does not show the names of the persons interested as partners in its business, a new certificate must be filed with the county clerk, and a new publication made, as required by this article, on the formation of such partnership.

5508. (§ 3284.) Certified copies of register, and proof of publication, to be evidence.—Copies of the entries of a county clerk, as herein directed, when certified by him, and affidavits of publication, as herein directed, made by the printer, publisher, or chief clerk of a newspaper, are presumptive evidences of the facts therein stated.

5509. (§ 3285.) Individual using fictitious name in business must file certificate.—Every individual now transacting business, or who may hereafter transact business, in this state under a fictitious name, or a style or designation purporting to be a firm name or corporate name, shall file and publish, or cause to be filed and published, the certificates described in sections 5504 (3280), 5505 (3281) and 5506 (3282) of the Civil Code of the State of Montana. Anyone doing business contrary to the provisions of this Section shall be subject to the disabilities and provisions of section 5505 (3281) of this code. [Act approved March 7, 1907.] (10th Sess. Chap. 150.)

CHAPTER III.

SPECIAL PARTNERSHIP.

ARTICLE I. FORMATION OF PARTNERSHIP.

II. POWERS, RIGHTS AND DUTIES OF THE PARTNERS.

III. LIABILITY OF PARTNERS.

IV. ALTERATION AND DISSOLUTION OF THE PARTNERSHIP.

ARTICLE I.

FORMATION OF PARTNERSHIP.

Section 5510. Formation of special partnership.

“ 5513. Acknowledged and recorded. False statements.

“ 5518. Renewal of special partnership.

5510. (§ 3290.) Formation of special partnership.—A special partnership may be formed by two or more persons, in the manner and with the effect prescribed in this chapter, for the transaction of any business except banking or insurance.

5511. (§ 3291.) Of what to consist.—A special partnership may consist of one or more persons called general partners, and one or more persons called special partners.

5512. (§ 3292.) Certified statement.—Persons desirous of forming a special partnership must severally sign a certificate stating:

1. The name under which the partnership is to be conducted.
2. The general nature of the business intended to be transacted.

3. The names of all the partners, and the residences, specifying which are general and which are special partners.

4. The amount of capital which each special partner has contributed to the common stock.

5. The periods at which such partnership will begin and end.

5513. (§ 3293.) Acknowledged and recorded. False statement.—Certificates under the last section must be acknowledged by all the partners, before some officer authorized to take acknowledgment of deeds, and filed and recorded in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the principal place of business of the partnership is situated, in a book to be kept for that purpose, open to public inspection; and if the partnership has places of business situated in different counties, a copy of the certificate, certified by the county clerk in whose office it is recorded, must be filed and recorded in like manner, in the office of the county clerk of every such county. If any false statement is made in any such certificate, all the persons interested in the partnership are liable, as general partners, for all the engagements thereof

5514. (§ 3294.) Affidavit as to sums contributed.—An affidavit of each of the partners, stating that the sums specified in the certificate of the partnership as having been contributed by each of the special partners, have been actually and in good faith paid, in the lawful money of the United States, must be filed and recorded in the same office with the original certificate

5515. (§ 3295.) No partnership until compliance.—No special partnership is formed until the provisions of the last five sections are complied with.

5516. (§ 3296.) Certificate to be published.—The certificate mentioned in this article, or a statement of its substance, must be published in a newspaper printed in the county where the original certificate is recorded, and if no newspaper is there printed, then in a newspaper in the county nearest thereto. Such publication must be made once a week for four successive weeks, beginning within one week from the time of recording the certificate. In case such publication is not so made, the partnership must be deemed general.

5517. (§ 3297.) Affidavit of publication filed.—An affidavit of the making of the publication mentioned in the preceding section, made by the printer, publisher, or chief clerk of the newspaper in which such publication is made, may be filed with the county clerk with whom the original certificate was recorded, and is presumptive evidence of the facts therein stated.

5518. (§ 3298.) Renewal of special partnership.—Every renewal or continuance of a special partnership must be certified, recorded, verified, and published in the same manner as upon its original formation. If not renewed, it shall be deemed a general partnership.

ARTICLE II.

POWERS, RIGHTS, AND DUTIES OF THE PARTNERS.

Section 5519. Who to do business.

“ 5520. Special partners may advise.

“ 5521. May loan money. Insolvency.

“ 5522. General partners may sue and be sued.

“ 5523. Withdrawal of capital.

“ 5524. Interest and profits.

“ 5525. Result of withdrawing capital.

5519. (§ 3310.) Who to do business.—The general partners only have authority to transact the business of a special partnership.

5520. (§ 3311.) Special partner may advise.—A special partner may at all times investigate the partnership affairs, and advise his partners, or their agents, as to their management.

5521. (§ 3312.) May loan money. Insolvency.—A special partner may lend money to the partnership, or advance money for it, and take from it security therefor, and as to such loans or advances has the same rights as any other creditor; but in case of the insolvency of the partnership, all other claims which he may have against it, must be postponed until all other creditors are satisfied.

5522. (§ 3313.) General partners may sue and be sued.—In all matters relating to special partnership, its general partners may sue and be sued alone, in the same manner as if there were no special partners.

5523. (§ 3314.) Withdrawal of capital.—No special partner, under any pretense, may withdraw any part of the capital invested by him in the partnership, during its continuance.

5524. (§ 3315.) Interest and profits.—A special partner may receive such lawful interest and such proportion of profits as may be agreed upon, if not paid out of the capital invested in the partnership by him, or by some other special partner, and is not bound to refund the same to meet subsequent losses.

5525. (§ 3316.) Result of withdrawing capital.—If a special partner withdraws from the firm, contrary to the provisions of this article, he thereby becomes a general partner.

5526. (§ 3317.) Preferential transfer void.—Every transfer of the property of a special partnership, or of a partner therein, made after or in contemplation of the insolvency of such partnership or partner, with intent to give a preference to any creditor of such partnership or partner over any other creditor of such partnership, is void against the creditors thereof; and every judgment confessed, lien created, or security given, in like manner and with like intent, is in like manner void.

ARTICLE III.

LIABILITY OF PARTNERS.

Section 5527. Liability of partners.

“ 5529. Liability for unintentional act.

“ 5530. Who may question existence of special partnership.

5527. (§ 3330.) Liability of partners.—The general partners in a special partnership are liable to the same extent as partners in a general partnership.

5528. (§ 3331.) Of special partners.—The contribution of a special partner to the capital of the firm, and the increase thereof, is liable for its debts, but he is not otherwise liable therefor, except as follows:

1. If he has wilfully made or permitted a false or materially defective statement in the certificate of the partnership, the affidavit filed therewith or the published announcement thereof, he is liable, as a general partner, to all creditors of the firm.

2. If he has wilfully interfered with the business of the firm, except as permitted in article II. of this chapter, he is liable in like manner; or,

3. If he has wilfully joined in or assented to an act contrary to any of the provisions of article II., of this chapter, he is liable in like manner.

5529. (§ 3332.) Liability for unintentional act.—When a special partner has unintentionally done any of the acts mentioned in the last section, he is liable as a general partner, to any creditor of the firm who has been actually misled thereby to his prejudice

5530. (§ 3333.) Who may question existence of special partnership.—One who, upon making a contract with a partnership, accepts from or gives to it a written memorandum of the contract, stating that the partnership is special, and giving the names of the special partners, cannot afterwards charge the persons thus named as general partners upon that contract, by reason of an error or defect in the proceedings for the creation of the special partnership, prior to the acceptance of the memorandum, if an effort has been made by the partners, in good faith, to form a special partnership in the manner required by article I. of this chapter.

ARTICLE IV.

ALTERATION AND DISSOLUTION OF THE PARTNERSHIP.

Section 5531. When special partnership becomes general.

“ 5532. How new special partners may be admitted.

5531. (§ 3340.) When special partnership becomes general.
—A special partnership becomes general, if, within ten days after any partner withdraws from it, or any new partner is received into it, or a change is made in the nature of its business or in its name, a certificate of such fact, duly verified and signed by one or more of the partners, is not filed with the county clerk, with whom the original certificate of the partnership was filed and recorded, and notice thereof published, as provided in article I., of this chapter, for the publication of the certificate.

5532. (§ 3341.) How new special partners may be admitted.
—New special partners may be admitted into a special partnership upon a certificate, stating the names, residences, and contributions to the common stock of each of such partners, signed by each of them and by the general partners, verified, acknowledged, or proved, according to the provisions of article I., of this chapter, and filed and recorded with the county clerk, with whom the original certificate of the partnership was filed.

5533. (§ 3342.) Dissolution of special partnerships. Notice.
—A special partnership is subject to dissolution in the same manner as a general partnership, except that no dissolution, by the act of the partners, is complete until a notice thereof has been filed and recorded in the office of the county clerk, with whom the original certificate was recorded, and published once in each week, for four successive weeks, in a newspaper printed in each county where the partnership has a place of business.

5534. (§ 3343.) When special partner liable as general partner.—The business of the partnership shall be conducted under a firm name, in which the names of the general partners only shall be inserted. If the name of any special partner shall be used in such firm name with his consent, or if he shall personally make any contract respecting or concerning the partnership with any person except the general partner, he becomes liable as a general partner.

CHAPTER IV.

MINING PARTNERSHIPS.

Section 5535. When a mining partnership exists.

“ 5537. Profits and losses, how shared.

Section 5539. Mine—partnership property.

“ 5540. Partnership not dissolved by sale of interest.

“ 5541. Purchaser takes, subject to liens, unless, etc.

5535. (§ 3350.) When a mining partnership exists.—A mining partnership exists when two or more persons who own or acquire a mining claim for the purpose of working it and extracting the mineral therefrom, actually engage in working the same.

Anaconda M. Co. v. B. & M. Co., 17 Mont. 519; 43 Pac. 924. A mining partnership exists when there is an ownership of the interests in a mine by two or more persons for the purpose of working it, and when such owners actually engage in working the mine.

Pac. 261. Mining partnerships differing from general partnerships were recognized by the decisions of this court before the enactment of this section July 1, 1895.

Prince v. Lamb, 128 Cal. 127; 60 Pac. 689.

Congdon v. Olds, 18 Mont. 489; 46

5536. (§ 3351.) Express agreement not necessary to constitute.—An express agreement to become partners or to share the profits and losses of mining, is not necessary to the formation and existence of a mining partnership. The relation arises from the ownership of shares or interests in the mine and working the same for the purpose of extracting the minerals therefrom.

Anaconda M. Co. v. B. & M. Co., 17 Mont. 519; 43 Pac. 924.

Ferris v. Baker, 127 Cal. 520; 59 Pac. 937.

5537. (§ 3352.) Profits and losses, how shared.—A member of a mining partnership shares in the profits and losses thereof in the proportion which the interest or share he owns in the mine bears to the whole partnership capital or whole number of shares.

Stuart v. Adams, 89 Cal. 371; 26 Pac. 970.

5538. (§ 3353.) Lien of partners.—Each member of a mining partnership has a lien on the partnership property for the debts due the creditors thereof, and for money advanced by him for its uses. This lien exists, notwithstanding there is an agreement among the partners that it must not.

Stuart v. Adams, 89 Cal. 371; 26 Pac. 970.

5539. (§ 3354.) Mine—partnership property.—The mining ground owned and worked by partners in mining, whether purchased with partnership funds or not, is partnership property.

5540. (§ 3355.) Partnership not dissolved by sale of interest.—One of the partners in a mining partnership may convey his interest in the mine and business without dissolving the partnership. The purchaser, from the date of his purchase, becomes a member of the partnership.

5541. (§ 3356.) Purchaser takes, subject to liens, unless, etc.—A purchaser of an interest in the mining ground of a mining partnership takes it subject to the liens existing in favor of the partners for debts due all creditors thereof, or advances made for the benefit of the partnership, unless he purchased in good faith, for a valuable consideration, without notice of such lien.

5542. (§ 3357.) Takes with notice of lien, when.—The purchaser of the interest of a partner in a mine when the partnership is engaged in working it, takes with notice of all liens resulting from the relation of the partners to each other, and to the creditors of the partnership.

5543. (§ 3358.) Contract in writing, when binding.—No member of a mining partnership or other agent or manager thereof, can, by a contract in writing, bind the partnership, except by express authority derived from the members thereof.

5544. (§ 3359.) Owners of majority of shares govern.—The decision of the members owning a majority of the shares of interests in a mining partnership binds it in the conduct of its business.

Anaconda M. Co. v. B. & M. Co., 17
Mont. 522; 43 Pac. 924.

Stuart v. Adams, 89 Cal. 371; 26 Pac.
970.

TITLE XI.

INSURANCE.

- CHAPTER I. INSURANCE IN GENERAL.
II. FIRE INSURANCE.
III. LIFE AND HEALTH INSURANCE.

CHAPTER I.

INSURANCE IN GENERAL.

- ARTICLE I. DEFINITION OF INSURANCE.
II. WHAT MAY BE INSURED.
III. PARTIES.
IV. INSURABLE INTEREST.
V. CONCEALMENT AND REPRESENTATION.
VI. THE POLICY.
VII. WARRANTIES.
VIII. PREMIUMS.
IX. LOSS.
X. NOTICE OF LOSS.
XI. DOUBLE INSURANCE.
XII. REINSURANCE.

ARTICLE I.

DEFINITION OF INSURANCE.

5545. (§ 3370.) Insurance is a contract whereby one undertakes to indemnify another against loss, damage, or liability, arising from an unknown or contingent event.

Union Co. v. American Co., 107 Cal. 330; 40 Pac. 431.

ARTICLE II.

WHAT MAY BE INSURED.

Section 5546. What events may be insured against.

“ 5547. Insurance of lottery or lottery prize unauthorized.

“ 5548. Usual kinds of insurance.

“ 5549. All subject to this chapter.

5546. (§ 3380.) What events may be insured against.—Any contingent or unknown event, whether past or future, which may damnify a person having an insurable interest, or create a liability against him, may be insured against, subject to the provisions of this chapter.

Union Co. v. American Co., 107 Cal. 330; 40 Pac. 431.

5547. (§ 3381.) Insurance of lottery or lottery prize unauthorized.—The preceding section does not authorize an insurance for or against the drawing of any lottery, or for or against any chance or ticket in a lottery drawing a prize.

5548. (§ 3382.) Usual kinds of insurance.—The usual kinds of insurance are:

1. Marine insurance.
2. Fire insurance.
3. Life insurance.
4. Health insurance; and,
5. Accident insurance.

5549. (§ 3383.) All subject to this chapter.—All kinds of insurance are subject to the provisions of this chapter.

ARTICLE III.

PARTIES TO THE CONTRACT.

Section 5550. Designation of parties.

“ 5551. Who may insure.

5550. (§ 3390.) Designation of parties.—The person who undertakes to indemnify another by a contract of insurance is called the insurer, and the person indemnified is called the insured.

5551. (§ 3391.) Who may insure.—Any one capable of making a contract may be an insurer, subject to the restrictions imposed by special statutes upon foreign corporations, non-residents, and others.

5552. (§ 3392.) Who may be insured.—Any one except a public enemy may be insured.

5553. (§ 3393.) Assignment to mortgagee of thing insured.—Where a mortgagor of property effects insurance in his own name, providing that the loss shall be payable to the mortgagee, or assigns a policy of insurance to the mortgagee, the insurance is deemed to be upon the interest of the mortgagor, who does not cease to be a party to the original contract, and any act of his which would otherwise avoid the insurance will have the same effect, although the property is in the hands of the mortgagee.

Sierra Co. v. Butler, 136 Cal. 547; 69 Pac. 418.

5554. (§ 3394.) New contract between insurer and assignee.—If an insurer assents to the transfer of an insurance from a mortgagor to a mortgagee, and at the time of his assent, imposes further obligations on the assignee, making a new contract with him, the acts of the mortgagor cannot affect his rights.

ARTICLE IV.

INSURABLE INTEREST.

- Section 5555. Insurable interest, what.
 “ 5556. In what may consist “ 5557. Interest of carrier or depositary.
 “ 5558. Mere expectancies.
 “ 5559. Measure of interest in property.
 “ 5560. Insurance without interest illegal.
 “ 5561. When interest must exist.
 “ 5562. Effect of transfer.
 “ 5563. Transfer after loss.
 “ 5564. Exception in the case of several subjects in one policy.
 “ 5565. In case of death of insurer.
 “ 5567. Policy, when void.

5555. (§ 3400.) Insurable interest, what.—Any interest in property, or any relation thereto, or liability in respect thereof, of such a nature that a contemplated peril might directly damnify the insured, is an insurable interest.

5556. (§ 3401.) In what may consist.—An insurable interest in property may consist in:

1. An existing interest.
2. An inchoate interest founded on an existing interest; or,
3. An expectancy, coupled with an existing interest in that out of which the expectancy arises.

5557. (§ 3402.) Interest of carrier or depositary.—A carrier or depositary of any kind has an insurable interest in a thing held by him as such, to the extent of its value.

5558. (§ 3403.) Mere expectancies.—A mere contingent or expectant interest in anything, not founded on an actual right to the thing, nor upon any valid contract for it, is not insurable.

5559. (§ 3404.) Measure of interest in property.—The measure of an insurable interest in property is the extent to which the insured might be damnified by loss or injury thereof.

5560. (§ 3405.) Insurance without interest, illegal.—The sole object of insurance is the indemnity of the insured, and if he has no insurable interest, the contract is void.

5561. (§ 3406.) When interest must exist.—An interest insured must exist when the insurance takes effect, and when the loss occurs, but need not exist in the meantime.

5562. (§ 3407.) Effect of transfer.—Except in the cases specified in the next four sections, and in the cases of life, accident, and health insurance, a change of interest in any part of a thing insured, unaccompanied by a corresponding change of interest in the insurance, suspends the insurance to an equivalent extent, until the interest in the thing and the interest in the insurance are vested in the same person.

5563. (§ 3408.) Transfer after loss.—A change of interest in a thing insured, after the occurrence of an injury which results in a loss, does not affect the right of the insured to indemnify for the loss.

5564. (§ 3409.) Exception in the case of several subjects in one policy.—A change of interest in one or more of several distinct things, separately insured by one policy, does not avoid the insurance as to the others.

5565. (§ 3410.) In case of the death of the insurer.—A change of interest, by will or succession, or the death of the insured, does not avoid an insurance; and his interest in the insurance passes to the person taking his interest in the thing insured.

5566. (§ 3411.) In the case of transfer between co-tenants.—A transfer of interest by one of several partners, joint owners, or owners in common, who are jointly insured, to the others, does not avoid an insurance, even though it has been agreed that the insurance shall cease upon an alienation of the thing insured.

5567. (§ 3412.) Policy, when void.—Every stipulation in a policy of insurance for the payment of loss, whether the person insured has or has not any interest in the property insured, or that the policy shall be received as proof of such interest, and every policy executed by way of gaming, or wagering, is void.

ARTICLE V.

CONCEALMENT AND REPRESENTATION.

- Section 5568. Concealment, what.*
 “ 5569. Effect of concealment.
 “ 5570. What must be disclosed.
 “ 5572. Test of materiality.
 “ 5573. Matters which each is bound to know.
 “ 5574. Waiver of communication.
 “ 5575. Interest of insured.
 “ 5577. Matters of opinion.
 “ 5579. When made.
 “ 5581. Representation as to future.
 “ 5582. How may affect policy.
 “ 5583. When may be withdrawn.
 “ 5584. Time intended by representation.
 “ 5588. Materiality.
 “ 5590. Application of provisions of this article.

5568. (§ 3420.) Concealment, what.—A neglect to communicate that which a party knows, and ought to communicate, is called a concealment.

Hart v. British I. Co., 80 Cal. 443; 22 Pac. 302.

5569. (§ 3421.) Effect of concealment.—A concealment, whether intentional or unintentional, entitles the injured party to rescind a contract of insurance.

Hart v. British I. Co., 80 Cal. 443; 22 Pac. 302.

5570. (§ 3422.) What must be disclosed.—Each party to a contract of insurance must communicate to the other, in good faith, all the facts within his knowledge which are, or which he believes to be material to the contract, and which the other has not the means of ascertaining, and as to which he makes no warranty.

Hart v. British I. Co., 80 Cal. 443; 22 Pac. 302.

5571. (§ 3423.) Matters which need not be communicated without inquiry.—Neither party to a contract of insurance is bound to communicate information of the matters following, except in answer to the inquiries of the other:

1. Those which the other knows.

2. Those which, in the exercise of ordinary care, the other ought to know, and of which the former has no reason to suppose him ignorant.

3. Those of which the other waives communication.

4. Those which prove or tend to prove the existence of a risk excluded by a warranty, and which are not otherwise material; and,

5. Those which relate to a risk, excepted from the policy, and which are not otherwise material.

Bayley v. Employers' Co., 125 Cal. 350; 58 Pac. 7.

5572. (§ 3424.) Test of materiality.—Materiality is to be determined not by the event, but solely by the probable and reasonable influence of the facts upon the party to whom the communication is due, in forming his estimate of the disadvantages of the proposed contract, or in making his inquiries.

5573. (§ 3425.) Matters which each is bound to know.—Each party to a contract of insurance is bound to know all the general causes which are open to his inquiry, equally with that of the other, and which may affect either the political or material perils contemplated, and all general usages of trade.

5574. (§ 3426.) Waiver of communication.—The right to information of material facts may be waived, either by the terms of insurance or by neglect to make inquiries as to such facts, where they are distinctly implied in other facts of which information is communicated.

5575. (§ 3427.) Interest of insured.—Information of the nature or amount of the interest of one insured need not be communicated unless in answer to an inquiry, except as prescribed by § 5592 (3451).

5576. (§ 3428.) Fraudulent warranty.—An intentional and fraudulent omission, on the part of one insured, to communicate information of matters proving or tending to prove the falsity of a warranty, entitles the insurer to rescind.

5577. (§ 3429.) Matters of opinion.—Neither party to a contract of insurance is bound to communicate, even upon inquiry, information of his own judgment upon the matters in question.

5578. (§ 3430.) Representation, what.—A representation may be oral or written.

5579. (§ 3431.) When made.—A representation may be made at the same time with issuing the policy, or before it.

5580. (§ 3432.) How interpreted.—The language of a representation is to be interpreted by the same rules as the language of contracts in general.

5581. (§ 3433.) Representation as to future.—A representation as to the future is to be deemed a promise, unless it appears that it was merely a statement of belief or expectation.

5582. (§ 3434.) How may effect policy.—A representation cannot be allowed to qualify an express provision in a contract of insurance; but it may qualify an implied warranty.

5583. (§ 3435.) When may be withdrawn.—A representation may be altered or withdrawn before the insurance is affected, but not afterwards.

5584. (§ 3436.) Time intended by representation.—The completion of the contract of insurance is the time to which a representation must be presumed to refer.

5585. (§ 3437.) Representing information.—When a person insured has no personal knowledge of a fact, he may nevertheless repeat information which he has upon the subject, and which he believes to be true, with the explanation that he does so on the information of others, or he may submit the information, in its whole extent, to the insurer; and in neither case is he responsible for its truth, unless it proceeds from an agent of the insured, whose duty it is to give the intelligence.

5586. (§ 3438.) Falsity.—A representation is to be deemed false when the facts fail to correspond with its assertions or stipulations.

5587. (§ 3439.) Effect of falsity.—If a representation is false in a material point, whether affirmative or promissory, the injured party is entitled to rescind the contract, from the time when the representation becomes false.

5588. (§ 3440.) Materiality.—The materiality of a representation is determined by the same rule as the materiality of a concealment.

5589. Solicitor deemed agent of the company.—Any person who shall solicit an application for insurance upon the life of another shall, in any controversy between the assured or his beneficiary and the company issuing any policy upon such application, be regarded as the agent of the company and not the agent of the assured. [Act approved February 25, 1907.] (10th Sess. Chap. 30.)

5590. (§ 3441.) Application of provisions of this article.—The provisions of this article apply as well to a modification of a contract of insurance as to its original formation.

ARTICLE VI.

THE POLICY.

- Section 5591. Policy, what.
 “ 5592. What must be specified in a policy.
 “ 5593. Policy must contain whole contract.
 “ 5594. Whose interest is covered.
 “ 5595. Insurance by agent or trustee.
 “ 5596. Insurance by part owner.
 “ 5597. General terms.

- Section 5598. Successive owners.*
“ 5599. Transfer of the thing insured.
“ 5602. Valued policy, what.
“ 5603. Running policy, what.
“ 5604. Effect of receipt.

5591. (§ 3450.) Policy, what.—The written instrument in which a contract of insurance is set forth, is called a policy of insurance.

5592. (§ 3451.) What must be specified in a policy.—A policy of insurance must specify :

1. The parties between whom the contract is made.
2. The rate of premium.
3. The property or life insured.
4. The interest of the insured in the property insured, if he is not the absolute owner thereof.
5. The risks insured against; and,
6. The period during which the insurance is to continue.

Davis v. Phoenix I. Co., 111 Cal. 411; 43 Pac. 1115.

5593. Policy must contain the whole contract.—Every policy of insurance issued or delivered within this State on or after the first day of January, Nineteen Hundred and Eight, by any life insurance corporation doing business within the State shall contain the entire contract between the parties. [Act approved February 26, 1907.] (10th Sess. Chap. 39.)

5594. (§ 3452.) Whose interest is covered.—When the name of the person intended to be insured is specified in a policy, it can be applied only to his own proper interest.

5595. (§ 3453.) Insurance by agent or trustee.—When an insurance is made by an agent or trustee, the fact that his principal or beneficiary is the person really insured may be indicated by describing him as agent or trustee, or by other general words in the policy.

5596. (§ 3454.) Insurance by part owner.—To render an insurance, effected by one partner or part owner, applicable to the interest of his co-partners, or of other part owners, it is necessary that the terms of the policy should be such as are applicable to the joint or common interest.

5597. (§ 3455.) General terms.—When the description of the insured in a policy is so general that it may comprehend any person or any class of persons, he can claim the benefit of the policy who can show that it was intended to include him.

5598. (§ 3456.) Successive owners.—A policy may be so framed that it will inure to the benefit of whomsoever, during the continuance of the risk, may become the owner of the interest insured.

5599. (§ 3457.) Transfer of the thing insured.—The mere transfer of a thing insured does not transfer the policy, but suspends it till the same person becomes the owner of both the policy and the thing insured.

5600. (§ 3458.) Open and valued policies.—A policy is either open or valued.

5601. (§ 3459.) Open policy, what.—An open policy is one in which the value of the thing insured is not agreed upon, but is left to be ascertained in case of loss.

5602. (§ 3460.) Valued policy, what.—A valued policy is one which expresses on its face an agreement that the thing insured shall be valued at a specified sum.

Wilmington Co. v. O'Neil, 98 Cal. 7; 32 Pac. 705.

5603. (§ 3461.) Running policy, what.—A running policy is one which contemplates successive insurances, and which provides that the object of the policy may be from time to time defined, especially as to the subjects of insurance, by additional statements or indorsements.

5604. (§ 3462.) Effect of receipt.—An acknowledgment in a policy of the receipt of premium is conclusive evidence of its payment, so far as to make the policy binding, notwithstanding any stipulation therein that it shall not be binding until the premium is actually paid.

Palmer v. Continental I. Co., 132 Cal. 70; 64 Pac. 97.

5605. (§ 3463.) Agreement not to transfer.—An agreement made before a loss, not to transfer the claim of a person insured against the insurer, after the loss has happened, is void.

ARTICLE VII.

WARRANTIES.

- | | | |
|----------------|--------------|---|
| Section | 5606. | Warranty, express or implied. |
| " | 5607. | Form. |
| " | 5608. | Warranty, in what contained. |
| " | 5609. | Past, present and future warranties. |
| " | 5610. | Warranty as to past or present. |
| " | 5611. | Warranty as to the future. |
| " | 5612. | Performance excused. |
| " | 5613. | What acts avoid the policy. |
| " | 5614. | Policy may provide for avoidance. |
| " | 5615. | Breach without fraud. |

5606. (§ 3470.) Warranty, express or implied.—A warranty is either express or implied.

5607. (§ 3471.) Form.—No particular form of words is necessary to create a warranty.

5608. (§ 3472.) Warranty, in what contained.—Every express warranty, made at or before the execution of the policy, must be contained in the policy itself, or in another instrument signed by the insured, and referred to in the policy, as making a part of it.

5609. (§ 3473.) Past present, and future warranties.—A warranty may relate to the past, the present, the future, or to any or all of these.

5610. (§ 3474.) Warranty as to past or present.—A statement in a policy, of a matter relating to the person or thing insured, or to the risk, as a fact, is an express warranty thereof.

National Bank v. Union I. Co., 88 Cal. 504; 26 Pac. 509.

5611. (§ 3475.) Warranty as to the future.—A statement in a policy, which imports that it is intended to do or not to do a thing which materially affects the risk, is a warranty that such an act or omission shall take place.

Young v. Pacific Co., 137 Cal. 597; 70 Pac. 660.

5612. (§ 3476.) Performance excused.—When before the time arrives for the performance of a warranty relating to the future, a loss insured against happens, or performance becomes unlawful at the place of the contract, or impossible, the omission to fulfill the warranty does not avoid the policy.

5613. (§ 3477.) When acts avoid the policy.—The violation of a material warranty, or other material provision of a policy, on the part of either party thereto, entitles the other to rescind.

5614. (§ 3478.) Policy may provide for avoidance.—A policy may declare that a violation of specified provisions shall avoid it, otherwise the breach of immaterial provision does not avoid the policy.

Bastian v. British Co., 143 Cal. 291; 77 Pac. 63.

5615. (§ 3479.) Breach without fraud.—A breach of warranty, without fraud, merely exonerates the insurer from the time that it occurs, or where it is broken in its inception prevents the policy from attaching to the risk.

ARTICLE VIII.

THE PREMIUM.

Section 5616. When premium is earned.

“ 5617. Return of premium.

“ 5619. Return for fraud.

“ 5620. Over-insurance by several insurers.

“ 5621. Contribution.

“ 5622. Proportionate contribution.

5616. (§ 3490.) When premium is earned.—An insurer is entitled to payment of the premium as soon as the thing insured is exposed to the peril insured against.

Joshua Works v. Insurance Co., 86 Cal. 252; 24 Pac. 1018.

5617. (§ 3491.) Return of premium.—A person insured is entitled to a return of premium, as follows:

1. To the whole premium, if no part of his interest in the thing insured be exposed to any of the perils insured against.

2. Where the insurance is made for a definite period of time and the insured surrenders his policy, to such proportion of the premium as corresponds with the unexpired time, after deducting from the whole premium any claim for loss or damage under the policy which has previously accrued.

5618. (§ 3492.) When none allowed.—If a peril insured against has existed, and the insurer has been liable for any period, however short, the insured is not entitled to return of premiums so far as that particular risk is concerned.

5619. (§ 3493.) Return for fraud.—A person insured is entitled to a return of the premium when the contract is voidable, on account of the fraud or misrepresentation of the insurer, or on account of facts, of the existence of which the insured was ignorant without his fault; or when, by any default of the insured other than actual fraud the insurer never incurred any liability under the policy.

5620. (§ 3494.) Over-insurance by several insurers.—In case of an over-insurance by several insurers, the insurer is entitled to a ratable return of the premium, proportioned to the amount by which the aggregate sum insured in all the policies exceeds the insurable value of the thing at risk.

5621. (§ 3495.) Contribution.—When an over-insurance is effected by simultaneous policies, the insurers contribute to the premium to be returned, in proportion to the amount insured by their respective policies.

5622. (§ 3496.) Proportionate contribution.—When an over-insurance is effected by successive policies, those only contribute to a return of the premium who are exonerated by prior insurances from the liability assumed by them, and in proportion as the sum for which the premium was paid exceeds the amount for which, on account of prior insurance, they could be made liable.

ARTICLE IX.

LOSS.

Section 5623. Perils, remote and proximate.

“ 5624. Loss incurred in rescue from peril.

“ 5626. Negligence and fraud.

5623. (§ 3500.) Perils, remote and proximate.—An insurer is liable for a loss of which a peril insured against was the proximate cause; although a peril not contemplated by the contract may have been a remote cause of the loss; but he is not liable for a loss of which the peril insured against was only a remote cause.

5624. (§ 3501.) Loss incurred in rescue from peril.—An insurer is liable where the thing insured is rescued from a peril insured against, that would otherwise have caused a loss, if in the course of such rescue the thing is exposed to a peril not insured against, which permanently deprives the insured of its possession, in whole or in part; or where a loss is caused by efforts to rescue the thing insured from a peril insured against.

5625. (§ 3502.) Excepted perils.—Where a peril is specially excepted in a contract of insurance, a loss which would not have occurred but for such peril is thereby excepted; although the immediate cause of the loss was a peril which was not excepted.

5626. (§ 3503.) Negligence and fraud.—An insurer is not liable for a loss caused by the wilful act of the insured; but he is not exonerated by the negligence of the insured, or of his agents or others.

ARTICLE X.

NOTICE OF LOSS.

Section 5627. Notice of loss.

“ 5628. Preliminary proofs.

“ 5630. Waiver of delay.

5627. (§ 3510.) Notice of loss.—In case of loss upon an insurance against fire, an insurer is exonerated, if notice thereof be not given to him by some person insured, or entitled to the benefit of the insurance, without unnecessary delay.

5628. (§ 3511.) Preliminary proofs.—When preliminary proof of loss is required by a policy, the insured is not bound to give such proof as would be necessary in a court of justice; but it is sufficient for him to give the best evidence which he has in his power at the time.

5629. (§ 3512.) Waiver of defects in notice, etc.—All defects in a notice of loss, or in preliminary proofs thereof which the insured might remedy, and which the insurer omits to specify to him, without unnecessary delay, as grounds of objection, are waived.

Greiss v. State I. Co., 98 Cal. 243; 33 Pac. 195.

5630. (§ 3513.) Waiver of delay.—Delay in the presentation to an insurer of notice or proof of loss is waived, if caused by any act of his, or if he omits to make objection promptly and specifically upon that ground.

5631. (§ 3514.) Certificate, when dispensed with.—If a policy requires, by way of preliminary proof of loss, the certificate or testimony of a person other than the insured, it is sufficient for the insured to use reasonable diligence to procure it, and in case of the refusal of such person to give it, then to furnish reasonable evidence to the insurer that such refusal was not induced by any just grounds of disbelief in the facts necessary to be certified.

Noone v. Transatlantic Co., 88 Cal. 157; 26 Pac. 103.

ARTICLE XI.

DOUBLE INSURANCE.

Section 5632. Double insurance.

“ 5633. Contribution in case of double insurance.

5632. (§ 3520.) Double insurance.—A double insurance exists where the same person is insured by several insurers separately in respect to the same subject and interest.

5633. (§ 3521.) Contribution in case of double insurance.—In case of double insurance, the several insurers are liable to pay losses thereon as follows:

1. In fire insurance, each insurer must contribute ratably towards the loss, without regard to the dates of the several policies.

2. In marine insurance, the liability of the several insurers for a total loss, whether actual or constructive, where the policies are not simultaneous, is in the order of the dates of the several policies no liability attaching to a second or other subsequent policy, except as to the excess of the loss over the amount of all previous policies on the same interest. If two or more policies bear date upon the same day, they are deemed to be simultaneous, and the liability of insurers on simultaneous policies is to contribute ratably with each other. The insolvency of any of the insurers does not affect the proportionate liability of the other insurers. The liability of all insurers on the same marine interest for a partial or average loss is to contribute ratably.

ARTICLE XII.

REINSURANCE.

Section 5634. Reinsurance, what.

“ 5635. Disclosures required.

“ 5636. Reinsurance presumed to be against liability.

“ 5637. Original insured has no interest.

5634. (§ 3530.) Reinsurance, what.—A contract of reinsurance is one by which an insurer procures a third person to insure him against loss or liability by reason of such original insurance.

Whitney v. American I. Co., 127 Cal. 470; 59 Pac. 897.

5635. (§ 3531.) Disclosures required.—Where an insurer obtains reinsurance, he must communicate all the representations of the original insured, and also all the knowledge and information he possesses, whether previously or subsequently acquired, which are material to the risk.

5636. (§ 3532.) Reinsurance presumed to be against liability.—A reinsurance is presumed to be a contract of indemnity against liability, and not merely against damage.

Union I. Co. v. American I. Co., 107 Cal. 330; 40 Pac. 431.

5637. (§ 3533.) Original insured has no interest.—The original insured has no interest in a contract of reinsurance.

CHAPTER II.

MARINE INSURANCE.

5638. (§ 3540.) Definition of marine insurance.—Marine insurance is an insurance against risks connected with navigation, to which a ship, cargo, freightage, profits, or other insurable interest in movable property, may be exposed during a certain voyage or a fixed period of time.

CHAPTER III.

FIRE INSURANCE.

Section 5639. Alteration increasing risk.

“ 5641. Acts of the insured.

“ 5642. Measure of the indemnity.

5639. (§ 3550.) Alteration increasing risk.—An alteration in the use or condition of a thing insured, from that to which it is limited by the policy, made without the consent of the insurer, by means within the control of the insured, and increasing the risk, entitles an insurer to rescind a contract of fire insurance.

Slinkard v. Manchester Co., 122 Cal. 599; 55 Pac. 417.

5640. (§ 3551.) Alteration not increasing risk.—An alteration in the use or condition of a thing insured from that to which it is limited by the policy, which does not increase the risk, does not affect a contract of fire insurance.

Slinkard v. Manchester Co., 122 Cal. 599; 55 Pac. 417.

5641. (§ 3552.) Acts of the insured.—A contract of fire insurance is not affected by any act of the insured subsequent to the execution of the policy, which does not violate its provisions, even though it increases the risk and is the cause of a loss.

5642. (§ 3553.) Measure of the indemnity.—If there is no valuation in the policy, the measure of indemnity in an insurance against fire is the expense, at the time that the loss is payable, of replacing the thing lost or injured, in the condition in which it was at the time of the injury; but a valuation, fraudulent in fact, entitles the insurer to rescind the contract.

CHAPTER IV.

LIFE, HEALTH AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE.

Section 5643. Insurance upon life, when payable.

“ 5644. Insurable interest.

“ 5645. Assignee, etc., of life policy need have no interest.

“ 5646. Notice of transfer.

“ 5647. Measure of indemnity.

5643. (§ 3560.) Insurance upon life, when payable.—An insurance upon life may be made payable on the death of the person, or on his surviving a specified period, or periodically so long as he shall live, or otherwise contingently on the continuance or determination of life.

5644. (§ 3561.) Insurable interest.—Every person has an insurable interest in the life, health and freedom from accidents:

1. Of himself.
2. Of any person on whom he depends wholly or in part for education or support.
3. Of any person under a legal obligation to him for the payment of money, or respecting property or services of which death, illness or injury caused by accident might delay or prevent the performance; and,
4. Of any person upon whose life any estate or interest vested in him depends.

5645. (§ 3562.) Assignee, etc., of life policy need have no interest.—A policy of insurance upon life, health or freedom from accident may pass by transfer, will, or succession to any person, whether he has an insurable interest or not, and such person may recover upon it whatever the insured might have recovered.

5646. (§ 3563.) Notice of transfer.—Notice to an insurer of a transfer or bequest thereof is not necessary to preserve the validity of a policy of insurance, upon life, health or freedom from accident, unless thereby expressly required.

5647. (§ 3564.) Measure of indemnity.—Unless the interest of a person insured is susceptible of exact pecuniary measurement, the measure of indemnity under a policy of insurance upon life, health or freedom from accident is the sum fixed in the policy.

TITLE XII.

INDEMNITY.

Section 5648. Indemnity, what.

“ 5649. Indemnity for a future wrongful act void.

“ 5650. Indemnity for a past wrongful act void.

“ 5652. Indemnity to several.

“ 5653. Persons indemnifying liable jointly or severally with person indemnified.

“ 5654. Rules for interpreting agreement of indemnity.

“ 5655. When person indemnifying is a surety.

5648. (§ 3580.) Indemnity, what.—Indemnity is a contract by which one engages to save another from a legal consequence of the conduct of one of the parties, or of some other person.

5649. (§ 3581.) Indemnity for a future wrongful act void.—An agreement to indemnify a person against an act thereafter to be done is void, if the act be known by such person, at the time of doing it, to be unlawful.

5650. (§ 3582.) Indemnity for a past wrongful act valid.—An agreement to indemnify a person against an act already done is valid, even though the act was known to be wrongful, unless it was a felony.

5651. (§ 3583.) Indemnity extends to acts of agents.—An agreement to indemnify against the acts of a certain person applies not only to his acts and their consequences, but also to those of his agents.

5652. (§ 3584.) Indemnity to several.—An agreement to indemnify several persons applies to each, unless a contrary intention appears.

5653. (§ 3585.) Persons indemnifying liable jointly or severally with person indemnified.—One who indemnifies another against an act to be done by the latter, is liable jointly with the person indemnified, and separately to every person injured by such act.

5654. (§ 3586.) Rules for interpreting agreement of indemnity.—In the interpretation of a contract of indemnity, the following rules are to be applied, unless a contrary intention appears:

1. Upon an indemnity against liability, expressly, or in other equivalent terms, the person indemnified is entitled to recover upon becoming liable.

2. Upon an indemnity against claims, or demands, or damages, or costs, expressly, or in other equivalent terms, the person indemnified is not entitled to recover without payment thereof.

3. An indemnity against claims, or demands, or liability, expressly or in other equivalent terms, embraces the costs of defense against such claims, demands or liability incurred in good faith, and in the exercise of a reasonable discretion.

4. The person indemnifying is bound, on request of the person indemnified, to defend actions or proceedings brought against the latter in respect to the matters embraced by the indemnity, but the person indemnified has the right to conduct such defenses, if he chooses to do so.

5. If, after request, the person indemnifying neglects to defend the person indemnified, a recovery against the latter, suffered by him in good faith, is conclusive in his favor against the former.

6. If the person indemnifying, whether he is a principal or a surety in the agreement, has not reasonable notice of the action or proceeding against the person indemnified, or is not allowed to control its defense, judgment against the latter is only presumptive evidence against the former.

7. A stipulation that a judgment against the person indemnified shall be conclusive upon the person indemnifying, is inapplicable if he had a good defense upon the merits, which by want of ordinary care he failed to establish in the action.

Butte v. Cook, 29 Mont. 92; 74 Pac. 68. The burden is on the indemnifying person in a suit on the contract of indemnity to rebut the presumption raised by this section. Where the names of two sureties appear in the body of an indemnifying bond, which is signed by one only, the condition of the bond is notice to the obligee.

Showers v. Wadsworth, 81 Cal. 273; 22 Pac. 663.

5655. (§ 3587.) When person indemnifying is a surety.—Where one, at the request of another, engages to answer in damages, whether liquidated or unliquidated, for any violation of duty on the part of the latter, he is entitled to be reimbursed in the same manner as a surety, for whatever he may pay.

TITLE XIII.

GUARANTY.

CHAPTER I. GUARANTY IN GENERAL.

II. SURETYSHIP.

CHAPTER I.

GUARANTY IN GENERAL.

ARTICLE I. DEFINITION OF GUARANTY.

II. CREATION OF GUARANTY.

III. INTERPRETATION OF GUARANTY.

IV. LIABILITY OF GUARANTORS.

V. CONTINUING GUARANTY.

VI. EXONERATION OF GUARANTORS.

ARTICLE I.

DEFINITION OF GUARANTY.

Section 5656. Guaranty, what.

“ 5657. Knowledge of principal not necessary to creation of guaranty.

5656. (§ 3600.) Guaranty, what.—A guaranty is a promise to answer for the debt, default, or miscarriage of another person.

Cole M. Co. v. Morton, 24 Mont. 62; 60 Pac. 588. A surety is bound with the principal as an original promisor on the same contract, while a guarantor makes his own separate contract; a surety makes his contract primarily for the principal, while a guarantor makes his contract mainly for his own benefit.

Kilbride v. Moss, 113 Cal. 434; 45 Pac. 812.

5657. (§ 3601.) Knowledge of principal not necessary to creation of guaranty.—A person may become guarantor even without the knowledge or consent of the principal.

ARTICLE II.

CREATION OF GUARANTY.

Section 5658. Necessity of a consideration.

“ 5659. Guaranty to be in writing, etc.

“ 5660. Engagement to answer for obligation of another, when deemed original.

“ 5661. Acceptance of guaranty.

5658. (§ 3610.) Necessity of a consideration.—Where a guaranty is entered into at the same time with the original obligation, or with the acceptance of the latter by the guarantee, and forms with that obligation a part of the consideration to him, no other consideration need exist. In all other cases there must be a consideration distinct from that of the original obligation.

Cole M. Co. v. Morton, 24 Mont. 62; 60 Pac. 588.

Lagomarsino v. Giannini 146 Cal. 547; 80 Pac. 698.

5659. (§ 3611.) Guaranty to be in writing, etc.—Except as prescribed by the next section, a guaranty must be in writing, and signed by the guarantor; but the writing need not express a consideration.

Kilbride v. Moss, 113 Cal. 434; 45 Pac. 812.

5660. (§ 3612.) Engagement to answer for obligation of another, when deemed original.—A promise to answer for the obligation of another, in any of the following cases, is deemed an original obligation of the promisor, and need not be in writing:

1. Where the promise is made by one who has received property of another upon an undertaking to apply it pursuant to such promise; or by one who has received a discharge from an obligation, in whole or in part, in consideration of such promise.

2. Where the creditor parts with value, or enters into an obligation, in consideration of the obligation in respect to which the promise is made, in terms or under circumstances such as to render the party making the promise the principal debtor, and the person in whose behalf it is made, his surety.

3. Where the promise being for an antecedent obligation of another, is made upon the consideration that the party receiving it cancels the antecedent obligation, accepting the new promise as a substitute therefor, or upon the consideration that the party receiving it releases the property of another from a levy, or upon a consideration beneficial to the promisor, whether moving from either party to the antecedent obligation, or from another person.

4. Where a factor undertakes, for a commission, to sell merchandise and guarantee the sale.

5. Where the holder of an instrument for the payment of money, upon which a third person is or may become liable to him, transfers it in payment of a precedent debt of his own, or for a new consideration, and in connection with such transfer enters into a promise respecting such instrument.

McCormick v. Johnson, 31 Mont. 270; 78 Pac. 502. A promise by partners to pay an existing debt of a corporation to another, in consideration of such other person giving them an agency for sale of his coal, is an original obligation which need not be in writing.

5661. (§ 3613.) Acceptance of guaranty.—A mere offer to guaranty is not binding, until notice of its acceptance is communicated by the guarantee to the guarantor; but an absolute guaranty is binding upon the guarantor without notice of acceptance.

ARTICLE III.

INTERPRETATION OF GUARANTY.

Section 5662. Guaranty of incomplete contract.

“ 5663. Guaranty that an obligation is good or collectible.

“ 5665. Guarantor's liability upon such guaranty.

5662. (§ 3620.) Guaranty of incomplete contract.—In a guaranty of a contract, the terms of which are not then settled, it is implied that its term shall be such as will not expose the guarantor to greater risks than he would incur under those terms which are most common in similar contracts at the place where the principal contract is to be performed.

5663. (§ 3621.) Guaranty that an obligation is good or collectible.—A guaranty to the effect that an obligation is good or is collectible, imports that the debtor is solvent, and that the demand is collectible by the usual legal proceedings, if taken with reasonable diligence.

5664. (§ 3622.) Recovery upon such guaranty.—A guaranty, such as is mentioned in the last section, is not discharged by an omission to take proceedings upon the principal debt, or upon any collateral security for its payment if no part of the debt could have been collected thereby.

5665. (§ 3623.) Guarantor's liability upon such guaranty.—In the case mentioned in § 5663 (3621) the removal of the principal from the state, leaving no property therein from which the obligation might be satisfied, is equivalent to the insolvency of the principal in its effect upon the rights and obligations of the guarantor.

ARTICLE IV.

LIABILITY OF GUARANTORS.

Section 5666. Guaranty, how construed.

“ 5667. Liability upon guaranty of payment or performance.

“ 5669. Obligation of guarantor cannot exceed that of the principal.

“ 5670. Guarantor not liable on an illegal contract.

5666. (§ 3630.) Guaranty, how construed.—A guaranty is to be deemed unconditional unless its terms import some condition precedent to the liability of the guarantor.

Pierce v. Merrill, 128 Cal. 470; 61 Pac. 64.

5667. (§ 3631.) Liability upon guaranty of payment or performance.—A guarantor of payment or performance is liable to the guarantee immediately upon the default of the principal and, without demand or notice.

Pierce v. Merrill, 128 Cal. 470; 61 Pac. 64.

5668. (§ 3632.) Liability upon guaranty of a conditional obligation.—Where one guarantees a conditional obligation, his liability is commensurate with that of the principal, and he is not entitled to notice of the default of the principal, unless he is unable, by the exercise of reasonable diligence, to acquire information of such default, and the creditor has actual notice thereof.

5669. (§ 3633.) Obligation of guarantor cannot exceed that of the principal.—The obligation of a guarantor must be neither larger in amount nor in other respects more burdensome than that of the principal; and if in its terms, it exceeds it, it is reducible in proportion to the principal obligation.

5670. (§ 3634.) Guarantor not liable on an illegal contract.—A guarantor is not liable if the contract of the principal is unlawful; but he is liable notwithstanding any mere personal disability of the principal, though the disability be such as to make the contract void against the principal.

ARTICLE V.

CONTINUING GUARANTY.

Section 5671. Continuing guaranty, what.

“ 5672. Revocation.

5671. (§ 3640.) Continuing guaranty, what.—A guaranty relating to a future liability of the principal, under successive transactions, which either continue his liability or from time to time renew it after it has been satisfied, is called a continuing guaranty.

White Co. v. Courtney, 141 Cal. 677; 75 Pac. 296.

5672. (§ 3641.) Revocation.—A continuing guaranty may be revoked at any time by the guarantor, in respect to future transactions, unless there is a continuing consideration as to such transactions which he does not renounce.

White Co. v. Courtney, 141 Cal. 676; 75 Pac. 296.

ARTICLE VI.

EXONERATION OF GUARANTORS.

Section 5673. What dealings with debtor exonerates guarantor.

“ 5674. Void promises.

“ 5675. Rescission of alteration.

“ 5676. Part performance.

“ 5677. Delay of creditor does not discharge guarantor.

“ 5678. Guarantor indemnified by the debtor, not exonerated.

“ 5679. Discharge of principal by act of law does not discharge guarantor.

5673. (§ 3650.) What dealings with debtor exonerates guarantor.—A guarantor is exonerated, except so far as he may be indemnified by the principal, if by any act of the creditor, without the consent of the guarantor, the original obligation of the principal is altered in any respect, or the remedies or rights of the creditor against the principal, in respect thereto, in any wise impaired or suspended.

Stanford v. Coram, 26 Mont. 304; 67 Pac. 1012. A guarantor of the payment of a note is relieved from liability when the cashier of the holder, with the knowledge of the holder, accepts as payment from the principal debtor a conveyance of land, and cancels the note, and executes a note to the holder for the amount of the debt of the principal debtor.

Bateman Brothers v. Mapel, 145 Cal. 244; 78 Pac. 734.

5674. (§ 3651.) Void promises.—A promise by a creditor, which for any cause is void, or voidable by him at his option, does not alter the obligation, or suspend or impair the remedy, within the meaning of the last section.

5675. (§ 3652.) Rèscission of alteration.—The rescission of an agreement altering the original obligation of a debtor, or impairing the remedy of a creditor, does not restore the liability of a guarantor who has been exonerated by such agreement.

5676. (§ 3653.) Part performance.—The acceptance, by a creditor, of anything in partial satisfaction of an obligation reduces the obligation of a guarantor thereof, in the same measure as that of the principal, but does not otherwise affect it.

5677. (§ 3654.) Delay of creditor does not discharge guarantor.—Mere delay on the part of a creditor to proceed against the principal, or to enforce any other remedy, does not exonerate a guarantor.

Bank v. Babcock, 94 Cal. 103; 29 Pac. 415.

5678. (§ 3655.) Guarantor indemnified by the debtor, not exonerated.—A guarantor who has been indemnified by the principal, is liable to the creditor to the extent of the indemnity, notwithstanding that the creditor, without the assent of the guarantor, may have modified the contract or released the principal.

Ehrman v. Rosenthal, 117 Cal. 497; 49 Pac. 460.

5679. (§ 3656.) Discharge of principal by act of law does not discharge guarantor.—A guarantor is not exonerated by the discharge of his principal by operation of law, without the intervention or omission of the creditor.

CHAPTER II.

SURETYSHIP.

- ARTICLE I. WHO ARE SURETIES.
- II. LIABILITY OF SURETIES.
- III. RIGHTS OF SURETIES.
- IV. RIGHTS OF CREDITORS.
- V. LETTER OF CREDIT.

ARTICLE I.

WHO ARE SURETIES.

Section 5680. Surety, what.

5680. (§ 3670.) Surety, what.—A surety is one who, at the request of another, and for the purpose of securing to him a benefit, becomes responsible for the performance by the latter of some act in favor of a third person, or hypothecates property as security therefor.

Cole M. Co. v. Morton, 24 Mont. 61; 60 Pac. 588. Where part of an agreement creating an agency was a bond executed to plaintiff by the agent and defendants, conditioned that if the agent failed to perform his duties, and pay over to plaintiff such sums as might be due him, defendants would pay such sum, not exceeding $200, defendants were sureties.

McDonald v. Randall, 139 Cal. 253; 72 Pac. 997.

5681. (§ 3671.) Apparent principal may show that he is surety—One who appears to be a principal, whether by the terms of a written instrument or otherwise, may show that he is in fact a surety, except as against persons who have acted on the faith of his apparent character of principal.

Eppinger v. Kendrick, 114 Cal. 625; 46 Pac. 613.

ARTICLE II.

LIABILITY OF SURETIES.

Section 5682. Limit of surety's obligation.

“ 5684. Judgment against surety does not alter the relation.

“ 5686. Surety discharged by certain acts of the creditor

5682. (§ 3680.) Limit of surety's obligation.—A surety cannot be held beyond the express terms of his contract, and if such contract prescribes a penalty for its breach, he cannot in any case be liable for more than the penalty.

State v. Court, 22 Mont. 453; 57 Pac. 90. Stay of execution, being a valuable consideration, sureties who execute an undertaking therefor have a right to rely on the letter of their bond, and stand on the entirety of the consideration expressed therein, and their liability cannot be extended by implication. Hewlett v. Beede, 2 C. App. 565; 83 Pac. 1086.

5683. (§ 3681.) Rules of interpretation.—In interpreting the terms of a contract of suretyship, the same rules are to be observed as in the case of other contracts.

State v. Court, 22 Mont. 453; 67 Pac. 90. Alaska Co. v. Hirsch, 119 Cal. 250; 47 Pac. 124.

5684. (§ 3682.) Judgment against surety does not alter the relation.—Notwithstanding the recovery of judgment by a creditor against a surety, the latter still occupies the relation of surety.

5685. (§ 3683.) Surety exonerated by performance or offer of performance.—Performance of the principal obligation, or an offer of such performance, duly made as provided in this code, exonerates a surety.

Randol v. Tatum, 98 Cal. 399; 33 Pac. 433.

5686. (§ 3684.) Surety discharged by certain acts of the creditor.—A surety is exonerated:

1. In-like manner with a guarantor.

2. To the extent to which he is prejudiced by any act of the creditor which would naturally prove injurious to the remedies of the surety or inconsistent with his rights, or which lessens his security; or,

3. To the extent to which he is prejudiced by an omission of the creditor to do anything, when required by the surety, which it is his duty to do.

Glenn Co. v. Jones, 146 Cal. 526; 80 Pac. 695.

ARTICLE III.

RIGHTS OF SURETIES.

Section 5687. Surety has rights of guarantor.

“ 5688. Surety may require the creditor to proceed against the principal.

“ 5689. Surety may compel principal to perform obligations, when due.

“ 5691. The surety acquires the right of the creditor.

“ 5692. Surety entitled to benefit of securities held by creditor.

“ 5693. The property of principal to be taken first.

5687. (§ 3690.) Surety has rights of guarantor.—A surety has all the rights of a guarantor, whether he becomes personally responsible or not.

Bateman Bros. v. Mapel, 145 Cal. 244; 78 Pac. 734.

5688. (§ 3691.) Surety may require the creditor to proceed against the principal.—A surety may require his creditor to proceed against the principal, or to pursue any other remedy in his power which the surety cannot himself pursue, and which would lighten his burden; and if in such case the creditor neglects to do so, the surety is exonerated to the extent to which he is thereby prejudiced.

5689. (§ 3692.) Surety may compel principal to perform obligations, when due.—A surety may compel his principal to perform the obligations when due.

5690. (§ 3693.) A principal bound to reimburse his surety.—If a surety satisfies the principal obligation, or any part thereof, whether with or without legal proceedings, the principal is bound to reimburse what he has disbursed, including necessary costs and expenses; but the surety has no claim for reimbursement against other persons, though they may have been benefited by his act, except as prescribed by the next section.

5691. (§ 3694.) The surety acquires the right of the creditor.—A surety, upon satisfying the obligation of the principal, is entitled to enforce every remedy which the creditor then has against the principal to the extent of reimbursing what he has expended, and also to require all his co-sureties to contribute thereto, without regard to the order of time in which they became such.

Martin v. DeOrnelas, 139 Cal. 49; 72 Pac. 440.

5692. (§ 3695.) Surety entitled to benefit of securities held by creditor.—A surety is entitled to the benefit of every security for the performance of the principal obligation held by the creditor, or by a co-surety at the time of entering into the contract of suretyship, or acquired by him afterwards, whether the surety was aware of the security or not.

Martin v. DeOrnelas, 139 Cal. 49; 72 Pac. 440.

5693. (§ 3696.) The property of principal to be taken first.—Whenever property of a surety is hypothecated with property of the principal, the surety is entitled to have the property of the principal first applied to the discharge of the obligation.

ARTICLE IV.

RIGHTS OF CREDITORS.

5694. (§ 3700.) A creditor is entitled to the benefit of everything which a surety has received from the debtor by way of security for the performance of the obligation, and may, upon the maturity of the obligation, compel the application of such security to its satisfaction.

O'Neill v. State, 34 Mont. 526; 87 Pac. 971. In an action to recover on an appeal bond, where it appeared that a stranger to the original action had deposited in bank a sum of money to indemnify the sureties on the bond, the principle of subrogation, embodied in this section, may not be invoked by the creditor.

Hopkins v. Warner, 109 Cal. 136; 41 Pac. 868.

ARTICLE V.

LETTER OF CREDIT.

Section 5695. Letter of credit, what.

“ 5696. How addressed.

“ 5699. Nature of general letter of credit.

“ 5700. Extent of general letter of credit.

“ 5701. A letter of credit may be a continuing guaranty.

“ 5702. When notice to the writer necessary.

“ 5703. The credit given must agree with the terms of the letter.

5695. (§ 3710.) Letter of credit, what.—A letter of credit is a written instrument, addressed by one person to another, requesting the latter to give credit to the person in whose favor it is drawn.

5696. (§ 3711.) How addressed.—A letter of credit may be addressed to several persons in succession.

5697. (§ 3712.) Liability of the writer.—The writer of a letter of credit is, upon the default of the debtor, liable to those who gave credit in compliance with its terms.

5698. (§ 3713.) Letters of credit, either general or special.—A letter of credit is either general or special. When the request for credit in a letter is addressed to specified persons by name or description, the letter is special. All other letters of credit are general.

5699. (§ 3714.) Nature of general letter of credit.—A general letter of credit gives any person to whom it may be shown authority to comply with its request, and by his so doing it becomes as to him of the same effect as if addressed to him by name.

5700. (§ 3715.) Extent of general letter of credit.—Several persons may successively give credit upon a general letter.

5701. (§ 3716.) A letter of credit may be a continuing guaranty.—If the parties to a letter of credit appear, by its terms, to contemplate a course of future dealings between the parties, it is not exhausted by giving a credit, even to the amount limited by the letter, which is subsequently reduced or satisfied by payments made by the debtor, but is to be deemed a continuing guaranty.

5702. (§ 3717.) When notice of the writer necessary.—The writer of a letter of credit is liable for credit given upon it without notice to him, unless its terms express or imply the necessity of giving notice.

5703. (§ 3718.) The credit given must agree with the terms of the letter.—If a letter of credit prescribes the persons by whom, or the mode in which, the credit is to be given, or the terms of credit, or limits the amount thereof, the writer is not bound, except for transactions which, in these respects, conform strictly to the terms of the letter.

LIENS IN GENERAL.

- ARTICLE I. DEFINITION OF LIENS.
- II. CREATION OF LIENS.
- III. EFFECT OF LIENS.
- IV. PRIORITY OF LIENS.
- V. REDEMPTION FROM LIENS.
- VI. EXTINCTION OF LIENS.

ARTICLE I.

DEFINITION OF LIENS.

Section 5704. Lien, what.

“ 5708. Prior liens.

“ 5709. Contracts subject to provisions of this chapter.

5704. (§ 3730.) Lien, what.—A lien is a charge imposed in some mode other than by a transfer in trust upon specific property, by which it is made security for the performance of an act.

Bennett Bros. v. Fitchett, 24 Mont. 467; 62 Pac. 782. A conditional sale, not an absolute sale with retention of lien, is not in effect a mortgage and void as to innocent third parties, though never acknowledged and recorded with an affidavit.

Weber v. McCleverty, 149 Cal. 320; 86 Pac. 706.

5705. (§ 3731.) Liens, general or special.—Liens are either general or special.

5706. (§ 3732.) General lien, what.—A general lien is one which the holder thereof is entitled to enforce as a security for the performance of all the obligations, or all of a particular class of obligations, which exist in his favor, against the owner of the property.

5707. (§ 3733.) Special lien, what.—A special lien is one which the holder thereof can enforce only as security for the performance of a particular act or obligation, and of such obligations as may be incidental thereto.

Stone v. Harris, 146 Cal. 560; 80 Pac. 711.

5708. (§ 3734.) Prior liens.—Where the holder of a special lien is compelled to satisfy a prior lien for his own protection, he may enforce payment of the amount so paid by him, as a part of the claim for which his own lien exists.

Churchill v. Woodworth, 148 Cal. 675; 84 Pac. 155.

5709. (§ 3735.) Contracts subject to provisions of this chapter.—Contracts of mortgage, or pledge, are subject to all the provisions of this chapter.

ARTICLE II.

Section 5710. Lien, how created.

“ 5711. No lien for claim not due.

“ 5712. Lien on future interest.

“ 5713. Lien may be created by contract.

5710. (§ 3740.) Lien, how created.—A lien is created:

1. By contract of the parties; or,
2. By operation of law.

Stone v. Harris, 146 Cal. 560; 80 Pac. 711.

5711. (§ 3741.) No lien for claim not due.—No lien arises by mere operation of law until the time at which the act to be secured thereby ought to be performed.

5712. (§ 3742.) Lien on future interest.—An agreement may be made to create a lien upon property not yet acquired by the party agreeing to give the lien, or not yet in existence. In such case the lien agreed for attaches from the time when the party agreeing to give it acquires an interest in the thing, to the extent of such interest.

Kreling v. Kreling, 118 Cal. 419; 50 Pac. 549.

5713. (§ 3743.) Lien may be created by contract.—A lien may be created by contract, to take immediate effect, as security for the performance of obligations not then in existence.

Lemon v. Wolff, 121 Cal. 274; 53 Pac. 801.

ARTICLE III.

EFFECT OF LIENS.

Section 5714. Lien, or contract for lien, transfers no title.

“ 5715. Certain contracts void.

“ 5716. Creation of lien does not imply personal obligation.

“ 5718. Creditor may enforce obligation.

“ 5719. Holder of lien not entitled to compensation.

5714. (§ 3750.) Lien, or contract for lien, transfers no title.—Notwithstanding an agreement to the contrary, a lien, or a contract for a lien, transfers no title to the property subject to the lien.

Mathew v. Mathew, 138 Cal. 336; 71 Pac. 344.

5715. (§ 3751.) Certain contracts void.—All contracts for the forfeiture of property subject to a lien, in satisfaction of the obligation secured thereby, and all contracts in restraint of the right of redemption from a lien, are void.

Bradbury v. Davenport, 114 Cal. 599; 46 Pac. 1062.

5716. (§ 3752.) Creation of lien does not imply personal obligation.—The creation of a lien does not of itself imply that any person is bound to perform the act for which the lien is a security.

Mueller v. Renkes, 31 Mont. 103; 77 Pac. 513. The purchaser of real estate, which is mortgaged, does not thereby become personally liable for the indebtedness.
Hellman v. Shoulters, 114 Cal. 139; 44 Pac. 915.

5717. (§ 3753.) Extent of lien.—The existence of a lien upon property does not of itself entitle the person in whose favor it exists to a lien upon the same property for the performance of any other obligation that that which the lien originally secured.

Stone v. Harris, 146 Cal. 560; 80 Pac. 711.

5718. (§ 3754.) Creditor may enforce obligation.—The existence of a lien, as security for the performance of an obligation, does not affect the right of the creditor to enforce the obligation without regard to the lien.

Brophy v. Downey, 26 Mont. 261; 67 Pac. 316.

5719. (§ 3755.) Holder of lien not entitled to compensation.—One who holds property by virtue of a lien thereon, is not entitled to compensation from the owner thereof for any trouble or expense which he incurs respecting it, except to the same extent as a borrower, under § § 5196 (2558) and 5197 (2559).

ARTICLE IV.

PRIORITY OF LIENS.

Section 5720. Priority of liens.

“ 5721. Priority of mortgage for price.

5720. (§ 3770.) Priority of liens.—Other things being equal, different liens upon the same property have priority according to the time of their creation.

5721. (§ 3771.) Priority of mortgage for price.—Except as otherwise provided by law, a mortgage given for the price of real property, at the time of its conveyance, has priority over all other liens created against the purchaser, subject to the operation of the recording laws.

Sels v. Bunnell, 120 Cal. 683; 53 Pac. 266.

5722. (§ 3772.) Order of resort to different funds.—Where one has a lien upon several things, and other persons have subordinate liens upon, or interests in, some but not all of the same things, the person having the prior lien, if he can do so without risk of loss to himself, or of injustice to other persons, must resort to the property in the following order on the demand of any party interested:

1. To the things upon which he has an exclusive lien.
2. To the things which are subject to the fewest subordinate liens.
3. In like manner inversely to the number of subordinate liens upon the same thing; and,
4. When several things are within one of the foregoing classes, and subject to the same number of liens, resort must be had:

First—To the things which have not been transferred since the prior lien was created.

Second—To the things which have been so transferred without a valuable consideration; and,

Third—To the things which have been so transferred for a valuable consideration in the inverse order of the transfer.

Vincent v. Vineyard, 24 Mont. 218; 61 Pac. 134.

Estate of Levin Brothers, 139 Cal. 352; 63 Pac. 335.

ARTICLE V.

REDEMPTION FROM LIEN.

Section 5723. Right to redeem.

" 5724. Rights of inferior lienor.

" 5725. Redemption from lien, how made.

5723. (§ 3780.) Right to redeem.—Every person having an interest in property subject to a lien, has a right to redeem it from the lien, at any time after the claim is due, and before his right of redemption is foreclosed.

Grogan v. Valley Co., 30 Mont. 236; 76 Pac. 213. No proceedings were instituted for foreclosure of a mortgage, and the mortgagor in bringing an action to redeem four years after the mortgagee went into possession, was not guilty of such leaches as to deprive him of the right to relief.

Allen v. Allen, 95 Cal. 195; 30 Pac. 213.

5724. (§ 3781.) Rights of inferior lienor.—One who has a lien, inferior to another, upon the same property, has a right:

1. To redeem the property in the same manner as its owner might from the superior lien; and,

2. To be subrogated to all the benefits of the superior lien, when necessary for the protection of his interests, upon satisfying the claim secured thereby.

5725. (§ 3782.) Redemption from lien, how made.—Redemption from a lien is made by performing, or offering to perform, the act for the performance of which it is a security, and paying, or offering to pay, the damages, if any, to which the holder of the lien is entitled for delay.

ARTICLE VI.

EXTINCTION OF LIENS.

Section 5726. Lien deemed accessory to the act whose performance it secures.

" 5727. Extinction by sale or conversion.

" 5728. Lien extinguished by lapse of time under statute of limitations.

" 5729. Apportionment of lien.

" 5730. When restoration extinguishes lien.

5726. (§ 3790.) Lien deemed accessory to the act whose performance it secures.—A lien is to be deemed accessory to the act for the performance of which it is a security, whether any person is bound for such performance or not, and is extinguishable in like manner with any other accessory obligation.

Mueller v. Renkes, 31 Mont. 103; 77 Pac. 513. Duncan v. Hawn 104 Cal. 12; 37 Pac. 626.

5727. (§ 3791.) Extinction by sale or conversion.—The sale of any property on which there is a lien, in satisfaction of the claim secured thereby, or in case of personal property, its wrongful conversion by the person holding the lien, extinguishes the lien thereon.

Chase v. Putnam, 117 Cal. 368; 49 Pac. 204.

5728. (§ 3792.) Lien extinguished by lapse of time under statute of limitations.—A lien is extinguished by the lapse of the time within which, under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, an action can be brought upon the principal obligation.

San Jose Bank v. Madera Bank, 144 Cal. 577; 78 Pac. 5.

5729. (§ 3793.) Apportionment of lien.—The partial performance of an act secured by a lien does not extinguish the lien upon any part of the property subject thereto, even if it is divisible.

5730. (§ 3794.) When restoration extinguishes lien.—The voluntary restoration of property to its owner by the holder of a lien thereon, dependent upon possession, extinguishes the lien as to such property, unless otherwise agreed by the parties, and extinguishes it, notwithstanding any such agreement, as to creditors of the owner and persons subsequently acquiring a title to the property, or a lien thereon, in good faith, and for a good consideration.

CHAPTER II.

MORTGAGE.

ARTICLE I. MORTGAGES IN GENERAL.

II. MORTGAGES OF REAL PROPERTY.

III. MORTGAGES OF PERSONAL PROPERTY.

ARTICLE I.

MORTGAGES IN GENERAL.

Section 5731. Mortgage, what.

“ 5732. Property adversely held may be mortgaged.

“ 5733. Lien of a mortgage, when special.

“ 5734. Transfer of interest, when deemed a mortgage.

“ 5735. Transfer made subject to defeasance may be proved.

“ 5736. Mortgage, on what a lien.

“ 5737. Mortgage does not entitle mortgagee to possession.

“ 5739. Waste.

“ 5741. Foreclosure.

“ 5742. Power of sale.

Section 5743. Power of attorney to execute.

“ 5744. Recording assignment of mortgage.

“ 5745. Recording assignment of mortgage not notice to mortgagor.

“ 5746. Mortgage passes by assignment of debt.

5731. (§ 3810.) Mortgage, what.—Mortgage is a contract by which specific property is hypothecated for the performance of an act, without the necessity of a change of possession.

Davidson v. Wampler, 29 Mont. 68; 74 Pac. 84. Under the statutes of the territory and state, a mortgage has never possessed any of the characteristics of a sale; it has been considered a mere lien, fixed on property by contract of the parties, to secure the payment of a particular obligation or performance of a particular act.

Swain v. McMillan, 30 Mont. 439; 76 Pac. 945. A mortgage does not create an interest in real property.

Mueller v. Renkes, 31 Mont. 102; 77

Pac. 513. A mortgage does not create or alienate an estate in real property, but is a mere security for the payment of a debt, or the discharge of an obligation. A mortgage is a conveyance of only a chattel interest.

Cornish v. Woolverton, 32 Mont. 475; 81 Pac. 10. The mortgage is an incident of the debt or obligation, a security, and an assignment of the mortgage alone is a nullity.

Renton v. Gibson, 148 Cal. 653; 84 Pac. 186.

5732. (§ 3811.) Property adversely held may be mortgaged.—A mortgage may be created upon property held adversely to the mortgagor.

5733. (§ 3812.) Lien of a mortgage, when special.—The lien of a mortgage is special, unless otherwise expressly agreed, and is independent of possession.

Swain v. McMillan, 30 Mont. 439; 76 Pac. 945.

5734. (§ 3813.) Transfer of interest, when deemed a mortgage.—Every transfer of an interest in property, other than in trust, made only as a security for the performance of another act, is to be deemed a mortgage, except when in the case of personal property it is accompanied by actual change of possession, in which case it is deemed a pledge.

Renton v. Gibson, 148 Cal. 653; 84 Pac. 186.

5735. (§ 3814.) Transfer made subject to defeasance may be proved.—The fact that a transfer was made subject to defeasance on a condition, may, for the purpose of showing such transfer to be a mortgage, be proved (except as against a subsequent purchaser or incumbrancer for value and without notice) though the fact does not appear by the terms of the instrument.

Payne v. Morey, 144 Cal. 132; 77 Pac. 831.

5736. (§ 3815.) Mortgage, on what a lien.—A mortgage is a lien upon everything that would pass by a grant of the property.

Bennett Bros. v. Fitchett, 24 Mont. 467; 62 Pac. 782.

Commercial Bank v. Pritchard, 126 Cal. 605; 59 Pac. 130.

5737. (§ 3816.) Mortgage does not entitle mortgagee to possession.—A mortgage does not entitle the mortgagee to the possession of the property, unless authorized by the express terms of the mortgage; but after the execution of the mortgage, the mortgagor may agree to such change of possession without a new consideration.

Harper v. Gordon, 128 Cal. 491; 61 Pac. 84.

5738. (§ 3817.) Mortgage not a personal obligation.—A mortgage does not bind the mortgagor personally to perform the act for the performance of which it is a security, unless there is an express covenant therein to that effect.

Mueller v. Renkes, 31 Mont. 103; 77 Pac. 513.

Fast v. Steele, 127 Cal. 204; 59 Pac. 585.

5739. (§ 3818.) Waste.—No person whose interest is subject to the lien of a mortgage may do any act which will substantially impair the mortgagee's security.

Lavenson v. Standard Co. 80 Cal. 246; 22 Pac. 184.

5740. (§ 3819.) Subsequently acquired title inures to mortgagee.—Title acquired by the mortgagor subsequent to the execution of the mortgage inures to the mortgagee as security for the debt, in like manner as if acquired before the execution.

5741. (§ 3820.) Foreclosure.—A mortgagee may foreclose the right of redemption of the mortgagor in the manner prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure.

5742. (§ 3821.) Power of sale.—A power of sale may be conferred by a mortgage upon the mortgagee or any other person, to be exercised after a breach of the obligation for which the mortgage is a security.

Muth v. Goddard, 28 Mont. 252; 72 Pac. 626.

Godfrey v. Monroe, 101 Cal. 227; 35 Pac. 761.

5743. (§ 3822.) Power of attorney to execute.—A power of attorney to execute a mortgage must be in writing, subscribed, acknowledged, or proved, certified, and recorded in like manner as powers of attorney for grants of real property.

Adams v. Hopkins, 144 Cal. 35; 77 Pac. 712.

5744. (§ 3823.) Recording assignment of mortgage.—An assignment of a mortgage may be recorded in like manner as a mortgage, and such record operates as notice to all persons subsequently deriving title to the mortgage from the assignor.

Cornish v. Woolverton, 32 Mont. 476; 81 Pac. 10. The record of the assignment of a mortgage is notice to a purchaser from the mortgagor, so that payments by him to the assignor are at his own risk, in the absence of any showing that when the payments were made, the assignor was in possession of the note secured by the mortgage.

5745. (§ 3824.) Recording assignment of mortgage not notice to mortgagor.—When the mortgage is executed as security for money due, or to become due, on a promissory note, bond, or other instrument, designated in the mortgage, the record of the assignment of the mortgage is not, of itself, notice to a mortgagor, his heirs, or personal representatives, so as to invalidate any payment made by them, or either of them, to the person holding such note, bond or other instrument.

Cornish v. Woolverton, 32 Mont. 476; 81 Pac. 10.

Rodgers v. Peckham, 120 Cal. 241; 52 Pac. 483.

5746. (§ 3825.) Mortgage passes by assignment of debt.—The assignment of a debt secured by mortgage carries with it the security.

Cornish v. Woolverton, 32 Mont. 471; 81 Pac. 8. The mortgage is an incident and passes to the assignee of the note. Adler v. Sargent, 109 Cal. 48; 41 Pac. 799.

ARTICLE II.

MORTGAGE OF REAL PROPERTY.

Section 5747. What real property may be mortgaged.

“ 5748. Form of mortgage.

“ 5749. Mortgage renewed or extended by writing.

“ 5751. May be recorded.

“ 5753. Same.

“ 5754. Record of satisfaction.

“ 5755. Satisfaction of mortgages.

“ 5756. Mortgages by corporation.

5747. (§ 3840.) What real property may be mortgaged.—Any interest in real property which is capable of being transferred may be mortgaged.

McLeod v. Barnum, 131 Cal. 606; 63 Pac. 924.

5748. (§ 3841.) Form of mortgage.—A mortgage of real property may be made in substantially the following form:

“This mortgage, made the——day of——, in the year——, by A. B., of——, mortgagor, to C. D., of——, mortgagee, witnesseth:

“That the mortgagor mortgages to the mortgagee (here describe the property), as security for the payment to him of——dollars, on (or before) the——day of——, in the year——, with interest thereon (or as security for the payment of an obligation, describing it, etc.)

5749. (§ 3842.) Mortgage renewed or extended by writing.—A mortgage of real property can be created, renewed or extended, only by writing, with the formalities required in the case of a grant of real property.

Wilson v. Pickering, 28 Mont. 439; 72 Pac. 823. This section does not apply to a mortgage on real estate, renewed in 1890, by the extension of the note which it secured.

5750. (§ 3843.) Defeasance, to affect grant absolute on its face, must be recorded.—When a grant of real property purports to be an absolute conveyance, but is intended to be defeasible on the performance of certain conditions, such grant is not defeated or affected as against any person other than the grantee or his heirs or devisees, or persons having actual notice, unless an instrument of defeasance, duly executed and acknowledged, shall have been recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county where the property is situated.

Payne v. Morey, 144 Cal. 132; 77 Pac. 831.

5751. (§ 3844.) May be recorded.—Mortgages of real property may be acknowledged or proved, certified and recorded, in like manner and with like effect as grants thereof.

Adler v. Sargent, 109 Cal. 49; 41 Pac. 799.

5752. (§ 3845.) Satisfaction of mortgage.—Any mortgage that has been or may be hereafter recorded may be discharged by an entry in the margin of the record thereof, signed by the mortgagee or his personal representative or assignee, acknowledging the satisfaction of the mortgage in the presence of the county clerk, or his deputy, who shall subscribe the same as a witness. Such entry shall have the same effect as a deed of release duly acknowledged and recorded.

Swain v. McMillan, 30 Mont. 439; 76 Pac. 945. The phrase "deed of release" means a writing, duly subscribed and acknowledged by the mortgagee, whereby he absolves the mortgaged property from the lien of the mortgage.

Mueller v. Renkes, 31 Mont. 103; 77 Pac. 513.

5753. (§ 3846.) Same.—Any mortgage shall also be discharged upon the record thereof, by the county clerk in whose custody it shall be, whenever there shall be presented to him a certificate executed by the mortgagee, his personal representative or assignee, acknowledged, or proved and certified, as in this code prescribed, to entitle a conveyance to be recorded, specifying that such mortgage has been paid or otherwise satisfied or discharged.

5755. Satisfaction of mortgage.—Any mortgagee or his personal representative or assignee, as the case may be, after the full performance of the conditions of the mortgage, whether before or after a breach thereof, who shall, for the space of seven days after being, requested, refuse or neglect to execute and acknowledge a certificate of discharge or release thereof, shall be liable to the mortgagor, his heirs or assigns, in the sum of One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars; and also, for all actual damages occasioned by such neglect or refusal. When such discharge or release is made by the personal representative of the mortgagee, it shall be accompanied by a certified copy of his authority, unless such authority is already of record in the office of the County Clerk and Recorder where such mortgage is recorded. In case such discharge or lease is made by an assignee, it must be accompanied by the assignment of such mortgage, unless such assignment is already of record in the office of the County Clerk and Recorder where such mortgage is recorded. In the event that such discharge or release is executed by an attorney in fact, such discharge or release shall have attached to it the power of attorney under which it is made, unless such power of attorney is already of record in the office of the County Clerk and Recorder where such mortgage is recorded. When such discharge or release is executed by the heir or heirs of the mortgagee, such discharge or release must be accompanied by a certified copy of an order or decree of a court of competent jurisdiction showing such authority, unless such order or decree is already of record in the office of the County Clerk and Recorder where such mortgage is recorded. Foreign administrators and executors may satisfy mortgages of record in Montana, provided, that the satisfaction of mortgages be accompanied by an authenticated copy of their letters of administration, or letters testamentary, with the certificate of the Clerk of the Court in which the appointment was made that the same have not been revoked and are in full force, which certificate and certified copy of letters shall be presented and recorded in connection with the satisfaction of the mortgage. When so presented and recorded, they shall have the same force and effect as if the mortgage were satisfied by the mortgagee. [Act approved February 25, 1905.] (9th Sess. Chap. 34.)

5756. (§ 38½.) Mortgages by corporation.—All mortgages, deeds of trust, or assignments for the benefit of creditors of both real and personal property, executed by a corporation, are governed by the law relating to mortgages or deeds of trust of real property, and must be recorded in the office of the county clerk of every county where any part of said property is situated, and the same are valid, notwithstanding the possession of such property is retained by such corporation, but any mortgage, deed of trust, or assignment for the benefit of creditors must be accompanied by the affidavit specified in § 5758 (3861) of this code, and which said affidavit may be made on behalf of any such company or corporation by the president, secretary or managing agent thereof.

ARTICLE III.

MORTGAGE OF PERSONAL PROPERTY.

Section 5757. What interests may be mortgaged.

 " 5767. Certified copy in case of loss of original.
 " 5768. Extent of provisions of this chapter.
 " 5769. Foreclosure.
 " 5770. Possession of range stock.
 " 5771. Satisfaction of mortgage.
 " 5772. Penalty for selling mortgaged chattels.
 " 5773. Mortgage on growing crops.

5757. (§ 3860.) What interests may be mortgaged.—Any interest in personal property which is capable of being transferred may be mortgaged.

Noyes v. Ross, 23 Mont. 440; 59 Pac. 372. This was the law in Montana before the codes were adopted.

5758. (§ 3861.) Requisite to validity of chattel mortgage.—A mortgage of personal property is void as against creditors of the mortgagor, and subsequent purchasers and incumbrancers of the property in good faith for value, unless:

1. The possession of such property be delivered to and retained by the mortgagee; or,

2. The mortgage provide that the property may remain in the possession of the mortgagor and be accompanied by an affidavit of all the parties thereto, or in case any party is absent from the city or township where such mortgage is executed, at the time of the execution thereof, an affidavit of those present and of the agent or attorney in fact of such absent party, that the same is made in good faith, to secure the amount named therein, and without any design to hinder, delay or defraud creditors, and be acknowledged and filed as hereinafter provided.

Caplice Co. v. Beauchamp, 22 Mont. 261; 56 Pac. 279. A bona fide subpurchaser of chattels takes free from the lien of an unrecorded mortgage, though the first purchaser had notice.

Reynolds v. Fitzpatrick, 23 Mont. 55; 57 Pac. 453. A statement, signed by all the parties to a chattel mortgage, but the jurat of which does not bear the signature or seal of the officer before whom it was sworn to, is not a sufficient compliance with this section. In this affidavit, the words "hinder," "delay," and "defraud" are essential to the validity of the mortgage.

Westheimer v. Goodkind, 24 Mont. 99; 60 Pac. 814. This section does not affect mortgages executed before it was adopted. A mortgage made and filed in May, 1895, was, for the want of a proper affidavit and acknowledgment, invalid. This section did not vitalize the mortgage, or make it valid as to third persons acquiring rights in the property after July 1, 1895.

Bennett Bros. v. Fitchett, 24 Mont. 467; 62 Pac. 782.

Reynolds v. Fitzpatrick, 28 Mont. 176; 72 Pac. 512.

Bank v. Beley, 32 Mont. 294; 80 Pac. 257. A chattel mortgage of property left in the possession of the mortgagor is void against attaching creditors, where it is not accompanied by the affidavit of the mortgagee required by this section.

Talcott v. Hurlbert, 143 Cal. 6; 76 Pac. 647.

5759. (§ 3862.) Mortgage by partnership.—Subject to the provisions of the next preceding section, one member of a firm of general partners may alone execute a mortgage of personal property and make the affidavit therein required on behalf of the firm, and the mortgage so executed and the affidavit so made is as valid as if executed and made by all the partners, or their agent, or attorney in fact. In case of a corporation, the president, secretary or managing agent thereof, may make the affidavit on its behalf.

5760. (§ 3863.) Acknowledgment.—Every mortgage of personal property shall be acknowledged by the mortgagor or person executing the same, in the manner provided for the acknowledgment of conveyances of real property, before some officer authorized by law to take acknowledgments of deeds. The form of such mortgage may be substantially the same as prescribed in § 5748 (3841) of this code.

5761. (§ 3864.) Filing of mortgage and duty of recorder.—Every mortgage of personal property, together with the affidavit of the parties thereto, or a copy thereof, certified to be correct by the county clerk, or person before whom the acknowledgment has been made, must be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county where the mortgagor resides, or, in case he is not a resident of this state, then in the office of the county clerk of the county where the property is at the time of the execution of the mortgage; and the county clerk must, on receipt of such mortgage or copy, indorse thereon the time of receiving the same, and file and keep the same in his office for the inspection of all persons, and shall enter in a book properly ruled and kept for that purpose, the names of all the parties, the names of the mortgagors to be alphabetically arranged, the consideration thereof, the date of its maturity, and the time of filing the same.

Noyes v. Ross, 23 Mont. 440; 59 Pac. 372. A chattel mortgage which authorizes the mortgagor to retain possession, with the right to sell the stock of goods mortgaged in the ordinary and usual course of trade, if otherwise good, is valid, provided it appears therein that such sales are to be for the benefit of the mortgagee, and the mortgagor is to account to the mortgagee for the proceeds of the sales. A chattel mortgage is not on its face invalid because it authorizes one of the mortgagors in possession to retain his living expenses out of the proceeds of such sales.

5762. Duration of lien.—Every mortgage of personal property, made, acknowledged and filed, as provided by the laws of this State, is thereupon, if made in good faith, good and valid as against the creditors of the mortgagor or subsequent purchaser, or incumbrancers, from the time it is so filed until the maturity of the entire debt or obligation secured thereby and for the period of sixty days thereafter. The entire period of the time such mortgages are valid and binding against the creditors of the mortgagor and subsequent purchasers and incumbrancers must not exceed one year and sixty days, except by a compliance with the provisions of the next section. [Act approved March 4, 1907, § 1.] (10th Sess. Chap. 81.)

5763. Renewal of mortgage. Affidavit.—Every mortgage of personal property made, acknowledged and filed as provided by the laws of this State, may be renewed at any time within sixty days after the maturity of the debt or obligation secured thereby, in case such debt or obligation or any part thereof, be unpaid or unfulfilled, by the filing of an affidavit showing the date of such mortgage, the name of the mortgagor and mortgagee, the date of filing the same, the amount of the debt or obligation secured thereby, and the amount of the debt justly owing at the time of filing such affidavit, or the conditions of the obligations unfulfilled, and that such debt or obligation was neither made nor renewed to hinder, delay or defraud the creditors or subsequent incumbrancers of the mortgagor; which affidavit must be subscribed and sworn to by the mortgagee or his assignee. In case of the absence of the mortgagee or his assignee from the city or township where such affidavit was executed, the affidavit may be made by the agent or attorney in fact of the mortgagee or his assignee. The affidavit must be made before an officer authorized to administer oaths, filed in the office where the mortgage therein described is filed, and thereupon the county clerk of such county must attach such affidavit to the mortgage therein described and note the date of the filing thereof opposite the entry of the mortgage therein described, in the book provided by the law for the entry of chattel mortgages; and the original mortgage shall then continue to be in full force and virtue for the period of one year after the expiration of the term for which it was originally given; and a like affidavit may be filed within sixty days after the expiration of said period of one year last aforesaid, and the said original mortgage shall then continue to be in full force and virtue for the period of one year and in addition to the first years renewal, and under the same conditions and within the same limitations a like affidavit may be filed to renew the said mortgage for each succeeding year thereafter until the debt secured thereby shall be fully paid. Provided that in case the debt for which any mortgage is given as a security is payable in two or more installments any one or more of which are to become due and payable after one year from the date thereof, then in such event the affidavit of extension of such mortgage herein provided for must be made and filed within sixty days after the first installment of said debt falls due whether such installment be paid or not and must be made and filed within sixty days after each subsequent installment falls due whether the same be paid or not until the entire debt secured thereby shall be fully paid. And provided further that such installments shall become due and payable not more than one year apart, and the first of said installments shall fall due not more than one year from the date of such mortgage. [Act approved March 4, 1907. § 2.] (10th Sess. Chap. 81.)

5764. (§ 3867.) Effect of filing affidavit.—The filing of the affidavit provided in the next preceding section shall not be construed to extend the time of maturity of any debt, or the execution of an obligation secured by such mortgage, but the same may be enforced according to the conditions thereof, and such mortgage foreclosed according to law, at any time within the period for which such mortgage is so renewed, unless agreement be made between the mortgagee and mortgagor extending the time of payment of such debt or fulfillment of such obligation to the time stated in such affidavit.

Rosenbaum v. Ryan, 33 Mont. 428; 84 Pac. 1121. The statute relating to the renewal and extension of a chattel mortgage by means of an affidavit executed and filed by the mortgagee must be strictly followed.

The time fixed in an affidavit of renewal of a chattel mortgage makes the utmost limit of the life of the mortgage lien as against attaching creditors of the mortgagor.

5765. (§ 3868.) Rights of subsequent mortgagee.—Any subsequent mortgagee of personal property, upon which a prior mortgage exists, which has been extended or renewed, as provided in § 5763 of this article, may, at any time during the existence of such mortgage, pay the amount of the debt and interest owing and secured thereby, as shown by such affidavit and mortgage, or deposit the full amount thereof with the county clerk of the county wherein such affidavit and mortgage are filed, subject to the order of the mortgagee, his legal representatives or assigns, and the receipt or duplicate receipt for such payment or deposit, shall be filed in said office and attached to such mortgage, and thereby such subsequent mortgagee shall be subrogated to all the rights of the prior mortgagee under such mortgage.

5766. (§ 3869.) Mode of attachment of mortgaged chattels.—Personal property mortgaged may be taken on attachment or execution issued at the suit of a creditor of the mortgagor; but before the property is so taken, the officer must pay or tender to the mortgagee, the amount of the mortgage debt and interest, or must deposit the amount thereof with the county treasurer of the county in which the mortgage is filed, payable to the order of the mortgagee; and when the property then taken is sold, under process, the officer must apply the proceeds of the sale as follows:

1. To the repayment of the sum paid to the mortgagee, with interest from the date of such payment; and,

2. The balance, if any, in like manner as the proceeds of sales under execution are applied in other cases.

Cheney v. Caldwell, 20 Mont. 77; 49 Pac. 397. This section does not refer to mortgaged property which is exempt from execution.

5767. (§ 3870.) Certified copy in case of loss of original.—A copy of any mortgage of personal property, made, acknowledged and filed as provided in this article, certified by the county clerk in whose office the same shall be filed, may be read in evidence in any court of this state, without further proof of the execution of the original, if said original be lost, or out of the power of the person wishing to use it.

5768. (§ 3871.) Extent of provisions of this chapter.—The provisions of the foregoing sections of this article shall extend to all such bills of sale, deeds of trust, and other conveyances of goods, chattels, or personal property, as shall have the effect of a mortgage or lien upon such property.

Bennett Bros. v. Fitchell, 24 Mont. 467; 62 Pac. 782.

5769. (§ 3872.) Foreclosure.—An action for the foreclosure of a mortgage of personal property, or the enforcement of any lien thereon, of whatever nature, may be commenced and conducted in the same manner as provided by law for the foreclosure of mortgages and liens upon real property, and the same may be joined in an action for the recovery of the possession of the property mortgaged; but it is lawful for the mortgagor of personal property to insert in his mortgage a clause authorizing the sheriff of the county in which said property, or any part thereof, may be, to execute the power of sale therein granted to the mortgagee, his legal representative and assigns, in which case the sheriff of such county, at the time of default, at the request of the mortgagee, must and it is hereby made his duty to advertise and sell the whole or any part of the mortgaged property, wherever it may be, in the manner provided in such mortgage; and at such sale, made as aforesaid, the mortgagee, or his representative or assigns, may, in good faith, purchase the property so sold, or any part thereof. The sheriff may require an indemnity bond from the mortgagee or his assigns before taking possession of, or selling the mortgaged property.

5770. (§ 3873.) Possession of range stock.—The Code of Civil Procedure provides the method of taking possession of range stock under mortgage, between the first day of November and the next succeeding fifteenth day of May.

5771. (§ 3874.) Satisfaction of mortgage.—Whenever the debt or obligation secured by any mortgage of personal property, which has been filed in the office of the county clerk, as provided in this article, shall be paid or discharged, an acknowledgment of satisfaction, signed by the mortgagee, his legal representative or assigns, must be indorsed upon the mortgage, or copy thereof, filed as aforesaid, and the fact of such discharge or satisfaction noted by the county clerk in the book kept by him, as provided in § 5761 (3864) of this article, opposite the names of the parties to such mortgage.

5772. (§ 3875.) Penalty for selling mortgaged chattels.—Any person having conveyed any goods, chattels or personal property to another by mortgage, who shall, during the existence of the lien or title created by such mortgage, sell the said property or any part thereof, to a third person for a valuable consideration, without informing him of the existence and effect of such mortgage, shall forfeit and pay to the purchaser, twice the value of such property so sold, which forfeiture may be recovered in an action of debt, in any court having jurisdiction thereof.

5773. (§ 3876.) Mortgage on growing crops.—The lien of a mortgage on a growing crop continues on the crop after severance, whether remaining in its original state or converted into another product, so long as the same remains on the land of mortgagor.

Brande v. Babcock H. Co., 35 Mont. 261; 88 Pac. 949. Where mortgaged grain has been removed from land of the mortgagor, it is prima facie free from encumbrance, and the fact that one who bought it after its removal had knowledge that it was once mortgaged is not sufficient to prevent him from being a bona fide purchaser.

Summerville v. Stockton M. Co., 142 Cal. 544; 76 Pac. 243.

5774. (§ 3890.) Pledge, what.—Pledge is a deposit of personal property by way of security for the performance of another's act.

Durfee v. Harper, 22 Mont. 367; 56 Pac. 586.

Rohrbacher v. Court, 144 Cal. 633; 78 Pac. 22.

5775. (§ 3891.) When contract is to be deemed a pledge.—Every contract by which the possession of personal property is transferred, as security only, is to be deemed a pledge.

Rohrbacher v. Court, 144 Cal. 633; 78 Pac. 22.

5776. (§ 3892.) Delivery essential to validity of pledge.—The lien of a pledge is dependent on possession, and no pledge is valid until the property pledged is delivered to the pledgee, or to a pledge holder, as hereafter prescribed.

Lilienthal v. Ballou, 125 Cal. 187; 57 Pac. 897.

5777. (§ 3893.) Increase of thing.—The increase of property pledged is pledged with the property.

5778. (§ 3894.) Lienor may pledge property to extent of his lien.—One who has a lien upon property may pledge it to the extent of his lien.

5779. (§ 3895.) Real owner cannot defeat pledge of property transferred to apparent owner for the purpose of pledge.—One who has allowed another to assume the apparent ownership of property for the purpose of making any transfer of it, cannot set up his own title to defeat a pledge of the property, made by the other to a pledgee who received the property in good faith, in the ordinary course of business, and for value.

Brittan v. Oakland Bank, 124 Cal. 289; 57 Pac. 81.

5780. (§ 3896.) Pledge lender, what.—Property may be pledged as security for the obligation of another person than the owner, and in so doing, the owner has all the rights of a pledgor for himself, except as hereinafter stated.

5781. (§ 3897.) Pledge holder, what.—A pledgor and pledgee may agree upon a third person with whom to deposit the property pledged, who, if he accepts the deposit, is called a pledge holder.

5782. (§ 3898.) When pledge lender may withdraw property pledged.—One who pledges property as security for the obligation of another, cannot withdraw the property pledged otherwise than as a pledgor for himself might, and if he receives from the debtor a consideration for the pledge, he cannot withdraw it without his consent.

5783. (§ 3899.) Obligations of pledge holder.—A pledge holder for reward cannot exonerate himself from his undertaking; and a gratuitous pledge holder can do so only by giving reasonable notice to the pledgor and pledgee to appoint a new pledge holder, and in case of their failure to agree, by depositing the property pledged with some impartial person, who will then be entitled to a reasonable compensation for his care of the same.

5784. (§ 3900.) Pledge holder must enforce rights of pledge.—A pledge holder must enforce all the rights of the pledgee, unless authorized by him to waive them.

Faulkner v. Bank, 130 Cal. 262; 62 Pac. 463.

5785. (§ 3901.) Obligations of pledgee and pledge holder, for reward.—A pledgee, or a pledge holder for reward, assumes the duties and liabilities of a depositary for reward.

5786. (§ 3902.) Gratuitous pledge holder.—A gratuitous pledge holder assumes the duties and liabilities of a gratuitous depositary.

Stewart v. Naud, 125 Cal. 599; 58 Pac. 186.

5787. (§ 3903.) Debtor's misrepresentation of value of pledge.—Where a debtor has obtained credit, or an extension of time, by a fraudulent misrepresentation of the value of property pledged by or for him, the creditor may demand a further pledge to correspond with the value represented; and in default thereof, may recover his debt immediately, though it be not actually due.

5788. (§ 3904.) When pledgee may sell.—When performance of the act for which a pledge is given, is due, in whole or in part, the pledgee may collect what is due to him by a sale of property pledged, subject to the rules and exceptions herein-after prescribed.

5789. (§ 3905.) When pledgee must demand performance.—Before property pledged can be sold, and after performance of the act for which it is security is due, the pledgee must demand performance thereof from the debtor, if the debtor can be found.

Bendel v. Crystal Co., 82 Cal. 200; 22 Pac. 1112.

5790. (§ 3906.) Notice of sale to pledgor.—A pledgee must give actual notice to the pledgor of the time and place at which the property pledged will be sold, at such a reasonable time before the sale as will enable the pledgor to attend.

Stewart v. Naud, 125 Cal. 600; 58 Pac. 186.

5791. (§ 3907.) Waiver of notice of sale.—Notice of sale may be waived by a pledgor at any time; but is not waived by a mere waiver of demand of performance.

5792. (§ 3908.) Waiver of demand.—A debtor or pledgor waives a demand of performance as a condition precedent to a sale of the property pledged, by a positive refusal to perform, after performance is due; but cannot waive it in any other manner except by contract.

5793. (§ 3909.) Sale must be by auction.—The sale by a pledgee, of property pledged, must be made by public auction, in the manner and upon the notice to the public usual at the place of sale, in respect to auction sales of similar property; and must be for the highest obtainable price.

Bendel v. Crystal Co., 82 Cal. 200; 22 Pac. 1112.

5794. (§ 3910.) Pledgee's sale of securities.—A pledgee cannot sell any evidence of debt pledged to him except the obligations of governments, states, or corporations; but he may collect the same when due.

Farmers' Bank v. Copsey, 134 Cal. 289; 66 Pac. 324.

5795. (§ 3911.) Sale on demand of the pledgor.—Whenever property pledged can be sold for a price sufficient to satisfy the claims of the pledgee, the pledgor may require it to be sold, and its proceeds to be applied to such satisfaction, when due.

5796. (§ 3912.) Surplus to be paid to pledgor.—After a pledgee has lawfully sold property pledged, or otherwise collected its proceeds, he may deduct therefrom the amount due under the principal obligation, and the necessary expenses of sale and collection, and must pay the surplus to the pledgor on demand.

5797. (§ 3913.) Same.—When property pledged is sold by order of the pledgor before the claim of the pledgee is due, the latter may retain out of the proceeds all that can possibly become due under his claim until it becomes due.

5798. (§ 3914.) Pledgee's purchase of property pledged.—A pledgee, or pledge holder, cannot purchase the property pledged, except by direct dealing with the pledgor.

5799. (§ 3915.) Pledgee may foreclose right of redemption.—Instead of selling property pledged, as hereinbefore provided, a pledgee may foreclose the right of redemption by a judicial sale, under the direction of a competent court; and in that case may be authorized by the court to purchase at the sale.

Farmers' Bank v. Copsey, 134 Cal. 289; 66 Pac. 324.

 " 5816. Lien for driving logs.
 " 5817. Foreclosure.
 " 5818. Release from lien.

5800. (§ 3930.) Lien of seller of real property.—One who sells real property has a vendor's lien thereon, independent of possession, for so much of the price as remains unpaid and unsecured, otherwise than by the personal obligation of the buyer.

Selna v. Selna, 125 Cal. 360; 58 Pac. 16.

5801. (§ 3931.) When transfer of contract waives lien.—Where a buyer of real property gives to the seller a written contract for payment of all or part of the price, an absolute transfer of such contract by the seller waives his lien to the extent of the sum payable under the contract; but a transfer of such contract in trust to pay debts, and return the surplus, is not a waiver of the lien.

Selna v. Selna, 125 Cal. 360; 58 Pac. 16.

5802. (§ 3932.) Extent of seller's lien.—The liens defined in §§ 5800 (3902) and 5804 (3934) are valid against every one claiming under the debtor, except a purchaser and incumbrancer in good faith and for value.

Selna v. Selna, 125 Cal. 360; 58 Pac. 16.

5803. (§ 3933.) Lien of seller of personal property.—One who sells personal property has a special lien thereon, dependent on possession, for its price, if it is in his possession when the price becomes payable, and may enforce his lien in like manner as if the property was pledged to him for the price.

Matteson v. Equitable Co., 143 Cal. 438; 77 Pac. 144.

5804. (§ 3934.) Purchaser's lien on real property.—One who pays to the owner any part of the price of real property, under an agreement for the sale thereof, has a special lien upon the property, independent of possession, for such part of the amount paid as he may be entitled to recover back, in case of a failure of consideration.

Haile v. Smith, 113 Cal. 664; 45 Pac. 872.

5805. (§ 3935.) Lien for service.—Every person who, while lawfully in possession of an article of personal property, renders any service to the owner thereof by labor or skill employed for the making, repairing, protection, improvement, safe keeping, or carriage thereof, has a special lien thereon, dependent on possession, for the compensation, if any, which is due to him from the owner for such service. A ranchman, farmer, agister, herder, hotel keeper, livery, boarding or feed stable keeper, to whom any horses, mules, cattle, sheep, hogs or other stock are intrusted, and there is a contract, express or implied, for their keeping, feeding, herding, pasturing or ranching, has a lien upon such stock for the amount due for keeping, feeding, herding, pasturing or ranching the same, and is authorized to retain possession thereof until the sum due is paid, and may enforce his lien as in the case of a pledge.

Seale v. McCarthy, 148 Cal. 62; 82 Pac. 845.

5806. (§ 3936.) Lien of factor.—A factor has a general lien, dependent on possession, for all that is due to him as such, upon all articles of commercial value that are intrusted to him by the same principal.

5807. (§ 3937.) Banker's lien.—A banker has a general lien, dependent on possession, upon all property in his hands belonging to a customer, for the balance due to him from such customer in the course of the business.

5808. (§ 3938.) Shipmaster's lien.—The master of a ship has a general lien, independent of possession upon the ship and freightage, for advances necessarily made, or liabilities necessarily incurred by him for the benefit of the ship, but has no lien for his wages.

5809. (§ 3939.) Seamen's lien.—The mate and seamen of a ship have a general lien, independent of possession, upon the ship and freightage, for their wages, which is superior to every other lien.

5810. (§ 3940.) Officer's lien.—An officer who levies an attachment or execution upon personal property acquires a special lien, dependent on possession, upon such property, which authorizes him to hold it until the process is discharged or satisfied, or a judicial sale of the property is had.

5811. (§ 3941.) Judgment lien.—The lien of a judgment is regulated by the Code of Civil Procedure.

5812. (§ 3942.) Mechanic's lien.—The liens of mechanics and others for materials and services are regulated further by the Code of Civil Procedure.

5813. (§ 3943.) Stallion keeper must file statement.—That every owner or agent who may have the custody or control of any stallion, who shall charge a fee for the service of such stallion, shall, before advertising or offering such services to the public for any fee, reward or compensation, file with the clerk of the county in which owner or owners or agents reside, or where such stallion shall be kept for service, a written statement, giving the name, age, pedigree and record if known, if not, that the same is unknown, description, term, and conditions upon which such stallion will serve. Upon filing such statement the county clerk shall issue a certificate or license to owner or owners or agents, having custody and control of such stallion, that such statement has been filed in his office; the owner or owners or agents of such stallion shall then post a written or printed notice of a copy of the statement so filed with the county clerk in a conspicuous place in each locality in which said stallion shall be kept for service. [Act approved Feb. 25, 1893.]

5814. (§ 3944.) Fraudulent pedigree; penalty.—Every owner or agent who shall proclaim or publish a false or fraudulent pedigree or record or statement of any kind regarding any stallion, or who shall neglect or refuse to comply with the provisions of § 5813 of this act, shall forfeit all fees for the services of such stallion and the person or persons who have been deceived or defrauded by such false or fraudulent pedigree or record or statement, may sue and recover in any court having jurisdiction, such damages as may be shown to have been sustained by reason of false representation and fraud. [Act approved Feb. 25, 1893.]

5816. (§ 3946.) Lien for driving logs.—That any person who shall desire to float to market or place of manufacture any logs or timber in any of the streams of this state, and who shall be hindered and obstructed in so doing by the logs or timber of another, or any person whose logs or timber in any of the waters of this state are so intermixed with the logs or timber of another that the same cannot be conveniently separated for the purpose of being floated to the market or place of manufacture, may drive all logs or timber with which his own is or may be obstructed or intermixed towards such market or place of manufacture, to some point when the same can be conveniently separated from his own, and shall be entitled to a reasonable compensation therefor from the owner of such logs or timber; and upon the filing in the office of the county clerk and recorder of the county where such logs may be, within thirty days after the completion of such driving of any such logs or timber, a statement setting forth when and where the same were driven, the amount of his claim therefor, and verified by his oath or affidavit, such person shall have and retain a lien upon such logs or timber for the amount of such claim from the time of filing the same, and may have and maintain a civil action for the amount of such claim, or for the enforcement of such lien, against the owner of such logs or timber; Provided, That a failure to commence such action within sixty days after the filing of such claim shall operate as a discharge of said lien. [Act approved March 7, 1895.]

5817. (§ 3947.) Foreclosure.—A lien upon any logs or timber as provided in the preceding section, may be foreclosed in the district court of the county in which the same is filed, and the decree for the enforcement thereof shall provide for the sale of said logs or timber, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy said lien and costs, and the said sale shall be conducted by the sheriff in the manner provided by law for the sale of personal property under execution. [Act approved March 7, 1895.]

5818. (§ 3948.) Release from lien.—Any person, upon whose logs or timber any lien is filed or claimed, under the provisions of the foregoing sections, may release such logs or timber from such lien and regain and take possession thereof, by furnishing an undertaking in double the amount of the claim, executed by two sufficient sureties to be approved by the clerk and recorder in whose office the lien is filed, and conditioned that such person do pay all damages and costs that may be awarded against him in any action to foreclose such lien or enforce such claim. Such undertaking shall be filed in the office of the clerk and recorder in whose office the lien is filed, and such clerk and recorder shall thereupon give to the person filing the same a certificate stating that such undertaking has been filed and approved. [Act approved March 7, 1895.]

“ 5835. Sale of property.

“ 5836. Penalty for destroying means of identification of property.

5819. Who entitled to lien.—Every person performing labor upon, or who shall assist in obtaining or securing saw logs, piling, railroad ties, cord wood or other timber, has a lien upon the same, and upon all other saw logs, piling, railroad ties, cordwood or other timber which, at the time of the filing of the claim or lien hereinafter provided, belonged to the person or corporation for whom the labor was performed for the work or labor done upon or in obtaining or securing the particular saw logs, piling, railroad ties, cordwood or other timber in said claim or lien described, whether such work or labor was done at the instance of the owner of the same or his agent. The cook in a logging camp shall be regarded as a person who assists in obtaining or securing the timber herein mentioned. [Act approved February 20th, 1899, § 1.] (6th Sess. Chap. 126-127.)

5820. Same. Lien on lumber.—Every person performing work or labor or assisting in manufacturing saw logs and other timber into lumber and shingles, has a lien upon such lumber while the same remains at the mill where it was manufactured, or in the possession or under the control of the manufacturer, whether such work or labor was done at the instance of the owner of such logs or his agent or any contractor or sub-contractor of such owner. The term lumber, as used in this Act, shall be held and be construed to mean all logs or other timber sawed or split for use, including beams, joists, planks, boards, shingles, laths, staves, hoops, and every article of whatsoever nature or description manufactured from saw logs or other timber. [Act approved February 20th, 1899, § 2.] (6th Sess. 127.)

5822. Priority of liens.—The liens provided for in this chapter are preferred liens and prior to any other liens, and no sale or transfer of any saw logs, piling, railroad ties, cordwood or other timber or manufactured lumber or shingles shall divest the lien thereon as herein provided, and as between liens provided for in this act those for work and labor shall be preferred; Provided,

That as between liens for work and labor claimed by several laborers on the same logs or lot of logs the claims for work or labor done or performed on the identical logs proceeded against to the extent that said logs can be identified, shall be preferred as against the general claims of liens for work and labor recognized and provided for in this Act. [Act approved February 20th, 1899, § 4.] (6th Sess. 127.)

5823. Extent of lien.—The person rendering the service or doing the work or labor named in § § 5819 (1) and 5820 (2) of this Act is only entitled to the liens as provided herein for services, work or labor for the period of three calendar months, or any part thereof next preceding the filing of the claim, as provided in § 5826 (8) of this Act. [Act approved February 20th, 1899, § 5.] (6th Sess. 127-128.)

5824. Same.—The person granting the privilege mentioned in § 5821 (3) of this Act is only entitled to the lien as provided therein for saw logs, piling, railroad ties, cord wood or other timber cut during the three months next preceding the filing of the claim, as herein provided in the next succeeding Section of this Act. [Act approved February 20th, 1899, § 6.] (6th Sess. 128.)

5825. Recording claim of lien.—Every person, within thirty days after the close of the rendition of the services or after the close of the work or labor mentioned in the preceding sections, claiming the benefit hereof, must file for record with the county in which such saw logs, piling, railroad ties, cord wood or other timber were cut, or in which such lumber or shingles were manufactured, a claim containing a statement of his demand and the amount thereof, after deducting as nearly as possible all just credits and offsets, with the name of the person by whom he was employed, with a statement of the terms and conditions of his contract, if any, and in case there is no express contract, the claim shall state what such service, work or labor is reasonably worth; and it shall also contain a description of the property to be charged with a lien sufficient for identification with reasonable certainty, which claim must be verified by the oath of himself or some other person to the effect that the affiant believes the same to be true, which claim shall be substantially in the following form:

[Act approved February 20th, 1899, § 7.] (6th Sess. Chap. 128-129.)

5826. Same.—Every person mentioned in Section 5821 (3) of this Act claiming the benefit must file for record with the county clerk of the county in which such saw logs, piling, railroad ties, cord wood or other timber were cut, a claim in substance the same as provided in the next preceding section of this Act, and verified as therein provided. [Act approved February 20th, 1899, § 8.] (6th Sess. 129.)

5827. Duties of county recorder.—The county clerk must file any claim presented under the provisions of this Act, endorse thereon the time of receiving the same, and keep the same in his office for the inspection of all persons and shall enter in a book, properly ruled and kept for such purpose, the names of all the parties, such names to be alphabetically arranged, the amount of the lien and the time of filing the same. [Act approved February 20th, 1899, § 9.] (6th Sess. 129-130.)

5828. Duration of lien.—No lien provided for in this act binds any saw logs, piling, railroad ties, cord wood or other timber, or lumber and shingles for a longer period than eight calendar months after the claim as herein provided has been filed, unless a civil action be commenced in a proper court, within that time, to enforce the same; Provided, however, That in case such civil action so commenced should for any cause other than the merits, be non-suited or dismissed, then the lien shall continue for the term of one calendar month, if the said eight months have expired to permit the commencement of another action thereon, which shall be as effective in prolonging the lien as if it had been entered during the term of eight months hereinbefore stated. [Act approved February 20th, 1899, § 10.] (6th Sess. 130.)

5829. Jurisdiction of court and procedure.—The liens provided for in this act shall be enforced by a civil action in the district court of the county wherein the lien was filed, and shall be governed by the laws regulating the proceedings in civil actions touching the mode and manner of trial, and the proceedings and laws to secure property so as to hold it for the satisfaction of any lien that may be against it. [Act approved February 20th, 1899, § 11.] (6th Sess. 130.)

5830. Same.—Any person who shall bring a civil action to enforce the lien provided for, any person having a lien as provided for, or who shall be made a party to any such civil action, has the right to demand that such lien be enforced against the whole or any part of the saw logs, piling, railroad ties, cord wood or other timber or manufactured lumber or shingles upon which he has performed labor or which he has assisted in securing or obtaining, or which he has cut on his timber land during the three months next preceding the filing of his lien, for all his labor upon or for all his assistance in obtaining or securing said saw logs, piling, railroad ties, cord wood or other timber, or in manufacturing said lumber into shingles during the whole or any part of the three months mentioned in Section 5825 (7) of this Act, or for timber cut during the whole or any part of the three months above mentioned. And where proceedings are commenced against any lot of saw logs, piling, railroad ties, cord wood or other timber or lumber or shingles, as herein provided, and some of the lienors claim liens against these specific saw logs, piling, railroad ties, cord wood, or other timber or lumber or shingles proceeded against, and others against the same generally, to secure their claim for work and labor, the priority of the liens shall be determined as hereinbefore provided. [Act approved February 20th, 1899, § 12.] (6th Sess. 130-131.)

5831. Immaterial defects in claim.—No mistake or error in the statement of the demand, or of the amount of credits and offsets allowed, or of the balance asserted to be due to claimant, nor in the description of the property against which the claim is filed, shall invalidate the lien, unless the court finds that such mistake or error in the statement of the demand credits and offsets or of the balance due was made with the intent to defraud or the court shall find that an innocent third party without notice, actual or constructive, has, since the claim was filed, become a bona fide owner of the property lienied upon, and that the notice of claim was so deficient that it did not put the party upon further inquiry in any manner. [Act approved February 20th, 1899, § 13.] (6th Sess. 131.)

5832. Bona fide purchasers.—It shall be conclusively presumed by the court, that a party purchasing the property lienied upon within the thirty days given herein to claimants wherein to file their liens, is not an innocent third party, nor that he has become a bona fide owner of the property lienied upon, unless it shall appear that he has paid full value for the said property and has seen that the purchase money of the said property has been applied to the payment of such bona fide claims, as are entitled to liens upon the same property under the provisions of this Act, according to the priorities herein established. [Act approved February 20th, 1899, § 14.] (6th Sess. 131.)

5833. Parties.—Any number of persons claiming liens under this Act may join in the affidavit in § 5830 (12) of this Act, provided, and may join in the same action and when separate actions are commenced the court may consolidate them. The court shall also allow as parts of the costs the money paid for filing, making and recording the claim, and a reasonable attorney's fee for each person claiming a lien. [Act approved February 20th, 1899, § 15.] (6th Sess. 131.)

5834. Judgment and sale.—In each civil action judgment must be rendered in favor of each person having a lien for the amount due to him, and the court or judge thereof shall order any property subject to the lien herein provided for to be sold by the sheriff of the proper county in the same manner that personal property is sold on execution, and the court or judge shall apportion the proceeds of such sale to the payment of each judgment, according to the priorities established in this act pro rata in its class, according to the amount of such judgment. [Act approved February 20, 1899, § 16.] (6th Sess. 131.)

5835. Sale of property.—The court or judge may order any property subject to a lien as in this Act provided, to be sold by the sheriff as personal property is sold on execution either before or at the time judgment is rendered, as provided in section next preceding and the proceeds of such sale must be paid into court to be applied as in said section directed. [Act approved February 20th, 1899, § 17.] (6th Sess. 131-132.)

5836. Penalty for destroying means of identification of property.—Any person who shall eloin, injure or destroy, or who shall render difficult, uncertain or impossible of identification any saw logs, piling, railroad ties, cord wood, shingles, or other timber upon which there is a lien as herein provided, without the express consent of the person entitled to such lien, shall be liable to a lien holder for the damages to the amount secured by his lien, and it being shown to the court in a civil action to enforce said lien, it shall be the duty of the court to enter a personal judgment for the amount in such action against the said person, provided he be a party to such action or the damages may be recovered by a civil action against such person. [Act approved February 20th, 1899, § 18.] (6th Sess. 132.)

CHAPTER VI.

STOPPAGE IN TRANSIT.

Section 5837. When consignor may stop goods.

“ 5839. Transit, when ended.

“ 5841. Effect of stoppage.

5837. (§ 3970.) When consignor may stop goods.—A seller or consignor of property, whose claim for its price or proceeds has not been extinguished, may, upon the insolvency of the buyer or consignee becoming known to him after parting with the property, stop it while on its transit to the buyer or consignee, and resume possession thereof.

5838. (§ 3971.) What is insolvency of consignee.—A person is insolvent, within the meaning of the last section, when he ceases to pay his debts in the manner usual with persons of his business, or when he declares his inability or unwillingness to do so.

Stadler v. Bank, 22 Mont. 219; 56 Pac. 120.

5839. (§ 3972.) Transit, when ended.—The transit of property is at an end when it comes into the possession of the consignee, or into that of his agent, unless such agent is employed merely to forward the property to the consignee.

5840. (§ 3973.) Stoppage, how effected.—Stoppage in transit can be affected only by notice to the carrier or depositary of the property, or by taking actual possession thereof.

5841. (§ 3974.) Effect of stoppage.—Stoppage in transit does not, of itself, rescind a sale, but is a means of enforcing the lien of the seller.

ARTICLE I.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

Section 5842. Short title.

" 5843. Definitions and meaning of terms.

" 5844. Person primarily liable on instrument.

" 5845. Reasonable time; what constitutes.

" 5846. Time, how computed; when last day falls on holiday.

" 5847. Application of chapter.

" 5848. Law merchant; when governs.

5842. Short title.—This act shall be known as the Negotiable Instruments Law. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 190.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

Stadler v. Bank, 22 Mont. 219; 56 Pac. 120. The sections relating to negotiable instruments have been enacted in a majority of the states. They were prepared by the commissioners on uniform state laws. Hon. Amasa M. Eaton, the president, in his address to the commissioners in September, 1904, at St. Louis, collates the decisions relating to these sections. (Pages 65 to 76 inclusive.) The supreme court of Montana has not construed any part of this legislation.

5843. Definitions and meaning of terms.—In this act, unless the context otherwise requires:—

"Acceptance" means an acceptance completed by delivery or notification.

"Action" includes counter-claim and set off.

"Bank" includes any person or association of persons carrying on the business of banking, whether incorporated or not.

"Bearer" means the person in possession of a bill or note which is payable to bearer.

"Bill" means bill of exchange, and "note" means negotiable promissory note.

"Delivery" means transfer of possession, actual or constructive, from one person to another.

"Holder" means the payee or indorsee of a bill or note, who is in possession of it, or the bearer thereof.

"Indorsement" means an indorsement completed by delivery.

"Instrument" means negotiable instrument.

"Issue" means the first delivery of the instrument, complete in form, to the person who takes it as a holder.

"Person" includes a body of persons, whether incorporated or not.

"Value" means valuable consideration.

"Written" includes printed, and "writing" includes print. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 191.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5844. Person primarily liable on instrument.—The person "primarily" liable on an instrument is the person who by the terms of the instrument is absolutely required to pay the same. All other parties are "secondary" liable. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 192.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5845. Reasonable time, what constitutes.—In determining what is a "reasonable time" or an "unreasonable time" regard is to be had to the nature of the instrument, the usage of trade or business (if any) with respect to such instruments and the facts of the particular case. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 193.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5846. Time, how computed; when last day falls on holiday.—When the day, or the last day for doing any act herein required or permitted to be done falls on Sunday or on a holiday, the act may be done on the next succeeding secular or business day. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 194.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5847. Application of chapter.—The provisions of this act do not apply to negotiable instruments made and delivered prior to the passage hereof. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 195.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5848. Law merchant; when governs.—In any case not provided for in this act the rules of the law merchant shall govern. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 196.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

ARTICLE II.

FORM AND INTERPRETATION.

- Section 5849. Form of negotiable instrument.*
- “ 5850. Certainty as to sum; what constitutes.
- “ 5851. When promise is unconditional.
- “ 5852. Determinable future time; what constitutes.
- “ 5853. Additional provisions not affecting negotiability.
- “ 5854. Omissions; seal; particular money.
- “ 5855. When payable on demand.
- “ 5856. When payable to order.
- “ 5857. When payable to bearer.
- “ 5858. Terms, when sufficient.
- “ 5859. Date, presumption as to.
- “ 5860. Ante-dated and post-dated.
- “ 5861. When date may be inserted.
- “ 5862. Blanks, when may be filled.
- “ 5863. Incomplete instrument not delivered.
- “ 5864. Delivery; when effectual; when presumed.
- “ 5865. Construction where instrument is ambiguous.
- “ 5866. Liability of person signing in trade or assumed name.
- “ 5867. Signature by agent; authority; how shown.
- “ 5868. Liability of person signing as agent, et cetera.
- “ 5869. Signature by procuration; effect of.
- “ 5870. Effect of indorsement by infant or corporation.
- “ 5871. Forged signature; effect of.

5849. Form of negotiable instrument.—An instrument to be negotiable must conform to the following requirements:

1. It must be in writing and signed by the maker or drawer;
2. Must contain an unconditional promise or order to pay a sum certain in money;
3. Must be payable on demand, or at a fixed or determined future time;
4. Must be payable to order or to bearer; and
5. Where the instrument is addressed to a drawee, he must be named or otherwise indicated therein with reasonable certainty. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 1.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5850. Certainty as to sum; what constitutes.—The sum payable is a sum certain within the meaning of this act, although it is to be paid:

1. With interest; or
2. By stated instalments; or

3. By stated instalments, with a provision that upon default in payment of any instalment or of interest, the whole shall become due; or

4. With exchange, whether at a fixed rate or at the current rate; or

5. With costs of collection or an attorney's fee, in case payment shall not be made at maturity. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 2.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5851. When promise is unconditional.—An unqualified order or promise to pay is unconditional within the meaning of this act, though coupled with:

1. An indication of a particular fund out of which reimbursement is to be made, or a particular account to be debited with the amount; or

2. A statement of the transaction which gives rise to the instrument.

But an order or promise to pay out of a particular fund is not unconditional. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 3.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5852. Determinable future time; what constitutes.—An instrument is payable at a determinable future time, within the meaning of this act, which is expressed to be payable:

1. At a fixed period after date or sight; or

2. On or before a fixed or determinable future time specified therein; or

3. On or at a fixed period after the occurrence of a specified event, which is certain to happen, though the time of happening be uncertain.

An instrument payable upon a contingency is not negotiable, and the happening of the event does not cure the defect. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 4.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5853. Additional provisions not affecting negotiability.—An instrument which contains an order or promise to do any act in addition to the payment of money is not negotiable. But the negotiable character of an instrument otherwise negotiable is not affected by a provision which:

1. Authorizes the sale of collateral securities in case the instrument be not paid at maturity; or

2. Authorizes a confession of judgment if the instrument be not paid at maturity; or

3. Waives the benefit of any law intended for the advantage or protection of the obligor; or

4. Gives the holder an election to require something to be done in lieu of payment of money.

But nothing in this section shall validate any provision or stipulation otherwise illegal. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 5.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5854. Omissions; seal; particular money.—The validity and negotiable character of an instrument are not affected by the fact that:

1. It is not dated; or
2. Does not specify the value given, or that any value has been given therefor; or
3. Does not specify the place where it is drawn or the place where it is payable; or
4. Bears a seal; or
5. Designates a particular kind of current money in which payment is to be made.

But nothing in this section shall alter or repeal any statute requiring in certain cases the nature of the consideration to be stated in the instrument. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 6.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5855. When payable on demand.—An instrument is payable on demand:

1. Where it is expressed to be payable on demand, or at sight, or on presentation; or
2. In which no time for payment is expressed.

Where an instrument is issued, accepted, or indorsed and overdue, it is, as regards the person so issuing, accepting, or indorsing it, payable on demand. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 7.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5856. When payable to order.—The instrument is payable to order where it is drawn payable to the order of a specified person or to him or his order. It may be drawn payable to the order of:

1. A payee who is not maker, drawer, or drawee; or
2. The drawer or maker; or
3. The drawee; or
4. Two or more payees jointly; or
5. One or some of several payees; or
6. The holder of an office for the time being.

Where the instrument is payable to order the payee must be named or otherwise indicated therein with reasonable certainty. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 8.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5857. When payable to bearer.—The instrument is payable to bearer:

1. When it is expressed to be so payable; or
2. When it is payable to a person named therein or bearer; or
3. When it is payable to the order of a fictitious or non-existing person, and such fact was known to the person making it so payable; or
4. When the name of the payee does not purport to be the name of any person; or

5. When the only or last indorsement is an indorsement in blank. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 9.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5858. Terms, when sufficient.—The instrument need not follow the language of this act, but any terms are sufficient which clearly indicate an intention to conform to the requirements hereof. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 10.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5859. Date, presumption as to.—Where an instrument or an acceptance of any indorsement thereon is dated, such date is deemed prima facie to be the true date of the making, drawing, acceptance, or indorsement as the case may be. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 11.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5860. Ante-dated and post-dated.—The instrument is not invalid for the reason only that it is antedated or postdated, provided this is not done for an illegal or fraudulent purpose. The person to whom an instrument so dated is delivered acquires the title thereto as of the date of delivery. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 12.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5862. Blanks; when may be filled.—Where an instrument is wanting in any material particular, the person in possession thereof has a prima facie authority to complete it by filling up the blanks therein. And a signature on a blank paper delivered by the person making the signature in order that the paper may be converted into a negotiable instrument operates as a prima facie authority to fill it up as such for any amount. In order, however, that any such instrument when completed may be enforced against any person who became a party thereto prior to its completion, it must be filled up strictly in accordance with the authority given and within a reasonable time. But if any such instrument, after completion, is negotiated to a holder in due course, it is valid and effectual for all purposes in his hands, and he may enforce it as if it had been filled up strictly in accordance with the authority given and within a reasonable time. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 14.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5863. Incomplete instrument not delivered.—Where an incomplete instrument has not been delivered it will not, if completed and negotiated, without authority, be a valid contract in the hands of any holder, as against any person whose signature was placed thereon before delivery. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 15.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5864. Delivery; when effectual; when presumed.—Every contract on a negotiable instrument is incomplete and revocable until delivery of the instrument for the purpose of giving effect thereto. As between immediate parties, and as regards a remote party, other than a holder in due course, the delivery, in order to be effectual, must be made either by or under the authority of the party making, drawing, accepting or indorsing, as the case may be; and in such case the delivery may be shown to have been conditional, or for a special purpose only and not for the purpose of transferring the property in the instrument. But where the instrument is in the hands of a holder in due course, a valid delivery thereof by all parties prior to him so as to make them liable to him is conclusively presumed. And where the instrument is no longer in the possession of a party whose signature appears thereon, a valid and intentional delivery by him is presumed until the contrary is proved. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 16.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5865. Construction where instrument is ambiguous.—Where the language of the instrument is ambiguous or there are omissions therein, the following rules of construction apply:

1. Where the sum payable is expressed in words and also in figures and there is a discrepancy between the two, the sum denoted by the words is the sum payable; but if the words are ambiguous or uncertain, reference may be had to the figures to fix the amount;

2. Where the instrument provides for the payment of interest, without specifying the date from which interest is to run, the interest runs from the date of the instrument, and if the instrument is undated, from the issue thereof;

3. Where the instrument is not dated, it will be considered to be dated as of the time it was issued;

4. Where there is a conflict between the written and printed provisions of the instrument, the written provisions prevail.

5. Where the instrument is so ambiguous that there is doubt whether it is a bill or note, the holder may treat it as either at his election;

6. Where a signature is so placed upon the instrument that it is not clear in what capacity the person making the same intended to sign, he is to be deemed an indorser;

7. Where an instrument contains the words "I promise to pay" is signed by two or more persons, they are deemed to be jointly and severally liable thereon. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 17.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5866. Liability of person signing in trade or assumed name.—No person is liable on the instrument whose signature does not appear thereon, except as herein otherwise expressly provided. But one who signs in a trade or assumed name will be liable to the same extent as if he had signed in his own name. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 18.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5867. Signature by agent; authority; how shown.—The signature of any party may be made by a duly authorized agent. No particular form of appointment is necessary for this purpose; and the authority of the agent may be established as in other cases of agency. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 19.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5868. Liability of person signing as agent, et cetera.—Where the instrument contains or a person adds to his signature words indicating that he signs for or on behalf of a principal, or in a representative capacity, he is not liable on the instrument if he was duly authorized; but the mere addition of words describing him as an agent, or as filling a representative character, without disclosing his principal, does not exempt him from personal liability. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 20.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5869. Signature by procuration; effect of.—A signature by “procuration” operates as a notice that the agent has but a limited authority to sign, and the principal is bound only in case the agent in so signing acted within the actual limits of his authority. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 21.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5870. Effect of indorsement by infant or corporation.—The indorsement or assignment of the instrument by a corporation or by an infant passes the property therein, notwithstanding that from want of capacity the corporation or infant may incur no liability thereon. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 22.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5871. Forged signature; effect of.—When a signature is forged or made without the authority of the person whose signature it purports to be, it is wholly inoperative, and no right to retain the instrument, or to give a discharge therefor, or to enforce payment thereof against any party thereto, can be acquired through or under such signature, unless the party, against whom it is sought to enforce such right, is precluded from setting up the forgery or want of authority. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 23.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

ARTICLE III.

CONSIDERATION.

- Section 5872. Presumption of consideration.*
“ 5874. What constitutes holder for value.
“ 5875. When lien on instrument constitutes holder for value.
“ 5876. Effect of want of consideration.
“ 5877. Liability of accommodation endorser.

5872. Presumption of consideration.—Every negotiable instrument is deemed prima facie to have been issued for a valuable consideration; and every person whose signature appears thereon to have become a party thereto for value. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 24.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5873. What constitutes consideration.—Value is any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract. An antecedent or pre-existing debt constitutes value; and is deemed such whether the instrument is payable on demand or at a future time. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 25.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5874. What constitutes holder for value.—Where value has at any time been given for the instrument, the holder is deemed a holder for value in respect to all parties who became such prior to that time. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 26.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5875. When lien on instrument constitutes holder for value.—Where the holder has a lien on the instrument, arising either from contract or by implication of law, he is deemed a holder for value to the extent of his lien. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 27.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5876. Effect of want of consideration.—Absence or failure of consideration is matter of defense as against any person not a holder in due course; and partial failure of consideration is a defense pro tanto, whether the failure is an ascertained and liquidated amount or otherwise. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 28.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5877. Liability of accommodation indorser.—An accommodation party is one who has signed the instrument as maker, drawer, acceptor, or indorser, without receiving value therefor, and for the purpose of lending his name to some other person. Such a person is liable on the instrument to a holder for value, notwithstanding such holder at the time of taking the instrument knew him to be only an accommodation party. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 29.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

ARTICLE IV.

NEGOTIATION.

- Section 5878. What constitutes negotiation.*
- “ 5879. Indorsement; how made.
- “ 5880. Indorsement must be of entire instrument.
- “ 5881. Kinds of indorsement.
- “ 5882. Special indorsement; indorsement in blank.
- “ 5883. Blank indorsement; how changed into special indorsement.
- “ 5884. When indorsement restrictive.
- “ 5885. Effect of restrictive indorsement; rights of indorsee.
- “ 5886. Qualified indorsement.
- “ 5887. Conditional indorsement.
- “ 5888. Indorsement of instrument payable to bearer.
- “ 5889. Indorsement where payable to two or more persons.
- “ 5890. Effect of instrument drawn or indorsed to a person as cashier.
- “ 5891. Indorsement where name is misspelled, et cetera.
- “ 5892. Indorsement in representative capacity.
- “ 5893. Time of indorsement; presumption.
- “ 5894. Place of indorsement; presumption.
- “ 5895. Continuation of negotiable character.
- “ 5896. Striking out indorsement.
- “ 5897. Transfer without indorsement; effect of.
- “ 5898. When prior party may negotiate instrument.

5878. What constitutes negotiation.—An instrument is negotiated when it is transferred from one person to another in such manner as to constitute the transferee the holder thereof. If payable to bearer it is negotiated by delivery; if payable to order it is negotiated by the indorsement of the holder completed by delivery. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 30.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5879. Indorsement; how made.—The indorsement must be written on the instrument itself or upon paper attached thereto. The signature of the indorser, without additional words, is a sufficient indorsement. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 31.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5880. Indorsement must be of entire instrument.—The indorsement must be an indorsement of the entire instrument. An indorsement, which purports to transfer to the indorsee a part only of the amount payable, or which purports to transfer the instrument to two or more indorsees severally, does not operate as a negotiation of the instrument. But where the instrument has been paid in part, it may be indorsed as to the residue. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 32.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5881. Kinds of indorsement.—An indorsement may be either special or in blank; and it may also be either restrictive or qualified, or conditional. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 33.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5882. Special indorsement; indorsement in blank.—A special indorsement specifies the person to whom, or to whose order, the instrument is to be payable; and the indorsement of such indorsee is necessary to the further negotiation of the instrument. An indorsement in blank specifies no indorsee, and an instrument so endorsed is payable to bearer, and may be negotiated by delivery. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 34.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5883. Blank indorsement; how changed to special indorsement.—The holder may convert a blank indorsement into a special indorsement by writing over the signature of the indorser in blank any contract consistent with the character of the indorsement. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 35.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5884. When indorsement restrictive.—An indorsement is restrictive, which either,

1. Prohibits the future negotiation of the instrument; or
2. Constitutes the indorsee the agent of the indorser; or
3. Vests the title in the indorsee in trust for or to the use of some other person.

But the mere absence of words implying power to negotiate does not make an indorsement restrictive. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 36.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5885. Effect of restrictive endorsement; rights of endorsee.—A restrictive endorsement confers upon the indorsee the right,

1. To receive payment of the instrument.
2. To bring any action thereon that the indorser could bring.
3. To transfer his rights as such indorsee, where the form of the indorsement authorizes him to do so.

But all subsequent indorsees acquire only the title of the first indorsee under the restrictive indorsement. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 37.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5886. Qualified indorsement.—A qualified indorsement constitutes the indorser a mere assignor of the title to the instrument. It may be made by adding to the indorser's signature the words "without recourse" or any words of similar import. Such an indorsement does not impair the negotiable character of the instrument. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 38.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5887. Conditional indorsement.—Where an indorsement is conditional, a party required to pay the instrument may disregard the condition, and make payment to the indorsee or his transferee, whether the condition has been fulfilled or not. But any person to whom an instrument so indorsed is negotiated, will hold the same, or the proceeds thereof, subject to the rights of the person indorsing conditionally. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 39.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5888. Indorsement of instrument payable to bearer.—Where an instrument, payable to bearer, is indorsed specially, it may nevertheless be further negotiated by delivery; but the person indorsing specially is liable as indorser to only such holders as make title through his indorsement. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 40.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5889. Indorser where payable to two or more persons.—Where an instrument is payable to the order of two or more payees or indorsees who are not partners, all must indorse, unless the one indorsing has authority to indorse for the others. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 41.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5890. Effect of instrument drawn or indorsed to a person as cashier.—Where an instrument is drawn or endorsed to a person as “Cashier” or other fiscal officer of a bank or corporation, it is deemed prima facie to be payable to the bank or corporation of which he is such officer; and may be negotiated by either the indorsement of the bank or corporation, or the indorsement of the officer. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 42.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5891. Indorsement where name is misspelled, et cetera.—Where the name of a payee or indorsee is wrongly designated or misspelled, he may indorse the instrument as therein described, adding, if he thinks fit, his proper signature. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 43.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5892. Indorsement in representative capacity.—Where a person is under obligation to indorse in a representative capacity, he may indorse in such terms as to negative personal liability. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 44.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5893. Time of indorsement; presumption.—Except where an indorsement bears date after the maturity of the instrument, every negotiation is deemed prima facie to have been effected before the instrument was overdue. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 45.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5894. Place of indorsement; presumption.—Except where the contrary appears, every indorsement is presumed prima facie to have been made at the place where the instrument is dated. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 46.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5895. Continuation of negotiable character.—An instrument negotiable in its origin continues to be negotiable until it has been restrictively indorsed or discharged by payment or otherwise. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 47.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5896. Striking out indorsement.—The holder may at any time strike out any indorsement which is not necessary to his title. The indorser whose indorsement is struck out, and all indorsers subsequent to him, are hereby relieved from liability on the instrument. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 48.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5897. Transfer without indorsement; effect of.—Where the holder of an instrument payable to his orders transfers it for value without indorsing it, the transfer vests in the transferee such title as the transferer had therein, and the transferee acquires in addition, the right to have the indorsement of the transferer. But for the purpose of determining whether the transferee is a holder in due course, the negotiation takes effect as of the time when the indorsement is actually made. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 49.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5898. When prior party may negotiate instrument.—Where an instrument is negotiated back to a prior party, such party may, subject to the provisions of this act, reissue and further negotiate the same. But he is not entitled to enforce payment thereof against any intervening party to whom he was personally liable. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 50.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

ARTICLE V.

RIGHTS OF HOLDER.

Section 5899. Right of holder to sue; payment.

“ 5901. When person not deemed holder in due course.

“ 5902. Notice before full amount paid.

“ 5903. When title defective.

“ 5905. Rights of holder in due course.

“ 5907. Who deemed holder in due course.

5899. Right of holder to sue; payment.—The holder of a negotiable instrument may sue thereon in his own name; and payment to him in due course discharges the instrument. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 51.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5900. What constitutes a holder in due course.—A holder in due course is a holder who has taken the instrument under the following conditions:

1. That it is complete and regular upon its face;
2. That he became the holder of it before it was overdue, and without notice that it has been previously dishonored, if such was the fact.

3. That he took it in good faith and for value;

4. That at the time it was negotiated to him he had no notice of any infirmity in the instrument or defect in the title of the person negotiating it. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 52.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5901. When person not deemed holder in due course.—Where an instrument payable on demand is negotiated an unreasonable length of time after its issue, the holder is not deemed a holder in due course. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 53.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5902. Notice before full amount paid.—Where the transferee receives notice of any infirmity in the instrument or defect in the title of the person negotiating the same before he has paid the full amount agreed to be paid therefor, he will be deemed a holder in due course only to the extent of the amount theretofore paid by him. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 54.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5903. When title defective.—The title of a person who negotiates an instrument is defective within the meaning of this act when he obtained the instrument, or any signature thereto, by fraud, duress, or force and fear, or other unlawful means, or for an illegal consideration, or when he negotiates it in breach of faith, or under such circumstances as amount to a fraud. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 55.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5904. What constitutes notice of defect.—To constitute notice of an infirmity in the instrument or defect in the title of the person negotiating the same, the person to whom it is negotiated must have had actual knowledge of the infirmity or defect, or knowledge of such facts that his action in taking the instrument amounted to bad faith. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 56.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5905. Rights of holder in due course.—A holder in due course holds the instrument free from any defect of title of prior parties, and free from defenses available to prior parties among themselves, and may enforce payment of the instrument for the full amount thereof against all parties liable thereon. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 57.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5906. When subject to original defenses.—In the hands of any holder other than a holder in due course, a negotiable instrument is subject to the same defense as if it were non-negotiable. But a holder who derives his title through a holder in due course, and who is not himself a party to any fraud or illegality affecting the instrument, has all the rights of such former holder in respect of all parties prior to the latter. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 58.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5907. Who deemed holder in due course.—Every holder is deemed prima facie to be a holder in due course; but when it is shown that the title of any person who has negotiated the instrument was defective, the burden is on the holder to prove that he or some person under whom he claims acquired the title as holder in due course. But the last mentioned rule does not apply in favor of a party who became bound on the instrument prior to the acquisition of such defective title. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 59.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

ARTICLE VI.

LIABILITIES OF PARTIES.

- Section 5908. Liability of maker.*
 “ 5909. Liability of drawer.
 “ 5911. When person deemed indorser.
 “ 5912. Liability of irregular indorser.
 “ 5914. Liability of general indorsers.
 “ 5916. Order in which indorsers are liable.
 “ 5917. Liability of agent or broker.

5908. Liability of maker.—The maker of a negotiable instrument by making it engages that he will pay it according to its tenor, and admits the existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 60.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5909. Liability of drawer.—The drawer by drawing this instrument admits the existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse; and engages that on due presentment the instrument will be accepted or paid, or both, according to its tenor, and that if it be dishonored, and the necessary proceedings on dishonor be duly taken, he will pay the amount thereof to the holder, or to any subsequent indorser who may be compelled to pay it. But the drawer may insert in the instrument an express stipulation negating or limiting his own liability to the holder. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 61.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5910. Liability of acceptor.—The acceptor by accepting the instrument engages that he will pay it according to the tenor of his acceptance; and admits,

1. The existence of the drawer, the genuineness of his signature, and his capacity and authority to draw the instrument; and
 2. The existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse.
- [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 62.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5911. When person deemed indorser.—A person placing his signature upon an instrument otherwise than as maker, drawer or acceptor, is deemed to be an indorser, unless he clearly indicates by appropriate words his intention to be bound in some other capacity. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 63.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5912. Liability of irregular indorser.—Where a person, not otherwise a party to an instrument, places thereon his signature in blank before delivery, he is liable as indorser, in accordance with the following rules:

1. If the instrument is payable to the order of a third person, he is liable to the payee and to all subsequent parties.

2. If the instrument is payable to the order of the maker or drawer, or is payable to bearer, he is liable to all parties subsequent to the maker or drawer.

3. If he signs for the accommodation of the payee, he is liable to all parties subsequent to the payee. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 64.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5913. Warranty; where negotiation by delivery, et cetera.—Every person negotiating an instrument by delivery or by a qualified indorsement, warrants,

1. That the instrument is genuine and in all respects what it purports to be;

2. That he has a good title to it;

3. That all prior parties had capacity to contract;

4. That he has no knowledge of any fact which would impair the validity of the instrument or render it valueless.

But when the negotiation is by delivery only, the warranty extends in favor of no holder other than the immediate transferee. The provisions of subdivision three of this section do not apply to persons negotiating public or corporation securities, other than bills and notes. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 65.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5914. Liability of general indorser.—Every indorser who indorses without qualification warrants to all subsequent holders in due course:

1. The matters and things mentioned in subdivisions one, two and three of the next preceding section; and

2. That the instrument is at the time of his indorsement valid and subsisting.

And, in addition, he engages that on due presentment, it shall be accepted or paid, or both, as the case may be, according to its tenor, and that if it be dishonored, and the necessary proceedings on dishonor be duly taken, he will pay the amount thereof to the holder, or to any subsequent indorser who may be compelled to pay it. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 66.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5915. Liability of indorser where paper negotiable by delivery.—Where a person places his indorsement on an instrument negotiable by delivery he incurs all the liabilities of an indorser. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 67.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5916. Order in which indorsers are liable.—As respects one another, indorsers are liable prima facie in the order in which they indorse; but evidence is admissable to show that as between or among themselves they have agreed otherwise. Joint payees or joint indorsees who indorse are deemed to indorse jointly and severally. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 68.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5917. Liability of agent or broker.—Where a broker or agent negotiates an instrument without indorsement, he incurs all the liabilities prescribed by section 5913 (65) of this act, unless he discloses the name of his principal, and the fact that he is acting only as agent. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 69.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

ARTICLE VII.

PRESENTMENT FOR PAYMENT.

Section 5918. Effect of want of demand on principal debtor.

“ 5920. What constitutes a sufficient presentment.

“ 5922. Instrument must be exhibited.

“ 5924. Presentment where principal debtor is dead.

“ 5926. Presentment to joint debtors.

“ 5927. When presentment not required to charge the drawer.

“ 5928. When presentment not required to charge the indorser.

“ 5930. When presentment may be dispensed with.

“ 5931. When instrument dishonored by non-payment.

“ 5932. Liability of person secondarily liable, when instrument dishonored.

“ 5933. Time of maturity.

“ 5934. Time; how computed.

“ 5936. What constitutes payment in due course.

5918. Effect of want of demand on principal debtor.—Presentment for payment is not necessary in order to charge the person primarily liable on the instrument; but if the instrument is, by its terms, payable at a special place, and he is able and willing to pay it there at maturity, such ability and willingness are equivalent to a tender of payment upon his part. But except as herein otherwise provided, presentment for payment is necessary in order to charge the drawer and indorsers. [Act approved March 7th, 1903, § 70.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5919. Presentment where instrument is not payable on demand.—Where the instrument is not payable on demand, presentment must be made on the day it falls due. Where it is payable on demand, presentment must be made within a reasonable time after its issue, except that in the case of a bill of exchange, presentment for payment will be sufficient, if made within a reasonable time after the last negotiation thereof. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 71.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5920. What constitutes a sufficient presentment.—Presentment for payment, to be sufficient, must be made:

1. By the holder, or by some person authorized to receive payment on his behalf;
2. At a reasonable hour on a business day;
3. At a proper place as herein defined;
4. To the person primarily liable on the instrument, or if he is absent or inaccessible, to any person found at the place where the presentment is made. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 72.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5921. Place of presentment.—Presentment for payment is made at the proper place:

1. Where a place of payment is specified in the instrument and it is there presented;
2. Where no place of payment is specified, but the address of the person to make payment is given in the instrument and it is there presented;
3. Where no place of payment is specified and no address is given and the instrument is presented at the usual place of business or residence of the person to make payment;
4. In any other case if presented to the person to make payment wherever he can be found, or if presented at his last known place of business or residence. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 73.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5922. Instrument must be exhibited.—The instrument must be exhibited to the person from whom payment is demanded, and when it is paid must be delivered up to the party paying it. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 74.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5923. Presentment where instrument payable at bank.—Where the instrument is payable at a bank, presentment for payment must be made during banking hours, unless the person to make payment has no funds there to meet it at any time during the day, in which case presentment at any hour before the bank is closed on that day is sufficient. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 75.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5924. Presentment where principal debtor is dead.—Where the person primarily liable on the instrument is dead, and no place of payment is specified, presentment for payment must be made to his personal representative if such there be, and if, with the exercise of reasonable diligence, he can be found. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 76.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5925. Presentment to persons liable as partners.—Where the persons primarily liable on the instrument are liable as partners, and no place of payment is specified, presentment for payment may be made to any one of them, even though there has been a dissolution of the firm. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 77.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5926. Presentment to joint debtors.—Where there are several persons, not partners, primarily liable on the instrument, and no place of payment is specified, presentment must be made to them all. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 78.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5927. When presentment not required to charge the drawer.—Presentment for payment is not required in order to charge the drawer where he has no right to expect or require that the drawee or acceptor will pay the instrument. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 79.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5928. When presentment not required to charge the indorser.—Presentment for payment is not required in order to charge an indorser where the instrument was made or accepted for his accommodation and he has no reason to expect that the instrument will be paid if presented. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 80.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5929. When delay in making presentment is excused.—Delay in making presentment for payment is excused when the delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the holder, and not imputable to his default, misconduct or negligence. When the cause of delay ceases to operate, presentment must be made with reasonable diligence. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 81.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5930. When presentment may be dispensed with.—Presentment for payment is dispensed with:

1. Where after the exercise of reasonable diligence presentment as required by this act cannot be made;
2. Where the drawee is a fictitious person;
3. By waiver of presentment, express or implied. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 82.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5931. When instrument dishonored by non-payment.—The instrument is dishonored by non-payment when,

1. It is duly presented for payment and payment is refused or cannot be obtained; or

2. Presentment is excused and the instrument is overdue and unpaid. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 83.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5932. Liability of person secondarily liable, when instrument dishonored.—Subject to the provisions of this act, when the instrument is dishonored by non-payment, an immediate right of recourse to all parties secondarily liable thereon accrues to the holder. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 84.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5933. Time of maturity.—Every negotiable instrument is payable at the time fixed therein without grace. When the day of maturity falls upon Sunday, or a holiday, the instrument is payable on the next succeeding business day. Instruments falling due on Saturday are to be presented for payment on the next succeeding business day, except that instruments payable on demand may, at the option of the holder, be presented for payment before twelve o'clock noon on Saturday when that entire day is not a holiday. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 85.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5934. Time; how computed.—Where the instrument is payable at a fixed period after date, after sight, or after the happening of a specified event, the time of payment is determined by excluding the day from which the time is to begin to run, and by including the date of payment. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 86.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5935. Rule where instrument payable at bank.—Where the instrument is made payable at a bank it is equivalent to an order to the bank to pay the same for the account of the principal debtor thereon. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 87.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5936. What constitutes payment in due course.—Payment is made in due course when it is made at or after the maturity of the instrument to the holder thereof in good faith and without notice that his title is defective. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 88.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

“ 5964. Notice of non-payment where acceptance refused.
“ 5966. When protest need not be made; when must be made.

5937. To whom notice of dishonor must be given.—Except as herein otherwise provided, when a negotiable instrument has been dishonored by non-acceptance or non-payment, notice of dishonor must be given to the drawer and to each indorser, and any drawer or indorser to whom such notice is not given is discharged. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 89.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5938. By whom given.—The notice may be given by or on behalf of the holder, or by or on behalf of any party to the instrument who might be compelled to pay it, to the holder, and who, upon taking it up would have a right to reimbursement from the party to whom the notice is given. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 90:] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5939. Notice given by agent.—Notice of dishonor may be given by an agent either in his own name or in the name of any party entitled to give notice, whether that party be his principal or not. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 91.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5940. Effect of notice given on behalf of holder.—Where such notice is given by or on behalf of the holder, it enures for the benefit of all subsequent holders and all prior parties who have a right of recourse against the party to whom it is given. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 92.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5941. Effect where notice is given by party entitled thereto.—Where notice is given by or on behalf of a party entitled to give notice, it enures for the benefit of the holder and all parties subsequent to the party to whom notice is given. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 93.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5942. When agent may give notice.—Where the instrument has been dishonored in the hands of an agent, he may either himself give notice to the parties liable thereon, or he may give notice to his principal. If he give notice to his principal, he must do so within the same time as if he were the holder, and the principal upon the receipt of such notice himself the same time for giving notice as if the agent had been an independent holder. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 94.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5944. Form of notice.—The notice may be in writing or merely oral and may be given in any terms which sufficiently identify the instrument, and indicate that it has been dishonored by non-payment. It may in all cases be given by delivering it personally or through the mails. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 96.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5945. To whom notice may be given.—Notice of dishonor may be given either to the party himself or to his agent in that behalf. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 97.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5946. Notice where party is dead.—When any party is dead, and his death is known to the party giving notice, the notice must be given to a personal representative, if there be one, and if with reasonable diligence he can be found. If there be no personal representative, notice may be sent to the last residence or last place of business of the deceased. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 98.], (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5947. Notice to partners.—Where the parties to be notified are partners, notice to any one partner is notice to the firm, even though there has been a dissolution. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 99.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5948. Notice to persons jointly liable.—Notice to joint parties who are not partners must be given to each of them, unless one of them has authority to receive such notice for the others. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 100.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5949. Notice to bankrupt.—Where a party has been adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent, or has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, notice may be given either to the party himself or to his trustee or assignee. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 101.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5950. Time within which notice must be given.—Notice may be given as soon as the instrument is dishonored; and unless delay is excused as hereinafter provided, must be given within the times fixed by this act. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 102.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5951. Where parties reside in same place.—Where the person giving and the person to receive notice reside in the same place, notice must be given within the following times:

1. If given at the place of business of the person to receive notice, it must be given before the close of business hours on the day following.

2. If given at his residence, it must be given before the usual hours of rest on the day following.

3. If sent by mail, it must be deposited in the postoffice in time to reach him in usual course on the day following. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 103.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5952. Where parties reside in different places.—Where the person giving and the person to receive notice reside in different places, the notice must be given within the following times:

1. If sent by mail, it must be deposited in the postoffice in time to go by mail the day following the day of dishonor, or if there be no mail at a convenient hour on that day, by the next mail thereafter.

2. If given otherwise than through the post-office, then within the time that notice would have been received in due course of mail, if it had been deposited in the post-office within the time specified in the last subdivision. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 104.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5953. When sender deemed to have given due notice.—Where notice of dishonor is duly addressed and deposited in the post-office, the sender is deemed to have given due notice, notwithstanding any miscarriage in the mails. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 105.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5954. Deposit in post-office; what constitutes.—Notice is deemed to have been deposited in the post-office when deposited in any branch post-office or in any letter box under the control of the post-office department. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 106.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5955. Notice to subsequent party; time of.—Where a party receives notice of dishonor, he has, after the receipt of such notice, the same time for giving notice to antecedent parties that the holder has after the dishonor. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 107.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5956. Where notice must be sent.—Where a party has added an address to his signature, notice of dishonor must be sent to that address; but if he has not given such address, then the notice must be sent as follows:

1. Either to the post-office nearest to his place of residence, or to the post-office where he is accustomed to receive his letters; or

2. If he live in one place, and have his place of business in another, notice may be sent to either place; or

3. If he is sojourning in another place, notice may be sent to the place where he is sojourning.

But where the notice is actually received by the party within the time specified in this act, it will be sufficient, though not sent in accordance with the requirements of this section. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 108.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5957. Waiver of notice.—Notice of dishonor may be waived, either before the time of giving notice has arrived, or after the omission to give due notice, and the waiver may be express or implied. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 109.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5958. Whom affected by waiver.—Where the waiver is embodied in the instrument itself, it is binding upon all parties; but where it is written above the signature of an indorser, it binds him only. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 110.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5959. Waiver of protest.—A waiver of protest, whether in the case of a foreign bill of exchange or other negotiable instrument, is deemed to be a waiver not only of a former protest, but also of presentment and notice of dishonor. [Act approved March 7, 1907, § 111.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5960. When notice is dispensed with.—Notice of dishonor is dispensed with when, after the exercise of reasonable diligence, it cannot be given to or does not reach the parties sought to be charged. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 112.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5961. Delay in giving notice; how excused.—Delay in giving notice of dishonor is excused when the delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the holder, and not imputable to his default, misconduct or negligence. When the cause of delay ceases to operate, notice must be given with reasonable diligence. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 113.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5962. When notice need not be given to drawer.—Notice of dishonor is not required to be given to the drawer in either of the following cases:—

1. Where the drawer and drawee are the same person;
2. When the drawee is a fictitious person or a person not having capacity to contract;
3. When the drawer is the person to whom the instrument is presented for payment;
4. Where the drawer has no right to expect or require that the drawee or acceptor will honor the instrument;
5. When the drawer has countermanded payment. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 114.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5963. When notice need not be given to indorser.—Notice of dishonor is not required to be given to an indorser in either of the following cases:—

1. Where the drawee is a fictitious person or a person not having capacity to contract, and the indorser was aware of the fact at the time he indorsed the instrument;

2. Where the indorser is the person to whom the instrument is presented for payment;

3. Where the instrument was made or accepted for his accommodation. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 115.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5964. Notice of non-payment where acceptance refused.—Where due notice of dishonor by non-acceptance has been given notice of a subsequent dishonor by non-payment is not necessary, unless in the meantime the instrument has been accepted. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 116.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.) ..

5965. Effect of omission to give notice of non-acceptance.—An omission to give notice of dishonor by non-acceptance does not prejudice the right of a holder in due course subsequent to the omission. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 117.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5966. When protest need not be made; when must be made.—Where any negotiable instrument has been dishonored it may be protested for non-acceptance or non-payment, as the case may be; but protest is not required except in the case of foreign bills of exchange. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 118.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

ARTICLE IX.

DISCHARGE OF NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS.

Section 5967. Instrument, how discharged.

“ 5968. When persons secondarily liable on, discharged.

“ 5969. Right of party who discharges instrument.

“ 5970. Renunciation by holder.

“ 5971. Cancellation; unintentional; burden of proof.

“ 5973. What constitutes a material alteration.

5967. Instrument; how discharged.—A negotiable instrument is discharged:—

1. By payment in due course by or on behalf of the principal debtor;

2. By payment in due course by the party accommodated, where the instrument is made or accepted for accommodation;

3. By the intentional cancellation thereof by the holder;

4. By any other act which will discharge a simple contract for the payment of money;

5. When the principal debtor becomes the holder of the instrument at or after maturity in his own right. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 119.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5968. When person secondarily liable on, discharged.—A person secondarily liable on the instrument is discharged:—

1. By any act which discharges the instrument;
2. By the intentional cancellation of his signature by the holder;
3. By the discharge of a prior party;
4. By a valid tender of payment made by a prior party;
5. By a release of the principal debtor, unless the holder's right of recourse against the party secondarily liable is expressly reserved;

6. By any agreement binding upon the holder to extend the time of payment, or to postpone the holder's right to enforce the instrument, unless made with the assent of the party secondarily liable, or unless the right of recourse against such party is expressly reserved. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 120.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5969. Right of party who discharges instrument.—Where the instrument is paid by a party secondarily liable thereon, it is not discharged; but the party so paying it is remitted to his former rights as regards all prior parties, and he may strike out his own and all subsequent indorsements, and again negotiate the instrument, except;—

1. Where it is payable to the order of a third person, and has been paid by the drawer; and

2. Where it was made or accepted for accommodation, and has been paid by the party accommodated. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 121.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5970. Renunciation by holder.—The holder may expressly renounce his rights against any party to the instrument, before, at or after its maturity. An absolute and unconditional renunciation of his rights against the principal debtor made at or after the maturity of the instrument discharges the instrument. But a renunciation does not effect the right of a holder in due course without notice. A renunciation must be in writing, unless the instrument is delivered up to the person primarily liable thereon. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 122.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5971. Cancellation; unintentional; burden of proof.—A cancellation made unintentionally, or under a mistake or without the authority of the holder, is inoperative; but where an instrument or any signature thereon appears to have been cancelled the burden of proof lies on the party who alleges that the cancellation is made unintentionally, or under a mistake or without authority. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 123.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5972. Alteration of instrument; effect of.—Where a negotiable instrument is materially altered without the assent of all parties liable thereon, it is avoided, except as against a party who has himself made, authorized or assented to the alteration, and subsequent indorsers. But when an instrument has been materially altered and is in the hands of a holder in due course, not a party to the alteration, he may enforce payment thereof according to its original tenor. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 124.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5973. What constitutes a material alteration.—Any alteration which changes,—

1. The date;
2. The sum payable, either for principal or interest;
3. The time or place of payment;
4. The number or the relations of the parties;
5. The medium or currency in which payment is to be made;

Or which adds a place of payment where no place of payment is specified or any other change or addition which alters the effect of the instrument in any respect, is a material alteration. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 125.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

ARTICLE X.

BILLS OF EXCHANGE. FORM AND INTERPRETATION.

Section 5974. Bill of exchange defined.

“ 5976. Bill addressed to more than one drawee.

“ 5977. Inland and foreign bills of exchange.

“ 5978. When bill may be treated as promissory note.

“ 5979. Drawee in case of need.

5974. Bill of exchange defined.—A bill of exchange is an unconditional order in writing addressed by one person to another, signed by the person giving it, requiring the person to whom it is addressed to pay on demand or at a fixed or determinable future time a sum certain in money to order or to bearer. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 126.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5975. Bill not an assignment of funds in hands of drawee.—A bill of itself does not operate as an assignment of the funds in the hands of the drawee available, for the payment thereof, and the drawee is not liable on the bill unless and until he accepts the same. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 127.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5976. Bill addressed to more than one drawee.—A bill may be addressed to two or more drawees jointly, whether they are partners or not; but not to two or more drawees in the alternative or in succession. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 128.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5977. Inland and foreign bills of exchange.—An inland bill of exchange is a bill which is, or on its face purports to be, both drawn and payable within this State. Any other bill is a foreign bill. Unless the contrary appears on the face of the bill, the holder may treat it as an inland bill. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 129.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5978. When bill may be treated as promissory note.—Where in a bill drawer and drawee are the same person, or where the drawee is a fictitious person, or a person not having capacity to contract, the holder may treat the instrument, at his option, either as a bill of exchange or a promissory note. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 130.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5979. Drawee in case of need.—The drawee of a bill and any indorser may insert therein the name of a person to whom the holder may resort in case of need, that is to say in case the bill is dishonored by non-acceptance or non-payment. Such person is called the referee in case of need. It is in the option of the holder to resort to the referee in case of need or not as he may see fit. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 131.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

ARTICLE XI.

ACCEPTANCE.

Section 5980. Acceptance, how made, et cetera.

- " 5981. Holder entitled to acceptance on face of bill.
- " 5982. Acceptance by separate instrument.
- " 5983. Promise to accept; when equivalent to acceptance.
- " 5984. Time allowed drawee to accept.
- " 5985. Liability of drawee retaining or destroying bill.
- " 5986. Acceptance of incomplete bill.
- " 5987. Kinds of acceptance.
- " 5988. What constitutes a general acceptance.
- " 5989. Qualified acceptance.
- " 5990. Rights of parties as to qualified acceptance.

5980. Acceptance, how made, et cetera.—The acceptance of a bill is signification by the drawee of his assent to the order of the drawer. The acceptance must be in writing and signed by the drawee. It must not express that the drawee will perform his promise by any other means than the payment of money. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 132.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5981. Holder entitled to acceptance on face of bill.—The holder of a bill presenting the same for acceptance may require that the acceptance be written on the bill and, if such request is refused, may treat the bill as dishonored. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 133.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5982. Acceptance by separate instrument.—Where an acceptance is written on a paper other than the bill itself, it does not bind the acceptor except in favor of a person to whom it is shown and who, on the faith thereof, receives the bill for value. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 134.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5983. Promise to accept; when equivalent to acceptance.—An unconditional promise in writing to accept a bill before it is drawn is deemed an actual acceptance in favor of every person who, upon the faith thereof, receives the bill for value. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 135.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5984. Time allowed drawee to accept.—The drawee is allowed twenty-four hours after presentment, in which to decide whether or not he will accept the bill; but the acceptance if given, dates as of the day of presentation. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 136.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5985. Liability of drawee retaining or destroying bill.—Where a drawee to whom a bill is delivered for acceptance destroys the same, or refuses within twenty-four hours after such delivery, or within such other period as the holder may allow, to return the bill accepted or non-accepted to the holder, he will be deemed to have accepted the same. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 137.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5986. Acceptance of incomplete bill.—A bill may be accepted before it has been signed by the drawer, or while otherwise incomplete, or when it is overdue or after it has been dishonored by a previous refusal to accept, or by non-payment. But when a bill payable after sight is dishonored by non-acceptance and the drawee subsequently accepts it, the holder in the absence of any different agreement, is entitled to have the bill accepted as of the date of the first presentment. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 138.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5987. Kinds of acceptance.—An acceptance is either general or qualified. A general acceptance assents without qualification to the order of the drawer. A qualified acceptance in express terms varies the effect of the bill as drawn. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 139.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5988. What constitutes a general acceptance.—An acceptance to pay at a particular place is a general acceptance, unless it expressly states that the bill is to be paid there only and not elsewhere. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 140.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5989. Qualified acceptance.—An acceptance is qualified, which is:—

1. Conditional, that is to say, which makes payment by the acceptor dependent on the fulfillment of a condition therein stated;

2. Partial, that is to say, an acceptance to pay part only of the amount for which the bill is drawn;

3. Local, that is to say, an acceptance to pay only at a particular place;

4. Qualified as to time;

5. The acceptance of some one or more of the drawees, but not of all. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 141.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5990. Rights of parties as to qualified acceptance.—The holder may refuse to take a qualified acceptance and if he does not obtain an unqualified acceptance, he may treat the bill as dishonored by non-acceptance. Where a qualified acceptance is taken, the drawer and indorsers are discharged from liability on the bill, unless they have expressly or impliedly authorized the holder to take a qualified acceptance, or subsequently assent thereto. When the drawer or an indorser receives notice of a qualified acceptance he must, within a reasonable time, express his dissent to the holder, or he will be deemed to have assented thereto. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 142.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

ARTICLE XII.

PRESENTMENT FOR ACCEPTANCE.

Section 5991. When presentment for acceptance must be made.

“ 5992. When failure to present releases drawer and indorser.

“ 5994. On what days presentment may be made.

“ 5996. When presentment is excused.

“ 5997. When dishonored by non-acceptance.

“ 5999. Rights of holder where bill not accepted.

5991. When presentment for acceptance must be made.—Presentment for acceptance must be made:—

1. Where the bill is payable after sight, or in any other case, where presentment for acceptance is necessary in order to fix the maturity of the instrument; or

2. Where the bill expressly stipulates that it shall be presented for acceptance; or

3. Where the bill is drawn payable elsewhere than at the residence or place of business of the drawee.

In no other case is presentment for acceptance necessary in order to render any party to the bill liable. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 143.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5992. When failure to present releases drawer and indorser.—Except as herein otherwise provided, the holder of a bill which is required by the next preceding section to be presented for acceptance must either present it for acceptance or negotiate it within a reasonable time. If he fails to do so, the drawer and all indorsers are discharged. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 144.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5993. Presentment; how made.—Presentment for acceptance must be made by or on behalf of the holder at a reasonable hour on a business day and before the bill is overdue, to the drawer or some person authorized to accept or refuse acceptance on his behalf; and:

1. Where a bill is addressed to two or more drawees who are not partners, presentment must be made to them all, unless one has authority to accept or refuse acceptance for all, in which case presentment may be made to him only.

2. Where the drawee is dead, presentment may be made to his personal representative;

3. Where the drawee has been adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent or has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, presentment may be made to him or to his trustee or assignee. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 145.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5994. On what days presentment may be made.—A bill may be presented for acceptance on any day on which negotiable instruments may be presented for payment under the provisions of Sections 5920 (72) and 5933 (85) of this Act. When Saturday is not otherwise a holiday, presentment for acceptance may be made before twelve o'clock, noon, on that day. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 146.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5995. Presentment where time is insufficient.—Where the holder of a bill drawn payable elsewhere than at the place of business or the residence of the drawee has not time with the exercise of reasonable diligence to present the bill for acceptance before presenting it for payment on the day that it falls due, the delay caused by presenting the bill for acceptance before presenting it for payment is excused and does not discharge the drawers and indorsers. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 147.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5996. Where presentment is excused.—Presentment for acceptance is excused and a bill may be treated as dishonored by non-acceptance, in either of the following cases:—

1. Where the drawee is dead, or has absconded, or is a fictitious person or a person not having capacity to contract by bill.

2. Where, after the exercise of reasonable diligence, presentment cannot be made.

3. Where, although presentment has been irregular, acceptance has been refused on some other ground. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 148.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5997. When dishonored by non-acceptance.—A bill is dishonored by non-acceptance,—

1. When it is duly presented for acceptance and such an acceptance as is prescribed by this act is refused or cannot be obtained; or

2. When presentment for acceptance is excused and the bill is not accepted. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 149.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5998. Duty of holder where bill not accepted.—Where a bill is duly presented for acceptance and is not accepted within the prescribed time, the person presenting it must treat the bill as dishonored by non-acceptance or he loses the right of recourse against the drawer and indorsers. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 150.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

5999. Rights of holder where bill not accepted.—When a bill is dishonored by non-acceptance, an immediate right of recourse against the drawers and indorsers accrues to the holder and no presentment for payment is necessary. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 151.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

ARTICLE XIII.

PROTEST.

Section 6000. In what cases protest necessary.

“ 6001. Protest; how made.

“ 6003. Protest; when to be made.

“ 6006. Protest before maturity where acceptor insolvent.

“ 6007. When protest dispensed with.

“ 6008. Protest; where bill is lost, et cetera.

6000. In what cases protest necessary.—Where a foreign bill appearing on its face to be such is dishonored by non-acceptance, it must be duly protested for non-acceptance, and where such a bill which has not previously been dishonored by non-acceptance is dishonored by non-payment, it must be duly protested for non-payment. If it is not so protested, the drawer and indorsers are discharged. Where a bill does not appear on its face to be a foreign bill, protest thereof in case of dishonor is unnecessary. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 152.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6001. Protest; how made.—The protest must be annexed to the bill, or must contain a copy thereof, and must be under the hand and seal of the notary making it, and must specify:—

1. The time and place of presentment;
2. The fact that presentment was made and the manner thereof;
3. The cause or reason for protesting the bill;
4. The demand made and the answer given, if any, or the fact that the drawee or acceptor could not be found. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 153.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6002. Protest; by whom made.—Protest may be made, by,—

1. A notary public; or
2. By any respectable resident of the place where the bill is dishonored, in the presence of two or more credible witnesses. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 154.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6003. Protest; when to be made.—When a bill is protested, such protest must be made on the day of its dishonor, unless delay is excused as herein provided. When a bill has been duly noted, the protest may be subsequently extended as of the date of the noting. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 155.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6004. Protest; where made.—A bill must be protested at the place where it is dishonored, except that when a bill drawn payable at the place of business or residence of some person other than the drawee, has been dishonored by non-acceptance, it must be protested for non-payment at the place where it is expressed to be payable and no further presentment for payment to, or demand on, the drawee is necessary. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 156.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6005. Protest both for non-acceptance and non-payment.—A bill which has been protested for non-acceptance may be subsequently protested for non-payment. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 157.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6006. Protest before maturity where acceptor insolvent.—Where the acceptor has been adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent, or has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, before the bill matures, the holder may cause the bill to be protested for better security against the drawer and indorsers. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 158.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6008. Protest where bill is lost, et cetera.—When a bill is lost or destroyed or is wrongfully detained from the person entitled to hold it, protest may be made on a copy or written particulars thereof. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 160.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

ARTICLE XIV.

ACCEPTANCE FOR HONOR.

Section 6009. When bill may be accepted for honor.

“ 6010. Acceptance for honor; how made.

“ 6011. When deemed to be an acceptance for honor of the drawer.

“ 6012. Liability of acceptor for honor.

“ 6013. Agreement of acceptor for honor.

“ 6014. Maturity of bill payable after sight; accepted for honor.

“ 6016. Presentment for payment to acceptor for honor; how made.

“ 6017. When delay in making presentment is excused.

“ 6018. Dishonor of bill by acceptor for honor.

6009. When bill may be accepted for honor.—Where a bill of exchange has been protested for dishonor by non-acceptance or protested for better security, and is not overdue, any person not being a party already liable thereon, may, with the consent of the holder, intervene and accept the bill supra protest for the honor of any party liable thereon, or for the honor of the person for whose account the bill is drawn. The acceptance for honor may be for part only of the sum for which the bill is drawn; and where there has been an acceptance for honor for one party, there may be a further acceptance by a different person for the honor of another party. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 161.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6010. Acceptance for honor; how made.—An acceptance for honor supra protest must be in writing, and indicate that it is an acceptance for honor, and must be signed by the acceptor for honor. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 162.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6011. When deemed to be an acceptance for honor of the drawer.—Where an acceptance for honor does not expressly state for whose honor it is made, it is deemed to be an acceptance for the honor of the drawer. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 163.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6012. Liability of acceptor for honor.—The acceptor for honor is liable to the holder and to all parties to the bill subsequent to the party for whose honor he has accepted. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 164.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6013. Agreement of acceptor for honor.—The acceptor for honor, by such acceptance engages that he will on due presentment pay the bill according to the terms of his acceptance, provided it shall not have been paid by the drawee, and provided also, that it shall have been duly presented for payment and protested for non payment and notice of dishonor given to him. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 165.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6014. Maturity of bill payable after sight; accepted for honor.—Where a bill payable after sight is accepted for honor, its maturity is calculated from the date of the noting for non-acceptance and not from the date of the acceptance for honor. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 166.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6015. Protest of bill accepted for honor, et cetera.—Where a dishonored bill has been accepted for honor supra protest or contains a reference in case of need, it must be protested for non-payment before it is presented for payment to the acceptor for honor or referee in case of need. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 167.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6016. Presentment for payment to acceptor for honor; how made.—Presentment for payment to the acceptor for honor must be made as follows:

1. If it is to be presented in the place where the protest for non-payment was made, it must be presented not later than the day following its maturity.

2. If it is to be presented in some other place than the place where it was protested, then it must be forwarded within the time specified in section 5952 (104). [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 168.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6017. When delay in making presentment is excused.—The provisions of section 5929 (81) apply where there is delay in making presentment to the acceptor for honor or referee in case of need. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 169.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6018. Dishonor of bill by acceptor for honor.—When the bill is dishonored by the acceptor for honor it must be protested for non-payment by him. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 170.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

ARTICLE XV.

PAYMENT FOR HONOR.

Section 6019. Who may make payment for honor.

“ 6020. Payment for honor; how made.

“ 6021. Declaration before payment for honor.

“ 6022. Preference of parties offering to pay for honor.

“ 6023. Effect on subsequent parties where bill is paid for honor.

“ 6024. Where holder refuses to receive payment supra protest.

6019. Who may make payment for honor.—Where a bill has been protested for non-payment, any person may intervene and pay it supra protest for the honor of any person liable thereon or for the honor of the person for whose account it was drawn. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 171.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6020. Payment for honor; how made.—The payment for honor supra protest in order to operate as such and not as a mere voluntary payment must be attested by a notarial act of honor which may be appended to the protest or form an extension to it. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 172.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6021. Declaration before payment for honor.—The notarial act of honor must be founded on a declaration made by the payer for honor or by his agent in that behalf declaring his intention to pay the bill for honor and for whose honor he pays. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 173.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6022. Preference of parties offering to pay for honor.—Where two or more persons offer to pay a bill for the honor of different parties, the person whose payment will discharge most parties to the bill is to be given the preference. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 174.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6023. Effect on subsequent parties where bill is paid for honor.—Where a bill has been paid for honor, all parties subsequent to the party for whose honor it is paid are discharged, but the payer for honor is subrogated for, and succeeds, to both the rights and duties of the holder as regards the party for whose honor he pays and all parties liable to the latter. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 175.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6024. Where holder refuses to receive payment supra protest.—Where the holder of a bill refuses to receive payment supra protest, he loses his right of recourse against any party who would have been discharged by such payment. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 176.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6025. Rights of payer for honor.—The payer for honor, on paying to the holder the amount of the bill and the notarial expenses incidental to its dishonor, is entitled to receive both the bill itself and the protest. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 177.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

ARTICLE XVI.

BILLS IN A SET.

Section 6026. Bills in sets constitute one bill.

“ 6028. Liability of holder who indorses two or more parts of a set to different persons.

“ 6029. Acceptance of bills drawn in sets.

6026. Bills in sets constitute one bill.—Where a bill is drawn in a set, each part of the set being numbered and containing a reference to the other parts, the whole of the parts constitutes one bill. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 178.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6027. Rights of holders where different parts are negotiated.—Where two or more parts of a set are negotiated to different holders in due course, the holder whose title first accrues is as between such holders the true owner of the bill. But nothing in this section affects the rights of a person who in due course, accepts or pays the part first presented to him. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 179.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6028. Liability of holder who indorses two or more parts of a set to different persons.—Where the holder of a set indorses two or more parts to different persons he is liable on every such part, and every indorser subsequent to him is liable on the part he has himself indorsed, as if such parts were separate bills. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 180.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6029. Acceptance of bills drawn in sets.—The acceptance may be written on any part and it must be written on one part only. If the drawee accepts more than one part, and such accepted parts are negotiated to different holders in due course, he is liable on every such part as if it were a separate bill. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 181.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6030. Payment by acceptor of bills drawn in sets.—When the acceptor of a bill drawn in a set pays it without requiring the part bearing his acceptance to be delivered up to him, and that part at maturity is outstanding in the hands of a holder in due course, he is liable to the holder thereon. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 182.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6031. Effect of discharging one of a set.—Except as herein otherwise provided where any one part of a bill drawn in a set is discharged by payment or otherwise the whole bill is discharged. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 183.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

ARTICLE XVII.

PROMISSORY NOTES AND CHECKS.

Section 6032. Promissory note defined.

“ 6033. Check defined.

“ 6034. Within what time a check must be presented.

“ 6035. Certification of check; effect of.

“ 6037. When check operates as an assignment.

6032. Promissory note defined.—A negotiable promissory note within the meaning of this act is an unconditional promise in writing made by one person to another signed by the maker engaging to pay on demand, or at a fixed or determinable future time, a sum certain in money to order or to bearer. Where a note is drawn to the maker's own order, it is not complete until indorsed by him. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 184.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6033. Check defined.—A check is a bill of exchange drawn on a bank payable on demand. Except as herein otherwise provided, the provisions of this act applicable to a bill of exchange payable on demand apply to a check. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 185.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6034. Within what time a check must be presented.—A check must be presented for payment within a reasonable time after its issue or the drawer will be discharged from liability thereon to the extent of the loss caused by the delay. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 186.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6035. Certification of check; effect of.—Where a check is certified by the bank on which it is drawn, the certification is equivalent to an acceptance. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 187.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6036. Effect where holder of check procures it to be certified.—Where the holder of a check procures it to be accepted or certified the drawer and all indorsers are discharged from liability thereon. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 188.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

6037. When check operates as an assignment.—A check of itself does not operate as an assignment of any part of the funds to the credit of the drawer with the bank, and the bank is not liable to the holder, unless and until it accepts or certifies the check. [Act approved March 7, 1903, § 189.] (8th Sess. Chap. 121.)

Stadler v. Bank, 22 Mont. 204; 56 Pac. 114.

Bullard v. Smith, 28 Mont. 399; 72 Pac. 764.

TITLE XVI.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

6037a. (§ 4240.) Except where it is otherwise declared, the provisions of the last foregoing fifteen titles of this part, in respect to the rights and obligations of parties to contracts, are subordinate to the intention of the parties, when ascertained in the manner prescribed by the chapter on interpretation of contracts; and the benefit thereof may be waived by any party entitled thereto, unless such waiver be against public policy.

PART I.

RELIEF.

TITLE I. RELIEF IN GENERAL.

II. COMPENSATORY RELIEF.

III. SPECIFIC AND PREVENTIVE RELIEF.

TITLE I.

RELIEF IN GENERAL.

Section 6038. Species of relief.

“ 6039. Relief in case of forfeiture.

6038. (§ 4260.) Species of relief.—As a general rule, compensation is the relief or remedy provided by the law of this state for the violation of private rights, and the means of securing their observance; and specific and preventive relief may be given in no other cases than those specified in this part of the Civil Code.

Spreckles v. Hawaiian Co., 117 Cal. 379; 49 Pac. 353.

6039. (§ 4261.) Relief in case of forfeiture.—Whenever, by the terms of an obligation, a party thereto incurs a forfeiture, or a loss in the nature of a forfeiture, by reason of his failure to comply with its provisions, he may be relieved therefrom, upon making full compensation to the other party, except in case of a grossly negligent, wilful or fraudulent breach of duty.

Parsons v. Smilie, 97 Cal. 654; 32 Pac. 702.

TITLE II.

COMPENSATORY RELIEF.

CHAPTER I. DAMAGES IN GENERAL.

II. MEASURE OF DAMAGES.

CHAPTER I.

DAMAGES IN GENERAL.

ARTICLE I. GENERAL PRINCIPLES.

II. INTEREST AS DAMAGES.

III. EXEMPLARY DAMAGES.

ARTICLE I.

GENERAL PRINCIPLES.

Section 6040. Person suffering detriment may recover damages.

“ 6041. Detriment, what.

“ 6042. Injuries resulting or probable after suit brought.

6040. (§ 4270.) Person suffering detriment may recover damages.—Every person who suffers detriment from the unlawful act or omission of another may recover from the person in fault, a compensation therefor in money, which is called damages.

Thornton Co. v. Bretherton, 32 Mont. 98; 80 Pac. 15. The measure of damages for wrongfully procuring the appointment of a receiver for a going and solvent corporation is the amount which will afford compensation for the detriment proximately caused by the wrongful act of defendants, which, in case of the wrongful conversion of personal property, is presumed to be the value of the property at the time of conversion, with interest from that time, or the highest market value of the property at any time between the conversion and the verdict, without interest, and a fair compensation for the time and money properly expended in pursuit of the property.

6041. (§ 4271.) Detriment, what.—Detriment is a loss or harm suffered in person or property.

6042. (§ 4272.) Injuries resulting or probable after suit brought.—Damages may be awarded, in a judicial proceeding, for detriment resulting after the commencement thereof, or certain to result in the future.

Keyes v. Moy Jin Mun, 136 Cal. 130; 68 Pac. 476.

ARTICLE II.

INTEREST AS DAMAGES.

Section 6043. Person entitled to recover damages may recover interest thereon.

“ 6044. In actions other than contract.

“ 6045. Limit of rate by contract.

“ 6046. Acceptance of principal waives claim to interest.

6043. (§ 4280.) Person entitled to recover damages may recover interest thereon.—Every person who is entitled to recover damages certain, or capable of being made certain by calculation, and the right to recover which is vested in him upon a particular day, is entitled also to recover interest thereon from that day, except during such time as the debtor is prevented by law, or by the act of the creditor from paying the debt.

Hefferlin v. Karlman, 29 Mont. 139; 74 Pac. 201. This section authorizes a recovery of interest on an open account from demand, and the institution of a suit on an open account for goods sold is a demand.

Finlen v. Heinze, 32 Mont. 390; 80 Pac. 928. Where plaintiff gave defendant an option to buy a lode mining claim, but before the payments agreed on became due denied the existence of the contract and sued to recover the property, he was not entitled to interest on the purchase money, on specific performance being decreed against him, for the reason that he prevented defendant from making the payments.

Leggat v. Gerrick, 35 Mont. 95; 88 Pac. 788. In an action to recover a balance due a physician for medical services, interest seems to be allowable.

Cutting Co. v. Canty, 141 Cal. 597; 75 Pac. 564.

6044. (§ 4281.) In actions other than contract.—In an action for the breach of an obligation not arising from contract, and in every case of oppression, fraud, or malice, interest may be given, in the discretion of the jury.

Caledonia I. Co. v. N. P. R. Co., 32 Mont. 48; 79 Pac. 545. The right to recover damages for the negligent destruction of property by fire, together with interest, is assignable.

King v. Southern P. Co., 109 Cal. 99; 41 Pac. 786.

6045. (§ 4282.) Limit of rate by contract.—Any legal rate of interest stipulated by a contract remains chargeable after a breach thereof, as before, until the contract is superceded by a verdict of other new obligation.

Casey v. Gibbons, 136 Cal. 371; 68 Pac. 1032.

6046. (§ 4283.) Acceptance of principal waives claim to interest.—Accepting payment of the whole principal, as such, waives all claim to interest.

Valentine v. Donohoe Co., 133 Cal. 194; 65 Pac. 381.

ARTICLE III.

EXEMPLARY DAMAGES.

6047. (§ 4290.) In any action for a breach of an obligation not arising from contract, where the defendant has been guilty of oppression, fraud, or malice, actual or presumed, the jury, in addition to the actual damages, may give damages for the sake of example, and by way of punishing the defendant.

Martin v. Corscadden, 34 Mont. 322; 86 Pac. 37. In order for plaintiff to recover punitive damages, in an action for malicious prosecution, in addition to those actually sustained, it is not necessary that he claim them eo nomine in his complaint.

Olsen v. M. O. P. Co., 35 Mont. 412; 89 Pac. 731. Damages by way of punishment in addition to those actually sustained, may be recovered in an action against a mining company for the negligent and wrongful killing of the intestate of plaintiff, a miner, where the complaint charges that defendant company was primarily responsible for the death of decedent.

Greenberg v. Western Association, 140 Cal. 363; 73 Pac. 1050.

DAMAGES FOR BREACH OF CONTRACT.

- Section 6048. Measure of damages for breach of contract.
- " 6049. Damages must be certain.
- " 6050. Breach of contract to pay liquidated sum.
- " 6051. Dishonor of foreign bill of exchange.
- " 6052. Detriment caused by breach of covenant of seizin, etc., what is.
- " 6053. Detriment caused by breach of covenant against incumbrances, what is.
- " 6054. Breach of agreement to convey real property.
- " 6055. Breach of agreement to buy real property.
- " 6056. Breach of agreement to sell personal property not paid for.
- " 6057. Breach of agreement to sell personal property paid for.
- " 6058. Breach of agreement to pay for personal property sold.
- " 6059. Breach of agreement to buy personal property.
- " 6060. Breach of warranty of title to personal property.
- " 6061. Breach of warranty of quality of personal property.
- " 6062. Breach of warranty of quality for special purpose.
- " 6063. Breach of carrier's obligation to receive goods, etc.
- " 6064. Breach of carrier's obligation to deliver.
- " 6065. Carrier's delay.
- " 6066. Breach of warranty of authority.
- " 6067. Breach of promise of marriage.

6048. (§ 4300.) Measure of damages for breach of contract.—For the breach of an obligation arising from contract, the measure of damages, except where otherwise expressly provided by this code, is the amount which will compensate the party aggrieved for all the detriment proximately caused thereby, or which in the ordinary course of things would be likely to result therefrom.

Plymouth M. Co. v. U. S. Fidelity Co.,
35 Mont. 30; 88 Pac. 565.

Westwater v. Grace Church, 140 Cal.
342; 73 Pac. 1055.

6049. (§ 4301.) Damages must be certain.—No damages can be recovered for a breach of contract which are not clearly ascertainable in both their nature and origin.

Brazell v. Cohn, 32 Mont. 563; 81 Pac.
341.

Westwater v. Grace Church, 140 Cal.
342; 73 Pac. 1055.

6050. (§ 4302.) Breach of contract to pay liquidated sum.—The detriment caused by the breach of an obligation to pay money only, is deemed to be the amount due by the terms of the obligation, with interest thereon.

Smiths' Store v. Bank, 149 Cal. 34; 84 Pac. 663.

6051. (§ 4303.) Dishonor of foreign bill of exchange.—For the dishonor of foreign bills of exchange damages are prescribed by §§ 4191, 4193, 4194.*

6052. (§ 4304.) Detriment caused by breach of covenant of seizin, etc., what is.—The detriment caused by the breach of a covenant of seizin, of "right to convey," of "warranty," or of "quiet enjoyment," in a grant of an estate in real property, is deemed to be:

1. The price paid to the grantor; or, if the breach is partial only, such proportion of the price as the value of the property effected by the breach bore at the time of the grant to the value of the whole property.

2. Interest thereon for the time during which the grantee derived no benefit from the property, not exceeding five years.

3. Any expenses properly incurred by the covenantee in defending his possession.

Hoffman v. Kirby, 136 Cal. 29; 68 Pac. 321.

6053. (§ 4305.) Detriment caused by breach of covenant against incumbrances, what is.—The detriment caused by the breach of a covenant against incumbrances, in a grant of an estate in real property, is deemed to be the amount which has been actually expended by the covenantee in extinguishing either the principal or interest thereof, not exceeding in the former case, a proportion of the price paid to the grantor equivalent to the relative value at the time of the grant of the property affected by the breach, as compared with the whole, or, in the latter case, interest on a like amount.

* These sections were repealed by Negotiable Instruments Act, ante § 5842 et seq.

6054. (§ 4306.) Breach of agreement to convey real property.—The detriment caused by the breach of an agreement to convey an estate in real property is deemed to be the price paid, and the expenses properly incurred in examining the title and preparing the necessary papers, with interest thereon; but adding thereto, in case of bad faith, the difference between the price agreed to be paid and the value of the estate agreed to be conveyed, at the time of the breach, and the expenses properly incurred in preparing to enter upon the land.

Willard v. Smith, 34 Mont. 497; 87 Pac. 614. In an action for the breach of a contract to convey real property, bad faith was not alleged, but defendant was unable to convey it. The measure of damages could only be the amount paid to defendant on the purchase price and incidental expenses.

McCowen v. Pew, 147 Cal. 302; 81 Pac. 958.

6055. (§ 4307.) Breach of agreement to buy real property.—The detriment caused by the breach of an agreement to purchase an estate in real property is deemed to be the excess, if any, of the amount which would have been due to the seller, under the contract, over the value of the property to him.

North Stockton Co. v. Fischer, 138 Cal. 104; 70 Pac. 1082.

6056. (§ 4308.) Breach of agreement to sell personal property not paid for.—The detriment caused by the breach of a seller's agreement to deliver personal property, the price of which has not been fully paid in advance, is deemed to be the excess, if any, of the value of the property to the buyer, over the amount which would have been due to the seller under the contract, if it had been fulfilled.

6057. (§ 4309.) Breach of agreement to sell personal property paid for.—The detriment caused by the breach of a seller's agreement to deliver personal property, the price of which has been fully paid to him in advance, is deemed to be the same as in case of wrongful conversion.

6058. (§ 4310.) Breach of agreement to pay for personal property sold.—The detriment caused by the breach of a buyer's agreement to accept and pay for personal property, the title to which is vested in him, is deemed to be the contract price.

6059. (§ 4311.) Breach of agreement to buy personal property.—The detriment caused by the breach of a buyer's agreement to accept and pay for personal property, the title to which is not vested in him, is deemed to be:

1. If the property has been resold, pursuant to § 5803 (3933) the excess, if any, of the amount due from the buyer, under the contract, over the net proceeds of the resale; or,

2. If the property has not been resold in the manner prescribed by § 5803 (3933), the excess, if any, of the amount due from the buyer, under the contract, over the value to the seller, together with the excess, if any, of the expenses properly incurred in carrying the property to market, over those which would have been incurred for the carriage thereof, if the buyer had accepted it.

Brazell v. Cohn, 32 Mont. 567; 81 Pac. 342. Where defendants broke a contract to purchase all of plaintiff's milk at wholesale for a specified price per gallon for five years, plaintiff was not thereafter required to change the character of his business, and sell his milk at retail, to reduce his damages.

Willson v. Gregory, 2 C. App. 314; 84 Pac. 356.

6060. (§ 4312.) Breach of warranty of title to personal property.—The detriment caused by the breach of a warranty of the title of personal property sold is deemed to be the value thereof to the buyer, when he is deprived of its possession, together with any costs which he has become liable to pay in an action brought for the property by the true owner.

6061. (§ 4313.) Breach of warranty of quality of personal property.—The detriment caused by the breach of a warranty of the quality of personal property is deemed to be the excess, if any, of the value which the property would have had at the time to which the warranty referred, if it had been complied with, over its actual value at that time.

Lander v. Sheehan, 32 Mont. 33; 79 Pac. 409.

Erie Works v. Tatum, 1 C. App. 291; 82 Pac. 92.

6062. (§ 4314.) Breach of warranty of quality for special purpose.—The detriment caused by the breach of a warranty of the fitness of an article of personal property for particular purposes is deemed to be that which is defined by the last section, together with a fair compensation for the loss incurred by an effort in good faith to use it for such purpose.

Lander v. Sheehan, 32 Mont. 33; 79 Pac. 409.

6063. (§ 4315.) Breach of carrier's obligation to receive goods, etc.—The detriment caused by the breach of a carrier's obligation to accept freight, messages, or passengers, is deemed to be the difference between the amount which he had a right to charge for the carriage and the amount which it would be necessary to pay for the same service when it ought to be performed.

6064. (§ 4316.) Breach of carrier's obligation to deliver.—The detriment caused by the breach of a carrier's obligation to deliver freight, where he has not converted it to his own use, is deemed to be the value thereof at the place and on the day at which it should have been delivered, deducting the freightage to which he would have been entitled if he had completed the delivery.

Pierce v. Southern P. Co., 120 Cal. 159; 47 Pac. 874.

6065. (§ 4317.) Carrier's delay.—The detriment caused by a carrier's delay in the delivery of freight is deemed to be in the intrinsic value of the freight during the delay, and also the depreciation, if any, in the market value thereof, otherwise than by reason of a depreciation in its intrinsic value, at the place where it ought to have been delivered, and between the day at which it ought to have been delivered and the day of its actual delivery.

6066. (§ 4318.) Breach of warranty of authority.—The detriment caused by the breach of a warranty of an agent's authority is deemed to be the amount which could have been recovered and collected from his principal if the warranty had been complied with, and the reasonable expenses of legal proceedings taken, in good faith, to enforce the act of the agent against his principal.

6067. (§ 4319.) Breach of promise of marriage.—The damages for the breach of a promise of marriage rest in the sound discretion for the jury.

ARTICLE II.

DAMAGES FOR WRONGS.

Section 6068. Breach of obligation other than contract.

“ 6069. Wrongful occupation of real property.

“ 6071. Conversion of real property.

“ 6073. Damages of lienor.

“ 6074. Seduction.

6068. (§ 4330.) Breach of obligation other than contract.—For the breach of an obligation not arising from contract, the measure of damages, except where otherwise expressly provided by this code, is the amount which will compensate for all the detriment proximately caused thereby, whether it could have been anticipated or not.

Coleman v. Perry, 28 Mont. 8; 72 Pac. 44. The doctrine of assumption of risk has no application to a case where an inexperienced laundry employe is directed to feed a mangle. Such employe injured by the negligence of defendants, is entitled to recover what would compensate for all damage proximately caused by the negligence of defendants, whether such damage could be anticipated or not.

Thornton Co. v. Bretherton, 32 Mont. 98; 80 Pac. 15.

Rourke v. Butte P. Co., 33 Mont. 287; 83 Pac. 475. In an action for personal injuries, the jury, in fixing the damages, may consider mental and physical suffering caused by the injury, wages plaintiff might have earned from the date of the injury to the date of the trial, and if the injuries were permanent, any loss by reason of the impairment of his capacity to earn money. In this case, a verdict of $20,000 for plaintiff was not set aside on appeal as excessive.

Murray v. Butte, 35 Mont. 169; 83 Pac. 789. Where a party injured through the maintenance of a nuisance by a city has abated it at his own expense, after a refusal by the city to remedy the evil, the outlay so incurred is a part of his detriment proximately caused by its maintenance, and recoverable as an element of his damages.

Fries v. American Co., 141 Cal. 613; 75 Pac. 164.

6069. (§ 4331.) Wrongful occupation of real property.—The detriment caused by the wrongful occupation of real property, in cases not embraced in §§ 6070 (4332), 6076 (4350) and 6077 (4351), of this code, or provided in the Code of Civil Procedure, is deemed to be the value of the use of the property for the time of such occupation, not exceeding five years next preceding the commencement of the action or proceeding to enforce the right to damages, and the costs, if any, of recovering the possession.

6070. (§ 4332.) Wilful holding over.—For wilfully holding over real property, by a person who entered upon the same, as guardian, or trustee for an infant, or by right of an estate terminable with any life or lives, after the termination of the trust or particular estate, without the consent of the party immediately entitled after such termination, the measure of damages is the value of the profits received during such holding over.

Jack v. Sinsheimer, 125 Cal. 566; 58 Pac. 130.

6071. (§ 4333.) Conversion of real property.—The detriment caused by the wrongful conversion of personal property is presumed to be:

1. The value of the property at the time of its conversion, with the interest from that time; or, where the action has been prosecuted with reasonable diligence, the highest market value of the property at any time between the conversion and the verdict, without interest, at the option of the injured party; and,

2. A fair compensation for the time and money properly expended in pursuit of the property.

Smith v. Caldwell, 22 Mont. 339; 56 Pac. 592.

Harrington v. Stromberg M. Co., 29 Mont. 160; 74 Pac. 414.

Thornton Co. v. Bretherton, 32 Mont. 98; 80 Pac. 15.

Doll v. Hennessy M. Co., 33 Mont. 89; 81 Pac. 627. The measure of damages in action brought by a partner to recover the value of his interest in the partnership property sold to a stranger by his copartner in violation of section 3232 supra, subdivision 3, is the reasonable value of the property at the date of the conversion, or the highest market value at any time between the conversion and verdict.

Webster v. Sherman, 33 Mont. 459; 84 Pac. 882. In an action in claim and delivery, where all the evidence of value of the property was directed to the date of seizure, and it was not claimed it had any usable value, the damages for detention should have been limited to interest on the amount recovered from the date of seizure to the time the verdict was returned.

Nicholls v. Mapes, 1 C. App. 356; 82 Pac. 265.

6072. (§ 4334.) Same.—The presumption declared by the last section can not be repelled, in favor of one whose possession was wrongful from the beginning, by his subsequent application of the property to the benefit of the owner, without his consent.

Lutey v. Clark, 31 Mont. 54; 77 Pac. 307.

Thornton Co. v. Bretherton, 32 Mont. 98; 80 Pac. 15.

6073. (§ 4335.) Damages of lienor.—One having a mere lien on personal property cannot recover greater damages for its conversion, from one having a right thereto superior to his, after his lien is discharged, than the amount secured by the lien, and the compensation allowed by § 6071 (4333) for the loss of time and expenses.

Wilkerson v. Thorp, 128 Cal. 226; 60 Pac. 679.

6074. (§ 4336.) Seduction.—The damages for seduction rest in the sound discretion of the jury.

6075. (§ 4337.) Injuries to animals.—For wrongful injuries to animals, being subjects of property, committed wilfully or by gross negligence, in disregard of humanity, exemplary damages may be given.

ARTICLE III.

PENAL DAMAGES.

Section 6076. Failure to quit, after notice.

“ 6078. Injuries to trees, etc.

“ 6079. Injuries inflicted in a duel.

6076. (§ 4350.) Failure to quit, after notice.—If any tenant gives notice of his intention to quit the premises and does not deliver up the possession at the time specified in the notice, he must pay to the landlord treble rent during the time he continues in possession after such notice.

6077. (§ 4351.) Tenant wilfully holding over.—If any tenant, or any person in collusion with the tenant, holds over any lands or tenements after demand made and one month's notice, in writing given, requiring the possession thereof, such person holding over must pay to the landlord treble rent during the time he continues in possession after such notice.

Hayden v. Collins, 1 C. App. 261; 81 Pac. 1120.

6078. (§ 4352.) Injuries to trees, etc.—For wrongful injuries to timber, trees, or underwood upon the land of another, or removal thereof, the measure of damage is three times such a sum as would compensate for the actual detriment, except where the trespass was casual and involuntary, or committed under the belief that the land belonged to the trespasser, or where the wood was taken by the authority of highway officers, for the purposes of a highway; in which cases the damages are a sum equal to the actual detriment.

Stewart v. Sefton, 108 Cal. 207; 41 Pac. 293.

6079. (§ 4353.) Injuries inflicted in a duel.—If any person slays or permanently disables another person in a duel in this state, the slayer must provide for the maintenance of the widow or wife of the person slain or permanently disabled, and for the minor children, in such manner and at such cost, either by aggregate compensation in damages to each, or by a monthly, quarterly, or annual allowance, to be determined by the court.

6080. (§ 4354.) Same.—If any person slays or disables another person in a duel in this state, the slayer is liable for and must pay all debts of the person slain or permanently disabled.

ARTICLE IV.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

- Section 6081. Value, how estimated in favor of seller.
 “ 6082. Value, how estimated in favor of buyer.
 “ 6083. Property of peculiar value.
 “ 6084. Value of thing in action.
 “ 6088. Nominal damages.

6081. (§ 4360.) Value, how estimated in favor of seller.—In estimating damages the value of property to the seller thereof is deemed to be the price which he could have obtained therefor in the market nearest to the place at which it should have been accepted by the buyer and at such time after the breach of the contract as would have sufficed, with reasonable diligence, for the seller to effect a resale.

Willson v. Gregory, 2 C. App. 314; 84 Pac. 356.

6082. (§ 4361.) Value, how estimated in favor of buyer.—In estimating damages, except as provided by §§ 6083 (4362) and 6084 (4363), the value of property to a buyer or owner thereof, deprived of its possession, is deemed to be the price at which he might have bought an equivalent thing in the market nearest to the place where the property ought to have been put into his possession, and at such time after the breach of duty upon which his right to damages is founded as would suffice, with reasonable diligence, for him to make such a purchase.

6083. (§ 4362.) Property of peculiar value.—Where a certain property has a peculiar value to a person recovering damages for deprivation thereof or injury thereto, that may be deemed to be its value against one who had notice thereof before incurring a liability to damages in respect thereof, or against a wilful wrongdoer.

6084. (§ 4363.) Value of thing in action.—For the purpose of estimating damages, the value of an instrument in writing is presumed to be equal to that of the property to which it entitles the owner.

6085. (§ 4364.) Damages allowed in this chapter, exclusive of others.—The damages prescribed by this chapter are exclusive of exemplary damages and interest, except where those are expressly mentioned.

Hewes v. Germain Co., 106 Cal. 447; 39 Pac. 853.

6086. (§ 4365.) Limitation of damages.—Notwithstanding the provisions of this chapter, no person can recover a greater amount in damages for the breach of an obligation than he could have gained by the full performance thereof on both sides, except in the cases specified in the articles on exemplary damages, penal damages, and in §§ 6067 (4319), 6074 (4336), 6075 (4337).

6087. (§ 4366.) Damages to be reasonable.—Damages must in all cases be reasonable, and where an obligation of any kind appears to create a right to unconsonable and grossly oppressive damages, contrary to substantial justice, no more than reasonable damages can be recovered.

6088. (§ 4367.) Nominal damages.—When a breach of duty has caused no appreciable detriment to the party affected, he may yet recover nominal damages.

Maher v. Wilson, 139 Cal. 520; 73 Pac. 418.

TITLE III.

SPECIFIC AND PREVENTIVE RELIEF.

CHAPTER I. GENERAL PRINCIPLES.

II. SPECIFIC RELIEF.

III. PREVENTIVE RELIEF.

CHAPTER I.

GENERAL PRINCIPLES.

Section 6089. Specific relief, etc., when allowed.

“ 6090. Specific relief, how given.

“ 6091. Preventive relief, how given.

“ 6092. Not to enforce penalty, etc.

6089. (§ 4380.) Specific relief, etc., when allowed.—Specific or preventive relief may be given in the cases specified in this title, and in no others.

6090. (§ 4381.) Specific relief, how given.—Specific relief is given:

1. By taking possession of a thing, and delivering it to a claimant.

2. By compelling the party himself to do that which ought to be done; or,

3. By declaring and determining the rights of parties, otherwise than by an award of damages.

Murphy v. Hopcroft, 142 Cal. 46; 75 Pac. 567.

6091. (§ 4382.) Preventive relief, how given.—Preventive relief is given by prohibiting a party from doing that which ought not to be done.

6092. (§ 4383.) Not to enforce penalty, etc.—Neither specific nor preventive relief can be granted to enforce a penal law, except in a case of nuisance, or to enforce the penalty or forfeiture in any case.

Pogue v. Kaweah Co., 138 Cal. 665; 72 Pac. 144.

CHAPTER II.

SPECIFIC RELIEF.

- ARTICLE I. POSSESSION OF REAL PROPERTY.
II. POSSESSION OF PERSONAL PROPERTY.
III. SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE OF OBLIGATIONS.
IV. REVISION OF CONTRACTS.
V. RESCISSION OF CONTRACTS.
VI. CANCELLATION OF INSTRUMENTS.

ARTICLE I.

POSSESSION OF REAL PROPERTY.

6093. (§ 4390.) A person entitled to specific real property, by reason either of a perfected title or of a claim to title which ought to be perfected, may recover the same in the manner prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure, either by a judgment for its possession, to be executed by the sheriff, or by a judgment requiring the other party to perfect the title and to deliver possession of the property.

ARTICLE II.

POSSESSION OF PERSONAL PROPERTY.

Section 6094. Judgment for delivery.

“ 6095. When holder may be compelled to deliver.

6094. (§ 4400.) Judgment for delivery.—A person entitled to the immediate possession of specific personal property may recover the same in the manner provided by the Code of Civil Procedure.

6095. (§ 4401.) When holder may be compelled to deliver.—Any person having the possession or control of a particular article of personal property, of which he is not the owner, may be compelled specifically to deliver it to the person entitled to its immediate possession.

ARTICLE III.

SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE OF OBLIGATIONS.

Section 6096. In what cases compelled.

“ 6097. Remedy mutual.

“ 6098. No remedy unless mutual.

“ 6099. Distinction between real and personal property.

Section 6102. What cannot be specifically enforced.

“ 6103. What parties cannot be compelled to perform.

“ 6104. What parties cannot have specific performance in their favor.

“ 6107. Relief against parties claiming under the person bound to perform.

6096. (§ 4410.) In what cases compelled.—Except as otherwise provided in this article the specific performance of an obligation may be compelled:

1. When the act to be done is in the performance, wholly or partly of an express trust.

2. When the act to be done is such that pecuniary compensation for its non-performance would not afford adequate relief.

3. When it would be extremely difficult to ascertain the actual damage caused by the non-performance of the act to be done; or,

4. When it has been expressly agreed, in writing, between the parties to the contract, that specific performance thereof may be required by either party, or that damages shall not be considered adequate relief.

Christiansen v. Aldrich, 30 Mont. 450; 76 Pac. 1008. A complaint alleged breach of a contract to convey land and it was sufficient to raise the presumption that pecuniary compensation would not afford adequate relief, though there was no allegation of special circumstances showing that plaintiff had no adequate remedy at law.

Fleishman v. Woods, 135 Cal. 260; 67 Pac. 276.

6097. (§ 4411.) Remedy mutual.—When either of the parties to an obligation is entitled to a specific performance thereof, according to the provisions of the last section, the other party is also entitled to it, though not within those provisions.

6098. (§ 4412.) No remedy unless mutual.—Neither party to any obligation can be compelled specifically to perform it, unless the other party thereto has performed, or is compellable specifically to perform, everything to which the former is entitled under the same obligation, either completely, or nearly so, together with full compensation for any want of entire performance.

Finlen v. Heinze, 32 Mont. 386; 80 Pac. 926.

Los Angeles Co. v. Occidental Co., 144 Cal. 533; 78 Pac. 25.

6099. (§ 4413.) Distinction between real and personal property.—It is to be presumed that the breach of an agreement to transfer real property cannot be adequately relieved by pecuniary compensation, and that the breach of an agreement to transfer personal property can be thus relieved.

Christiansen v. Aldrich, 30 Mont. 451; 76 Pac. 1008. Fleishman v. Woods, 135 Cal. 261; 67 Pac. 276.

6100. (§ 4414.) Contract signed by one party only, may be enforced by others.—A party who has signed a written contract, may be compelled specifically to perform it, though the other party has not signed it, if the latter has performed, or offers to perform it on his part, and the case is otherwise proper for enforcing specific performance.

Bird v. Potter, 146 Cal. 288; 79 Pac. 970.

6101. (§ 4415.) Liquidation of damages not a bar to specific performance.—A contract otherwise proper to be specifically enforced may be thus enforced, though a penalty is imposed, or the damages are liquidated for its breach, and the party in default is willing to pay the same.

Fleishman v. Woods, 135 Cal. 261; 67 Pac. 276.

6102. (§ 4416.) What cannot be specifically enforced.—The following obligations cannot be specifically enforced:

1. An obligation to render personal service, or to employ another therein.
2. An agreement to marry or live with another.
3. An agreement to submit a controversy to arbitration.
4. An agreement to perform an act, which the party has not power to perform lawfully when required to do so.
5. An agreement to procure the act or consent of the wife of the contracting party, or of any other third person; or,
6. An agreement, the terms of which are not sufficiently certain to make the precise act which is to be done, clearly ascertainable.

Farnum v. Clarke, 148 Cal. 615; 84 Pac. 166.

6103. (§ 4417.) What parties cannot be compelled to perform.—Specific performance cannot be enforced against a party to a contract, in any of the following cases:

1. If he has not received an adequate consideration for the contract.
2. If it is not, as to him, just and reasonable.
3. If his assent was obtained by the misrepresentations, concealment, circumvention, or unfair practices of any party to whom performance would become due under the contract, or by any promise of such party, which has not been substantially fulfilled; or,
4. If his assent was given under the influence of mistake, misapprehension or surprise, except that where the contract provides for compensation in case of mistake, a mistake within the scope of such provision may be compensated for, and the contract specifically enforced in other respects, if proper to be so enforced.

Finlen v. Heinze, 28 Mont. 563; 73 Pac. 126. A party seeking specific performance of a contract is required to set forth the consideration therefor, and the burden of proof that such consideration is inadequate is on the party resisting specific performance.

Traphagen v. Kirk, 30 Mont. 574; 77 Pac. 61.

White v. Sage, 149 Cal. 614; 87 Pac. 193.

6104. (§ 4418.) What parties cannot have specific performance in their favor.—Specific performance cannot be enforced in favor of a party who has not fully and fairly performed all the conditions precedent on his part to the obligation of the other party, except where his failure to perform is only partial and either entirely immaterial, or capable of being fully compensated; in which case specific performance may be compelled, upon full compensation being made for the default.

6105. (§ 4419.) Specific performance not required when oppressive.—Specific performance cannot be compelled when it would operate more harshly upon the party required to perform than its refusal would operate upon the party seeking it.

6106. (§ 4420.) Agreement to sell property by one who has no title.—An agreement for the sale of property cannot be specifically enforced in favor of a seller who cannot give to the buyer a title free from reasonable doubt.

6107. (§ 4421.) Relief against parties claiming under the person bound to perform.—Whenever an obligation in respect to real property would be specifically enforced against a particular person, it may be in like manner enforced against any other person claiming under him by a title created subsequently to the obligation, except a purchaser or incumbrancer in good faith, and for value, and except also that any such person may exonerate himself by conveying all his estate to the person entitled to enforce the obligation.

ARTICLE IV.

REVISION OF CONTRACTS.

Section 6108. When contract may be revised.

“ 6109. Presumption as to intent of parties.

6108. (§ 4430.) When contract may be revised.—When, through fraud or a mutual mistake of the parties, or a mistake of one party, which the other at the time knew or suspected, a written contract does not truly express the intention of the parties, it may be revised on the application of a party aggrieved, so as to express that intention, so far as it can be done, without prejudice to rights acquired by third persons, in good faith and for value.

Gaffney M. Co. v. Hopkins, 21 Mont. 16; 52 Pac. 562. In an action to reform a contract, the complaint should allege some mistake in the making of the contract, or some mistake or inadvertence in reducing its terms to writing.

Hogan v. Kelly, 29 Mont. 488; 75 Pac. 82.

Chapin v. Ross, 2 C. App. 435; 84 Pac. 53.

6109. (§ 4431.) Presumption as to intent of parties.—For the purpose of revising a contract it must be presumed that all the parties thereto intended to make an equitable and conscientious agreement.

6110. (§ 4432.) Principles of revision.—In revising a written instrument the court may inquire what the instrument was intended to mean, and what were intended to be its legal consequences, and is not confined to the inquiry what the language of the instrument was intended to be.

6111. (§ 4433.) Enforcement of revised contract.—A contract may be first revised and then specifically enforced.

Messer v. Hibernia Society, 149 Cal. 126; 84 Pac. 835.

ARTICLE V.

RESCISSION OF CONTRACTS.

Section 6112. When rescission may be adjudged.

“ 6113. Rescission for mistake.

“ 6114. Court may require party rescinding to do equity.

6112. (§ 4440.) When rescission may be adjudged.—The rescission of a written contract may be adjudged on the application of a party aggrieved:

1. In any of the cases mentioned in § 5063 (2271); or,
2. Where the contract is unlawful, for causes not apparent upon its face, and the parties were not equally in fault; or,
3. When the public interest will be prejudiced by permitting it to stand.

6113. (§ 4441.) Rescission for mistake.—Rescission cannot be adjudged for mere mistake, unless the party against whom it is adjudged can be restored to substantially the same position as if the contract had not been made.

Green v. Duvergey, 146 Cal. 390; 80 Pac. 234.

6114. (§ 4442.) Court may require party rescinding to do equity.—On adjudging the rescission of a contract, the court may require the party to whom such relief is granted to make any compensation or restoration to the other which justice may require.

Green v. Duvergey, 146 Cal. 390; 80 Pac. 234.

ARTICLE VI.

CANCELLATION OF INSTRUMENTS.

Section 6115. When cancellation may be ordered.

6115. (§ 4450.) When cancellation may be ordered.—A written instrument, in respect to which there is a reasonable apprehension that if left outstanding it may cause serious injury to a person against whom it is void or voidable, may, upon his application, be so adjudged, and ordered to be delivered up or canceled.

Merk v. Bowery Co., 31 Mont. 309; 78 Pac. 523.

Angus v. Craven, 132 Cal. 697; 64 Pac. 1091.

6116. (§ 4451.) Instrument obviously void.—An instrument, the invalidity of which is apparent upon its face, or upon the face of another instrument which is necessary to the use of the former in evidence, is not to be deemed capable of causing injury within the provisions of the last section.

Castro v. Barry, 79 Cal. 445; 21 Pac. 946.

6117. (§ 4452.) Cancellation in part.—Where an instrument is evidence of different rights or obligations it may be canceled in part and allowed to stand for the residue.

CHAPTER III.

PREVENTIVE RELIEF.

Section 6118. Preventive relief, how granted.

“ 6121. Injunction, when not allowed.

6118. (§ 4460.) Preventive relief, how granted.—Preventive relief is granted by injunction, provisional or final.

6119. (§ 4461.) Provisional injunctions.—Provisional injunctions are regulated by the Code of Civil Procedure.

6120. (§ 4462.) Injunction, when allowed.—Except where otherwise provided by this title, a final injunction may be granted to prevent the breach of an obligation existing in favor of the applicant:

1. Where pecuniary compensation would not afford adequate relief.

2. Where it would be extremely difficult to ascertain the amount of compensation which would afford adequate relief.

3. Where the restraint is necessary to prevent a multiplicity of judicial proceedings; or,

4. Where the obligation arises from a trust.

6121. (§ 4463.) Injunction, when not allowed.—An injunction cannot be granted:

1. To stay a judicial proceeding pending at the commencement of the action in which the injunction is demanded, unless such restraint is necessary to prevent a multiplicity of such proceedings.

2. To stay proceedings in a court of the United States.

3. To stay proceedings in another state upon a judgment of a court of that state.

4. To prevent the execution of a public statute, by officers of the law, for the public benefit.

5. To prevent the breach of a contract, the performance of which would not be specifically enforced.

6. To prevent the exercise of a public or private office, in a lawful manner, by the person in possession.

7. To prevent a legislative act by a municipal corporation.

Farnum v. Clarke, 148 Cal. 615; 84 Pac. 166.

PART II.

SPECIAL RELATIONS OF DEBTOR AND CREDITOR.

TITLE I. GENERAL PRINCIPLES.

II. FRAUDULENT INSTRUMENTS AND TRANSFERS.

III. ASSIGNMENTS FOR THE BENEFIT OF CREDITORS.

TITLE I.

GENERAL PRINCIPLES.

Section 6122. Who is a debtor.

“ 6123. Who is a creditor.

“ 6126. Relative rights of different creditors.

6122. (§ 4480.) Who is debtor.—A debtor, within the meaning of this title, is one who, by reason of an existing obligation, is or may become liable to pay money to another, whether such liability is certain or contingent.

Calkins v. Howard, 2 C. App. 235; 83 Pac. 280.

6123. (§ 4481.) Who is a creditor.—A creditor, within the meaning of this title, is one in whose favor an obligation exists by reason of which he is or may become entitled to the payment of money.

Calkins v. Howard, 2 C. App. 235; 83 Pac. 280.

6124. (§ 4482.) Contracts of debtor are valid.—In the absence of fraud every contract of a debtor is valid against all his creditors, existing or subsequent, who have not acquired a lien on the property affected by such contract.

Roberts v. Burr, 135 Cal. 158; 67 Pac. 46.

6125. (§ 4483.) Payments in preference.—A debtor may pay one creditor in preference to another, or may give to one creditor security for the payment of his demand in preference to another.

6126. (§ 4484.) Relative rights of different creditors.—Where a creditor is entitled to resort to each of several funds for the satisfaction of his claim, and another person has interest in, or is entitled as a creditor, to resort to some, but not all of them, the latter may require the former to seek satisfaction from those funds to which the latter has no such claim, so far as it can be done without impairing the right of the former to complete satisfaction and without doing injustice to third persons.

Estate of Levin, 139 Cal. 352; 63 Pac. 335.

TITLE II.

FRAUDULENT INSTRUMENTS AND TRANSFERS.

- Section 6127. Transfers, etc., with intent to defraud creditors.*
" 6128. Certain transfers presumed fraudulent.
" 6129. Creditor's right must be judicially ascertained.
" 6130. Question of fraud, how determined.
" 6131. Sale of merchandise in bulk. Seller to furnish list of creditors.
" 6132. Sale without statement fraudulent and void.
" 6133. Penalty for false statement.
" 6134. What constitutes a sale and transfer within meaning of this act.
" 6135. Exceptions.

6127. (§ 4490.) Transfers, etc., with intent to defraud creditors.—Every transfer of property, or charge thereon made, every obligation incurred, every judicial proceeding taken, and every act performed, with intent to delay or defraud any creditor, or other person, of his demands, is void against all creditors of the debtor and their representatives or successors in interest, and against any person upon whom the estate of the debtor devolves in trust for the benefit of others than the debtor.

Westheimer v. Goodkind, 24 Mont. 103; 60 Pac. 815. This section is declaratory of the common law.

Babcock v. Maxwell, 29 Mont. 35; 74 Pac. 66.

Cooper v. Nolan, 138 Cal. 250; 71 Pac. 179.

6128. (§ 4491.) Certain transfers presumed fraudulent.—Every transfer of personal property, other than a thing in action, or a ship or cargo at sea, or in a foreign port, and every lien thereon, other than a mortgage, when allowed by law, and a contract of bottomry or respondentia, is conclusively presumed, if made by a person having at the time the possession or control of the property, and not accompanied by an immediate delivery, and followed by an actual and continued change of possession of the things transferred, to be fraudulent, and therefore void, against those who are his creditors while he remains in possession, and the successors in interest of such creditors, and against any persons on whom his estate devolves in trust for the benefit of others than himself, and against purchasers or incumbrancers in good faith subsequent to the transfer.

Yank v. Bordeaux, 23 Mont. 208; 58 Pac. 43. Where a joint owner of personal property, in the possession of another joint owner, sells his interest, the failure of the purchaser to take possession does not, as against execution creditors of the seller, avoid the sale. The presumption referred to in this section is to be indulged where the person making the transfer has at the time the possession or control of the property.

Morris v. McLaughlin, 25 Mont. 153; 64 Pac. 220.

Babcock v. Maxwell, 29 Mont. 35; 74 Pac. 66. A transfer by a debtor of property, not accompanied by change of possession, is not void as against the assignee for the benefit of the debtor's creditors. The estate of the debtor does not devolve by the assignment but is granted to such assignee.

Stewart v. Hoffman, 31 Mont. 189; 77 Pac. 691. A mortgage of personal property and transfer thereunder are void against a trustee in bankruptcy, where the mortgage was made more than fourteen months prior to the transfer.

Ettien v. Drum, 32 Mont. 317; 80 Pac. 370. This section applies to range cattle. A custom cannot vary the terms of, or operate to abrogate or repeal a general statute. Where one purchases an entire herd of range cattle with the brand, but delivery of only a portion thereof is actually made, the vendee may not recover those not delivered from a subsequent purchaser in good faith, under an alleged custom among cattlemen that one buying an entire herd of such cattle with their brand, some of which are not actually delivered, becomes the owner of those not delivered.

Webster v. Sherman, 33 Mont. 456; 84 Pac. 880. Quere: Is this section relative to transfers of personal property conclusively presumed to be fraudulent, applicable to transfers between husband and wife?

Ettien v. Drum, 35 Mont. 86; 88 Pac. 659.

Calkins v. Howard, 2 C. App. 235; 83 Pac. 280.

6129. (§ 4492.) Creditor's right must be judicially ascertained.—A creditor can avoid the act or obligation of his debtor for fraud, only where the fraud obstructs the enforcement, by legal process, of his right to take the property effected by the transfer or obligation.

Estate of Fath, 132 Cal. 613; 64 Pac. 995.

6130. (§ 4493.) Question of fraud, how determined.—In all cases arising under § 4688 (1650), or under the provisions of this title, except as otherwise provided in § 6128 (4491), the question of fraudulent intent is one of fact and not of law; nor can any transfer or charge be adjudged fraudulent solely on the ground that it was not made for a valuable consideration.

Estate of Vance, 141 Cal. 627; 75 Pac. 323.

6131. Sale of merchandise in bulk. Seller to furnish list of creditors.—It shall be the duty of every person who shall bargain for, or purchase any stock of goods, wares or merchandise in bulk, for cash, or on credit, before paying to the vendor, or his agent or representative, or delivering to the vendor, or his agent, any part of the purchase price thereof, or any promissory note or other evidence therefor, to demand of and receive from such vendor, or agent, or if the vendor or agent be a corporation, then from the President, Vice-President, Secretary or Managing Agent of such corporation, a written statement, sworn to substantially as hereinafter provided, of the names and addresses of all the creditors of said vendor, to whom said vendor may be indebted, together with the amount of the indebtedness due or owing, and to become due or owing, by said vendor to each of such creditors; and it shall be the duty of said vendor, or agent, to furnish said statement, which shall be verified by an oath to the following effect:

State of Montana,

County of } ss.

Before me personally appeared.....

(vendor, or agent, as the case may be), who being by me first duly sworn upon his oath doth depose and say that the foregoing statement contains the names of all the creditors of (the name of the vendor) together with their addresses, and that the amount set opposite each of said respective names is the amount now due and owing, and which shall become due and owing by (vendor) to such creditors, and that there are no creditors holding claims due, or which shall become due for or on account of goods, wares, or merchandise purchased upon credit or on account of money borrowed to carry on the business of which said goods are a part, other than as set forth in said statement, and in this affidavit, within the personal knowledge of affiant.

Subscribed and sworn to before me thisday of.....190...." (Title of Officer taking oath). [Act approved March 7, 1907, § 1.] (10th Sess. Chap. 145.)

6132. Sale without statement fraudulent and void.—Whenever any person shall bargain for, or purchase any stock of goods, wares or merchandise in bulk, for cash, or on credit, and shall pay any part of the purchase price, or execute or deliver to the vendor thereof, or to his order, or to any person for his use, any promissory note, or other evidence of indebtedness for said purchase price, or any part thereof, without first having demanded and received from said vendor, or from his agent, the statement provided for in § 6131 (1) of this act and verified as there provided, and without paying, or seeing to it that the purchase money of the said property, is applied to the payment of the bona fide claim of the creditors of the vendor as shown upon such verified statement, share and share alike, such sale, or transfer shall be fraudulent and void. [Act approved March 7, 1907, § 2.] (10th Sess. Chap. 145.)

6133. Penalty for false statement.—Any vendor of any stock of goods, wares or merchandise in bulk, or any person who is acting for, or on behalf of any vendor, who shall knowingly or wilfully make or deliver, or cause to be made or delivered, a statement as provided for in Section 6131 (1) of this Act which shall not include the names of all the creditors of such vendor with the correct amount due, and to become due to each of them or which shall contain any false or untrue statement, shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary for not less than one nor more than five years, or shall be fined in any sum not exceeding one thousand dollars. [Act approved March 7, 1907, § 3.] (10th Sess. Chap. 145.)

6134. What constitutes a sale and transfer within meaning of this act.—A sale and transfer in bulk in contemplation of this Act, shall be deemed to be any sale or transfer of an entire stock of goods, wares or merchandise out of the usual or ordinary course of business or trade of the vendor, or attempted to be sold or conveyed; provided, however, that if such vendor produces and delivers a written waiver of the provisions of this Act from his creditors as shown by such verified statements, then in that case, the provisions of this Act shall not apply. [Act approved March 7, 1907, § 4.] (10th Sess. Chap. 145.)

6135. Exceptions.—Nothing in this act contained shall apply to executors, administrators, receivers, or any public officer acting under judicial process. [Act approved March 7, 1907, § 5.] (10th Sess. Chap. 145.)

 “ 6152. Effect of omitting to record.
 “ 6153. Assignment of real property.
 “ 6154. Bond of assignees.
 “ 6155. Conditions of disposal and conversion.
 “ 6157. Accounting.
 “ 6158. Property exempt.
 “ 6159. Compensation.

6136. (§ 4510.) When debtor may execute assignment.—An insolvent debtor may, in good faith, execute an assignment of property to one or more assignees, in trust for the satisfaction of his creditors, in conformity to the provisions of this chapter, subject, however to the provisions of this code, relative to trusts and to fraudulent transfers, and to the restrictions imposed by law upon assignments by special partnerships, by corporations or by other specific classes or persons.

Babcock v. Maxwell, 21 Mont. 513; 54 Pac. 946. Neither an original assignee, nor his successor, as such, is a receiver. One who has been appointed by the court the successor of an assignee of an insolvent, may be sued without leave of court.

Babcock v. Maxwell, 29 Mont. 33; 74 Pac. 65.

Heath v. Wilson, 139 Cal. 367; 73 Pac. 182.

6137. (§ 4511.) Insolvency, what.—A debtor is insolvent, within the meaning of this title, when he is unable to pay his debts from his own means as they become due.

Stadler v. Bank, 22 Mont. 219; 56 Pac. 120.

Cook v. Cockins, 117 Cal. 155; 48 Pac. 1025.

6138. (§ 4512.) Certain transfers not affected.—The provisions of this title do not prevent a person residing in another state or country from making there, in good faith and without intent to evade the laws of this state, a transfer of property situated within it; nor do they affect the power of a person, although insolvent and within this state, to transfer property to a particular creditor for the purpose of paying or securing the whole or a part of a debt owing to such creditor, whether in his own right or otherwise.

Fenton v. Edwards, 126 Cal. 50; 58 Pac. 320.

6139. (§ 4513.) What debts may be secured.—An assignment for the benefit of creditors may provide for any subsisting liability of the assignor which he might lawfully pay, whether absolute or contingent.

Bank v. Menke, 128 Cal. 107; 60 Pac. 675.

6140. (§ 4514.) Preferences may be given for wages.—In all assignments of property made by any person, association, corporation, co-partnership, chartered company or corporation, to trustees or assignees on account of inability of the assignor or assignors at the time of the assignment to pay his or their debts, or in proceedings in insolvency, the wages of the miners, mechanics, salesmen, servants, clerks or laborers employed by such assignor or assignors for services rendered within sixty days immediately previous to such assignment, not to exceed two hundred dollars for each person, are preferred claims, and must be paid by such trustees or assignees before any other creditor or creditors of such assignor.

6141. (§ 4515.) Preference must be absolute.—A preference, in an assignment for the benefit of creditors, can only be given absolutely, and without reserving any power of revocation.

6142. (§ 4516.) Certain rights not affected by preferences in assignment.—No provision in an assignment, giving a preference to a creditor, can effect or impair any right of another creditor to priority of payment, whether created by law, or arising from an obligation or transaction of the parties.

6143. (§ 4517.) Joint and separate debts.—Joint, or joint and several debtors, can prefer their joint creditors only out of joint property; and can prefer the individual creditors of each only out of the separate property of each.

6144. (§ 4518.) Assignment, when void.—An assignment for the benefit of creditors is void against any creditor of the assignor not assenting thereto in the following cases:

1. If it give a preference dependent upon any condition or contingency; or with any power of revocation reserved.
2. If it tend to coerce any creditor to release or compromise his demand.
3. If it provide for the payment of any claim known by the assignor to be false or fraudulent, or for the payment of more upon any claim than is known to be justly due from the assignor.
4. If it reserve any interest in the assigned property, or in any part thereof, to the assignor, or for his benefit, before all existing debts are paid.
5. If it confers upon the assignee any power which, if exercised, might prevent or delay the immediate conversion of the assigned property to the purposes of the trust.
6. If it exempt him from liability for neglect of duty or misconduct.
7. If it violates § 5375 (2971) of this code.

Rosenstein v. Coleman, 18 Mont. 459; 45 Pac. 1081. An assignment for the benefit of creditors, which empowers the assignee to sell and dispose of the assigned property as he may deem best, for cash or credit, or on time, is fraudulent and void as to creditors. An intention to hinder, delay and defraud creditors is a necessary legal inference from a provision permitting credit sales.

Tuers v. Tuers, 131 Cal. 627; 63 Pac. 1008.

6145. (§ 4519.) The instrument of assignment.—An assignment for the benefit of creditors must be in writing, subscribed by the assignor, or by his agent thereto authorized by writing. It must be acknowledged, or proved and certified, in the mode prescribed by the chapter on recording transfers of real property, and recorded as required by §§ 6150 (4524) and 6151 (4525); but recording in one county constitutes a compliance with the last mentioned sections. The assignment must be accompanied by the affidavit of the assignor and assignee that such assignment is made in good faith, for the benefit of the creditors of the assignor and without any design to hinder, delay, or defraud such creditors. The assent of the assignee, subscribed and acknowledged by him must appear in writing, embraced in, or at the end of, or indorsed upon, the assignment, before the same is recorded, and, if separate from the assignment, must be duly acknowledged.

Lacy v. Gunn, 144 Cal. 515; 78 Pac. 30.

6146. (§ 4520.) Compliance with provisions of last section necessary to validity of assignment.—Unless the provisions of the last section are complied with, an assignment for the benefit of creditors is void, against every creditor of the assignor not assenting thereto.

Lacy v. Gunn, 144 Cal. 515; 78 Pac. 30.

6147. (§ 4521.) Assignee takes subject to rights of third parties.—An assignee for the benefit of creditors is not to be regarded as a purchaser for value, and has no greater rights than his assignor has, in respect to things in action, transferred by the assignment.

Durfee v. Harper, 22 Mont. 368; 56 Pac. 587. An assignee for the benefit of creditors to whom is assigned the title to stock pledged by the assignor, stands in the shoes of his assignor. Such assignee, in making a sale for cash, may set aside a sale to one, who could pay but a small part of the amount bid, and may resell the property on a smaller cash bid. Such assignee may redeem property pledged by the assignor.

Babcock v. Maxwell, 29 Mont. 33; 74 Pac. 65. An assignee for the benefit of creditors cannot attack a previous transfer by the assignor as in fraud of creditors.

Bank v. Menke, 128 Cal. 106; 60 Pac. 675.

6148. (§ 4522.) Inventory required.—Within twenty days after an assignment is made for the benefit of creditors the assignor must make and file, in the manner prescribed by § 6150 (4524), a full and true inventory, showing:

1. All the creditors of the assignor.
2. The place of residence of each creditor, if known to the assignor; or if not known, that fact must be stated.
3. The sum owing to each creditor and the nature of each debt or liability, whether arising on written security, account or otherwise.
4. The true consideration of the liability in each case and the place where it arose.
5. Every existing judgment, mortgage or other security for the payment of any debt or liability of the assignor.
6. All property of the assignor at the date of the assignment, which is exempt by law from execution; and,
7. All of the assignor's property at the date of the assignment, both real and personal of every kind, not so exempt, and the incumbrances existing thereon, and all vouchers and securities relating thereto, and the value of such property, according to the best knowledge of the assignor.

Beardsley v. Frame, 85 Cal. 135; 24 Pac. 721.

6149. (§ 4523.) Verification of inventory.—An affidavit must be made by every person executing an assignment for the benefit of creditors, to be annexed to and filed with the inventory mentioned in the last section, to the effect that the same is in all respects just and true, according to the best of such assignor's knowledge and belief; but in case such assignor shall omit, neglect or refuse to make and deliver such inventory within the twenty days required, the assignee named in such assignment shall, within thirty days after the date thereof, cause to be made and delivered to the judge of the district court of the county where such assignment is recorded, such inventory as above required, in so far as he can; and for such purpose, said judge shall, at any time upon the application of such assignee, compel by order such delinquent assignor, and any other person to appear before him and disclose, upon oath, any knowledge or information he may possess, necessary to the proper making of such inventory. The assignee shall verify the inventory so made by him to the effect that the same is in all respects just and true to the best of his knowledge and belief. But in case the said assignee shall be unable to make and file such inventory within said thirty days, the district judge may, upon application upon oath, showing such inability, allow him such further time as shall be necessary, not exceeding sixty days. If the assignee fail to make and file such inventory within said thirty days, or such further time as may be allowed, the district judge shall require, by order, the assignee forthwith to appear before him and show cause why he should not be removed. Any person interested in the trust estate may apply for such order and demand such removal. The books and papers of such delinquent assignor shall at all times be subject to the inspection and examination of any creditor. The district judge is authorized by order to require such debtor or assignee to allow such inspection or examination. Disobedience to such order is hereby declared to be a contempt, and obedience to such order may be enforced by attachment. The inventory shall be filed by said district judge in the office of the clerk of said county in which said assignment is recorded.

6150. (§ 4524.) Recording assignment and filing inventory.—An assignment for the benefit of creditors must be recorded, and the inventory required by § 6148 (4522) filed with the county clerk of the county in which the assignor resided at the date of the assignment; or, if he did not then reside in this state, with the clerk of the county in which his principal place of business was then situated; or, if he had not then a residence or place of business in this state, with the clerk of the county in which the principal part of the assigned property was then situated.

Wilhoit v. Lyons, 98 Cal. 411; 33 Pac. 325.

6151. (§ 4525.) Same.—If an assignment for the benefit of creditors is executed by more than one assignor, it must be recorded, and a copy of the inventory required by § 6148 (4522) must be filed with the county clerk of the county in which any of the assignors resided at its date, or in which any of them, not then residing in this state, had then a place of business.

6152. (§ 4526.) Effect of omitting to record.—An assignment for the benefit of creditors is void against creditors of the assignor, and against purchasers and incumbrancers in good faith and for value, unless it is recorded within twenty days after the date of the assignment.

Wilhoit v. Lyons, 98 Cal. 412; 33 Pac. 325.

6153. (§ 4527.) Assignment of real property.—Where an assignment for the benefit of creditors embraces real property, it is subject to the provisions of article IV. of the chapter on recording transfers, as well as to those of this title.

Wilhoit v. Lyons, 98 Cal. 412; 33 Pac. 325.

6154. (§ 4528.) Bond of assignees.—Within thirty days after the date of an assignment for the benefit of creditors, the assignee must enter into a bond to the state, for the use and benefit of the creditors in such amount as may be fixed by a judge of the district court of the county in which the original inventory is filed, with sufficient sureties to be approved by such judge, and conditioned for the faithful discharge of the trust, and the due accounting for all moneys received by the assignee, which bond must be filed in the same office with the original inventory.

6155. (§ 4529.) Conditions of disposal and conversion.—Until the inventory and affidavit required by § § 6148 (4522) and 6149 (4523) have been made and filed, and the assignee has given a bond as required by the last section, the assignee for the benefit of creditors has no authority to dispose of the estate or convert it to the purposes of the trust. But in case the assignor shall fail to present such inventory within the twenty days required, then the assignee, before the ten days shall have elapsed, may apply to said district judge by verified petition, for leave to file a provisional bond, until such time as he may be able to present the inventory as hereinbefore provided. The district judge shall, in the case provided in § 6149 (5423), and may also, at any time, on the petition of one or more creditors, showing misconduct or incompetency of the assignee, or on petition of the assignee himself, showing sufficient reason therefor, and after due notice of not less than five days to the assignor, assignee, surety and such other persons as such judge may prescribe, remove or discharge the assignee, and appoint one or more in his place, and order an accounting of the assignee so removed or discharged, and may enjoin said assignee from interfering with the assignor's estate, and make provision by order for the safe custody of the same, and enforce obedience to such injunction and orders by attachment; and, upon his discharge, upon his own application, such assignee's bond shall be canceled and discharged. The new assignee shall give a bond, to be approved as required. The district judge shall have power, by order, to require or allow any inventory or schedule filed to be corrected or amended, and also to require and compel, from time to time, supplemental inventories or schedules to be made and filed within such time as he shall prescribe, and to enforce obedience to such orders by attachment.

6156. (§ 4330.) Further security required.—The district judge may, upon his own motion, or upon the application of any party in interest, and on such notice as he may direct to be given to the assignor, assignee and surety, require further security to be given whenever, in his judgment, the security afforded by the bond on file is not adequate.

6157. (§ 4531.) Accounting.—After six months from the date of an assignment for the benefit of creditors the assignee may be required, on petition of any creditor, to account before the district court of the county where the accompanying inventory was filed in the manner prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure.

6158. (§ 4532.) Property exempt.—Property exempt from execution and insurance upon the life of the assignor do not pass to the assignee by a general assignment for the benefit of creditors, unless the instrument specially mentions them, and declares an intention that they should pass thereby.

6159. (§ 4533.) Compensation.—In the absence of any provision in the assignment to the contrary, an assignee for the benefit of creditors is entitled to the same commissions as are allowed by law to executors and guardians; but the assignment cannot grant more, and may restrict the commissions to a less amount, or deny them altogether.

6160. (§ 4534.) Assignees protected for acts done in good faith.—An assignee for the benefit of creditors is not to be held liable for his acts, done in good faith, in the execution of the trust, merely for the reason that the assignment is afterwards adjudged void.

6161. (§ 4535.) Assent of creditors necessary to modification of assignment.—An assignment for the benefit of creditors which has been executed and recorded so as to transfer the property to the assignee, cannot afterwards be canceled or modified by the parties thereto, without the consent of every creditor affected thereby.

PART III.

NUISANCE.

TITLE I. GENERAL PRINCIPLES.

II. PUBLIC NUISANCES.

III. PRIVATE NUISANCES.

TITLE I.

GENERAL PRINCIPLES.

Section 6162. Nuisance, what.

“ 6163. Public nuisance.

“ 6164. Private nuisance.

Section 6165. What is not deemed a nuisance.

“ 6167. Abatement does not preclude action.

6162. (§ 4550.) Nuisance, what.—Anything which is injurious to health, or is indecent or offensive to the senses, or an obstruction to the free use of property, so as to interfere with the comfortable enjoyment of life or property, or unlawfully obstructs the free passage or use in the customary manner, of any navigable lake, or river, bay, stream, canal or basin, or any public park, square, street or highway, is a nuisance.

Chessman v. Hale, 31 Mont. 584; 79 Pac. 256. The use of water by an upper appropriator in such a way as to carry sand, gravel and mining debris over the land of a lower proprietor, so as to render it valueless, constitutes a nuisance, at common law and under this section.

Murray v. Butte, 35 Mont. 170; 88 Pac. 789.

Reynolds v. Presidio R. Co., 1 C. App. 231; 81 Pac. 1118.

6163. (§ 4551.) Public nuisance.—A public nuisance is one which affects at the same time an entire community or neighborhood, or any considerable number of persons, although the extent of the annoyance or damage inflicted upon individuals may be unequal.

Reynolds v. Presidio R. Co., 1 C. App. 231; 81 Pac. 1118.

6164. (§ 4552.) Private nuisance.—Every nuisance not included in the definition of the last section, is private.

6165. (§ 4553.) What is not deemed a nuisance.—Nothing which is done or maintained under the express authority of the statute can be deemed a nuisance.

Pasadena v. Stimson, 91 Cal. 255; 27 Pac. 604.

6166. (§ 4554.) Successive owners.—Every successive owner of property, who neglects to abate a continuing nuisance upon, or, in the use of, such property, created by a former owner, is liable therefor, in the same manner as the one who first created it.

Watson v. Colusa Co., 31 Mont. 523; 79 Pac. 17. It is not necessary to give notice to one who continues a nuisance to abate it before bringing a suit for damages arising therefrom.

Coats v. Atchison R. Co., 1 C. App. 446; 82 Pac. 640.

6167. (§ 4555.) Abatement does not preclude action.—The abatement of a nuisance does not prejudice the right of any person to recover damages for its past existence.

Chessman v. Hale, 31 Mont. 587; 79 Pac. 257.

Murray v. Butte, 35 Mont. 169; 88 Pac. 789.

TITLE II.

PUBLIC NUISANCES.

Section 6168. Lapse of time does not legalize.

“ 6169. Abatement.

“ 6170. When notice is required.

“ 6171. Remedies for public nuisance.

“ 6173. How dated.

6168. (§ 4570.) Lapse of time does not legalize.—No lapse of time can legalize a public nuisance, amounting to an actual obstruction of public right.

McLean v. Llewellyn Works, 2 C. App. 350; 83 Pac. 1082.

6169. (§ 4571.) Abatement.—The remedies against a public nuisance are:

1. Indictment or information.
2. A civil action; or,
3. Abatement.

6170. (§ 4572.) When notice is required.—The remedy by indictment or information is regulated by the Penal Code.

6171. (§ 4573.) Remedies for public nuisance.—A private person may maintain an action for a public nuisance, if it is specially injurious to himself, but not otherwise.

Reynolds v. Presidio R. Co., 1 C. App. 231; 81 Pac. 1118.

6172. (§ 4574.) Action.—A public nuisance may be abated by any public body or officer authorized thereto by law.

6173. (§ 4575.) How abated.—Any person may abate a public nuisance which is specially injurious to him by removing, or, if necessary, destroying the thing that constitutes the same, without committing a breach of the peace or doing unnecessary injury.

TITLE III.

PRIVATE NUISANCES.

Section 6174. Remedies for private nuisance.

“ 6176. When notice is required.

6174. (§ 4590.) Remedies for private nuisance.—The remedies against a private nuisance are:

1. A civil action; or,
2. Abatement.

Chessman v. Hale, 31 Mont. 587; 79 Pac. 257.

6175. (§ 4591.) Abatement, when allowed.—A person injured by a private nuisance may abate it by removing, or, if necessary, destroying the thing which constitutes the nuisance, without committing a breach of the peace or doing unnecessary injury.

Murray v. Butte, 35 Mont. 168; 88 Pac. 789.

6176. (§ 4592.) When notice is required.—Where a private nuisance results from a mere omission of the wrongdoer, and cannot be abated without entering upon his land, reasonable notice must be given to him before entering to abate it.

PART IV.

MAXIMS OF JURISPRUDENCE.

6177. (§ 4600.) The maxims of jurisprudence hereinafter set forth are intended not to qualify any of the foregoing provisions of this code, but to aid in their just application.

Matter of La Societe, 123 Cal. 530; 56 Pac. 458.

6178. (§ 4601.) When the reason of a rule ceases so should the rule itself.

Katz v. Walkinshaw, 141 Cal. 123; 70 Pac. 663.

6179. (§ 4602.) Where the reason is the same the rule should be the same.

Potter v. Lohse, 31 Mont. 96; 77 Pac. 420. A bona fide purchaser of property for value from a pledgee of the same, who sold it in violation of the pledge, succeeds to all the rights of the pledgee. A purchaser from a chattel mortgagee will likewise succeed to the right of his grantor, with respect to the property purchased, on the principle of subrogation.

6180. (§ 4603.) One must not change his purpose to the injury of another.

6181. (§ 4604.) Any one may waive the advantage of a law intended solely for his benefit. But a law established for a public reason cannot be contravened by a private agreement.

Stadler v. Bank, 22 Mont. 204; 56 Pac. 114. A provision in a note that it is negotiable at a particular bank is not a waiver of the effect of a stipulation for payment of attorney's fees in case of suit, which, under other statutory provisions, renders the note non-negotiable.

Bullard v. Smith, 28 Mont. 399; 72 Pac. 763.

Mallory v. See, 129 Cal. 359; 61 Pac. 1123.

6182. (§ 4605.) One must so use his own rights as not to infringe upon the rights of another.

Fordham v. N. P. R. R. Co., 30 Mont. 432; 76 Pac. 1043. Flood waters of a river, which become severed from the main current still form part of the river and may not be obstructed by a railroad company by a fill along its right of way without openings, so as to injure the property of another.

Quinlan v. Calvert, 31 Mont. 119; 77 Pac. 430. The fact that water has its source on land owned by a person does not of itself give him the exclusive right thereto, so as to prevent others from acquiring rights therein.

Chessman v. Hale, 31 Mont. 584; 79 Pac. 256. An appropriator of an upper water right who, in a contract to deliver it to a lower owner of land at a certain place, has reserved the right to use the water for placer mining purposes, acquires no title to the water itself, or any right to pollute the water to any greater extent than is permitted by law; and, while he has a right to a reasonable use of the water for the purposes specified, although such use does result in fouling it to some extent, yet he cannot cover the lower proprietor's land with mining debris, so as to render it valueless.

Norman v. Cobley, 32 Mont. 205; 79 Pac. 1061. One who has a prior right to the use of the waters of one creek cannot let those waters run to waste, and use the full amount of his appropriation of the waters of another creek to the detriment of a junior appropriator on the latter creek.

Jordahl v. Hayda, 1 C. App. 699; 82 Pac. 1079.

6183. (§ 4606.) He who consents to an act is not wronged by it.

6184. (§ 4607.) Acquiescence in error takes away the right of objecting to it.

6185. (§ 4608.) No one can take advantage of his own wrong.

6186. (§ 4609.) He who has fraudulently dispossessed himself of a thing may be treated as if he still had possession.

6187. (§ 4610.) He who can and does not forbid that which is done on his behalf is deemed to have bidden it.

Baillarge v. Clark, 145 Cal. 594; 79 Pac. 268.

6188. (§ 4611.) No one should suffer for the act of another.

Davoust v. Alameda, 149 C. 77; 84 Pac. 760.

6189. (§ 4612.) He who takes the benefit, must bear the burden.

Estate of Porter, 138 Cal. 622; 72 Pac. 173.

6190. (§ 4613.) One who grants a thing is presumed to grant also whatever is essential to its use.

Smith v. Corbit, 116 Cal. 591; 48 Pac. 725.

6191. (§ 4614.) For every wrong there is a remedy.

Davoust v. Alameda, 149 Cal. 77; 84 Pac. 760.

6192. (§ 4615.) Between those who are equally in the right, or equally in the wrong, the law does not interpose.

6193. (§ 4616.) Between rights otherwise equal, the earliest is preferred.

6194. (§ 4617.) No man is responsible for that which no man can control.

6195. (§ 4618.) The law helps the vigilant, before those who sleep on their rights.

Kavanaugh v. Flavin, 35 Mont. 137; 88 Pac. 764.

6196. (§ 4619.) The law respects form less than substance.

Goodyear R. Co. v. Eureka, 135 Cal. 615; 67 Pac. 1043.

6197. (§ 4620.) That which ought to have been done, is to be regarded as done, in favor of him to whom, and against whom, performance is due.

Moffitt v. Rosencrans, 136 Cal. 419; 69 Pac. 87.

6198. (§ 4621.) That which does not appear to exist is to be regarded as if it did not exist.

Slater v. McAvoy, 123 Cal. 439; 56 Pac. 49.

6199. (§ 4622.) The law never requires impossibilities.

Mendocino Co. v. Peters, 2 C. App. 29; 82 Pac. 1122.

6200. (§ 4623.) The law neither does nor requires idle acts.

Matteson v. Wagoner, 147 Cal. 745; 82 Pac. 436.

6201. (§ 4624.) The law disregards trifles.

Davidson v. Devine, 70 Cal. 521; 11 Pac. 664.

6202. (§ 4625.) Particular expressions qualify those which are general.

Matter of La Societe, 123 Cal. 530; 56 Pac. 458.

6203. (§ 4626.) Contemporaneous exposition is in general the best.

Morton v. Broderick, 118 Cal. 484; 50 Pac. 644.

6204. (§ 4627.) The greater contains the less.

Grannis v. Court, 146 Cal. 256; 79 Pac. 891.

6205. (§ 4628.) Superfluity does not vitiate.

6206. (§ 4629.) That is certain which can be made certain.

Chase v. Trout, 146 Cal. 368; 80 Pac. 81.

6207. (§ 4630.) Time does not confirm a void act.

6208. (§ 4631.) The incident follows the principal, and not the principal the incident.

Vernon v. Board, 142 Cal. 517; 76 Pac. 253.

6209. (§ 4632.) An interpretation which gives effect is preferred to one which makes void.

Estate of Sanford, 136 Cal. 104; 68 Pac. 494.

6210. (§ 4633.) Interpretation must be reasonable.

People v. Curry, 130 Cal. 94; 62 Pac. 516.

6211. (§ 4634.) Where one of two innocent persons must suffer by the act of a third, he, by whose negligence it happened, must be the sufferer.

McNear v. Bourn, 122 Cal. 623; 55 Pac. 596.

" 6236. This act, how cited.

6212. (§ 4650.) When this code takes effect.—This code takes effect at 12 o'clock noon on the first day of July, 1895.

Bullard v. Smith, 28 Mont. 397; 72 Pac. 763.

6213. (§ 4651.) Not retroactive.—No part of it is retroactive, unless expressly so declared. In this state there is no common law in any case where the law is declared by the code or other statute; but where not so declared, if the same is applicable and of a general nature, and not in conflict with the codes or other statutes, the common law shall be the law and rule of decision.

Menard v. M. C. R. Co., 22 Mont. 349; 56 Pac. 595. All prior vested rights in general of railroad corporations are carefully preserved.

Estate of Richards, 133 Cal. 427; 65 Pac. 1034.

Westheimer v. Goodkind, 24 Mont. 100; 60 Pac. 814.

Bullard v. Smith, 28 Mont. 397; 72 Pac. 763. The power of the legislature to enact retroactive or retrospective laws is recognized, but a limitation is placed on the exercise of such power by requiring that such laws must be expressly declared to be retroactive in their operation.

Wilson v. Pickering, 28 Mont. 440; 72 Pac. 823.

Hardesty v. Largey L. Co., 34 Mont. 162; 86 Pac. 32.

Coulter v. Union L. Co., 34 Mont. 604; 87 Pac. 977.

6214. (§ 4652.) Rules of construction.—The rule of the common law, that statutes in derogation thereof are to be strictly construed, has no application to this code. The code establishes the law of this state respecting the subjects to which it relates, and its provisions are to be liberally construed with a view to effect its objects and to promote justice.

Grannis v. Court, 146 Cal. 247; 79 Pac. 891.

Westheimer v. Goodkind, 24 Mont. 105; 60 Pac. 816. This section does not apply to section 1538, fifth division. Compiled Statutes, requiring chattel mortgages to be duly verified and acknowledged.

Nelson v. Great N. Co. 28 Mont. 322; 72 Pac. 650.

Coulter v. Union L. Co., 34 Mont. 604; 87 Pac. 977.

6215. (§ 4653.) Provisions similar to existing laws, how construed.—The provisions of this code, so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes, or the common law, must be construed as continuations thereof, and not as new enactments.

N. W. I. Co. v. L. & C. Co., 28 Mont. 495; 72 Pac. 985.

Blakeman v. Miller, 136 Cal. 142; 68 Pac. 587.

6216. (§ 4654.) Actions, etc., not affected.—No action or proceeding commenced before this code takes effect and no right accrued is affected by its provisions.

Menard v. M. C. R. Co., 22 Mont. 349; 56 Pac. 595.

Allen v. Allen, 95 Cal. 202; 30 Pac. 213.

6217. (§ 4655.) Holidays.—Holidays, within the meaning of this code, are: Every Sunday, the 1st day of January, the 22d day of February, the 30th Day of May, the 4th day of July, the 1st Monday of September, the 25th day of December, every day on which an election is held throughout the state, and every day appointed by the president of the United States, or by the governor of this state, for a public fast, thanksgiving or holiday. If the 1st day of January, the 22d day of February, the 30th day of May, the 4th day of July or the 25th day of December, fall upon a Sunday, the Monday following is a holiday.

6218. (§ 4656.) Business days.—All other days than those mentioned in the next preceding section are to be deemed business days for all purposes.

6219. (§ 4657.) Computation of time.—The time in which any act provided by law is to be done is computed by excluding the first day and including the last, unless the last is a holiday, and then it is also excluded.

Rauer v. Broder, 107 Cal. 284; 40 Pac. 430.

6220. (§ 4658.) Certain acts not to be done on holidays.—Whenever any act of a secular nature, other than a work of necessity or mercy, is appointed, by law or contract, to be performed upon a particular day, which day falls upon a holiday, it may be performed upon the next business day, with the same effect as if it had been performed upon the day appointed.

Northey v. Bankers' Association, 110 Cal. 551; 42 Pac. 1079.

6221. (§ 4659.) Joint authority construed.—Words giving a joint authority to three or more public officers, or other persons, are construed as giving such authority to a majority of them, unless it is otherwise expressed in the act giving the authority.

Coffey v. Court, 2 C. App. 459; 83 Pac. 580.

6222. (§ 4660.) Words and phrases construed.—Words and phrases are construed according to the context and the approved usage of the language; but technical words and phrases, and such others as may have acquired a peculiar and appropriate meaning in law, or are defined in § 6224 (4662), are to be construed according to such peculiar and appropriate meaning and definition.

King v. Elling, 24 Mont. 481; 62 Pac. 788.

Dayton v. Ewart, 28 Mont. 157; 72 Pac. 422.

Weaver v. San Francisco, 146 Cal. 733; 81 Pac. 119.

6223. (§ 4661.) Meaning of words.—Whenever the meaning of a word or phrase is defined in any part of this code, such definition is applicable to the same word or phrase wherever it occurs, except where a contrary intention plainly appears.

6224. (§ 4662.) Certain terms defined.—Words used in this code in the present tense include the future as well as the present; words used in the masculine gender include the feminine and neuter; the singular number includes the plural and the plural the singular; the word person includes a corporation as well as a natural person; writing includes printing; oath includes affirmation or declaration, and every mode of oral statement under oath or affirmation is embraced in the term “testify,” and every written one in the term “depose;” signature or subscription includes mark when the person cannot write, his name being written near it, and written by a person who writes his own name as a witness. The following words also have in this code the signification attached to them in this section, unless otherwise apparent from the context:

1. The word “property” includes property real and personal.
2. The words “real property” are co-extensive with lands, tenements, hereditaments and possessory titles to public lands in this state.
3. The words “personal property” include money, goods, chattels, things in action and evidences of debt.
4. The word “year,” as used in this code, means a calendar year, and “month,” a calendar month, unless otherwise expressed. Fractions of a year are to be computed by the number of months, thus, half a year is six months. Fractions of a day are to be disregarded in computations which include more than one day and involve no questions of priority.
5. The word “state,” when applied to the different parts of the United States, includes the District of Columbia and the territories, and the words “United States” may include the district and territories.
6. The word “will” includes codicils.

State v. Court, 24 Mont. 333; 61 Pac. 883.

Summerville v. Stockton Co., 142 Cal. 539; 76 Pac. 243.

6225. (§ 4663.) Third persons.—The words “third person,” as used in this code, includes all who are not parties to the obligations or transactions concerning which the phrase is used.

6226. (§ 4664.) Usage, what.—Usage, within the meaning of this code, is a reasonable and lawful public custom, concerning the transactions of the same nature as those which are to be affected thereby, existing at the place where the obligation is to be performed, and either known to the parties, or so well established, general and uniform, that they must be presumed to have acted with reference thereto.

6227. (§ 4665.) Words usual and customary.—The word “usual,” and “customary,” as used in this code, mean, “according to usage.”

6228. (§ 4666.) Notice.—Notice is:

1. Actual—which consists in express information of a fact.
2. Constructive—which is imputed by law.

Trerise v. Bottego, 32 Mont. 249; 79 Pac. 1058. This section embodies an old rule of chancery. Merrill v. Pacific Co., 131 Cal. 587; 63 Pac. 915.

6229. (§ 4667.) Constructive notice.—Every person who has actual notice of circumstances sufficient to put a prudent man upon inquiry as to a particular fact, has constructive notice of the fact itself, in all cases in which, by prosecuting such inquiry, he might have learned such facts.

Trerise v. Bottego, 32 Mont. 248; 79 Pac. 1058. Merrill v. Pacific Co., 131 Cal. 587; 63 Pac. 915.

6230. (§ 4668.) When laws take effect.—Every law, unless a different time shall be prescribed therein, shall commence and take effect throughout this state, on, and not before, the twentieth day after the day of its final passage.

6231. (§ 4669.) “Final passage,” meaning of.—The words “final passage,” as used in the preceding section, shall be held to mean the enactment into law, of a bill which has passed the legislative assembly, either with or without the approval of the governor, as provided in § 12, of article VII., of the constitution.

6232. (§ 4670.) Heretofore and hereafter, meaning of.—Whenever the term “heretofore” occurs in any statute, it shall be construed to mean any time previous to the day such statute shall take effect; and whenever the word “hereafter” occurs, it shall be construed to mean the time after the statute containing the term shall take effect.

6233. (§ 4671.) Duty of county clerk.—The county clerk of any county, is also clerk of the county commissioners and ex-officio recorder. Any duty imposed by law upon such officer, either as county clerk, clerk of the county commissioners, or as recorder, shall be performed by the county clerk, and any official act performed or certified by the county clerk shall be as valid and effectual as if performed and certified to by him as clerk of the county commissioners, or as recorder.

6234. (§ 4672.) Effect of repeal.—No statute, law, or rule, is continued in force because it is consistent with the provisions of this code on the same subject; but in all cases provided for by this code, all statutes, laws, and rules heretofore in force in this state, whether consistent or not with the provisions of this code, unless expressly continued in force by it, are repealed or abrogated. This repeal or abrogation does not revive any former law heretofore repealed, nor does it affect any right already existing or accrued, or any action or proceeding already taken, except as in this code provided.

Menard v. M. C. R. Co., 22 Mont. 349;
56 Pac. 595.

Market R. Co. v. Hellman, 109 Cal.
580; 42 Pac. 225.

6235. (§ 4673.) Statutes repealed.—Subject to the provisions of the next preceding section the following statutes and parts of statutes are hereby repealed, to-wit: § § 140; 409 to 430, inclusive; 432 to 557, inclusive, of the probate practice act of the compiled statutes; § § 1 to 10, inclusive; § 20; § § 156 to 161, inclusive; 202 to 210, inclusive; 999 to 1006, inclusive; 1204; 1236 to 1238, inclusive; 1239 to 1266, inclusive; 1296; 1411 to 1432, inclusive; 1439 to 1450, inclusive; 1538 to 1555, inclusive, except 1545, 1547, 1551, 1554; § § 1597 to 1608, inclusive; § § 1963 and 1970; § § 1983 to 1985, inclusive, of the fifth division of the compiled statutes; § 1, page 60, extra session laws, 1887, concerning marriages; § 1, page 121, laws sixteenth session, concerning alimony; § § 1 to 25, inclusive, of “act concerning dower,” of session laws of 1876.

6236. (§ 4674.) This act, how cited.—This act, whenever cited, enumerated, referred to, or amended, may be designated simply as “the civil code,” adding, when necessary, the number of the section. [Civil Code, except where otherwise noted. Act approved Feb. 19, 1895.]
